The first hundred years, 1853 to 1953 — Civil War, the telephone, the Gay Nineties, the horseless carriage, the Sixteenth Amendment, World War I, Prohibition and the Roaring Twenties, the Depression, World War II, and President Ike — this was the eventful era that witnessed the growing pains of Watertown High School. Quod Centurium!!

On October 17, 1953, the town of Watertown opened its first high school, with an enrollment of fifty-two pupils. The location of this school was on the site of the present Methodist Church. The School Committee of 1851-52 dared to put the following statement into their report: “The punctual attendance of these pupils is evidence of the interest felt by both scholars and parents in its usefulness and success.”

There were four main reasons for the establishment of this school: to increase interest in higher education and self-advancement; to give competent students a chance to pursue “higher branches” of study; to promote the growth of the town; to aid parents in keeping the children away from “poisonous street influences,” especially common in large villages. (In 1853, the “large village” of Watertown had a population of 3,000; today, it has a population of over 38,000.) All objections to the founding of the school were overruled.

Instead of Tressler’s English in Action, students of a hundred years ago waded through Quackenbo’s Composition. Significant of the time was the course in Davie’s Surveying. Besides Latin and French, Greek was also taught. The original three-year course was extended to four years in 1855, and the incoming School Committee was recommended to retain scholars another year in the grammar schools, in order that the standard of all the schools might be raised one year.

In 1885, the entire school was removed to a new building on the site of the present Phillips School. Presently, the grammar school children of the Phillips Primary School and the Francis Grammar School were united under the roof of the school, henceforth called simply — the Francis School. The upper-grades scholars left in the Phillips School thus acquired for their exclusive use: “a spacious main room, two large recitation rooms, and a laboratory, on the second floor and two large recitation rooms on the first floor.” Elaborate facilities according to the standards of the times!

Significant progress was revealed in 1900 by the foundation of the first school newspaper, The Oracle. This publication was issued monthly by the Senior Class, and was later changed to the magazine, “The Phillips High School Review,” published by the entire school.

In 1913, the high school moved into a new building on Mt. Auburn Street, which has since been taken over by the East Junior High School. The Watertown Tribune Enterprise of January 31, 1913, permitted itself a cautious appraisal: “The new building is worth inspection. It will be open to the public in February and classes will probably move in in March.”

However, facilities soon proved to be inadequate for the growing school population, and it was evident that yet another school had to be erected. The year 1925 brought into view the present high school building. This modern building marked a great advance in its fine science laboratory, well-supplied library, excellent mechanical shops, and splendid gym. Further improvements were made ten years later with the addition of twelve new rooms and Whitehill Hall.

This year 1953 marks the 100th anniversary of the founding of Watertown High School. We are indebted to the faculties of the past and the present for their tireless efforts and patience in creating the molds for our futures. The twenty-seventh ANNUAL staff expresses its thanks to its own faculty advisors — Mr. McNealy, Mr. Moody, Miss Thayer, Miss Silva, Mr. Yankowski, and Miss Jacobs — and also to all those of preceding years who have so unselfishly aided students in recording their class histories.

It is said that the first hundred years are the hardest. If this is true, Watertown High School is assured of a gloriously successful second hundred years. The Class of 1953 salutes the yet-unborn Class of 2053!!!

And now let us turn the page to the record which we hope will bring us together in the future through its memories of the past.

Mr. Thomas A. Blake, we, the Graduating Class, dedicate this twenty-seventh issue of the Annual in this Centennial Year of the Watertown Senior High School and at the completion of your successful first year as its Headmaster.

You came into our midst last September, bringing with you your natural warmth and dynamic strength — and we liked you. Seniors and Underclassmen alike responded to your constant concern for us and our individual, class, and school problems. You showed us that you were interested in making improvements for education, for athletics, and for social affairs.

Now at this important milestone in our school's history, from Faculty and Undergraduates, looking forward, come best wishes as you lead the way into a new century. And from us, the Class of 1953, looking backward . . . deep appreciation for your great part in making our last year of high school a year we will never forget. Mr. Blake, thank you!
MISS MILDRED NORCROSS
Beloved former English teacher ... once on faculty of her own alma mater, Mt. Holyoke College ... inspired W.H.S. students to their best efforts ... but appreciated their least efforts ("We knew you could do it!") ... shared the fruits of her wide experience with her pupils ... founder of W.H.S. Chess Club ... witty ... accomplished ... of rare qualities.

MISS FREDA RANDALL
Our respected sewing and home management instructor ... taught more than twenty classes of W.H.S. girls to "cut on the bias" and to "follow the arrows" on the pattern ... was the "moving spirit" behind our always successful Annual Fashion Show ... will be fondly remembered by the students and faculty of Watertown High.

MISS ESTHER JOHNSON
Our fondly-regarded school librarian for more than twenty-five years ... sponsored the W.H.S. Library Club ... a Phi Beta Kappa graduate from college, was member of the Cum Laude Committee ... never too busy to help a student locate just the right book ... never too tired to smile at a teen-aged prank ... carries with her our warm wishes for a happy future.

MR. JOSEPH MURPHY
Well-liked former gym teacher and hockey coach ... left W.H.S. to become principal of Marshall-Spring and Parker Schools ... formerly teacher-coach at Franklin, N. H., and assistant coach at Bates College ... producer-director and m.c. extraordinary of Watertown High's fabulous Sports' Nights ... has our sincere wishes for success and happiness in his new position.

