ANNUAL for 1948

A Publication of the Senior Class

WATERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL

WATERTOWN, MASSACHUSETTS
Theme

One of the problems of our present-day world is learning how to live and work with people of other nations, races, and creeds. Although our neighbor may have ideas which differ from our own, we must acknowledge and tolerate these differences of opinion. We, who are graduating from Watertown High School, during our school years have been taught to get along with other people not only in our social life but also in our work. As we leave to go our various ways — some to further schooling, others to the business world — each of us needs to carry with him this ideal of social equality.

Thus we of the Class of '48 present our theme as Working Together For One World through —

To you, Mr. Douglas A. Chandler, we, the Class of 1948, in sincere gratitude for the help and guidance you have given us, dedicate this twenty-second issue of the Annual. As our class advisor you have aided us in making many difficult decisions and have directed us in carrying our activities to successful completion. In true appreciation for all you have done to make our high school years successful and happy, Mr. Chandler, we express our thanks to you!

W H S
In behalf of the Faculty of Watertown Senior High School and for myself personally I extend to you, the graduates of the Class of 1948, our greetings and best wishes for your success in the years ahead.

During this year there have been many successes in various school activities for which you, the members of the senior class have been chiefly responsible. You are leaving in the school a tradition of leadership in all phases of school life which other classes must strive mightly to surpass. I am confident that as you go your different ways in the life of the community you will carry on this standard of leadership which will reflect credit on the training you have received in your homes, in your churches, and in your school.

ORGANIZATI

As we near the end of our Junior year, we take this opportunity to glance over the special events of the year.

One of the first undertakings of the Junior Class was the sponsoring of the Christmas Assembly, which proved to be a success, due to the talent of the underclassmen.

Our first social event, the Junior Dance, was held on February 6, 1948, in the cheerfully decorated gymnasium. The boys and girls spent a very enjoyable evening dancing to the music of Artie Barsamian’s orchestra.

The great athletic ability of the Junior Class has been proven by the large number of boys that have participated in the various sports. Due partly to the efforts of Fred LoChiatto and Henri Kasbarian, two outstanding hockey players, Watertown High School gained its first Bay State Championship since the League was inaugurated. On the other hand the girls have done exceptionally well on the field hockey and basketball teams.

Altogether we have had a very prosperous year under the fine supervision of Miss Jacobs.

Marion Glynn,
Secretary

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Once the doors of Watertown High swung closed behind us sophomores, we took little time in becoming accustomed to the hustling, bustling high school life. We accepted the jeers and teasing of the upper-classmen with a happy-go-lucky smile, and met our teachers with expectant looks, determined to do well. (Ah! Why do mid-years have to come?)

In early November the elections for class officers were held, with these final results: Donald Sabino as president, Richard Shannon as vice-president, Cynthia Nye as secretary, and Dale Carlisle as treasurer. Janet Anderson, Paul Dupuis, and Richard Hay were elected to the Executive Committee.

Shortly after elections our class party was held. After movies in the auditorium, we proceeded to the gym, where there was dancing, entertainment, and later refreshments.

Before the Christmas recess, the Sophomore class had an assembly in which the officers took part. After exercises we enjoyed movies and music.

Although it has not taken place at the time of this writing, the sophomores are avidly planning a hay (or sleigh) ride, which will be held in March.

Thus far, each sophomore has had a wonderful time in high school, and we all expect to have the same through our whole high school career.

Respectfully submitted,
Cynthia Nye, Secretary

The Student Council is an organized group of representatives from each homeroom. There is also a special representative for the Veterans.

This year the Council has been more active than ever before. Girls were placed in charge of the cafeteria during lunches. Six boys were appointed as marshals at the Sophomore lunch. Members of the Council were assigned to Lobby Duty to greet visitors coming in.

The Red Feather Drive, the Quid Nunc Drive, the Salvation Army and Tuberculosis Drives were made successful through the efforts of the Council. The “Kouncil Kick-Off” helped to raise money for the Office Fund and the School Treasury.

Members of the Council also took part in ushering on Parents’ night. Class elections were run by the council.

This year the Council introduced the Activity Assembly plan. Under this plan the students saw an entertaining assembly each month for ten cents. Pep Rallies were also conducted.

Written reports were sent to each homeroom after the meetings to let the pupils know what was going on.

The Council also sponsored a “Clean Up Day” to have the school in condition for visitors and parents.

