Foreword

We, the 1950 Annual Staff, have earnestly endeavored to make this twenty-fourth edition of the yearbook a success. We have tried to make it so individual and interesting that it will afford each one of you much pleasure in future years when you look back and reminisce about your high school days.

We sincerely hope, therefore, that this book will bring us together in the future through its memories of the past—memories of classmates and teammates once again working together for even greater goals in the world of tomorrow.

We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to all who have participated in the compilation of this book. We especially thank Miss Banning, Miss Thayer, Miss Jacobs, Mr. McNealy, and Mr. Moody for their fine ideas, hard work, and excellent supervision.

The Annual 1950
Watertown High School
Watertown Mass.
Cl1, the Class of 1950, dedicate our Annual to you, Miss Esther Johnson, in grateful appreciation of your sympathetic kindness and understanding. As our school librarian you have revealed your patience and perseverance through your helpful guidance; as advisor of the Library Club you have proved to be a capable leader and a real friend.

You have introduced us to good books and references necessary for successful class work—necessary to the joy of learning and studying, so that we may be better prepared to enter the world of tomorrow. For this and your countless contributions to our high school, we thank you.

In Your Honor
Our Faculty

The Annual Staff would like to take this opportunity, in behalf of the senior class, to express its gratitude to the members of the faculty who have contributed to our growth and progress throughout our three years at Watertown High. They have often exceeded their teaching duties and have instilled within us the ideals of living and working together, of developing our characters and personalities—ideals that will remain with us far longer than the material we have read or studied in our texts.

We appreciate the efforts of our teachers to familiarize us with the past so that we may understand the present and, as a result, be better prepared to meet the problems of the future.

To the Class of 1950...

Toward you, members of the mid-century Class of 1950, I feel a particularly close bond of affection. This feeling is due to the fact that you and I both came to Watertown High School at the same time. During these three years I have come to know you as individuals and to delight in your progress toward manhood and womanhood.

The experiences which you have had during your high-school days—and which are so well depicted in the pages of this book—all have helped in your development. Classroom and campus, gridiron and track, homeroom and hall, each has had its opportunities and challenges, its triumphs and disappointments. Each has contributed to your growth to this point where you now stand ready to take your places in the community which has provided the educational advantages that have been yours.

One of the largest classes ever to enter the school, yours is also one of the most talented. These God-given talents are yours to train, to extend, to develop more and more not merely for your own personal pleasure or profit but for the benefit of your fellow men.

To you, the Class of 1950, I extend sincere wishes for your success in whatever you undertake. Develop your talents, make the most of your opportunities, appreciate your blessings. Get all the training and education you can. From you to whom much has been given so will much be expected.

Class Poem

We are standing at the crossroads
On this graduation day,
And we each must travel onward,
And we each must choose a way.

There are many ways to choose from,
Some are cloudy, some are fair,
Some lead to success and fortune,
Others don’t lead anywhere.

We may sail on peaceful waters,
We may toss on stormy seas,
But, oh God, when storms distress us
Grant us perseverance, please.

When the burden seems too heavy,
And the world to us seems wrong,
Grant us strength to see life’s bright side
Even though the road is long.

Grant that when we start our voyage,
And upon life’s road we’ve trod,
Thou wilt always be beside us
To direct our way, oh God!

Junior History

A more confident junior class returned to school in September 1949, whereas, the previous year, as sophomores, we were shy and a little confused amid our new and strange surroundings. Now we were familiar with the school and our classmates and ready to take a leading role in all kinds of school activities.

We were ready to settle down to business, having elected our class officers in June of the previous year with the following results: James Lopez, President; William Coakley, Vice-President; Phyllis McBride, Secretary; Jean Hawes, Treasurer; Cynthia Bradley, Peter Hanley, Donald Long, Audrey Mosher, and Donald Page, members of the Executive Committee.

As is the custom, the junior class was in charge of the Christmas Assembly. They presented a short play entitled "The Christmas Tree."

Our first big event took place on February 10 when Barbara Altieri and Mae Roessler revealed their talents in the leading roles in our class play. The members of the numerous committees and all those who participated in any way deserve much credit.

Finally came April 14th. The gym was gayly decorated in green and white streamers against a South Pacific background with palm trees placed on either side of the bandstand. Thus the juniors enjoyed the biggest event of the year, dancing to the music of Bill Erman and the Ivy Men.

Our second successful year in high school passed very quickly and enjoyably, and we await most impatiently our senior year which is just around the corner.

Respectfully submitted, PHYLLIS McBRIEDE, Secretary

"But Fair Tomorrow"

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Betty Boerstler, the Class of ’51 put on a rollicking high school comedy, "But Fair Tomorrow." In the lead was Barbara Altieri, playing the part of Barbara Howard, who just couldn’t keep out of other people’s business. Barbara played the star role with the flair of a professional. She was ably supported by a cast of unusual ability. Mae Roessler as Gethy, the colored maid, dominated many scenes, while Nick Martocchio and Tim Donahue were extremely convincing as mother and uncle of the "young fry."

Secretly nourishing a crush on her favorite handsome movie star, Buddy Esmond, Barbara came close to ruining her sister’s romance. She had tried to match her sister with Phil, a young pilot, in order to make Ralph, her fiancé, jealous and somehow more manly. The whole family was finally in an uproar when evidence seemed to indicate that Louise had actually eloped with Phil. In addition, the matter was complicated by the disappearance of Randy, star of the basketball team, just prior to the big game of the season. Bab’s friends, Violet and Muriel, nearly missed the School Bazaar, but in the end Ralph and Louise “lived happily ever after” with Mother and and Bab’s jolly Uncle Walter doing some romancing on the side. Randy appeared in time for the game; the lovers were reunited, and the pilot finally proved to be none other than Buddy Esmond. A new Barbara, a realistic Barbara came to light, and the curtain fell on one of Watertown’s finest Junior Plays.

