The Annual 1951

WATERTOWN
HIGH SCHOOL . . .

WATERTOWN, MASSACHUSETTS
Foreword

"Forsan et haec olim meminisse iuvabit" — Virgil

At the close of our happy high school years, we of the Annual Staff present to you, our classmates, your yearbook as a record of all the pleasant hours we have spent together. In this, the twenty-fifth edition of the Annual, we have tried to bring together memories of friends and activities which we shall always treasure.

Our heartfelt thanks go to all the students and faculty members who helped to prepare this book. Especially for the diligent and efficient efforts of Mr. McNealy, Mr. Moody, Miss Thayer, Mrs. MacRury, Mr. Yankowski, and Miss Jacobs, do we say, “Thank you.”

In the years that lie ahead, the possession of this Annual will not only bring nostalgic recollection of these happy and important days at Watertown High School but will serve also to remind us of the opportunities given us by our parents and teachers. Thus fortified, we shall face the future with courage and determination.

Mr. Joseph Murphy

The Class of 1951 dedicates this Annual to you, Mr. Joseph Murphy, in its desire to honor you who exemplify for us the qualities of loyalty and good sportsmanship.

We are grateful to you for the kindly advice, tinged with inimitable good humor, which has encouraged us to surmount obstacles as we strove to attain our high goal.

We speak not only for ourselves but for our school and community in special appreciation of your enthusiastic work with and for our Athletic Association, and the Infantile Paralysis Fund Campaign.

Our sincere hope is that your "crystal ball" may have in store for you happiness and success in the coming years.
Our Faculty

As we leave W.H.S., we of the Annual Staff wish to express our gratitude to all our wonderful faculty members for the many hours you have spent with us during and after school. We would like to assure you that this graduation is not an end, but a beginning which you have made successful. We thank all of you for your efforts for our benefit as individuals and as a class, for your sympathy and understanding, your friendship and counseling.

We know that though you remain here as we leave, perhaps for college, some working position, or military life, that a part of each of you goes with us. It has been your influence which has helped to form us, and in our progress we shall reflect your wise guidance. Despite our many blunders, you have remained constant; we only hope that the future which our generation shall make for itself and for the world, will be worthy of your teachings.
To the

Bertram H. Holland
Headmaster
As you near the close of your high school career you are undoubtedly looking forward to the life ahead of you with mixed feelings. You all realize that you are going out into a world which presents both great opportunities and at the same time great perplexities.

New inventions and discoveries have opened new careers for enterprising young men and women who have the education and ambition to take advantage of them. At the same time the threat that total war will engulf our beloved nation hangs over us. Any plans which you make for the future must recognize the effect on you of the struggle between the free peoples and Communist tyranny.

Do not be dismayed by the apparent conflict between your own personal plans and the need of your country for your services. A spirit of defeatism never brought success to man or nation. A spirit of determination and a sense of your mission in this world will do much to help you overcome any problems you may meet.

I bid you be of good cheer as you go forth from Watertown High School, strong in the courage that comes from faith in God and belief in a cause that is just.

In Memoriam
Kang Ng
May 10, 1932 — June 11, 1950

The sadness and tender memories left in our hearts by the death of Kang Ng cannot be expressed in words. No one has been able to take his place in the thoughts of our class.

We remember Kang as a friend to everyone. He was not an ordinary individual, for he had the enviable quality of being able both to console and to cheer all those who needed him. Certainly he was a "true sportsman" and a loyal supporter of his school.

We feel sure that for Kang Ng, the words of Christ will be fulfilled: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, although he be dead, shall live."

Junior History

When we completed our sophomore year we realized we were no longer "timid rookies" of Watertown High School, but that we were now Juniors nearing our dreamed-of senior year.

The first activity was the Annual Christmas Assembly. We owe many thanks to Miss Griffith for her brilliant supervision of the nativity scene.

On March 2, 1951, Patricia Bryant thrilled the audience with her superb performance as Angie Morrow, in "Seventeenth Summer."

Then came the long anticipated Junior Promenade with its gay decorations of blue and white streamers and bunting. The Prom, the last class activity of the year, credited much of its great success to the attendance of some Seniors and Sophomores who were very welcome.

Ann Papalia, Secretary

"Seventeenth Summer"

On March 9, Patricia Bryant and Richard Kelly thrilled the audience with their spectacular performance in the Junior Play, "Seventeenth Summer," a comedy directed by Miss Eleanor McBreen. The class may well be proud of its other thespians, namely: Hloy Tsoumas, Shirley Barnes, Virginia Boyden, Wilhelmina Bigelow, Anthony Bellantoni, Carl Kasabian, Harry Adamian, Virginia Maffucci, Dominic Camilli, Mary Ann Papalia, and Robert Gilkie.

This play was a story of a dreamy-eyed teen-aged girl, Angie Morrow, who falls in love for the first time with Jack Duluth and has to face love's hardships, and all of the other trials in the life of a seventeen-year old.