Representatives of the Council attended a “Student Council Conference” in Hyde Park. Members of this group led a discussion entitled “The Value of a School Newspaper.”

The Council also arranged to have the pictures of the championship teams placed on the wall in the corridor.

The Bulletin, never one of the more inactive inorganizations of W.H.S., spent the entire school year of 1947-1948 in a state of near feverish activity. Most of the action involved was on the side of the ledger marked “work”—as can be well proved by the fact that the Bulletin staff this year sent to the printer’s (and, miraculously enough got back in some semblance of journalistic form) the almost phenomenal number of fifteen issues. The staff managed to stick to its bi-weekly schedule more closely this year than has been possible in recent years. But never let it be said that “quality and not quantity” is not the byword in the headquarters of the W.H.S. sheet—for awards were the order of the day in Room 117 these past months. Not only did the paper win a second place prize in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association national contest, but it gained a much-coveted charter of membership to the National Quill and Scroll Society, a sort of honor society for school newspapers. Above and beyond these collective honors, a more specific one, in the form of a cash prize was awarded to a brace of editors for a news story form the Boston Globe, which also provided much of the “fun” involved in the year’s work, with its numerous and always enjoyable parties for high-school editors.

“All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy” is a well-worn adage in any organization, and, though the gender of the Bulletin has not yet been determined, it certainly applies here. In the “play” column can be found two main events, beyond the weekly celebration staged in Room 117 after the paper is off to press once more; namely, the first Bulletin dance—our tremendously successful “Holly Hop,” and an eventful excursion to New York by the five “dictators” and our able sponsor, Miss Margaret M. McCarthy.

As anyone can plainly see, it has been quite a year for the more journalistic ’48’ers, and one they’ll never forget.

National Honor Society

During high school one of the foremost ambitions of students is to be elected into the Saltonstall Chapter of the National Honor Society which was established in 1937. Outstanding scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the qualifications which one must possess to be a member of this organization.

Throughout the year the society distributed street-car tickets under the helpful supervision of Alfred S. Adams. The society also sponsored a mid-winter dance in Whitehill Hall which featured Carlton Thorne's orchestra.

In May the National Honor Society plans to have an induction ceremony in which five per cent of the junior and ten per cent of the senior class will be inducted.

The officers were: Cornelius Butler, president; Maryalice McArdle, vice president; Peggy Ann Fitzgerald, recording secretary; Rosalie Mumford, corresponding secretary, and Danny Del Papa, treasurer.

Cum Laude

The highest scholastic honor that the Senior High School can award is election of a senior to the National Cum Laude Society. Membership is symbolized by a gold key which is presented to each initiate at a ceremony held in the Auditorium after the election at the end of the third term.

The National Cum Laude Society corresponds in ideals and purposes to Phi Beta Kappa in the colleges, and the Watertown Senior High is the only public high school in Massachusetts to be granted the honor of a charter.

Only college preparatory students are eligible to membership, and these must have maintained a very high record of scholarship throughout their three years at Senior High. Election to Cum Laude is an individual honor earned by the intelligence, diligence, and purposeful perseverance of the students.
The Camera Club, one of the oldest and most energetic clubs in the school, performed its usual fine service to our school. Besides taking the pictures for the Bulletin and the Annual, club members snapped many candid portraits, and took pictures of athletic teams and clubs.

Members were taught the fundamentals of photography, including development of films, contact printing, enlarging, and composition. Throughout the year informal contests were held. The Annual spring contest terminated the year's efforts, largely inspired by the able and untiring assistance of Miss Thayer, the club sponsor.

The officers were: Raphael Ayvasian, President; Carol Landry, Secretary; and Robert Fulton, Treasurer.

Under the able guidance of Miss Mary Boyle, the Quid Nunc Club resumed its activities for the new school year. Thirty-five members were welcomed into this organization, the motto of which is “to serve loyally the school and community.” Through the many club activities its active members carried out this long-established motto. In addition to the services performed for Red Cross, the girls sponsored a dance for the student body and a tea for the faculty. The outstanding contribution of the year's work was a completed afghan and tray favor donated to a near-by hospital.