MR. ARNOLD CHICK
Our esteemed Director of the Junior and Senior High School Bands for more than twenty years ... with his effective conducting added excitement to countless assemblies, concerts, and athletic events ... would up each year marching in front of the Band in the Memorial Day Parade ... devoted to the cause of music at W.H.S. ... a strict conductor but a kind friend ... has earned our warm wishes for happiness in the years to come.
To the

THOMAS A. BLAKE
Headmaster
"Nothing astonishes men so much as common sense and plain dealing," Emerson once said. In these days of world unrest, a campaign of self-attainment and civic responsibility lies squarely on your shoulders. You have reached that stage in life at which you choose the path from which you begin to establish yourself as a sustaining member of society.

The path is arduous. Before you capture your objective, you will encounter many strong forces of opposition which you must overcome. Such will be a long-term program which must never end. Think of meeting your objective in terms of months and years — not days.

There are a few suggested procedures. First, you should plan your program. After you engage in preliminary mental work, you are qualified to begin visible activity. Channel your energies so that you will have a fresh start following graduation; establish an objective; then set out to accomplish it in as many different ways as you can.

There are, in any community, people motivated by pride, prejudice, desire for recognition and understanding. There are three classes evident: those who cooperate earnestly, those who criticize unduly, and those who care indifferently. These are the people whom you will meet in life. You must govern yourself to the problem of living happily with them.

After leaving Watertown High School, your opportunities will be many, whether you go on to higher education, or to an immediate occupation, or to the military life.

I know that you will make your parents, your community, and your school proud of you. Remember that you can be justifiably proud of your good accomplishments.

In this year of Watertown High School's 100th Birthday, let me extend to you my best wishes and those of the faculty — these wishes are for health, happiness, and success in all your endeavors. A firm faith in God, courage, and belief in yourself will make your objective an accomplishment.

Underclassmen

WHS 100th Anniversary
It was fall again, time to go back to school. The Juniors were eager to get back and greet friends from whom we had been separated by the vacationing months. We were not the wide-eyed Sophomores of the previous year, but neither had we taken our place as distinguished Seniors. The routine of the last year was resumed, but with new subjects and different teachers.

Since we had elected our class officers at the close of the last semester, we were ready to move ahead with Frank Vittimberga, president; Robert Ohanian, vice-president; Joanne Creonte, secretary; Jane Williams, treasurer; Nicholas Cannalongo, Adeline Dilorio, Roberta Donohue, Barbara Emery, and Betty Joyal, executive committee.

Before long the Juniors had elected a boy and girl from each homeroom to serve on the Ring Committee. Those elected were: Richard Ajomion, Jean Boker, Marcia Brooks, Nick Cannalongo, George Charshadian, Joanne Creonte, George Gorgodian, Barbara Emery, John Hamilton, Betty Joyal, Haig Mardirosian, Christina Maria, Constantine Pappas, Pauline Paolini, George Sbordone, Ann Steeves, Robert Wellman, and Marlene Wood. The rings were received in time to be displayed at the Junior Prom.

The months preceding February were busy for Juniors and Seniors alike. The two classes combined efforts and shared the profits of the play, Kind Lady, a melodrama in three acts. The Juniors in the cast consisted of Elissa Bedrosian, Marilyn Luck, Marion Chlooddian, Constantine Papas, Marion Sabato, and Edward DerKazarian. Some members of the class assisted on the various committees, in production, and others were usherettes.

The Juniors also took an active part in this year's Sports' Nite. In addition to the individual performers (remember Connie Pappas' pantomime of "It's in the Book"?), there was the talented Junior chorus line, which included Agnes Gulli, Roberta Donohue, Barbara Emery, Marlene Wood, Margaret Pallone, Jane Williams, Joan Appleby, Sally Morrison, Margery Barnes, and Janet Finn. These Junior "Rockettes" were under the direction of Margie Mollon.

In April, Yerin Bazarian, selected as an outstanding Junior girl, was given the opportunity to attend Bridgewater State Teachers' College for a whole week in June, with all expenses paid.

The high social event of the year was the Junior Prom. For the occasion the gymnasium was appropriately decorated with a Japanese motif in the class colors, green and white. The outstanding orchestra selected for the evening was Gil Loring's. The following were prom committees and chairmen: Checking Committee: Carole Mercurio; Ticket Committee: Louise Jalalian; Refreshment Committee: George Sbordone; Publicity Committee: Beverly Sawyer; Orchestra Committee: Robert Ohanian.

During the past year the Juniors have advanced athletically, educationally, and socially. The Class of 1954 has at least reached the climax of the years of preparation as they advance to — Seniors.

Thoughts that summer ended much too quickly ran through the heads of the new Sophomores just beginning their first day at Watertown High School. Would we ever get used to the topsy-turvy schedule of this huge building with all its rooms and long corridors? The lockers' puzzling combinations had us working feverishly until at long last we either gave up in despair or were by some miracle victorious. Eventually with the helpful assistance given us by our homeroom and guidance teachers, our heads stopped spinning and we were able to give our full attention to our new friends, studies, and activities.

First, we eagerly awaited the election of our class officers. This election was announced by our advisor, Mr. William Donnellan, at our first class meeting. He told us to start campaigning, and campaign we did! For the next few weeks the only topic of conservation among the Sophomores was the forthcoming election. After each Sophomore voted, the following results were achieved: Larry DeAngelis, president; Anthony DeMarco, vice-president; Patricia Bourque, secretary; John Bowen, treasurer; Barbara Bergman, Virginia Bonnano, Joan Piantedosi, Joanne Russo, and Joan Samson, executive committee.

In addition, each homeroom chose a representative to be a Student Council member. They were: Joseph Arno, 101; Vinnie Carbone, 102; Marilyn Creonte, 103; Angelo English, 104; Claire Jenson, 105; Ruth MacKay, 201; Charles Ohanian, 203; Arthur Pierce, 204; Jack Sarmanian, 205; Roberta Walton, 206.