Bob and Barbara — boy meets girl!
Class of 1953

Still basking in the past glory of a most important freshman year at Junior High, the Class of 1953 entered the portals of Watertown High only to discover that we were no longer “big-shot” ninth graders but were now lowly “Suffermores.” Everywhere we turned we were reminded of our insignificance. The long corridors seemed strange and confusing and the people who scuttled up and down them even more confusing. We soon learned that we were the last to eat and the last to leave the auditorium. Was it possible that the day would come when we could walk from an assembly first when Mr. Holland said, “Seniors pass”?

Remaining undiscouraged, we held our first class meeting and election of officers a few weeks after school opened. Those chosen were Robert Hirschfeld, president; Charles Papalia, vice-president; Anne Hill, secretary; and Marie Antonellis, treasurer.

Soon after Christmas we held our first class social function, the Sophomore Party. A large representation from the class attended, and numerous class members displayed various talents during the amateur hour early in the evening; then we all were entertained by a movie, and later danced and had refreshments.

We feel that our class enjoyed a very successful year, and we are proud of the contributions we have given to the school as a whole. Many sophomore boys and girls have participated successfully in athletics; others have been active in Student Council, in the Election Commission, and in various other school functions. We have enjoyed this our first year and now look forward to taking our place as Juniors.
Sophomore Party

The Sophomore Party, held on the evening of January 27, 1951, was a grand success. The class was greeted by President Robert Hirschfeld, who explained that the party was the major sophomore social function of the year. The opening event of the evening was an amateur talent show held in the auditorium. Richard Shulman, a member of the Executive Committee, acted as Master of Ceremonies, and the artists lending their various talents were: George Gilfoil, who favored us with a trumpet solo; Josephine Pascieia, an accomplished pianist, who played Warsaw Concerto; and a hilarious quartet of sophomore girls, who tapped a hill-billy rhythm to the music of By Heck. They wore dungarees with shirttails flying and men's dilapidated hats. A question arose as to whether they entertained themselves or the audience more, but the answer has not yet been learned. The last performer was Mary MacAdam playing three popular songs.

Next on our program was a movie titled Fall In, depicting youth in our time. It was the story of a young army sergeant of extraordinary ability whose big job was to transform a group of Kentucky farmers into soldiers. Successful in training his men, the sergeant further distinguished himself by breaking open a spy-ring.

After the talent show and movie the members retired to the gymnasium where dancing was enjoyed. Later, ice cream and cookies were served by the Refreshment Committee. The Sophomores left for home anticipating many similar enjoyable events in their junior and senior years.

The chairman of the various committees which planned the party under the supervision of Mr. Raymond Ford, class adviser, and of the class president were as follows: tickets, Ann Lauricella; refreshments, Nancy Peterson; entertainment, Marjorie Mogan; and stage committee, Richard Shulman.

Why thank you, "Smitty"!

Art Club

Under the capable supervision of Mr. Harold Moody, the Art Club offers its members an excellent opportunity to work in such mediums as pastels, water colors, and pencil sketching. Craft work including clay modeling, plaster casts, and figurines is also part of our program.

Members participate in such school projects as decorating for the proms and making posters for dances, plays, and campaigns. Another function of the club is submitting and executing ideas for the Annual; this includes the cover design and other drawings in the book.

The Club also planned many interesting visits to the Museum of Fine Arts.

Camera Club

Under the able direction of Miss Thayer the Camera Club met every Wednesday. Each candidate for admission was voted upon by the members, and when accepted was assigned a darkroom period. The club's projects covered taking pictures of all school activities. These pictures were used for the Annual and the Bulletin. Contests, which are always popular, were judged by outstanding photographers and art critics.

At the end of the year the club held an exhibition contest which climaxed a series of lesser competitions. Prize-winning pictures were displayed in the library.
Science Seminar Society

The Science Seminar Society was initiated as a club in 1950. Under the guidance of Mr. Robert D. MacCurdy, scientifically minded students were given a chance to delve deeply into the scientific method. Members chose a field of study on topics which appealed to them.

Mary Ellen Mackie, Stephen Arpante, Parker Kirk, and Maria Lee Voutas exhibited projects at the State Science Fair. The society has opened new horizons to its members and has accomplished much for the benefit of the school.

Italian Club

The Italian Club, sponsored by Mr. Carlo Vacca, has sixteen members. The officers are: Louise Arricale, president; David Dickson, vice-president; Rose De Agazio, secretary; and Anthony Oteri, treasurer.

The purpose of the club is to awaken in the students a consciousness of the contributions of the Italian people to the western civilization. Films, museums, speakers, school visits, operas, and parties were included among the members' activities and added to everyone's enjoyment of the Italian Club.

Band

The Band, a popular and industrious organization, returned the day before school reopened to be ready to play at the first-day assembly. It presented a masterful display at all the football games and rallies this year. In addition, members also participated in the Memorial Day Parade. Although the Band did not present its annual January concert, it participated at the North-Eastern Massachusetts Music Festival in May.

Much credit is due Mr. Chick for his excellent guidance. Under his direction the Band earned widespread recognition for its musical abilities.

Glee Club

During the past year the Glee Club had a membership of approximately one hundred girls and boys. The piano accompanists for the year were Sandra Dunn and Barbara Altieri.