The officers were: Gloria Druli, president; Gertrude Hagopian, vice president; Marjorie MacIntosh, recording secretary; Barbara Rundlett, corresponding secretary, and Lorraine Morrison, treasurer.
Special Chorus

Under the direction of Mr. Mayo, the Special Chorus, composed of girls chosen from other choral groups, met twice a week during the school year. Their Christmas assembly numbers included Jesu Bambino, The Lord’s Prayer, and well-known Christmas carols, The River; Idle Tears; Where Willows Bend; Carmencita; and Vilia were among those numbers sung at the Annual May Concert. Sybil Krikorian was the piano accompanist for the group.

The Special Chorus participated in both the Massachusetts and the New England festivals, competing with some of the best choruses in New England, and coming home with high ratings on both occasions.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, composed of approximately eighty voices, has had an additional number of boys’ voices added from last year’s group. Rehearsals were conducted in the Auditorium on Thursdays during Home Room Periods. A Christmas Assembly was held in which the Glee Club took an active part rendering numbers appropriate to the occasion. The members also sang carols about the school before classes were dismissed for the holidays. Other Assemblies were held during the school year in which the Club participated. Numbers performed by the group at their Annual Concert were: The Lord Is My Light, by Allitson; Toselli’s Serenade; an old Irish Folk Song, By Bendemeer’s Stream, and the Tango, Jealousy.

The officers were: Mr. Mayo, sponsor; Sybil Krikorian, president; Jean O’Brien, vice president; and Louis Sharples, secretary-treasurer.
Orchestra

The orchestra, composed of forty members, had a most successful and active school year. In addition to playing at various school assemblies, the orchestra served its school by presenting selections at the class plays. This organization also played for the local Woman's Club activities. While individual members gave of their time and talent for different charitable groups, the entire orchestra joined with the musical groups of the school in the spring Annual Concert. By attending the New England and Massachusetts festivals the orchestra climax an unusually busy and satisfactory year.

Band

The Watertown High School Band, consisting of about 40 members, was a most active school organization. Owing to Mr. Chick's fine leadership, the school's splendid musicians received excellent band training and learned military band routine. The band gave its services to the school by playing at all football games and at several assemblies and rallies. This year it revived the old Watertown School song, As the Backs Go Tearing By, which the students enjoyed immensely. The year's efforts were climax by the Massachusetts and New England festivals.

The Sponsor was Mr. Arnold Chick.
Art Club

The Art Club offered its members an opportunity to work in the varied media of art such as water coloring, oil painting, and pen and ink sketching. Several members also did craft work; some made clay models; and others drew from life both in pencil and water colors.

Besides carrying on its own activities, the club designed the cover for the Annual and did all the accompanying art work in the Senior book. It also drew many school posters and contributed unselfishly to the school's many activities.

The officers were: Rosalie Mumford, president; Frances Gill, vice president; Leonie Sulahian, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Harold Moody, sponsor.

Radio Club

To instruct members in radio theory and fundamentals, Mr. Craig sponsored a group of radio enthusiasts. Bill Dingee, a capable senior, assisted the sponsor in explaining radio theory. In order to help the boys pass the test for their amateur radio licenses, they kept code records. Movies on the subject of radio were shown as a visual aid for learning the fundamentals.

By servicing radios the boys earned money to help pay for the club's equipment, but they expressed their spirit of cooperation by repairing school radio apparatus without charge.

The officers were: William Dingee, president; David Andrews, vice president; Leo Weagle, secretary, and Paul Gonzc, treasurer.
Biology Club

The Associated Biology Club gave its members an opportunity to study more carefully the various phases of life. Each member made an individual study of the field in which he was most interested. Projects of a research nature included studies of plant life, fish, and reptiles. This more intimate study of biology helped students to think scientifically, to reason more clearly from facts, and to draw conclusions with substantiating evidence.

It is the hope of the sponsor that such training will help the club members to be more observant of the life around them and to be aware of the wonders of the world. Toward this end, club members have taken trips to Cedar Hill and to the Blue Hills to observe the aquarium and terrarium projects.

The officers were: Bessie Paleologos, president; Donald MacInnes, vice president; Sonya Sohigian, secretary-treasurer; Eleanor Schofield, assistant secretary; and Mr. Robert MacCurdy, sponsor.

Italian Club

A surprising number of students were willing to accept conflicts and forego afternoon work in order to continue the Italian Club this year. What we lacked in numbers, we made up for in quality with the result that every activity undertaken by the group was carried through to a successful completion. Our activities included trips to the Italian quarters of the city, visits to museums, gay, frolicking luncheons in Italian restaurants, and exchange visits with Italian clubs in neighboring high schools and colleges.