The Class of ’55 soon became attracted to the numerous interesting activities of the High School. After applications were received for entrance into various organizations, the Sophomores proved to hold a large percentage of the memberships. One very popular organization with the girls was the Sophomore Chorus which participated in the Christmas Assembly and the annual Band Concert. Sports also rated “tops” by both the boys and girls, and an enthusiastic group went out for each one, giving the upper-classmen stiff competition.

Later in the year the Memorial Day assembly was conducted by the leaders of the class, who introduced the veterans participating in this ceremony.

The year’s featured social event was the Sophomore Party held on November 14. With the assistance of Mr. Donnellan, Chairman Larry DeAngelis, the class officers and their committees, the party was rated a tremendous hit by all the Sophomores. The Ticket Committee, under the direction of Anthony DeMarco, deserves much credit for the large turnout at the Party.

The evening was opened by a variety of acts planned by Joan Samson, Joanne Russo, and their committee. Tony DeMarco, acting as Master of Ceremonies, delighted all by his versatility. Dancing for the remainder of the evening was enjoyed by all.

In closing, as we end our Sophomore year in the now-familiar building, we agree that this year will never be forgotten by a single Sophomore.

WHS 100th Anniversary
In keeping with its purpose — that of being of service to school and community-at-large — Quid Nunc collected money to buy gifts for Red Cross Boxes, which were later sent to European children. In addition, under the able guidance of Miss Mary Boyle, the girls made party donations for hospitals.

During the Christmas season, the group made one hundred snowmen filled with hard candy to be used as tray favors at the Murphy Army Hospital. Some of the girls baked brownies and wrapped them in colorful Christmas paper. These extra packages, plus the tray favors made during club periods, came to a grand total of 201 favors. Requests for all favors were received at the Junior Red Cross meetings by Janice Thomson and Sharon Mumford.

Volunteer work at the Murphy Army Hospital and with the Volunteer Ambulance Corps was also provided by some members.

Among its special activities for the year was the annual Quid Nunc Tea given for the faculty. Preparation for the tea, held in the spring, began early in the year. All the girls worked enthusiastically on this project, which was a complete success.

Officers for this year were: president, Sylvia Ajemian; vice-president, Patricia Jones; recording secretary, Jane Williams; corresponding secretary, Audrey Lawson; and treasurer, Priscilla Myers.

To assist in the library and to promote its interests in every way possible were the main objects of the Library Club. Capably directed by Miss Esther Johnson, members studied the duties of a librarian, the use of references and the layout of various libraries. Also, when needed, members served as assistant librarians. In this way, the girls "got a taste" of the duties of a librarian.

Regular meetings were held during club periods on Thursday. At this time members planned several projects, notably the donation of a selection of enjoyable and informative books to the library. Candidates for membership in the Club must be trustworthy, interested in library work, and willing to shoulder responsibility. This year's membership of twelve girls proved able in these three capacities. They aided students in locating reference and reading material rapidly and efficiently. Many thanks to these skillful and helpful young ladies!

Officers for this year were: president, Sylvia Dalton; vice-president, Jane Janoian; secretary, Dorothy Medeiros; and treasurer, Fay Fawcett.

Under the supervision of Mr. Arthur McGrath, the twenty-nine members of the Projection Club met during club periods for the purpose of familiarizing themselves with the audio-visual equipment owned by the school. The Club assisted in the use of these aids in the classrooms, thus helping to make many of our classes more interesting by showing films on the subject being taught. In addition to its help at assemblies, the Club gave freely of its time in several activities.

Each member of the group had to demonstrate his ability to set up and operate the equipment for use in either the classrooms or the auditorium. These students learned how to run 16 mm. projectors, record players, and wire and tape recorders. One of their newest projects was the introduction of a "juke box system" in the cafeteria. During the three lunch periods, different members took turns at playing popular records of the day, which were heard over loudspeakers installed in the cafeteria.

The Watertown High School Band, forty members strong, under the direction of Mr. Arnold Chick, filled the air with "four-quarter time." Thanks to its sponsor, the group not only received fine band training, but also learned military band routine. The musicians set our feet to tapping during football games, assemblies, rallies and several evening affairs.

The band followed this program with its twenty-third annual Band Concert on January 16. Other participants included: the Watertown Junior High School Band, Sal Rabbio and his drums, and the Sophomore Girls' Chorus, under the excellent leadership of Mr. George S. Chase, Director of Music. "Semper Fidelis" by John Philip Sousa, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna" by Suppe, and "Wintergreen for President" by Gershwin, were among the numbers performed.

All concert participants, as well as all other students and faculty, took pride in paying tribute to Mr. Chick, who resigned at the end of the school year. Mr. Chick gave his talent to the high school for more than twenty years, and during that time made many friends. Watertown High will remember him most for his cheerfulness and cooperation. Mr. Chick rounded out the year by attending the Northeastern Massachusetts Festival in May and playing in the annual Memorial Day Parade.

Twenty-nine pupils made music in the Orchestra this year. The group gave players of orchestral instruments the chance to play ensemble and to learn some fine examples of well-arranged orchestral literature. Rehearsals of the full Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. George S. Chase, were held twice a week. This organization not only appeared frequently at assemblies during the school year, but also supplied the music for the first Junior-Senior Play, "Kind Lady." The entire Orchestra joined with other musical groups of the school in the annual Spring Concert. Watertown was also fortunate this year in being able to send several students to play in the All-State Orchestra at Springfield on February 14. The final memorable performance of the Orchestra was at graduation.

The Glee Club, consisting of ninety-two members, was under the capable direction of Mr. George S. Chase. The group, with 30 male voices, was able to boast of the greatest number of boys ever enrolled. In addition to the regular meetings on Wednesday during second and third recesses, students attended regular Glee Club periods. The Club took part in assemblies, notably the lovely Christmas performance. We were proud, too, that several members qualified to participate in the state-wide music festival and took their parts in the exciting All-State Chorus.