In the fall the Glee Club was under the direction of Miss Canan, who left to accept another position. The club finished the year under the guidance of Mr. Brehm. Members rehearsed enthusiastically throughout the entire year and earned special commendation for their participation in school assemblies.
Pep Club

By helping the cheerleaders cheer the boys on to victory, the Pep Club has been a successful roofer for our football team. This club is composed of sophomore, junior, and senior girls numbering three hundred members.

Each week during the football season the club met for cheering practice. At rallies members led the cheering and school songs under the direction of the cheerleaders.

The resounding cheers heard across our football field gave proof that our Pep Club had the true school spirit of W.H.S.

Chorus

The Special Chorus is a girls' choral group which has done splendid work in the past years.

A small group of the girls under the direction of Mrs. Jenkins participated in the Christmas assembly during which they sang: “Beautiful Savior” and “Jesu Bambino.” Jeanette Morizio sang “O Holy Night” and “Ave Maria.” Mary Boyajian served as accompanist.

The Chorus began the new year under the direction of Mr. Brehm who replaced Mrs. Jenkins in December.
Broadcasting Club

The purpose of the Broadcasting Club, which met every Tuesday during recess periods, is to give those students who are interested in any phase of radio an opportunity to further their knowledge of radio production and presentation. Members also received training in the use of the microphone and recording machines. This year's club sponsored by Miss Eleanor McBreen conducted a series of public service broadcasts on WCRB, the local Waltham station.

Officers were Joseph Toscano, president; Joseph Giglio, vice-president; and Lillian Kashmanian, secretary-treasurer.

Rifle Club

This year an influx of new members replenished the ranks of the WHS Rifle Club. Due to their rapid progress in basic marksmanship many of these new members are leading contenders for top places in the club.

For purposes of competition, Mr. McGrath divided the members into two orders. The first order was captained by Peter Sarmanian, and the second by John Shepard. Prizes of free ammunition were offered for the best individual results. These added inducements proved very worthwhile and resulted in higher scoring.
Hi-Y

Hi-Y meets every other Monday at the Newton YMCA. Its purpose is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

Under the directorship of Mr. John Liston, Hi-Y presented successfully its annual Victory Dance and Splash Party, the proceeds of which were added to its scholarship fund.

Officers were Gregory Plunkett, president; Arthur Keefe, vice-president; Joseph Guidetti, treasurer; Larry Cafarella, secretary; and Paul Stackpole, chaplain.

Chess Club

The Chess Club met every Friday in 205 under the sponsorship of Mr. Vacca. The aim of the club was to initiate neophytes into the intricacies of a grand old game, and to offer seasoned players the opportunity to engage in tournament play with students from neighboring high schools.

A delightful feature of the club this year was the large number of representatives of the fair sex who repeatedly proved that beauty and brains may mix very nicely together.

Officers were Robert Baker, president; Muriel Ettenberg, vice-president; Catherine Holmes, secretary; Robert Gilkie, treasurer.
Library Club

The Library Club, sponsored by Miss Esther C. Johnson, meets every Tuesday in the library. The purpose of the Club is to assist the school library and to promote its interests in every way. Members serve as assistant-librarians throughout the year.

This past year the club donated forty dollars worth of new books to the library as its annual gift as well as a display of the United Nations flags.

The officers were: Helen MacLeod, president; Ann O'Neill, vice-president; Ann Papalia, secretary; and Josephine Castellano, treasurer.

Le Cercle Français

Organized late in the fall, Le Cercle Français under the direction of Miss Malkasian determined to carry out the following purposes: namely, to improve conversation in French, to provide French literature for a corner in the library, and to further interest in the French language and culture. Singing folk songs, listening to musical French recordings, and hearing illustrated talks on French life varied the programs of the weekly meetings.

The officers were: Arthur Chamian, president; Rita Basmajian, vice-president; Barbara Miller, secretary; and Franklin Nahigian, treasurer.
Projection Club

Members of the Projection Club, which met every Tuesday, were instructed in the use of the wire recorder, recordio, type recorder and public address system.

Valuable service rendered to the school by members of the club included furnishing sound effects for the Senior Play, showing films on classroom subjects and installing a portable amplifying system in the cafeteria for playing recordings during recess periods.

Its officers were: Gregory Plunkett, president; James Asaiante, vice-president; Gerald Turner, treasurer, and Louise Shamgochian, secretary.

Quid Nunc

Quid Nunc, which co-operates with the community, veterans’ and children’s hospitals and school, has had many activities this year.

The girls have made favors for hospitals, and have worked on the bloodmobile as receptionists. In April they gave their annual “Quid Nunc Tea” for the faculty.

Officers President Mary Seretelly, Vice President Sally Kingston, Corresponding Secretary Joan Toomiansian, Recording Secretary Jean Nazarian, and Treasurer Esther Darakjian, with the advice of Miss Mary Boyle, have aided in making this one of the finest organizations of the school.
Tri-Hi

The purpose of Tri-Hi is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The officers are Jean Hawes, president; Arlene Curtin, vice-president; Claire Trabucco, secretary; Joan Toomasian, treasurer; Gloria Stone, chaplain; and Miss Geraldine Murphy, adviser.