Halfway through the year we lost our president, but Mary Semeraro stepped into the breach and took over with expert efficiency.

The officers were: Clara Lepardo, president; Mary Semeraro, vice president; Catherine Hill, secretary; Viola Parella, treasurer; and Rita Rosati, assistant treasurer.
Chess Club

Under the brilliant aegis of the president, Bill Dingee, the Chess Club has been busier than ever before in its history. The team has engaged in inter-scholastic competition with chessmen from greater Boston high schools as well as from Boston University, M. I. T., and Harvard.

Club dues will be used to purchase weighted, felted, and finely carved chess pieces, which we shall be proud to display to visiting chess teams. Before the year is over, we also hope to buy chessplayers’ signet rings, diagram stamping outfits, plus authoritative books written by chess masters.

The officers were: William Dingee, president; Kenneth Jacques, vice president; Marguerite Giggey, secretary; and Paul Gonzalez, treasurer.

Projection Club

The Audio-Visual Club, formerly known as the projection club, extended its program this year to include audio as well as visual equipment. Each member of the group qualified by demonstrating his ability to set up and operate the equipment for use in either the classrooms or the auditorium.

The Union Market National Bank augmented the audio services for adequate outdoor amplification. This addition was first used most effectively at our home football game. In addition, we acquired a playback instrument that will reproduce any size disc up to 16" commercial transcriptions.

This club has been very active during the school year, giving service not only in the classroom but also in the assemblies and in many extracurricular activities.

The officers were: Jacob Andrews, president; Phyllis Fawcett, secretary; Mr. Raymond Ford, sponsor.
Library Club

Under Miss Johnson’s sponsorship, the members of the Library Club performed many duties during the year, acting as assistant librarians and acquiring a knowledge of useful reference-books as well as of fiction. In November the club visited Perkins Institute for the Blind, where they saw braille books and record albums, copies of which are sent all over the world.

Meetings were held monthly. One of the most interesting projects of the club was the selling of red and black school “beanies.” This year the club gifted to the school library a collection of essays.

The officers were: Irene York, president; Nannette Castellano, vice president; Marion Sexton, secretary, and Joanne Brown, treasurer.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club, organized to further the interest of students in business subjects, completed its seventh successful year under its sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Desmond. Each member of the club was given an opportunity to participate in the planning of the club periods. Interesting and enjoyable programs were prepared. These meetings, held once a month, were varied by speakers, spelling-bees, quizzes, contests, and original committee ideas. The club ended its active year with a competitive typewriting contest. Prizes were awarded for the best papers.

The officers were: Mary McDonald, president; Charlotte Dupuis, vice president; Angela Anastasi, secretary, and Sally Lopez, treasurer.
Chemistry Club

Under the able direction of Mr. Kelly the Chemistry Club enjoyed a very successful year. Since chemical materials were not as scarce as they had been during the war, the club was able to conduct regular experiments. Every member had a laboratory partner with whom he did experiments. Some of the more interesting of these experiments were the testing of soap and the making of toothpaste, ink, and paint. Although the members did not profess to be great chemists, most of their experiments were very satisfactory. The club members not only acquired a broad knowledge of chemistry but also gained a value of team work.

The officers were: Robert Wheeler, president; Harold Griffith, vice president; Sylvia Becker, secretary, and Rhoda Goldstein, treasurer.

Rifle Club

This year an influx of eager sophomores replenished the ranks of the Watertown High School Rifle Club. Guided by the remaining upperclassmen, the new members made rapid and satisfactory development in basic marksmanship. As a result of continued membership in the National Rifle Association, the boys were privileged to compete in individual and team matches.

On the range the target pits were completely rebuilt, and two new points were added on the firing line. Thus the time formerly wasted while the boys waited to shoot was considerably reduced. Results were immediately evident in the higher scores of club members.

The officers were: Domenic Carbone, president, and William Dingee, secretary-treasurer.
Hi-Y

Under the capable direction of Mr. Gustaf Frye, the Hi-Y club held its weekly meetings at the Newton Y. M. C. A. At school the boys fulfilled the purpose of the organization—"to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character"—by working in the cafeteria during homeroom periods. Their other activities consisted of joint meetings and suppers with Tri-Hi members, programs on subjects of interest with other Hi-Y boys, and dances, the proceeds of which were sent to the American Red Cross and Community Chest. Hi-Y also succeeded in reaching their goal of two hundred and fifty dollars for the World Youth Fund.