The Camera Club, one of the oldest and most spirited clubs in Watertown High School, performed fine service in the past year. To be a member of the Club, one had to own a camera and have a definite interest in photography. The Club, under the guidance of Miss Helen Thayer, took pictures of all important athletic, social, and classroom events. These photographs were used in the Bulletin and Annual, and were sold to numerous students.

The main purpose of the Club is to learn and practice the various processes of photography: printing pictures; copying, enlarging, and developing film; focusing the camera correctly; and studying the chemistry and physics of photography. Club students entered the annual spring contest, and the Eastman Contest. They arranged an exhibit in connection with the Science Fair.

The year’s officers were: Alan McGowan, president; Frank Vittimberga, vice-president; Marlene Wood, secretary; Robert Craig, treasurer; Margaret Ciarfella, assistant secretary-treasurer; Ronald Quinn, custodian.

Supervised by Mr. Harold Moody, the Art Club had a full and worthwhile year working in such crafts as wood carving, linoleum block printing, copper tooling, clay modeling, and carvocast sculpture. Also part of the year’s program were the mediums of pastels, water colors, oil paints, pencil sketches, fashion design and illustration.

Besides carrying on its own activities, the Club participated in numerous school projects, such as decorating for proms and making posters for dances, plays, and campaigns. The Art Club made important contributions to the Annual, including outstanding drawings by Anthony Oteri and Henry Ellis. The Club’s meetings often featured interesting talks by guest speakers.

Members entered the Scholastic Art Contest sponsored by The Boston Globe. Paintings by Beverly Sawyer and Helen Compton, and wood carvings by William Robinson were submitted for exhibition at the Institute of Contemporary Art in Boston. The club elected the following officers: John Lyons, president; Louis Plantedosi, vice-president; Ann Hill, secretary; Lauretta Pine, treasurer.

The Biology Club, giving students interested in sciences an opportunity to study the various phases of life, provides both social and scientific experience for students while they are still in high school. Research projects conducted by the Club's members included studies of reptiles, plant life, and fish. Increasing ability to think scientifically proved to be a beneficial result of extensive research. Any promising student in the scientific field was eligible for membership, and the electing of a science course was not a requisite for enrollment.

A first attempt at exchanging newspapers with science clubs across the country proved successful. The Science Fair was also under the direction of the up-and-coming Biology Club for the first time.

The object of the sponsor, Mr. Robert MacCurdy, is that the biological training received throughout the year will help the students to become more familiar with the ever-wondrous living world about them. Officers elected this year were: Richard Calusdian, president; Beverly Bowman, vice-president; Helen Compton, secretary; Barbara Bell, treasurer.

The Commercial Club, organized to further the students' interest in business subjects, completed its twelfth successful year. The meetings of this organization acquainted its twenty-four members with essential business procedures. The Club gave the students a better understanding of the numerous opportunities awaiting them in the business world.

Under the capable supervision of Miss Elizabeth Desmond, members benefited from the many activities planned by various committees. Featured was a travel talk on Europe by Miss Geraldine Murphy. Two films from the New England Telephone Company were shown; one demonstrated the proper use of the phone and the other showed the steps involved in becoming an operator. The Commercial Club also enjoyed quizzes, contests, and a successful Christmas party.

Officers elected this year were: Grace Oteri, president; Ethel Faulkner, vice-president; Marie J. Antonellis, secretary; Marion Scarpino, treasurer.

The repeated request for a dramatic club at Watertown High School brought to life this year an organization under the able supervision of Mr. Paul A. Hughes. The enthusiastic response in September was so overwhelming that finally the membership of the Theater Workshop had to be restricted to Juniors and Seniors only. The numbers, however, still compelled the membership of this dynamic organization to be divided into two groups.

The main purpose behind the formation of this Club was to permit students with an interest in the theater in all its aspects to gain experience in the manifold activities connected with producing plays.

The undertakings of the first Theater Workshop were both numerous and successful. An exceptionally fitting Christmas Play entitled Christmas Scenes from Little Women was presented by the Junior Class. Kind Lady, a melodrama in three acts, was the first joint major production of the Junior and Senior Classes — and a huge success, too! Members of the cast included: Joseph Malley, Elissa Bedrosian, Marilyn Luck, Marian Chloodian, Anne Lauricella, Constantine Pappas, Adolph Caso, Easter Frazer, Roger Burk, Robert Ehrlich, Charles Karalekas, Marjorie Mogan, Marion Sabato, Edward Der Kazarian, Pat Trani, and Andrew Simoglou. Committees that contributed to the success of the play were: Make-up, Properties, Ticket, and Publicity. Louise Bagdasarian acted as student chairman, and Marlou Mitchell and Elizabeth Norton were capable directors. Betty Ann Joyal served as stage manager with Joyce Gilkie and Harold Smith assisting. Kind Lady not only reflected creditably upon Juniors and Seniors from an artistic point of view but enriched the treasuries of their classes as well.

In addition to this outstanding production, the Theater Workshop presented an enjoyable Student Council Assembly for the month of April. The following officers were elected for temporary duty: Elizabeth Norton, president; Barbara DeSimone, vice-president; Barbara Hamilton, secretary; Marion Sabato, treasurer.

Kind Lady, a suspense-packed melodrama, was presented to an appreciative audience on February 6, 1953. For weeks, the Junior-Senior Play cast rehearsed strenuously under its director, Mr. Paul A. Hughes. Numerous committees also contributed to the success of the play. This was the first year in which the Junior and Senior Classes combined their efforts in a joint production.