At the end of each year Tri-Hi presents a scholarship to a worthy senior girl, the money for which was raised by selling shakers at the football games. Tri-Hi also held a successful Winter Carnival Dance and its annual alumnae tea.

Biology Club

The Biology Club, sponsored by Mr. Robert MacCurdy, meets every Monday in the Biology Lab. Among its activities were the Science Fair, movies, field trips, joint meetings with Newton and Brookline, and an alumni reunion. In the most successful Science Fair were a terrarium; various aquaria; detailed reports and illustrations; and other exhibits of biological importance. Numerous speakers were helpful in furthering biological knowledge and interest.

Its officers were: Richard Bonier, president; John Derderian, vice-president; Parker Kirk, secretary; Maria Lee Voutas, treasurer.
Election Commissioners

The Election Commission, a three-year-old organization under the supervision of Mr. Peter Burke, consists of one commissioner and one alternate commissioner from each homeroom.

This all-school group plays a very important role in our school life by assisting in all school voting and in the counting of votes. The largest election which it handles is the Good Government balloting.

The officers elected for the 1950–1951 term were: Bud Parrine, president; Teddy O’Neil, vice-president; Claire Ramsay, secretary.

Bulletin

The Bulletin staff, advised by Miss Margaret McCarthy with the assistance of Miss Geraldine Murphy and Miss Mildred Caram, spent a busy year publishing their four-page, five-column newspaper and also successfully sponsored the fourth annual Holly Hop which aids in financing the yearly trip to the journalism convention at Columbia University.

The editorial staff was: Joan Carey, news; Robert Bergman, editorial; Janet Slamin, feature; Richard Harding, sport; Barbara Miller, copy; and Jean Nazarian, business.
Orchestra

The purpose of the orchestra is to give instrumentalists a chance to further their knowledge in music and play under a director with a group.

There were thirty-four members who, during the past year had three directors: Miss Canan, Mrs. Jenkins, and Mr. Brehm. The orchestra played at several Student Council assemblies, the Woman's Club Play, the Senior and Junior Plays, and the Christmas Assembly, and has contributed greatly to the school program. The final activity of the year was its participation at Graduation Exercises.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club, under the capable supervision of Miss Desmond, is primarily for girls interested in the business world. All girls taking commercial subjects may join.

The club meets once a week and a committee of three girls who have been previously appointed takes over the activities of the meeting. They usually plan to have a speaker, visit a business office, hold a typing contest, or have some other interesting project.

The club had its social activities too, foremost among which was its annual Christmas party. For its last activity the club visited the business office of one of our large local firms.
On Friday evening, December 1, 1950, talented members of the Senior Class presented the three-act comedy, "Meet Me in St. Louis." Long and diligent preparation by all members of the cast under the able direction of Miss Eleanor McBreen resulted in a successful performance which provided an entertaining evening for the audience.

The plot centered around Mr. and Mrs. Smith (Gregory Plunkett and Irene Kanis), their son Lon (Franklin Nahigian), a college freshman, and their four daughters, Rose (Pauline Natale), Esther (Marie Mazmanian), Agnes (Diane Dawson), and Tootsie (Sally Kingston). The girls learned that Lon was interested in Lucille Pentard (Joan Canzanelli), a girl from the East, who was only using Lon as a means of meeting other men. The girls tried many plans to direct Lon's interest from Lucille to Ida Boothby (Nancy Ajamian), but their schemes were interrupted by Mr. Smith's announcing that they must move to New York immediately. Their mischievous pranks proved profitable when Mr. Smith forfeited his New York position for a better position in St. Louis.

The youngest and most daring members of the family, Agnes and Tootsie, kept the audience in good humor throughout the evening.
To the ranks of Cum Laude, National Honor Society or Student Council, faculty members and student body have elected those students who by virtue of outstanding qualities of character and service, leadership and scholastic ability have merited special commendation. The following pages are reserved for Those Whom We Honor . . .

National

Membership in the Saltonstall Chapter of the National Honor Society, chartered in 1937, is a goal worth striving for in one's high school days. Although the opportunity to become a member is open to all students of the school, a worthy candidate must be elected by the faculty on the basis of his outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service — the ideals for which the society stands.

The functions of the organization have proved successful under the able direction of Mr. Holland, who, by virtue of his position, is honorary head of the Saltonstall Chapter and Miss Jacobs, who is chairman of the faculty committee. Since most of the members participated in other school organizations, the society's activities this year were limited to the induction ceremony.

Under the leadership of Joan Carey, president; Jean Hawes, vice-president; Neila Tillotson, secretary, and Donald Page, treasurer; members have constantly upheld the ideals of the society and perpetuated its motto, Noblesse Oblige.
Cum Laude

The twenty-two college course seniors elected to Cum Laude have earned, by their high scholastic achievement, distinctive honor not only for themselves, but also for their class, which has one of the largest Cum Laude representations in recent years. The golden keys presented to these seniors are symbols of their well-rounded intellectual capability and are comparable to college Phi Beta Kappa Awards.