The prompter, Louise McCabe, was alert and on the job every minute. The orchestra and supporting committees all equalled the performance of the cast to make the Junior Play a fine success.

"TEST NEXT PERIOD"      "LUNCHTIME DISCUSSION"      "GET THAT BALL"
Early in September, a group of thrilled sophomores, marched gaily into the enormous brick building called Watertown Senior High School. We were eager to adapt ourselves to the customs and traditions of this wonderful building.

After the first few weeks of bewilderment, the Sophomore Class got off to a good start with a class election in which Joseph Giglio was elected President; Ann O’Neil, Vice-President; Elaine York, Secretary; Josephine Castellano, Treasurer; and the Executive Committee members were: Bette Abadjian, Shirley Barnes, Geraldine Barranco, Patricia Gottschalk, and Mary Ann Papalia.

Shortly after our Christmas Holidays we had our Sophomore Party, which helped most of us to get better acquainted. Our evening began with the entertainment by some of our class members. There were solos, no Comos or Crosbys, but violin, piano, and accordion playing of merit. We enjoyed the rest of the evening in the gymnasium with dancing and refreshments.

During the school year, the class participated greatly in school activities. Many of our sophomore classmates were becoming leaders in athletics. Much credit should be given to Thomas O’Hara for his brilliant basketball playing. With the effort of Richard Michelson, the hockey team’s success in the current season partially was increased. A fine "Whiz Kid", Ewen Urquhart, has been successful in track.

Now our sophomore year has come to an end, and we are looking forward to an even more active junior year.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE YORK, Secretary
Sophomore Party

It was decided by our class that the Annual Sophomore Party for the Class of '52 would be held on Friday evening, January 27, at the school.

Everyone first assembled in the auditorium to exhibit some excellent entertainment. Betty Abadjian gave a splendid performance as Mistress of Ceremonies. We realized our great talents when we were presented by such star performers as Lawrence Pallone at the piano, Gaspar Caso with an excellent job of “Toot-Toot-Tootsie, Goodbye,” on the accordion; Carl Zeytoonian becoming a second Albert Spalding on the violin and Virginia Boyden so beautifully singing, “I Can Dream, Can’t I?” The group demanded an encore of “It’s Magic.”

We then passed to the gymnasium to receive our refreshments. Mary Ann Papilia, Patricia Gottschalk, Elaine York, Betty Abadjian, Josephine Castellano, Ann O’Neill and Geraldine Barranco made very fine hostesses. The delicious refreshments consisted of ice cream and cookies. After dancing to records for a while, a square dance was requested. A Virginia Reel was formed, and all who participated enjoyed it immensely. An elimination dance was conducted which brought about many laughs.

We were honored to have for our chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Holland and Mr. Ford, our class adviser.

Our party came to an end at eleven o’clock. An enjoyable time was “had” by all.

“HIGH NOON!”

Band

Under Mr. Arnold Chick’s superior direction, the Band has once again proven to be a most worthwhile and needed organization. It participated in all the Pep Rallies throughout the year and, of course, at all of the football games. The Band also played for several school assemblies and evening activities. As in all other years, the Annual Band Concert was the highlight of the year. Given on January 13, 1950, this year’s program proved to be a great success with its many instrumental pieces and solo performances. In addition to these activities the Band also participated in the Memorial Day parade.

As a climax to this eventful year, the Band attended the Melrose Festival. Mr. Chick and every member of the Band who contributed his time, talent, and energy deserves much praise.

Art Club

The Art Club offers its members an opportunity to work in several mediums such as water color, pastels, and pencil sketching. Craft work was done by every student in the club made some play and plaster casts; others made copper plaques, which were exhibited in the library.

The Club also did the art work on the Annual, including the cover design. Besides its own activities the club gave much of its time to school activities such as planning for the prom decorations, making posters for both dances and campaigns. This year, for the first time, the club did silk-screen work, which proved thoroughly successful as shown by the work done on the book campaigns.

The Art Club was under the supervision of Mr. Moody, sponsor.
Biology Club

The Biology Club, under the capable sponsorship of Mr. Robert MacCurdy, is one of the most fascinating and most popular organizations in the school. Each of the thirty-five members automatically becomes a member of the Science Clubs of America. At the first meeting of the year the members are assigned various projects, such as the care and planning of a terrarium, raising of various animals, study and care of reptiles, plants, and birds, and the modeling of prehistoric animals. In this way each member increases his knowledge in a specific field.

In the fall and spring the club goes on field trips to collect new specimens. When the weather prevents these trips, members go to hospitals, zoos, and museums. Each year the biology clubs of Newton and Brookline hold joint meetings with our club members.

Broadcasting Club

During the school year 1949-1950 the Broadcasting Club had a regular membership of fourteen. In addition to these there were five associate members who, because of other activities, were unable to attend the regular meetings but were available for broadcasts when necessary.

The club’s primary aim throughout the year was the learning of proper methods of script writing as adapted from famous stories. A series of children’s stories occupied the members for most of the year.

Transcriptions of these stories are made by the club members for future use by our local radio station WCRB—Waltham.

This year’s club was most ably sponsored by Miss Eleanor McBreen.

BIOLOGY CLUB

BROADCASTING

The Election Commission is an all-school organization, formed first in 1948 for the express purpose of aiding in school voting. It consists of one commissioner and one alternate commissioner from each respective homeroom.