Kind Lady, written by Edward Chodorov, held the audience in intense suspense. The drama unfolded the terrifying experience of aristocratic, middle-aged Mary Herries, played by Elissa Bedrosian. Living alone in her proper London home, Miss Herries was gradually surrounded by a family of scheming swindlers, who almost succeeded in isolating the tormented woman from her friends and relatives. Failing in their diabolical plotting, the villains were finally arrested.

The main plot of the play dealt with the manner in which the Edwards family and Henry Abbott, played by Joseph Malley, wove themselves into the life of the "kind lady." The proceeds of this successful production were divided between the Junior and Senior Classes.

The idea of the English Workbench came to Mr. Chrakian some years ago when he started projects in his English classes to enable students to write for publication in the newspapers of our town and of Boston. Students were guided in writing on issues of wide public interest on which they themselves had something to say. The result was a deluge of editorial letters and articles from the classes in 101 to newspapers. Material submitted was almost invariably published.

This year the 101 English Workbench was engaged in similar projects, but supplementary to work done in class. Interested seniors, receiving honor grades in Mr. Chrakian's English classes, were invited to join the Workbench. Among those who saw their articles published in 1952-53 were: Sally Coleman, Paul Carolan, Aurora Karagosian, Evelyn Robinson, Shirley Walsh, Mary Jane Reuell, Joan Oxner, Andrew Halnen, John Lennon, Jack MacDonald and Barbara Davis. Officers were: George Poravas, president; Andrew Halnen, vice-president; Shirley Walsh, secretary; John Lennon, treasurer; Florence Timmins, corresponding secretary.

Democracy

“Democracy in Action” is the slogan of the Student Council, because through this group the students participate in the management of the school. The main purpose of the Council is to serve the school and promote better teacher-student understanding.

The Student Council had a profitable year under the guidance of Miss McCaffery and Mr. McGrath. Charles Karalekas, as president, conducted group meetings every second and fourth Tuesday of the month. Individual committees met every first and third Tuesday. The main social event was the annual Kouncil Kick-Off Dance held in November.

Watertown High School was well represented by Janice Thomson, Jane Williams, George Horne, and George Nazarian, accompanied by Miss McCaffery, at the Semi-Annual Convention of Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils, held at Winchester High School.

Officers elected this year were: Charles Karalekas, president; Janice Thomson, vice-president; Samuel Kim, secretary; David Paolicelli, treasurer.

Directed by Mr. Peter Burke, the Election Commission completed its fifth successful term. The members of this important all-school organization conducted all elections. Their responsibilities included making and distributing ballots, setting up booths, checking off names of voters, and tabulating returns. The largest election which the never-tiring commissioners handled was the Good Government Day balloting.

One election commissioner and one alternate were elected from each homeroom. The 1952-53 organization had the following members: Paul Carbone, Shirley Bonanno, Leigh Amsden, Eleanor Piantedosi, George Abadjian, Roberta Walton, Joseph Arno, Ann Hill, Manuel Gaipa, Vennie Carbone, Sunny Ng, Shirley Carlson, Anthony Scalzi, Frederick Alberico, Shirley Darch, Paul Franchi, Nancy Prendergast, Marie Tambureno, Sharon Mumford, Philip Pascoe, Dominic Russo, Elaine Keating, Augustine Farber, Jean Furlong, George Lembo, Norman Kirk, Joan Long, and Donald Cole.

Student Council members were:
Under the direction of faculty advisor, Mr. John Koumjian, the Hi-Y held its interesting, well-attended meetings every other Monday at the Newton "Y." The Club appreciated having Mr. John Danielson of the Newton Y.M.C.A. as its active advisor. The main purpose of this popular boys' organization is to create, maintain and extend throughout Watertown High School and the community high standards of Christian character.

The annual Victory Dance sparkled as the Club's outstanding social success, and all enjoyed the riotous splash party. Proceeds from these events contributed toward a scholarship for a promising senior boy.

Watertown was well represented at the Two-State Hi-Y Convention held at Holyoke. In addition, a joint Tri-Hi Hi-Y Council met every month to plan socials and other events. Officers elected this year were: Robert Hirschfeld, president; Stuart Packard, vice-president; Douglas Ferguson, treasurer; David Paolicelli, secretary; Robert Emerton, chaplain.

Members of Tri-Hi are pledged to "create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." This solemn promise made at installation and renewed regularly is realized in every Tri-Hi activity. Meetings are held bi-monthly at the Newton Y.M.C.A., under the direction of Mr. John Danielson and Miss Geraldine Murphy.

Special activities for 1952-53 were: the designing and selling of shakers for the Thanksgiving Day game, the preparation of ninety troy favors for Christmas dinner at the Murphy Army Hospital, a bowling-splash party, a joint service project with Newton Tri-Hi in sending staples to Europe, and the scholarship dance in February — the annual Winter Carnival.

Tri-Hi has developed apace under the leadership of President Martha MacDonnell. In March seven delegates and both sponsors attended the Two-State Conference in Westerly, Rhode Island. Other club Officers were: Sharon Mumford, vice-president; Shirley Ehrhardt, secretary; Priscilla Myers, treasurer; and Ellen Davis, chaplain.
A principal objective of the Bulletin was to train its reporters in the various journalistic techniques. Under the able direction of Miss Margaret McCarthy, Bulletin staffers learned the correct method of gathering and writing news, feature, and sports stories, and were also introduced to such newspaper practices as page "makeup," writing of "heads," and the use of "cuts." Written exclusively by its reporters, the Bulletin kept WHS students and teachers well informed on all events and topics of interest.

This year's Holly Hop, held in Whitehill Hall, on December 12, was a great success. As in previous years, senior editors were given a trip to New York City with part of their expenses paid by profits from the Holly Hop.