Watertown High, chartered by the National Cum Laude Society since 1921, was the first, and remains the only Massachusetts public high school so distinguished. Such honor has been reserved to eighteen exclusively college-preparatory schools such as Phillips Exeter, Phillips Andover, Lawrence Academy at Groton, Tabor Academy, and Dana Hall at Wellesley.

When the Cum Laude graduates of 1951 go on to develop their talents in their individual fields of endeavor, they will undoubtedly succeed because of the same qualities which have gained them this eminence, and will again reflect credit to themselves, their homes, and their school.

Student Council

The Student Council, presided over by Charles Kowalski, had an active and effective year. Representatives from all of the homerooms and their alternates were advised by Miss McCaffrey and Mr. McGrath. During the meetings held on Tuesdays during second and third recesses, student, school, and class problems were discussed and voted upon. Among the decisions made was the recent innovation of music during lunch periods. Pressed by student opinion, the Council provided a systematic playing of popular recordings during all lunch periods.

A special Assembly Committee of the Council chose the educational and entertaining assemblies which were presented during the year. Other entertainment was provided for the student body at the annual Kouncil Kick-off which was a tremendous success.

All together the representatives did much to help the student body and to learn more of democratic government.

Class History

Do you remember a shining morning in September, 1948 when you first entered the high school as a member of the Sophomore Class? Most of us experienced emotions that day that were, to say the least, conflicting—a little anticipation, a little fear, pride in our new status as senior high schoolers, and at the same time a painful awareness of our lowly position in the eyes of the upperclassmen. However, we soon took hold and completed our first task when we elected our class officers, who were: James Lopez, president; William Coakley, vice-president; Joan Carey, secretary; Warren Averill, treasurer; and Cynthia Bradley, Richard Hansen, and Paul Stackpole on the executive committee.

These officers planned the most important event of the sophomore year—the Sophomore Party. On the evening of the party talented members of the class entertained us in the auditorium; later, we all enjoyed refreshments and dancing in the gym, where we made many acquaintances which were to strengthen into firm friendships in succeeding years. In the course of the entertainment, we discovered that in addition to our promising athletes we also had much and varied talent with which to hold our own in 1949 and 1950.

Upon our return in September, we were able to start functioning at once, because of our election the previous June. We had chosen as our Junior Officers James Lopez, president; William Coakley, vice-president; Phyllis McBride, secretary; Jean Hawes, treasurer; Cynthia Bradley, Peter Hanley, Donald Long, Audrey Mosher, and Donald Page as our executive committee.

Then we were given a chance to “show our stuff” as the time came to stage the class play. The committee chose “But Fair Tomorrow,” a comedy that had the large audience in chuckles and even uproarious laughter throughout the performance. Our next and last important affair of the year was the Junior Prom; the feverish preparations of the committee were rewarded on April 14 as a large attendance spent a pleasant evening dancing to the music of Bill Erman.

Before we began the summer vacation, we again held our election. The results were: James Lopez, president; Gregory Plunkett, vice-president; Phyllis McBride, secretary; Jean Hawes, treasurer; and Diane Dawson, Donald Long, Audrey Mosher, Donald Page, and Eugene Renzi on the executive committee.

Next September, suddenly there we were— the graduating class! Realizing how numerous the problems ahead were, the officers set about to solve one of the most serious — that of selecting the Annual Staff. After much careful consideration, they appointed Robert Udell to the editorship, and Barbara Altieri and Elizabeth Gwaltney to the posts of assistant-editors.

When all the Annual committees were chosen, we undertook the selection and preparation of the Senior Play.

Our class play, “Meet Me in St. Louis,” was a big success. Much credit was due to the cast who rehearsed long and diligently to present the play and to the members of the various committees who aroused the interest of the students.

The athletic teams finished successful seasons with the field hockey team completing an undefeated season, the track team winning the Class B Championship, and the basketball team just missing a tourney berth.

All those who participated in Freak Day will long remember the fun we had and how silly we looked!

Then came our biggest and last high school dance — our Senior Prom. Much effort was put into the preparation for the dance and all those who attended felt it was well worth the effort. All spent an enjoyable evening dancing to the music of Gene Dennis and his orchestra.

The end of our high school years was less than a month away. All that remained for us was Class Day, our Banquet, and the Baccalaureate Services.

With the latter completed we were ready for graduation — an event which meant our diploma — a thing for which we strived twelve years.

As the last student proceeds to receive his diploma, we will have ended our eventful high school years and will then be on our own. Although now we will bring this class history to a close, we will long remember the many pleasant times spent at W.H.S. in our final school years.

Four score and seven years ago nothing important happened. But, four score and seven years later, something did happen: The Class of '51 graduated, leaving in its wake memories of the years gone by, a sheaf of faded "blue slips," and the class of '52 madly (yes, we say "madly") dogging (yes, we say "dogging") us in our tracks, thirsting, not for water, but for KNOWLEDGE! But, in honor of our unbesmirched class escutcheon (ho-ho, that's rich!), we now take the opportunity to make several worthless and unimportant contributions to the school before we leave its portals.