This group constitutes a very important part in our school life. It assists in all school voting, but mainly in the counting and carrying on of class elections. The Good Government ballot is also carried on by this committee.

The first year of its organization the commission was under the supervision of Mr. Holland, but this year the sponsor is Mr. Peter Burke.

The officers elected for the year were: Henry Gallina, President; David Foley, Vice-President; and Ted O'Neil, Secretary.

The members of the Bulletin staff, working energetically under the direction of Miss Margaret McCarthy, published thirteen issues of the four-page, five-columned newspaper during the school year of 1949-1950. Workshop periods were indeed busy times for staff members, who collected, edited, and prepared articles for the printer. In addition, they sponsored the “Holly Hop”, a most successful school dance, making possible the annual New York excursion for the editors.

Miss Geraldine Murphy very capably performed the job of Chief Copyreader, while Miss Mildren Caram served ably as Business Advisor.

Chess Club

Under the guidance of its adviser, Mr. Carlo Vacca, the Chess Club had a most active year. During the year members competed with neighboring high schools in the tranquil atmosphere of the school library. The veteran members of the club were very patient in the instruction of the "green" members in the rudiments of this challenging battle of wits.

The number of games won and lost by each player was kept on record so that the members' names could be placed on the chess ladder according to their skill in the game. The dues were collected each week, and provided for new chess men and boards, and also for the refreshments served after each match.

The officers during the past year were: Robert Purdy, President; Leo Matzkin, Vice-President; Margaret McDonald, Secretary; and John Goncz, Treasurer.

Chorus

With vivacious Miss Marietta Canan behind the baton, this year's Special Chorus proved to be one of the most active groups. The group was larger this year than last with a membership of approximately sixty girls. Weekly meetings were held in preparation for the annual May Concert.

Three of the girls, Jean Nazarian, Lois Leonard, and Jeannette Morizio, combined their talents into a charming trio and performed over one of our local radio stations.

Perhaps some of the success of the rehearsals was the excellent choice of music. Among the many pieces sung were Handel's The Smiling Dawn from Jeptha, a charming spring song by Mozart, entitled My Heart is a Silent Violin, and a folk-song, Ho-la-li. The accompanist for the group was Catherine Pitman.
Camera Club

Hold it! Don't move!
These words are familiar to any student who has been present while Ernie Colacito and his fellow Camera Club members capably arrange a group for a picture.

At the beginning of the school year the club announces that it can take in a certain number of members and prospective candidates leave their names with Miss Thayer. Then the club members vote on each candidate. When the new members are accepted, they are assigned a darkroom period and are helped with their work so that they soon become veteran "camera bugs."

The year is climaxed by a big contest which is judged by a group of expert photographers. The first prize winner is usually awarded an engraved trophy on Trophy Day.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club, under the able direction of Miss Desmond, is primarily for girls interested in the business world.

The club meets once a month and a committee of three girls who have been previously appointed take over the activities at that meeting. They usually plan to have a speaker, go to some business office, or have some other interesting project. The Commercial Club has a social side also. At the Christmas meeting a committee planned a Christmas party. The girls got together in Whitehill Hall and had ice cream, cookies, cake, and later exchanged presents. They also had fun playing games for which prizes were given to the winners. For the last meeting the group visited the business office of one of the large local firms.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Under the capable direction of Mr. Carlo Vacca, the Italian Club was livelier this year than ever before. The club members enjoyed outside speakers, songs, films, games, museum trips and visits to other schools and colleges. Dinners in Italian restaurants rounded off a pleasant educational program.

In addition to enjoying themselves and gaining all that was valuable in social experiences, the club members also profited from discussions on Italian philosophies and on world problems. They studied such programs as the teenage situation in Italy and the social, educational, and economic reconstruction of contemporary Italy.

The officers were: Mary Viola, President; Marie Zengo, Vice-President; Louise Arricale, Secretary; and Ida Toro, Treasurer.
Orchestra

This group gives players of orchestra instruments the opportunity to play in ensemble and to learn some of the best examples of well arranged orchestral literature.

The orchestra appeared frequently at assemblies during the school year and at numerous social activities after school hours. They assisted the Women’s Club Play on November 16, as well as the Senior Play, December 2, the Junior Play on February 10 and at the Spring Concert on May 5. In addition they performed special arrangements of Sleigh Ride by Anderson and the Emperor Waltz by Strauss. Their last, and most important, activity for the year was the final performance at Graduation Exercises on June 7.

Library Club

Under the capable guidance of Miss Johnson, our school librarian, the Library Club studies the duties of a librarian, the use of reference books, and the layout of various libraries. In this way the members not only get a taste of the duties of a librarian, but also learn the quickest methods of looking up reference material for school.

This year the club meetings were held every Friday during the third lunch period. At this time the club members profited by the discussions and lectures that outside speakers gave.

The main activity of the club was the selling of sport pins. The profit from these enabled the club to donate a selection of enjoyable and informative books to the library.
Pep Club

The Pep Club was formed two years ago under the leadership of Miss Biggam. These girl students, including sophomores, juniors and seniors, about two hundred in all, helped to build up Watertown High's spirit at the various athletic functions of the year. Win or lose, the club members' cheers could always be heard as they cheered our football stars on to victory.

The members practiced in the school auditorium every Thursday, recesses two and three, yelling the old cheers and practicing the new ones at the top of their lungs. With such a concentrated group as this at the games the other spectators were not long in learning the words and joining in the yelling. In this way, our cheering section was always outstanding at each football game of the 1949 season.

Projection Club

Under the supervision of Mr. Raymond Ford and President Arthur Coates, the members of the Projection Club meet every Monday, recesses two and three in Room seven. The club with its active membership of twenty-nine, assists in the use of the audio-visual aids in the classrooms, thus helping to make many of our classes more interesting by showing films on the subject being taught. In addition to its help at assemblies, the club gives freely of its time in several activities.