The officers were: Robert Dwyer, president; Kenneth Pascoe, vice president; Joseph MacDougall, secretary, and Ronald McGerigle, treasurer.

Tri-Hi

Tri-Hi opened an active year by having its officers attend the Tri-Hi Greater Boston Conference at Newton. Along with joint meetings, suppers, and "splash" parties with Hi-Y, Tri-Hi sponsored its annual fall dance as well as a Christmas semi-formal. At the bi-weekly club meeting the girls were entertained by interesting speakers; in December more than seventy girls participated in an Alumnae tea.

The club donated from its dues and from the sale of Christmas cards to the World Youth Fund. As in previous years Tri-Hi gave its scholarship for further educational assistance to a senior girl, upholding the club's high standard of Christian character.

The officers were: Margaret Fitzgerald, president; Mary O'Brien, vice president; Joanne Hynes, secretary; Dorothy Skinner, treasurer; and Joanne Holmes, chaplain.
Thanks to a generous government, more than two million veterans of World War II enrolled this year in educational institutions across the country. The Watertown Senior High School, which accepted a sizeable body of ex-servicemen to study under its wings as juniors, seniors, and post-graduate students, is among the nation's schools concerned about the future happiness and success of the veteran. This school recognizes the veteran's outstanding desire to educate his mind and thus make a more comfortable existence. Throughout the school year the veterans participated in many activities, arranged by either the school or themselves. The majority of them will be enrolled in the colleges of New England this coming fall term.
WORKING TOGETHER for ENJOYMENT
On the fateful night of December 12, the not very optimistic cast of Be An Optimist found itself suffering from a severe attack of stage fright, due to a stormy dress rehearsal. Despite the thespian’s qualms, however, the play was a huge success. The auditorium shook with laughter at the high comedy. The audience expressed admiration for the fine acting, and for the superlative direction of Mrs. Betty Boerstler.

Be An Optimist is the motto quoted to Jimmy Maynard, half of an unhappy pair of lovers. Thwarted in their marriage plans by the young lady’s domineering mother, he is in his fiancée’s home disguised as a mummy. The uncomfortable Jimmy has taken advantage of the soft-heartedness of his friend, an antique dealer, to effect an entrance to the house so that he may elope with his girl. The night he chooses is one when our heroine’s mother is giving a masquerade party. Unfortunately, Jimmy has been unable to inform Mildred of his plan, and in his disguise hears and sees many interesting and disturbing things. However, the plot is eventually a success, through Jimmy’s cleverness in taking advantage of the seance of Madame Goopher, a medium, in order to show Mildred the error of her ways. Mrs. Clinton allows the two to marry and as far as is known, they all live happily ever after, with the possible exception of the medium, who begins to wonder if she perhaps hasn’t supernatural powers after all.
Junior Play

Approximately fifty pupils (three-fourths from the fair sex) answered the call to participate in the class of 48’s initial stage production, Come Over to Our House. From these Mrs. Boerstler, the director, selected eighteen.

The plot of the play concerns the talents of a teen-age pianist, Bob Moulla, who was unable to choose between a Hollywood contract from Phil Pappas and a scholarship from the superb lover and director, Bob Dunphy. Bob’s mother, Cay Desmond, cannot offer help for she is busy casting off lovers Bill Dodge, Tom Curran, and Bob Dunphy. His sisters, Dot Skinner and Gloria Druli, also have love problems with Bob Chase and Aram Gavoor. Bob M. himself has trouble directing his affections for Pat Dupuis and Evelyn Moore who are his heart throbs. Jeanne O’Brien’s immature humor and Betty Spear’s outspoken remarks provide hilarity. Anne Ross, school reporter, Barbara Ellis, a pretty newspaper reporter, and Joe MacDougall, Barbara’s boxing beau, have a riotous scene to end the play. Even grandmother, Mary Alice McArdle, has her own vaudeville act.

Junior Dance

Everyone was anticipating the big event and finally, after the Decoration Committee had hung the last decoration on the wall and the overhead had been strung-up the Junior Dance began. Everyone seemed to be having a perfectly wonderful time including the weary decorating committee. The patrons and patronesses declared it was the finest dance ever! As every dance must come to an end, so did this Junior Dance at 12 o'clock. But it was a night never to be forgotten!