This year Bulletin staff members were invited to three press conferences sponsored by the Boston Globe. At the first conference Ex-Governor Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for the presidency and Hon. Paul A. Dever, Ex-Governor of Massachusetts, addressed the students. Later in the year, the reporters were entertained by Mr. Emlyn Williams, famed Dickens monologist. In the final meeting, Mr. Keyes Beach, who is studying under a Nieman fellowship at Harvard, spoke to the members of the high schools' press.

During the past year, the staff participated in newspaper competitions sponsored by The Columbia Scholastic Press Association, The Boston Globe, and Quill and Scroll, The International Honorary Society for High School Journalists.

The editors this year were: Marlou Mitchell, news; Elizabeth Norton, feature; Gary Alexander, sports; John Shepard, editorial; and John Lennon, business. Miss Geraldine Murphy was chief copyreader and Miss Mildred Caram served as business adviser.
The Project Club's objective was to train the twelve members to make useful articles for their homes. The boys also received training in making scenery. They prepared the auditorium stage for school assemblies and plays, including the Christmas drama and the Junior-Senior play, "Kind Lady." The Club was under the supervision of Mr. William Donald, the head of the Industrial Arts Course.

The meetings were held weekly during club period. At these meetings the boys worked on their projects and were trained in many jobs. Once a month dues were collected.

The 1952-53 officers were: Henry Busconi, president; George Ingham, secretary; and Alan Rodenhiser, treasurer.

The Science Seminar Society was initiated as a small select group in 1950. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Robert MacCurdy, the Society was open, by invitation only, to superior science aspirants. Speakers were invited to talk with this small group on an informal basis. Each participant in Science Seminar was assigned one periodical to review each month.

Members who attained success in completing and demonstrating their projects, and thus become "Traveling Teacherettes," were: Richard Calusdian, Harold Smith, Marjorie Mogan, Beverly Bowman, Joel Aranson, Ronald Quinn, Robert Craig, and Carole Stockdale. Members entered their projects in Science Fairs and some participated in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

To develop interest in domestic skills was the main purpose of the Home Economics Club. Under the supervision of Miss Freda J. Randall and Miss Mildred Jones, the members tackled knitting, embroidery, and crocheting projects.

The officers were: Shirley Darch, president; Caroline Cotone, treasurer; Marilyn Creonte, secretary.

The Club's activities were numerous. At Christmas time the students made candy and learned the essential techniques of gift wrapping. In addition, the members were shown educational movies which proved very interesting. On February 17, the participants in Home Economics Club gave their annual tea for members of the faculty.
Cum Laude was founded at the Tome Institute, Maryland, in 1906. Its purpose was to give recognition to scholastic achievement. Election to Cum Laude is a coveted honor, but one not easily attained. It is available only to those in the college preparatory division, because it corresponds in ideals and purposes to the Phi Beta Kappa of the colleges. Scholarship must be high for the full three years of high school.

The idea of Cum Laude spread quickly among other leading private schools, such as Exeter, Andover, Belmont Hill, Browne and Nichols, and many others. Later a few public high schools of good standing were admitted. Watertown High School is proud to be one of these. Our charter was received in 1921. Our loyal Alumni Chapter has since presented us with the Cum Laude Trophy, which is given each term to the class having the highest percentage of students on the honor roll.

Cum Laude Society is under the direction of Miss Helen Thayer. Membership is symbolized by a gold key, which is presented to each initiate at a ceremony held in the Auditorium after the election at the end of the third term. We congratulate our new members of 1953 and wish them equal success in their future academic careers. We are as proud of our new members as of our alumni.

Our honor group of Hispanic students, the Spanish National Honor Society, was founded in September, 1951, by Mr. Carlo Vacca. Our chapter is affiliated with the national organization sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese. Membership is by invitation only, contingent upon an honor grade in Spanish or Portuguese sustained for three semesters, as well as upon good citizenship, good reputation, and high moral character.

The official colors of the Society are red and gold; the official flower, the talisman rose; and the official name of our chapter, Gustavo Adolfo Bequer. At weekly meetings Mr. Vacca informed the members about different aspects of civilization in Spain, Central and South America. Some of the members were pen pals with teen-age students in Costa Rica, Puerto Rico, and Venezuela. All correspondence was written in Spanish.

The officers for this past year were: Charles Sarian, president; Anthony Scalzi, vice-president; Joan Sheehan, recording secretary; Mary Parrella, treasurer; and Melvin Dunn, corresponding secretary.

Noblesse Oblige, the motto of the Saltonstall Chapter of the National Honor Society, has been upheld by all members of the Society since its organization in 1937. The opportunity to become a member is open to all pupils in the school. The qualifications of leadership, scholarship, character and service to the school — the ideals for which the Society stands — are considered when the members are elected by the faculty. According to the limit set by national headquarters, only 15% of the Senior Class may be elected to the National Honor Society, although 5% of them may be chosen in the Junior year.

This year's activities included the sponsoring of a successful dance in April and the selling of Watertown High School plastic book covers. Throughout the year the Society distributed streetcar tickets. All the members took part in the induction ceremony in the spring.

Features

WHS 100th Anniversary
The Centennial Class of Watertown High School, the Class of '53, has come . . . and almost gone. We have had fun together — we have studied together — we have shared excitement — we have made lasting friendships. And now we are almost ready to move on. Almost . . . but not quite. There is still a little time to live it all over again. Still a little time to play the game of Remember.

Remember our first day at Watertown High School? It was a new world, a strange, bustling, confusing world. Did we like it? We were scared to death — and we would have died rather than admit it. And East was East and West was West. The twain had met, but they hadn't exactly mingled.

Pretty soon, however, we had more important things on our mind. Class Elections! We conducted them in very adult fashion (didn't we think we were big?). And the successful candidates turned out to be: president, Robert Hirschfeld; vice-president, Charles Papalia; secretary, Ann Hill; treasurer, Marie Antonelli. The executive committee was made up of Sophie Bazarian, Anne Lauricella, Marjorie Morgan, Nancy Peterson, and Richard Shulman. All these people got right down to the business of conducting class matters in official fashion.