These students have learned how to run 16mm projectors and the Recordio as well as to splice films.

Other officers of the club are: Sidney Kimber, Vice-President; Gregory Plunkett, Treasurer; Anita Sartini, Secretary; and Louise Shamgochian, Recording Secretary.

PROJECTION CLUB
Quid Nunc

In keeping with its purpose—that of being of service to the community and to the school—Quid Nunc collected money throughout the year to buy gifts for Red Cross Boxes which were sent to children in European and American orphanages and infirmaries. The officers bought the articles and the club members assembled them. During meetings on Monday, the club also made favors for hospitals and planned worthwhile projects.

Among its special activities for the year was the annual Teachers’ Tea, held on April twenty-sixth in the school library. In addition, according to custom, members ersed on Parents’ Night. Occasional guest speakers added to the year’s program.

The officers of the club were: Joan Cole, President; Ann Chisholm, Vice-President; Dorothy Christie, Recording Secretary; Marjorie Brown, Corresponding Secretary; and Phyllis Tucker, Treasurer.

Rifle Club

Because of its large membership this year’s Rifle Club had a great deal of keen competition among its members. Every Tuesday and Friday afternoons the fifteen regular members of the club held target practice on a range in the basement of the school. Since each member usually has a different type of rifle from the others the members become widely experienced in the use and care of the various types of firearms. Four members entered into competition in the National Rifle Association and received an improved national standing as a result of their proficiency.

Rather than elect officers this year, the club, sponsored by Major Arthur McGrath, operates each week under the direction of a team captain.

Thus the members are afforded opportunities to learn democratic leadership and good sportsmanship.
Hi-Y Club

"To create, maintain, and establish Christian character throughout our school and community" is the purpose of the Hi-Y Club, sponsored by the Newton Y.M.C.A. and under the direction of Mr. John Liston.

The main activity of this organization was the annual Victory Dance, held in November. This event was most successful. The total attendance at this gala affair was one hundred and fifty couples, with music provided by "Joe" Velani and his orchestra.

Meetings are held in the "Y" every other Monday evening, and the dues which are collected at each meeting are used for the annual outing for the seniors of the club.

The officers for the past year were: President, Gerald Linkin; Secretary, Gregory Plunkett; and Chaplain, Philip Stackpole.

Tri-Hi

The purpose of the Watertown Tri-Hi, which holds its meetings bi-monthly at the Newton Y.M.C.A., is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the community, high standards of Christian character.

Activities of this very busy club included a successful dance at the Y.M.C.A. in November. On January 8, the Annual Alumni Tea was held. Graduates of Watertown enjoyed a gay, social affair. On February 3, the "Cupid's Caper," a couples' dance proved most successful, and the Tri-Hi felt that the year had been both happy and profitable.

"What a Life"

On Friday evening, December 2, the Class of "1950" presented their Senior Play, which proved to be a rollicking success. What a Life, a three-act comedy, attracted and thrilled a capacity crowd, who are still singing their praises to Paul Dupuis and his supporting cast.

Central High School formed the setting for the acts of mischievous Henry Aldrich, played by Paul Dupuis, who always managed to get in trouble with everyone, but especially with his teachers, Marjorie Stevenson and Jerry Linkin, and Principal Walter Silvers. Gladys Sarkisian and Edward Fantasia provided many humorous incidents throughout the play, while Beverly Bettencourt and Edward Fitchner caught the audience’s fancy with their romantic love scenes. Regina Iannazzi with "lover" George Leslie, added humor when George tried to win Regina’s affection. Peggy Edgar and Marjorie Chase gave sparkling performances in their small but vital parts, while Dorothy Vincent and Weston Andrews portrayed the character parts of a Negro girl and a German father respectively. Joan Garvin’s effective lines and comical costume left the audience holding their sides. Helen Baiter, typical mother, tried in vain to straighten her son’s difficulties and, with the help of detective Richard Stafford, finally did.

Mrs. Boerstler, under whose fine leadership the play was produced, was again credited with another commendable performance. She was indeed ably assisted by Miss Pearl Griffith, Chairman of Stage Properties Committee, and Mr. Harold Moody, Director of Stage Setting.

SENIOR PLAY

Those Whom We Honor...
Membership in the Saltonstall Chapter of the National Honor Society is a goal worth attaining in one's high school years. The opportunity to become a member is open to all pupils in the school. The qualifications of leadership, scholarship, character, and service to the school are taken into consideration when the members are elected. Elections are held in the junior and senior year.

Since the members were active in the extra curricular work, there were not many meetings held—but there was much accomplished. Our first function as a group took place when we ushered at the baccalaureate services for the graduating class. In the early autumn we sponsored a barn dance which was a successful affair where everyone had a grand time. Many of the members made some extra money by helping at the concessions during the football season under the direction of Mr. Adams, a faculty committee member. The proceeds went to the athletic fund. Of course, all the members took part in the Induction Ceremony in the spring. The stage was adorned with marguerites, the flower of the society, and the baskets of flowers were decorated with gold and white, the colors of the society.

Since 1937 the members of the society have been carrying on the motto, 'Noblesse Oblige,' and will proudly continue to do so in the years to come.
Election to the Cum Laude is an honor much desired by all students, but one not easily attained. It is available only to those in the college course, because it corresponds in ideals and purposes to the Phi Beta Kappa of the colleges. Scholarship must be high, not only during the senior year, but during all three years of Senior High School.

The average of all marks in college subjects forms the basis for selection of members, and it must be of superior quality.