Holly Hop

It seemed as though as all Water-town High had come to the Holly Hop sponsored by the Bulletin. There were about six times as many people as anticipated. The gym looked like a small night club because of the little tables, which adorned with white table cloths, candles, and pines, were placed all around the gym floor. Entertainment was provided at this dance and it was so good that no performer left without several encores. We won't go into the financial end of this dance, but the Hop made more money than most high school dances ever made, and it was a stag affair too.
Around

On these pages is a pictorial presentation of certain important events in a day at the High School. Start in the upper left hand corner and read “around the clock.”

1. No doubt about it, this is the hardest job we do all day. (Check that time, Joe!)

2. The long weary trek nears its destination as these ambitious (?) men and women enter the school.

3. Close that locker, Harry; 30 seconds to go!
4. Genius in the bud!
5. The pause that refreshes.
6. Back to the grind again—Ho-Hum!
7. The doors are unbolted. Free ??
8. The girls tied this outfit!
9. Catch those victory smiles.
10. Where the elite (?) meet to eat!
11. What's this, STUDYING ?? ??
12. The end of a long day and a big night.
We weren't like an ordinary group of Sophomores entering the building, bewildered and petrified of the upperclassmen: No; we walked in confidently! We knew that we would be outstanding not only in scholastic ability but also in athletics. The upperclassmen tried to mislead us and a few times they succeeded; however, usually we showed them a trick or two. We felt that the high school had finally been favored with a good class, the class of 1948!

With our colors of green and white given to us, the first major thing that we did was to elect class officers. Everyone was excited as terrific competition was set up. The victors were: President, Bernard Akillian; Vice President, Tom Oates; Secretary, Peggy Fitzgerald; Treasurer, Joanne Hynes; and Executive Committee, Mary Coffey, Alicia and Dick Mayo. These officers immediately went to work under the fine supervision of Miss Jacobs to plan for the Sophomore Party which went off very well. Remember Mr. and Mrs. Champagne taught us how to dance?

It wasn't long before the Sophomore year was over and unfortunately our outstanding record was our tardy record.

After a summer vacation, we entered our Junior year. First on the agenda was to elect again our class officers. Those victorious this time were: Bernard Akillian, President; Tom Oates, Vice President; Gloria Druli, Secretary; George Vartanian, Treasurer; Mary Coffey, Nancy Nye, and Dorothy Skinner, Executive Committee.

One of the most important events of the Junior year was the Junior Dance which came in February. An excellent committee chosen by the class officers decorated the gym with our class colors, carrying a Valentine theme. This first formal fulfilled all our highest expectations.

Many of our classmates were already becoming stars in athletics. Arthur Shannon was outstanding in hockey, Bernard Akillian and Phil Joannides in football, Jack Wathen in track, and Jack Carey in baseball. Yes, Mr. Murphy indeed had cause to anticipate a successful sports' year with the class of ’48.

It was during this year that those who made the honor roll four terms were presented with Cum Laude certificates by Miss Severance. A large group received this fine honor.

The talent in our class showed itself for the first time in the Junior Play, “Come Over To Our House.” It was presented to a large audience by a very able cast. Remember how the victrola wouldn’t play and how the cast ad-libbed for about five minutes? Mrs. Boestler, our excellent dramatic coach, nearly “went mad” while the cast got the biggest kick out of it and talked about it for weeks. Didn’t Bob Moulla, along with Grandma McArdle, keep us in stitches?

Then some of us were elected to National Honor Society. Our Junior year came to a close and again our outstanding record was our tardy record. We were Seniors at last! The year practically flew by. We elected Cornelius Butler, President; Tom Oates, Vice-President; Gloria Druli, Secretary; Bob Moulla Treasurer; and Paul Balcom, Mary Coffey, and Nancy Nye, Executive Committee.

The first business at hand for these new officers was to choose the annual staff. After a series of meetings, the class officers chose Tom Megan as editor of the “Annual” to be assisted by Barbara Ellis and W. Kingsley Campbell. Danny Del Papa was chosen business manager. They, with the help of several committees, worked like eager-beavers to get the “Annual” to printers before February 15, the deadline.

Next the Senior Play, “Be an Optimist,” was presented and again an excellent cast filled the auditorium, this despite the fact that a hockey and basketball game were held the same night. Even though there was little time for rehearsals, the cast gave a commendable performance. Perhaps it’s better not to mention what a trying time Mrs. Boestler had getting several members of the cast to come in on their cues. Several times she decided to give up the play, but as we said before, we won’t mention that.