Remember the Sophomore Party, our first social event, under the direction of Mr. Raymond Ford? They didn't think we were big enough for tuxedos and long dresses, and they sent us home 'way before midnight. But we had a wonderful time just the same. And we fooled them — we were growing up. We were forgetting the infantile junior high school rivalry. Johnny East had met Janie West and said to himself, "Not bad . . . not bad at all!"

On the athletic field we found a berth for ourselves on every team. And when the honor roll was published, we discovered that we were very much in evidence. So our sophomore year drew to a close, and we found that we had acquired for ourselves many valuable, never-to-be-forgotten friendships.

We bounced back in September as Juniors, puffed up with the superb importance of having somebody to look down upon. Didn't the Sophomores seem young? How secure we felt because we knew our school, our teachers, and our fellow students.

The junior year held many happy memories. Our class officers — president, Anthony Oteri; vice-president, Charles Papalia; secretary, Janice Thomson; treasurer, Harold Tapjian; executive committee, Gary Alexander, Janet Altieri, Ellen Davis, Charles Karakekas, and Marie Tambureno — found themselves in the midst of plans which even then were beginning to point toward graduation. The Ring Committee held several meetings and made the important decisions as to style and supplier of rings.

In their presentation of the 1952 Christmas pageant, directed by Miss Pearl Griffith, the Class of '53 had the assistance of the Glee Club. The entire student body joined in the carol singing at the end of that inspiring assembly.

Then came our Junior Class Play in March of '52. Remember how Joseph Malley and Anthony Oteri romped through "Good Night, Ladies," playing a pair of female chaperones at a newly-established college? A crusty dean of women and a professor who loved frogs were all we needed to make it a really "good night" — and we had them!

In May, fifteen students in our class were inducted into the National Honor Society. Remember the impressive ceremony, held in the presence of the entire student body, which marked the initiation of these pupils into this nationwide society?

As a finale to the junior year we celebrated at our Junior Prom. The gym was gay with blue and white decorations. Everyone who attended, regardless of class or school affiliation, was welcomed and entertained.

The summer whirled by and September 1952 was upon us. Walking with new dignity, we came back to school.
We were the graduating class! To welcome us into our senior year, we found a new principal, Mr. Thomas A. Blake. Our senior officers—president, Anthony Oteri; vice-president, Melvin Dunn; secretary, Doris Brown; treasurer, Hand Topjian; executive committee, Janet Altieri, Harry Eordekian, Priscilla Myers, Grace Oteri, and Jack Pogarian—started to work immediately on what has proved to be the momentous year in our lives.

Work on our Annual commenced with Robert Ehrlich, editor; Gloria Esserian and Louise Marian, assistant editors; Barbara Marr, art editor; and Alan McGowan, photographic editor, bearing the main responsibility.

Our senior year has not been all serious work, however. Remember Kind Lady? For the first time the Junior and Senior Classes combined their talents to present one production. Thanks to the capable direction of Mr. Paul Hughes and the hard work of the cast and all the various committees, the play was a great success. The curtain went up on Friday evening, February 6, and we watched Henry Abbott (alias Joseph Malley) torment Miss Mary Herries (played by Elissa Bedrosian) through three thrilling acts. We had never suspected that Joe had such villainous qualities hidden under his pleasant manners!

At home and away our athletes did us proud this year and marked important milestones in our class history. The basketball, hockey, track, and baseball teams were outstanding. And our football team tore up the field to capture the Class B championship.

In February the top students in the College Course were selected for Cum Laude; later in the school year Cum Laude and National Honor held their annual ceremonies.

All year long we have been reminded that this June the Watertown Senior High School is celebrating its one-hundredth anniversary. The Class of 1953 will not soon forget the various colorful celebrations, held in the spring, which commemorated this fact.

There are other things we won't forget either—first lunch and the right to stroll out of the auditorium ahead of the Sophomores and Juniors at the end of assembly. Of course Mr. Blake fooled us once or twice on that latter privilege, but we have long since forgiven him.

On May 22 (remember?), with the gym lavishly decorated in our class colors, red and white, we danced at our Senior Prom.

Now we are making history for the last time as a class. We have walked gaily to Class Day and solemnly to Baccalaureate. And now here we are. We look around at our friends and our school and realize suddenly that they are dearer to us than we had ever supposed.

Our high school days are over, but we are not sad. We have gained far too much to be sad. Our new principal has proved to be a friend as well as a respected headmaster. With this knowledge, with the maturity acquired in twelve years of schooling, with our precious memories, we will step forth, diploma in hand and heads held high. Although we no longer study at Watertown Senior High, the deeds and contributions of the members of the Class of 1953 will immortalize our names too in the annals of our school's history.

After patiently dogging in the tracks of 99 classes of Quiz Kids, who answered all the $64$ questions and made Einstein look a little silly (of course we could have done it too, but we were too busy), we — the illustrious and never-to-be-forgotten Centennial Class of W.H.S. — want to get one thing straight. We aren’t a hundred years old. After three light years in the House of Geniuses at 51 Columbia Street, we just feel that way! So, peering through our spectacles and pushing a pen with trembling hand, we do now take it upon ourselves to draw up this last will and testament and bequeath a few bequests. (Confidentially, we don’t want this stuff any longer anyway.)

I. To Mr. McCurdy we leave a brand new joke book, entitled Ancient Wheezes, to pep up his supply of humor.

XIII. To Miss Appel's incoming Seniors . . . the ability to absorb rhetorical principles by osmosis.

XVI. To Miss Abbott and Mrs. Thulin . . . an outsized broom to sweep the girls out of their first-floor locker room at 8:14.