We congratulate our new members! You may know them by the little gold key which they are entitled to wear.

The National Cum Laude Society was founded in 1906 in private schools of high standing to encourage and reward high attainment of scholarship, and only a few public high schools have been granted a chapter. Watertown High is proud to be one of these. Our charter was received in 1921, and since then each year has added a group to our ever-growing Alumni Chapter. These alumni have not lost touch with us, but have been active in promoting and encouraging scholarship in the school. They presented the Cum Laude Trophy which is given each term to the class having the highest percentage of students on the Honor Roll. We are as proud of our alumni as of our new members.

Student Council

During the past year the Student Council had one of its most active and successful seasons. Among the committees that functioned busily and successfully during the year were the following: Assembly, Trophy, Scrapbook, Recreation, and Cafeteria. The Cafeteria Committee worked diligently to secure the cooperation of students in keeping the cafeteria clean both at recess and before school.

The "Kouncil Kick-off" dance raised money for the office fund. Monthly assemblies were also chosen by the council. Representatives of the clubs attended the Fall Student Council Convention at Melrose High School. The highlight of the year, however, was the Spring Convention of the Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils, which was held at Watertown High School in April. More than thirty schools sent delegates and advisors to this convention. After the welcome by Mr. Holland, our principal, the representatives met in smaller discussion groups and exchanged ideas about policies and programs of student councils. At the meeting, following the luncheon, congressman John Kennedy spoke to the entire group. Social entertainment was enjoyed during the evening with dancing in the gym and movies in the auditorium.

Our thanks go to the advisors: Mr. Arthur McGrath, Mrs. Rita Crosby, and Miss Eleanor McCaffery.

Chosen by the students to serve as officers were: Philip Renzi, President; Joseph Barry, Vice-President; Joan Carey, Secretary; and Paul Stackpole, Treasurer.

Class History

“It was the best of times; it was the worst of times; it was the age of wisdom; it was the age of foolishness; it was the epoch of belief; it was the epoch of incredulity; it was the season of Light; it was the season of Darkness; it was the spring of Hope; it was the winter of Despair; we had everything before us—”

As we end our career as high school students, we look back into the past to reminisce.

Remember? The way we blankly wandered through the corridors during that first week of school? Would we ever learn where every room was? But it didn’t take too long before we felt right at home and began to take part in the regular routine of events. We elected Student Council members and, soon after, our class officers. Don Sabino, President; Dick Shannon, Vice-President; Cynthia Nye, Secretary; Dale Carlisle, Treasurer; Paul Dupuis, Dick Hay, Jan Anderson, Executive Committee, were the ones to lead the class during our Sophomore year.

The first “get-together” we had as an entire class was the Sophomore Party on November 14, 1947, which drew an attendance of nearly two hundred. We had loads of fun, and it gave us a chance to realize that our class had doubled in size. No wonder! All the East-erners invaded one side of the gym, and the West-erners crowded on the other.

Shortly after, many of us joined clubs, and participated in extra-curricular activities. Though we felt more at home now, we still wondered if the time would ever come when we would be seniors.

The task of planning and staging the Memorial Day Assembly was allotted to “Sophs” that year. Harold Russell, known to all of us for his fine acting in “The Best Years of Our Lives,” was the guest speaker.

Remember? Our junior year made us feel that we had a bigger part in the activities of W.H.S. We got off to a fast start by selecting the following into office: President, Dick Shannon; Vice-President, Ronnie Guittarr; Secretary, Jan Anderson; Treasurer, Dale Carlisle; Executive Committee, Dick Hay, Ronnie Meehan and Harold Robley.

The stars of the football team consisted largely of juniors—in fact, a large percentage of all teams and clubs were made up of juniors. We’d really blossomed forth into a very active class. The Christmas Assembly was the responsibility of our class in 1949. After the religious opening, the Glee Club sang appropriate songs, and a playlet, “A Child is Born,” was presented.

Humor, mystery, and suspense kept the audience on the edge of their seats at the presentation of “Murder At Random”. The cast cleverly enacted each of these characteristics to make this play short but very entertaining. Everyone agreed that our thespians put on one of the best performances ever seen in the auditorium of Watertown High School.

The next big event was the Junior Prom. We danced to the wonderful music of Ken Reeves' Orchestra, and our first high school prom was “put on the books” as an unforgettable night.

This second year seemed to fly by. Could it be that we were eagerly anticipating our senior year?

On September 7, 1949, we began our last year at Watertown High School. The change didn’t take effect immediately. We tried to act as nonchalantly as possible, but we couldn’t fool anybody. This year we balloted as our class officers: Paul Dupuis as President, Ronnie Meehan as Vice-President, Jan Anderson as Secretary, Edward Fantasia as Treasurer, Joan O’Brien, Shirley Perkins, Alice Conlin, Carmine Parella, Red Balcom as Executive Committee.

Another hilarious comedy was presented December 2, 1949, by our class. “What A Life” is a story about student-teacher mix-ups in the Henry Aldrich category. Once more the cast gave a rib-tickling performance.

Freak Day brought with it the excitement of disguises and prizes. This was the one day when we tried our hardest to look our freakiest. After many weeks of wracking our brains for “original” ideas for costumes, the class of 1950 was transformed into a rollicking mass of galloping comedians. That day was one never to be relived.

In mid-spring, the most memorable night of nights slipped by much too fast. Of course—the Senior Prom! Weren’t the decorations beautiful? The smooth dance music of Gene Dennis and his orchestra, the important looking “bids”, the entire atmosphere helped to make this nineteenth of May one of the highlights of our Senior year.