Remember the Senior Prom? Will we ever forget it? Ken Reeves music was terrific. All decorations were put up by the senior class officers with the able assistance of Mr. Moody and his classes. Everyone agreed that this was the best senior prom ever.

Thus came to an end three glorious and carefree years at Watertown High School.

Respectfully yours,

Gloria Druli
CLASS WILL

Be it Remembered that we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty Eight of Watertown High School, in the Town of Watertown in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound (?) mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life, do make this our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at anytime heretofore made. After the payment of our just (?) class dues and graduation charges, we bequeath and devise as follows:

To Mr. Holland we leave bigger and better things “in-conjunction-with” the next senior class.

To Mr. Chraikian and Miss Malkasian we leave a bicycle built for two, so they can ride to school each morning.

To Miss Jacobs we leave a television set, so she will be able to gaze into the homes of unsuspecting absentees.

To Coach Murphy we leave a football team that will live up to his crystal ball.

To Mr. O’Toole we leave a dozen freshly laundered togas.

To Mr. Donnellan we leave an automatic recorder that will blare at specified intervals “Ho! There!”

To Mrs. Crosby we leave one dependable cook book.

To Mr. R. MacCurdy we leave a new supply of lab animals that will neither disturb nor injure his students.

To Miss Norcross we leave “The Red Silk Stockings and The Green Perfume.”

To Miss E. Johnson we leave a student with enough creative ability to give her a new nickname.

To the underclassmen we leave Watertown High School its virtues, vices, and vexations. In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hand and in the presence of witnesses declare this to be our last will this eighth day of June in the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty Eight.

“The Class of ’48”

WORKING TOGETHER for VICTORY

ATHLETI

Instilled with a spirit of determination and aggressiveness, the pucksters of Watertown High completed the most successful season in the team’s history with the winning of the Bay State League Championship. A front line composed of Art Shannon at center with Ted Tocci and Fred Lo Chiatto on the wings provided the Murphymen with one of the finest scoring units in the league.

In Henri Kasharian, the icemen were fortunate in having the league’s finest goaltender. Following in the steps of Dick Bradley, Henri was awarded the trophy given annually to the best net-minder in the league. Framingham and Walpole provided the toughest opposition for the Raiders, although Waltham handed them their only league defeat of the season. The title clincher against second place Framingham highlighted the season’s play as the Red and Black crew firmly trounced the Makermen 4 to 1.

Cross Country

Cross-Country, a favorite college sport for the past decade, was added to the fall sports agenda this season, under the tutelage of Arthur Perkins, new track mentor. Placed in the Pilgrim Division at the season’s outset, the Perkinsmen swept to their divisional crown with five straight meet wins against no losses. In competition for the Middlesex league title the Red and Black Harriers took a discouraging fourth spot in one of the most gruelling meets of the season. Jack Wathen, the team’s No. 1 marathoner, led a team of spirited sophomores to the school’s first State title, edging second-place Melrose by 6 points. In the New England Championship Meet the Towners were edged in the final half by LaSalle Academy of Rhode Island, a Perennial track powerhouse.

Indoor Track

Breaking precedents seems to be the habit of any Perkins-coached crew as the newly reorganized indoor track squad triumphed in both the Northeastern Meet and were victors in the class B division of the State Championship Meet. Jack Wathen set a new indoor mark for the 1000-meter run in the N. U. races as he cracked the record previously set by Carl Joyce with a blistering 2.18.8. Two weeks later Jack, aided by his high-jumping teammates, Dallas Carlisle and Anthony Frascatore, paced the trackmen to the state Championship with a 4.38 mile run. Carlisle and Frascatore tied for first place in the high jump with identical jumps of 5'11" to set a school mark for the '48 indoor season.
Girls’ Basketball

Miss Biggane’s first team varsity did a remarkable job against all opposition this year. A perennially strong Medford squad, previously undefeated, fell to the powerful Watertown hoopers in a close 18-16 game. What developed was probably the fastest, most exciting contest yet to be seen in local girls’ teams.

Helping to make the wins possible were the forwards known as the “Three J’s”: Joyce Schofield, Janet McBride, and Jean O’Brien. Captain Joyce Schofield made first team varsity in her junior year and our high scores were due largely to the potency of her play. Right and center forwards were played by Janet McBride and Jean O’Brien, respectively, who comprised the remainder of the forward crew. Janet was known for her ability in setting up plays as well as her scoring ability, while the brilliant passing of Jean O’Brien was always played to our advantage.