1. To the faculty at large we bequeath a shortage of blue slips.

2. We leave Mr. Carlo Vacca a new stamp pad for his red rubber donkey stamp, which is printed on flunked tests. We also leave the gentleman from 205 an aluminum stick, which, when whacked on a desk, goes "boining."

3. Our bequest to Mr. Robert MacCurdy is an inexhaustible tool chest fully equipped with everything from Popular Mechanics to nuts, as well as a new joke book, hoping these will relieve the strain on his future pupils.

4. We leave Miss Helen Thayer some safe and sane chemists.

5. To Miss Esther Johnson we bequeath a pair of track shoes so that she can catch sophomores leaving the library before the 2 o'clock bell.

6. To the faculty and students as a whole we leave enough blood to keep warm on Monday mornings.

7. Charley Yeremian leaves a mangled steering wheel to anybody who wants one.
Will

8. Jim Lopez leaves his sportsmanship and sports ability to the football, basketball, and baseball teams as a whole.

9. Larry Cafarella becomes the heir of the ace shot-put arms of Gene Renzi and Dave Foley.

10. Marie DiSilva leaves her sense of humor to Shirley Cole.

11. Frank ("Oozo") Nahigian leaves his whacky wit to that galloping ghost, Dom Camilli.

12. Paul Stackpole leaves his basketballing ability to Tom O'Hara.

13. Mary Ann Papalia receives the versatility of Joan Carey.

14. Mary Boyajian leaves her nimble piano fingers to her sister, Arline.

15. Phyllis McBride donates her all-around athletic skill to Josephine Castellano.

16. For those students who can't think up the answers as fast as Mr. Kelley or Miss Jacobs can think up the questions, we bequeath to the library a copy of the recent best-seller “True Lies” by Convict 883047-J.

We, the Class of 1951, being of questionably sound mind, have hereby bequeathed the articles aforementioned, to be taken with a grain of salt. For this purpose we now bequeath our readers five bags of salt.

Fifty-One
Athletics
With a schedule overloaded with power-houses, Watertown still managed to have a successful season of five wins, four defeats, and one tie. Much credit must be given to our splendid coaches Joe Zeno, Jim Sheehan, John Mantenuto, and Charles McGahan, who must have grown ten years older in this “win, then lose” season.

Some of the big guns on the Arsenal-Towners team were Co-Captains Jim Lopez and John Vlachos. Together with Gene Renzi, these boys were chosen on the Suburban All Star Team because of their ability to play the best brand of football. Not only did these boys win Suburban honors but they also made the Class B All Scholastic team, which included Paul Stackpole too.

Unlike other years, this season proved to have a different outstanding player for each game. Paul Stackpole scared Brockton out of its wits when he started catching out-of-this-world passes. John Zona made Dedham look sick when he crashed through the Dedham line. The whole Watertown line, which included players like Gene Renzi, Moe Tavitian, Aram Bazarian, John Vlachos, and Dave Foley, threw Chelsea all over the gridiron.

“Swifty” Tom MacCarthy gave Newton
something to talk about, while Jim Lopez sparked the third string to a rampage over an inexperienced Brookline eleven. Bud Parrine left Belmont with something to think about next year.

Although Watertown's record may not seem too impressive, the Red Raiders were a constant threat to the Class B title throughout the season; for many games like those with Brockton, Winchester, and Marblehead could have gone either way if Watertown had received a break or two.

The season as a whole was exciting, thrilling, and enjoyable. One of the big games of the year was won by the Raiders when they upset the Orange and Black of Newton. The thriller of the year proved to be the Winchester game in which Watertown was nipped 7–6. On Turkey Day the loyal Watertown fans had everything in the world to yell about, for rival Belmont was buried 26–6. This victory enabled Watertown to win a second leg on the beautiful Bernard McHugh Trophy, which needs but one more victory to be retired.

Ed McMahon stopped after an end run.

Despite the fact that his entire first team was lost through graduation, soccer mentor Joe Malley, fielding a team comprised of reserves and newcomers, tutored the Watertown Booters to a surprisingly good season, compiling a respectable record of five wins, two ties, and five losses.

Scoring honors for the season went to Co-Captain Sherburne Appleton who notched four goals while John Doggett, a fullback, and Joe Orosz, a halfback, each connected twice. This season, as last, graduation will deplete Coach Malley’s ranks. Departing veterans include Co-Captains John MacKay and Sherburne Appleton, Paul Trecartin, Joe DiVico, John Doggett, Joe Orosz, and Robert O’Connor.

It would be difficult to single out any one player, but general consensus rates Orosz high on any list. Highlighting the season was a creditable 1–0 shutout over Belmont Hill in which Orosz booted home the winning tally.

The rugged schedule also produced victories over St. Marks and Browne & Nichols as well as two scoreless ballgames, which were played against Revere.

Captain . . . . . . .-Ray McIntyre
Manager . . . . . . . Harry Miller
Coach . . . . . . . Mr. Joseph Murphy

Although the hockey team's record was not very impressive, the team proved to be a more scrappy and fighting one than that of last year. The boys lacked experience more than anything else because they are still juniors and sophomores. Despite these defects Coach Joe Murphy is looking towards next year for a team that will give real competition in the Bay State League.