Then came Baccalaureate and after that Class Day. All three classes gathered out on the campus to watch the “Olympics” take place. Tuesday night was the last gathering the Seniors had—the Class Banquet.

At last June 7 had arrived. Now we were preparing for the final step—graduation. As the band started to play the processional march, our mouths suddenly went dry and our knees began to shake. One by one we slowly walked through the campus doors for the last time. We took our places and listened to the speeches of farewell. And then came the diplomas. This was the end of our life at Watertown High School. This meant that we were ready to take our places in the world.

As the years pass by when we often read of the remarkable progress that members of the Class of 1950 have achieved, it will not surprise us, for we have everything before us.

CLASS WILL

We, the “Class of 1950,” being of allegedly sound mind and memory, do direct the future seniors to dispose of our estate at their own discretion and do declare this document to be our last will and testament. We hereby bequeath the following:

To Mr. Holland a complimentary check for the purpose of purchasing a bright suit and tie to match his cheerful disposition.

To Miss Abbott an application for a new set of vocal chords, so as to be heard over the rumpus taking place in the girls’ locker each morning at 8:09.

To Miss Thayer an economy size bottle or “Air Wick” with which to sweeten that wing of the building after each odoriferous chemistry experiment.

To Mr. Koumjian a mystic magnet with which to draw his future home room students into room 211, when 8:15 rolls around.

To Mrs. Alberico, a corner of our hearts for patience and understanding.

To the remaining members of the faculty a year’s supply of aspirin. We hope that with medical aid, you will be able to recall the class of “50” with pleasant memories.

Our wonderful Joe Merrullo leaves a place in the senior class which could never be filled by any underclassman.

Marguerite Nigoshian leaves all her mischievous troubles upon the shoulders of her sister, Marlene.

Russell Fischera leaves his rhythmic fingers to Earl Pearson.

Alice Conlin leaves her terrific personality and popularity to Gloria Stone.

Pete Kachagian leaves his “Lil Abner” shoes to Jerry Bakalyan.

Our football team leaves a wonderful record as a challenge for the coming players to tackle.
Rita Pizzone and Lorraine Woodward leave their dazzling footwork to June Martin and Pat Risso.

Barbara Oates leaves her athletic ability to Phyllis McBride.

Andy Dadjian leaves his winged feet to Bill Coakley.

Ronnie Guittarr leaves his shot-put arm to Gene Renzi.

Dick Shannon leaves his baseball bat to Pete Godfrey.

Ronnie Meehan leaves his “Silver Blades” to an able puckster of next year’s hockey team.

In our glass case we leave hard earned trophies with hopes that in the following years new friends will join them.

Having thus disposed of our unimportant possessions and materials, we pronounce—in the presence of irrelevant and irresponsible witnesses—this document to be our last will, and we also express the desire that all the preceding articles shall be completely ignored.

Cheerleaders

This year's group of cheerleaders was one of the best we've had. Their enthusiasm and spirit were excellent. They all displayed a great deal of initiative in inventing new cheers and new ways of presenting them to stimulate the audience.

Eleanor Tambascio was chosen as leader of the group, and proved a fine choice. Her manner with the group and the audience contributed tremendously to the success of the cheering this year. There were four other seniors in the group. Alice Conlin was a vital addition with her pep and vivacity. Gladys Sarkisian, Beverly Bettencourt, and Dorothy Christie, whose spirit drew forth the enthusiasm of many in the audience were all experienced members of the squad.

The junior members of the squad, Rita Basmajian, Ruth Gillis, Jean Hawes, Helen Martocchio, Rosemarie Parrelli, and Phyllis Quaranto learned rapidly and proved to be a grand group, enthusiastic and co-operative. The girls added much color at the games with their snappy costumes and the boys' team appreciated having such a good looking group to represent the school.
Headed by our new coach, Joe Zeno, the 1949 football team, with an eight and one record, became one of Watertown's most successful teams. The outstanding work of our coaching staff, the line coach Jim Sheehan and the back coach John Mantenuto in addition to Mr. Zeno, played an all important part in the team's fine showing. Due to their hard work which began under the late August sun, they had a fine club in shape for the opening game.

A big reason for Watertown's wonderful record was the swift and shifty Carmine Parrella, the leading ball carrier, whose hard plunges and quick dashes gained many valuable yards. Our guards, like Moe Tavitian, an excellent prospect for next year, kept the opposition from gaining on the ground, while the tail backs like Phil Stackpole knocked down many an aerial to the ground.

Co-Captain Jack "Choo Choo" Charshoodian also an extremely fleet-footed back, who unfortunately was hampered by an early season leg injury, was another of our stars, along with Steve Hemphill, Jim Lopez, and Tom Vasquez all of whom participated in the Greater Boston All Star tilt at Manning Bowl, Lynn, and at Charlotte, North Carolina.

The one setback this great team suffered was at the hands of Class A Arlington, a virtual power house, which even at the time of the game was looking forward to a post season contest in the South. Such Class B strongholds as New Bedford, Fitchburg, and Brookline, however, toppled easily under the machine-like plays of Coach Zeno, the deceptive ball handling of Jim Lopez and the passing arm of Phil Stackpole.

Highly favored New Bedford was undefeated up to the time that the Watertown eleven made the long trip to the Whalers' home port. Few who saw that game will forget Jim Lopez's long eighty-two yard run with that key block which was thrown by co-captain Phil Renzi.

Another undefeated team, Fitchburg, also fell before the Raiders as the Home Towners again took to the road. Perhaps the most outstanding point of this game was the line running attack displayed by Watertown. Parrella, Charshoodian, and Lopez left the entire Fitchburg team awed with their speed and multitude of plays.