The three guards were Manager Dorothy Skinner, Esther Costello, and Ada Johnson, who formed an unbeatable combination. Dot Skinner, who played center guard as a junior, continued as such in her senior year. Ada Johnson and Esther Costello, who played right and left guards respectively, were noted for their outstanding ability to intercept.

Football

The strategy and genius of Coach Joseph Murphy, coupled with a hard-charging line and a driving backfield, more than made up for three straight losses when the Red Raiders swarmed all over Belmont on Thanksgiving, 26 to 15. In the Belmont game Aram Gavoor was the standout, scoring three touchdowns, and was honored by receiving a trophy for the outstanding player that day. Joe MacDonough was also a standout. The whole team played a “terrific” game that day. The season’s heartbreaker came when the Raiders lost to Brookline, 14 to 7. Oates, Joannides, and Wickstrom were picked for the Suburban All-Star Game.

The season as a whole was not as successful as had been anticipated by Coach Murphy. However, when the “Murphy Maurauders” tore Belmont to bits on Turkey Day, the past was forgotten while the glorious remembrance of Thanksgiving Day remained.

Benny Akillian was high scorer for the year with a total of 41 points.

Cheerleaders

This year the cheerleaders attended all the football games, as well as some hockey and basketball frays, and were the backbone of all student enthusiasm. Under the leadership of Gloria Druli, they roused school spirit to a new high and were the subject of much comment because of their seemingly never ceasing pep. The addition of Vernon Akillian and Joe Mullen greatly improved the volume of the cheers and proved to be an inspiration to the student body. To this year's cheerleaders the athletic teams owe much gratitude.

Basketball—Boys

Starting slow but improving with every week of play, the Basketeers under their new coach, Peter Burke, completed their schedule with a new high in the games won column. The team’s play was centered around Fred Parsley, the first W. H. S. basketeer to hit the 150 mark in total points in the last four years. Captain Ben Akillian and Bill Wickstrom were the keymen in the Red and Black’s groundwork with each occasionally making a day of it by shooting instead of setting them up.

Buzzy Gavoor was another high scorer, who dazzled the crowds with his fancy jump passes. Team prospects were brightened by the eligibility of Phil Stackpole, a towering sophomore. Phil, along with Jack Charshoodian and Phil Renzi, gave Mr. Burke some fine replacements.

Girls' Field Hockey

The class of 1948 has much to be proud of in the record attained by the girls' Field Hockey team this year. Under the capable coaching of Miss S. Biggane, the girls, full of spirit and enthusiasm, upheld Watertown's fine record of dropping but 1 of its 7 games, winning 4 and tying 2 against keen competition. Much credit is due Janet O’Brien, our captain, and Pat Dupuis, both of whom were our high scorers; while the whole squad is to be commended for its skillful stick handling, fine sportsmanship, and cooperation. Also special mention should be made of our goalie, Jeanne O’Brien.

Soccer

With Mr. Craig back at the helm after a six year absence, the soccer squad completed a fairly successful year. Highlighting the season was the 1-0 defeat of Medford, who previously were unbeaten and untied for the past six years. George Vartanian tallied the all-important marker to become the team hero. In the goal Peter Fredricksson was brilliant, displaying the form that made him one of the best goalies in recent years. Sonny Acker and Bob Leonard were strong on the offense and almost equally as good on the defense. John and Paul Goncz, brother half-backs, also played important roles in the Craigman’s success.
Boys' Tennis

This year's tennis team, captained by Peter Fredrickson, who finished undefeated in league competition last season, was bolstered by the addition of many new senior stars coming out for the first time. Harry Oldford, Francis Wall, Ronald Fienberg and Ray Barry are the first year men who aided the veterans members. Mr. Koumjian again coached the Suburban entrant which has been a power in that league for the past few years. Proof of this statement may be found in the team's record during the year previous when the club lost the Suburban Crown to Belmont in the final game of the season.

Girls' Tennis

With a club composed of senior veterans, Miss Biggane had one of her strongest teams in recent years. Captain Joanne Hynes and Manager Gloria Druli formed the nucleus of the squad while Annabelle Gagnall and Patricia Dupuis aided considerably. Sophomores were given tryouts early in the spring in an attempt to add some reserves to the club. Nancy Nye rejoined the team after missing the previous season due to a serious illness.