Players like Ray McIntyre, Ron Dronseiko, Ken Holmes, Tom Woodbury, Henry Kelley, and Dick Michelson deserve much credit for their splendid efforts. Kenneth Holmes, who played the center position for the Red and Black, was chosen on the Bay State All Stars second string.

The highlight of the campaign occurred when the Red and Black handed Needham a 4-2 drubbing.

During the playoffs Watertown looked like a new team. The boys really gave all they had. This is shown by the close scores in all three games, which were lost by only one point. We know for sure that this year's squad has paved the way for a powerful team next season.

the Suburban League as it very handily secured a co-chairmanship berth along with Newton. A great deal of pessimism was in the air when at the start of the season the team lost to lowly Lexington in a non-league game. But suddenly the team came to life and downed highly rated Waltham and Newton in succession, then went on to secure a 6 and 0 record at mid-season.

At the end of the season, with identical 10 and 2 records, Newton and Watertown became co-champs. In order to decide which team would enter the Tech Tourney, a play-off game was held at neutral Brookline. Watertown deserved to win as it practically mastered Newton throughout the game. However, Lady Luck turned deserter in the last few seconds, and Newton won, 48 to 47.

The team deserves much praise for such a successful season, but probably the predominant factor in the achievement of this success was the teamwork of a well-balanced club comprised of Arthur Marcantonio at center; "Esh" Long, and Jim Lopez at forward; and Paul Stackpole and "Buddy" O'Hara at guard, with Don Donovan and Pete Godefroy capably bringing up the reinforcements.

The 1950 team led by Captain Kowalski, failed to equal last year's terrific squad. Hampered by injuries and its ranks depleted by graduation, Coach Gleason's group still made a creditable showing.

The harriers' first run was with powerful Belmont. It looked quite hopeful at the start when Herb Barlow, Dick Harding, and Charlie Kowalski maintained a compact lead group, but finally slackened due to the stamina of the hard-pacing Belmonters. The rest of the season went on in similar fashion; just a little more talent would have brought the Red and Black Victory.

Several underclassmen running for their first season showed tremendous improvement as the schedule progressed and offered promise of a faster squad for next year.

Because last year’s championship squad was riddled by graduation and the call to the armed forces, this season’s team faced a serious handicap. The gaps in the squad were filled largely by inexperienced boys, accompanied by a few reliable veterans. Despite this, the team showing splendid spirit, improved steadily under the guidance of Coach Gleason and Mr. Perkins.

Watertown’s reputation of championship track teams was maintained as Captain Dick Harding’s boys captured the Class B State Title. Particularly impressive were the feats of consistent point-getters Gene Renzi and Dave Foley in the shotput, the clutch running of Diz Myers in the State Meet, and outstanding first-year performances by Bob Gandolfo, Ike Small, and Frank Nahigian.

Baseball

Manager  .  .  .  .  Eddie Campbell
Coach  .  .  .  Mr. George Yankowski

Watertown's success on the diamond was inevitable with such players as Paul Stackpole, John Zona, Donald Long, Aram Bazarian, Pete Godefroy, and Donald Donovan.

Last year's splendid team left this year's squad with a Suburban League Title to uphold. This year's schedule was loaded with top teams such as Newton Waltham, Arlington, and many others.

Coach George Yankowski is looking for the juniors and sophomores to fill in the various gaps left by graduation. Like all other years, this year saw a big turnout of sophomores. Players like Babe Samourian, Art Marcantonio, Harry Adikian, Fred Saco, and Guy Carbone will star the raiders in the future.

One of the teams to beat each year is rival Belmont, but like all the other sports this year, Watertown seemed to be in command. Another outstanding game was the one against Newton, because the Orange and Black were Co-champions to last year's Surburban Leagure.

The great courage and spirit shown by the team placed them in the upper brackets once again.
Golf

Captain . . . . John Oteri
Coach . . . . Mr. Joseph Malley

Rated as a definite threat to the Greater Boston High School Golf League’s southern division crown this year was the well-balanced golf team of coach Joe Malley.

In spite of the loss of three regulars through graduation, the boys who returned formed the nucleus of a fairly potent club. Among those back were: Seniors Captain John Oteri and Bob Leary; and Juniors Lou Reneri, Jim Billings, and Jerry White. Added to this impressive group of veterans was the promising sophomore tandem of Anthony Oteri, brother of Captain John, and Ed Vaughn.

In view of the fact that defending State Champion Newton lost all six starters, and that Brookline was considerably weakened by the loss of Leo Mullen, any team boasting such strength as that which Reneri, Leary, and the Oteri boys provided, could not be taken too lightly. On the contrary, such a team promised hot competition, with plenty of spirit and power.

The Towners, playing from the Oakley Country Club, had a home and home series scheduled with each of the other three teams in the circuit. Many members of the team were capable of playing in the seventies, accomplishments which made the year’s record an exciting and stimulating one. Should next year’s Seniors follow in the footsteps of this year’s stars, theirs will undoubtedly be a championship season.