Usually a second half team, Watertown reversed the procedure and got off to such a fast start that they were already seven points in the lead by the time the tardy Brookline High Band arrived at Victory Field. Brookline was due for more disappointments that afternoon as they were manhandled to the tune of 20 to 0.

Ending the season by beating Belmont brought forcibly to the attention of everyone the valuable service rendered to the team by Don Sabino. But for this 14 to 13 victory some may have overlooked the many conversions made by Don throughout the season.

November 5 was the Red Letter day of the State Meet. Watertown would have been described as a minor upset. The Enfield team, which had the talent, was the favorite and was expected to win.

This year the competition was a cross between Watertown and the Enfield team. The Enfield team was the favorite and was expected to win.

The meet was highlighted by the 400-yard dash, which was won by Ronnie Guitter. His 90-yard dash in the third round of the meet was the fastest of the meet.

Nov. 11 New England Meet

The Watertown record for the two-and-one-half-mile course, which previously had been held by Jack Wathen.

The very next week Barlow and SanSoucie proceeded to break the all-time course record of 13:08 set by Dick Fowle of Woburn in 1947. Barlow smashed the record by sixteen seconds as he flew by the tape in 12:51 seconds, with SanSoucie not far behind.

Except for Barlow there was no other standout runner. Teamwork was the impetus behind the great record. It was a racemount team; get out in front and just wear the other team out. The State Meet was the best example: red jerseys of Watertown High School dominated the leading positions for more than half the race before they spread out in the field.

During the 1949-1950 season the indoor track team led by Captain “Ando” Dadagian won just about every trophy in sight.

“Ando” Dadagian, who set several records, was the standout 600 yarder in the state and the best that the school has ever had. Ronnie Guitarr set a record in almost every meet and was undefeated in the local season as he won the shot put in every meet, the Northeastern Meet, the State Meet, the New England's, and in addition, placed fourth in the Nationals. The team swept through the Metropolitan League competition without defeat, the League relays for good measure, and won the State Meet with a grand total of 27 points. Some flash from Watertown High School scored in every event, a feat that most teams can't accomplish in a dual meet.

There were many outstanding performers on the team. Roy Lindgren and Ken Horton, our excellent hurdlers, Joe Catalonotti and Carmine Parrella the great dash men, Jack Charshoodian, a fine 300 yarder, Roger Moore, who was runner up to “Ando” in several meets, Roland SanSoucie, and outstanding 100 yarder, Art Danielson, a very good miler, and Ken Horton and Paul Dupuis who combined to give the “Corridor Kids” one of the best high jump duals in the state.

It was a very well balanced team and with its undefeated season it should rank with the best track teams ever produced at Watertown High and one of the better teams produced in the State of Massachusetts.

This year almost the entire soccer squad was comprised of seniors. Ernest Colacito, Paul Dupuis, Bob "Red" Balcom, Francis Burns, Walter Gulserian, Don Savage, Fred Ekman, John Goncz, Harry Semerjian, Jack Tashjian, John Sheils, Mark Olken, Bob Stillwell, Dick Knell, Dale Carlisle, Sebastian Tanguu, and Vahan Khachadoorian have all finished their soccer playing for good old W.H.S.

The team finished the season with four wins, four losses, and three ties. This record was good considering that the schedule included games with teams out of our class, such as M.I.T., Tufts, and Governor Dummer Academy.

Dick Knell and Sebastian Tanguu tied for honors in the high scoring department with four goals apiece.

The halfback line consisted of three fine ball players—Harry Semerjian, John Goncz, and Walter Gulserian. In the goal, Bob Stillwell, with the help of fullbacks John Sheils and Francis Burns, were able to maintain seven shutouts.

A great deal of credit is due to Joseph Malley for his fine coaching and the boys for their fine cooperation—two important factors that led the team on to a successful season.
Under the expert leadership of Miss Sally Biggane, the field hockey team had a rather successful season this year, ending up with a record of five wins and three defeats. The first team consisted of both seniors and juniors. Playing the forward line were Irene Eleftherion, Phyllis McBride, the high scorer, Barbara Oates, Jean Usseglio and Jean Leary, while on the defense were Jean Carbone, Rita Basmajian, Emma DeFilippo, Mildred Chamian, and Joan Carey, with Kay Mouradian who played a very good game as goalie.

Concord invaded the Watertown High campus for the opener and defeated the home team by a 2-1 score. But Watertown's most bitter rival was Newton, an unscored upon, undefeated team, and although the Watertown girls were defeated, they were the first team to threaten Newton's goal. The worst defeat of the season came at the hands of a strong Lexington team which shellacked the home team by a 3-1 margin. Watertown, however, bounced back and wound up the season with a brilliant victory over undefeated Winchester.

Watertown 49

The 1950 basketball squad stacked up a record of two wins, two defeats, and one tie for a fairly successful season.

Arlington invaded the Watertown High gym for the first game of the season. Captain Barbara Oates played a hard game, scoring seven points for the Red Raiders, but Callahan of Arlington scored twenty-two points, thus helping to bring Watertown down to defeat by a score of 37-20. The Watertown Hoopsters were at their best however, when they met undefeated Lexington, a rough and ready opponent. Lexington had won five games straight until they met the Watertown squad. It was a tie game 18-18, with Joan Carey scoring nine points and Phyllis McBride scoring eight. The next game with Malden proved to be the most exciting one of the basketball season. The Watertown High girls played a hard and fast game and downed Malden by a score of 49-25. The high scorer of the game was Phyllis McBride with a lusty twenty-five points to her credit.

Joan Carey and Isabelle Atamian were elected captain and manager for the 1951 season. The team is certain that they will do as outstanding a job as Barbara Oates and Georgia Zevitas did this year.