Tennis

Captain . . . . Robert Gilkie
Coach . . . . Mr. William Donnellan

This year's tennis squad was under the able tutelage of Mr. William Donnellan, who succeeds former coach, Mr. John Koumjian, now serving in the Air Force of the United States.

Mr. Koumjian is to be congratulated for his capable supervision which brought many a successful season. No better coach could be found to replace Mr. Koumjian than Mr. Donnellan. His experience and knowledge of the sport enabled his squad to make top ranks.

The team, which consisted of many newcomers, played a fine game of tennis in the Suburban League. As in the past, Watertown had some very stiff competition. Matches with top ranking teams such as Newton and Belmont provided for much of this and created an exciting schedule.

Cheerleaders

The 1951 cheerleaders played a large role in the successes of this year's athletic teams. The girls showed a great deal of pep and spirit. They were constantly making up new cheers and originating new maneuvers for some old favorites.

Rose Marie Parrella was chosen as head cheerleader and proved herself to be most capable. Her patience and ability with the squad contributed greatly to the success of the cheering.

This fine-looking group of cheerleaders captured second honors in the cheerleading competition at Belmont High School. Certainly their colorful costumes were a pleasure to see at games, and their sparkling personalities were a cheery addition to the school.

Foreground: R. Parrella.
Field Hockey

Captain . . . . . . . Phyllis McBride
Manager . . . . . . . Rita Basmajian
Coach . . . . . . . Miss Helen Mackey

Under the expert coaching of Miss Mackey, the field hockey girls finished their season with the excellent record of seven wins and one tie.

Watertown started on the victory parade by defeating Malden. After six consecutive victories, Watertown met its most bitter rival, Newton, on the W.H.S. campus and battled to a 2–2 deadlock. This was the only time Newton was scored upon during the season. Returning to the winning column, the girls won a brilliant victory over a fighting Winchester team.

First team forwards were Jean Leary, Joyce Riley, Phyllis McBride, Jean Hawes, Mary Marashian, and the reliable substitutes Dinny Murphy, Deb Gratcy, and Sylvia Young. The defense consisted of Rita Basmajian, Dodi DiSilva, Rose Parella, Joan Carey, Isabelle Atamian, and Marie Zengo, with Kay Mouradian and Jean Nazarian sharing the goal tending job.

The 1951 basketball squad wound up a fair season with two wins and four losses.

The Watertown Raiders started off with a boom and a crash at the Malden High gym scoring 43 points to Malden's 26. The starting forwards for the first team were: Joan Carey, Phyllis McBride, and Rita Basmajian. The guards were Isabelle Atamian, Dinny Murphy, and Marie DiSilva. High scorer in the game was Phyllis McBride with 20 points.

A few days later Watertown met Concord on home grounds and lost a thriller. The score was tied 39–39 with thirty seconds left to play. Just as the final buzzer sounded, Concord swished one to win 41–39. High scorer in this game was Rita Basmajian with 16 points. The Red Raiders met Winchester on the local court and romped to win by the score of 43–27; Joan Carey was high scorer with 19 points. Competitions with the underclassmen saw the '51 squad ahead 24–13. Thus, the record shows that the efforts of the girls' basketball team were highly satisfactory.

The new manager for the 1952 squad is Mary DeFlorio. The captain will be chosen in September.

Tennis

Captain . . . . . . . Ruth Gillis
Manager . . . . . Bernadette Murphy
Coach . . . . . Miss Sally Biggane

After a series of tournaments among the candidates for the tennis squad Coach Biggane selected the 1951 team which has proved to be a very good one since it is mostly composed of senior veterans. Those returning are Joan Carey, Phyllis McBride, Rita Basmajian, Jean Hawes, Bernadette Murphy and Rose Marie Parrella. Also returning is capable Ruth Gillis, captain of this veteran team. A better captain couldn’t have been chosen, for Ruth participated in the Longwood High School Tournament where she figured in the finals last year. This, her third year on the squad, has proved to be her best.

The two newcomers to the squad were Joan Murdock, a junior, and Joan Porter, a sophomore.

The toughest opponent of the season was Newton because of all the practice they receive with the use of five courts next to their school building, but despite Newton’s superiority, Miss Biggane was sure that her girls would maintain a high standing since such talent assures nothing but a successful season.

Dear Mom and Pop:

Today is Graduation Day, the day I have been looking forward to. Perhaps I am going to be happy, maybe sad. You always told me school days were the best days of my life, but I just couldn't agree, although inside me I felt you were right. The day has now arrived when I must make a decision as to what I want to do — further education or a job. Whatever it might be, Momsy and Popsy, I intend to do better so that you will be proud of me. I realize now that I have given you many a heartache and I am sorry for every little hurt.

You will always be my dearest Mother and Dad, and I shall do whatever possible to make you happy in the years ahead. God Bless you both!

Love,

The best answer is YOU

I think it will be too bad if everybody gets the idea that somebody is going to take care of him some day.

People who have money today worked hard for it and saved some of their earnings.

Working and saving by individuals made America the best country in the world today.

Working and saving are two good, old-fashioned habits that we shouldn't throw away in exchange for anybody's promised bed of roses.