New coaches seemed to be the style around Watertown High during the 1949-50 sports season and basketball was no exception. Coach “Jim” Sheehan led the 1950 squad to the best season a Watertown High basketball team has had in thirteen years. In just this one season he moved Watertown’s position from last to third in the Suburban League standings.

Phil Stackpole was the star of the season taking the honors of highest scorer in the league by coming within five points of the league record of 205 set by Walter Bartlett of Waltham during the previous season.

Another standout on the team was the sophomore sensation Tom O’Hara. Truly a great player, Tom is a terrific shot and on the defense was the bone of the opposition which soon found out that he guarded in such a way as to protect the basket from those who shot with either hand.

The season’s record was much better than the indicated seven wins and five losses, for those two losses, to Newton and Cambridge Latin were by a single point.

Other line players who contributed to the success of the team were James Lopez, Phil Renzi, Tom O’Hara, Joe Barry, Dick Goggin, and Don Sabino.

The Watertown High Hockey Team fell far below all expectations as it wound up the season with a record of one win, one tie, and eight losses. This stroke of misfortune is by no means a reflection of the coaching it received, for Coach Murphy has had many years of good experience and has turned out some excellent championship teams. Although a large percent of the team’s poor display was due to the individual playing of some of its members, the boys on the whole were very cooperative, worked hard, fought hard, and played some very good games.

The one to one tie with Norwood was indeed an achievement as was the surprising three to nothing defeat over Framingham that came in the final game of the season. Although Captain Bob Bradley played a good game on the goal, the only laurels were brought home by Ronald Mechen who was selected as a defenseman for the Bay State All Stars. These two boys, plus Dick Horan, Dick Shannon, Joe Linehan, Joe Brunaccini, and Manager James Geifuss are all graduating this year.
The 1950 Baseball Team had a fine nucleus around which to build a strong team as Coach Jim Ryan started his second year as baseball coach at Watertown High. Phil Renzi, Dick Shannon, Jack Charshoodian, Jim Lopez, Joe Barry, and Phil Stackpole were the standouts as the team reported for the first practice when the ground dried out. There had been quite a change in Victory Field since the last season. The new stands, which raised the capacity of the field to close to 6000, are parallel to the first base foul line and within several feet of it, and thus chasing drifting flies in that direction is rather tricky if one is not accustomed to it.

Termed as the team to beat in the Suburban League, Watertown had several known heavy hitters with which to start the season. Foremost among these were Jack Charshoodian, Phil Renzi, and Phil Stackpole. In addition to his fine work in the box Jack played a terrific game at the “hot corner”. Fast moving Phil Renzi hauled down many a sure hit while patrolling his outfield position. A terrific clutch hitter, left-handed Phil Stackpole was one of the main reasons for this year’s successes. His great playing and quick thinking behind the plate stood the team in good stead throughout the year.

This year, Mr. Joseph Malley, Watertown High’s golf coach was fortunate in the fact that he was able to build his team around a strong group of four returning lettermen. These boys were: Robert Curtin, Robert Jucknavorian, Arthur Danielson, and Johnny Oteri. Robert Leary, who gained some valuable tips while playing as a sub last year, was practically assured a place among these fine golfers. William Murphy, Steve Apante, and Luigi Raneri all fought hard for the sixth spot on the squad. Mr. Malley didn’t have to worry about a team failure, since almost all of the men, when under pressure were able to pull their scores into the low eighties.

This year Mr. Malley’s squad had only three opponents. However, each one of these was played twice, once at home and once on the visitor’s course.

Practice rounds were held by the team at the Oakley Country Club long before the season’s competition was started.

Watertown had its hands full again, for both Newton and Brookline, who had the playoff game for the league title last year, were again at full strength, Newton losing only one valuable player and Brookline none.

Under the fine supervision of its coach, Mr. John Koumjian, the 1950 tennis team experienced a very successful season. The only team that presented any strong opposition was another contender for the Suburban League title—Belmont, "our rivals from over the hill."

Several of last year’s good lettermen who reported for practice again this year formed a firm foundation and strong backbone for the team. Outstanding among these was Captain Paul Pritti, a fine player who was backed by other fine Koumjianmen—Sam Davis, Bill Coakley, Bob Holmes, Paul Dupuis, Bill O’Brien, and Stan Porter—all equally capable assets to the squad.

The outstanding features of the team this year were its terrific strength and depth. It was also a very well balanced squad—a definite advantage for the success of any team, and in addition was a championship contender throughout the entire season.

The veterans were, of course, supplemented by promising sophomores who displayed much talent on the courts. These sophomores are excellent prospects for the make-up of another fine team next year.

Top Row: P. Dupuis, H. Semerjian, Mr. Koumjian, B. O’Neil, W. Coakley.
Girls' Tennis

With the coming of the 1950 tennis season, approximately twenty candidates for the squad assembled in the gymnasium. Coach Biggane, however, soon cut the number down to size by means of a tournament. The finalists of this tournament composed the tennis squad.

One reason why Watertown was so well prepared for the 1950 season was its good veterans. Captain Virginia Sharpe played tennis for three consecutive years, as did senior Cynthia Nye, who also rated tops. Another capable senior veteran was Irene Eletherion who also found time for Manager Ruth Gillis, a junior, played in the Longwood High School Tournament where she figured in the finals. Along with Ruth there were five other up and coming juniors who have all displayed unusual ability—Phyllis McBride, Joan Carey, Rita Basmajian, Bernadette Murphy, and Rose Marie Parrelli.

With combined talent such as this, it was fruitless to count on anything but a successful season. And with Miss Biggane's excellent coaching and the girls' hard work, the squad was successful.