XVII. To all students and faculty . . . a guarantee of June in January, so they will never again be subjected to that most agonizing of all music, the Watertown fire bells at 7 A.M.

XVIII. To Mr. McNealy and next year's Annual Staff . . . a genie straight out of a bottle to handle the elementary problems that crop up in putting a yearbook together.

XIX. Because Miss Johnson has been the victim of so many class wills, we leave her our admiration for her good sportsmanship. Thanks, Miss Johnson, for putting up with all our nonsense. We didn't deserve it.

XX. And to Mr. Blake we leave the memory of the Class of '53 . . . and the biggest bow tie on record.

Witnessed in this Year of Our Old Age, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three, at Watertown, Massachusetts (where the big brains come from), this document is hereby placed on file by the Class Will Committee.

P.S. We don't have time to attach a codicil, see? We just want to warn whomever it may concern that, although this will is strictly illegal, it is absolutely unbreakable . . . except with a blunt instrument.
Booting the ball

The 1952-53 Soccer Team, co-captained by George Ingham and Alan Rodenhiser, played one of the most strenuous schedules of any Watertown High School Soccer Team. Though losses were numerous — wins and ties few — many of the games were close, three of them going into overtime. However, Coach Joseph Malley feels his sophomore line and goalie, Phil Tardif, played a whale of a game.

Despite the fact that the team played schools which had much more soccer experience than W.H.S., our boys always gave their best in an attempt to win. Coach Malley had many letter men back this year, but his reserves lacked seasoning. This inexperience on the part of his seconds, he believes, was the most serious handicap under which the players labored. Mentor Malley makes it plain, however, that whenever the Watertown Booters were beaten, they went down fighting.

Seniors who bolstered varsity play this year included: Harold Smith, Bob Bernhardt, John Shepard, Alan McGowan and Charles Whitcomb. Others drawing favorable comment for distinguished play were the co-captains, fullback Alan Rodenhiser and halfback George Ingham.

Class B Champions

Under the expert guidance of Coach Zeno and his capable assistants, Jim Sheehan, John Mantenuto, Charlie McGahan, and Ed Ward, the Red Raiders tore up the field to capture the Class B Championship, posting seven wins, one tie, and one defeat for the season’s record. Rolling up a thumping 187 points, as opposed to their opponents’ 55, our boys time and again proved that they had the will to win.

In the opener the Townies faced Class A Leominster, a team with one game already under its belt. The out-of-towners scored first and lead 7-0 at the half. Our boys refused to be beaten. In the last quarter, from the four-yard line Frank Basile twice cracked the middle wide open for the score and point after.

In their next contest the Arsenal Towners went all out to beat the defending Class B champs — Winchester. Early in the second period John Simourian completed a touchdown-pass to Ed Morahan. The educated toe of Chuck Papalia made good the try for the point after. Our boys then proceeded to pile on the points, and when the final whistle blew the score read Watertown 33 — Winchester 0. For his play in that afternoon’s grid contest, Anthony Messina was chosen “Player of the Week” by the Boston Post.

Fourth on the schedule was Newton, a previously undefeated Class A eleven. Although our boys scored only once on a quarterback sneak by John Simourian, the outstanding defensive play of Co-Captain Stuart Packard, Robert Emerton, Douglas Ferguson, Chuck Papalia, and Joe Malley held the opponents to minus seven yards on the ground. When this game ended, our team was again the winner, but in a close 7-0 match.

For their next game the Townies journeyed to Keene, N. H., to repulse a power-packed Keene team. Our boys won 20 to 0 in a game that kept the crowd on its feet. Standouts in this contest were Simourian, Hill, Gaipo, and Kaprielian. Afterwards, the boys enjoyed a nifty banquet at the Keene Country Club.

Sixth on the schedule stood Malden Catholic, a team that was expected to cause a lot of trouble. However, our boys proceeded to trim the fighting Catholic eleven 32 to 7. Manuel Gaipo set up two scores with timely pass interceptions; after each of these Len Hill completed two long touchdown passes.

Next the boys faced a once-beaten Brookline eleven. The first quarter was all Watertown’s but our team scored only once during this period — on a double reverse, set up with blocks by Malley and Packard, with Koko Gorgodian packing the mail. The final score was Brookline 19 — Watertown 6, the season’s only defeat.

Bouncing back, the local boys next defeated a cumbrous Cambridge Latin eleven 12 to 2. The play of the day was Ed Morahan’s fine over-the-head snag of a Simourian pass, which was good for 40 yards.

In the Turkey Day Classic on Thanksgiving morn, the Arsenal Towners invaded Belmont and sent a winless Belmont eleven down to defeat. The champs piled on 44 points to the opposition’s none. The team walked off the field the Class B Champions. Three of its members were elected to play on the All-Suburban Team: Manuel Gaipo, John Simourian, and Chuck Papalia. Coach Zeno was selected as one of the coaches.

Starting off the basketball season with a bang, the Sheehanmen won the first two games against Lexington and Reading. These games, however, were not Suburban League contests.

Watertown started the Suburban League schedule by dropping a close game to a scrappy Waltham five by a score of 54-46. In their second League contest, the Sheehanmen won a thriller from Brookline by a 48-46 count. It was a nip-and-tuck affair all the way, with Aram Miller dropping in the last two points with ten seconds left in the game. The hoopmen notched their second League contest over Rindge, again winning by a close margin 54-52, with the scoring points coming just before the final whistle.

Watertown then went into a slump which hurt their chances for winning the Suburban League title. They met Waltham once again and suffered a 53-44 loss. Their next contest was with Newton. The Sheehanmen tried hard, even though the score looked lopsided — Newton 70 - Watertown 50.

Watertown then met a strong Cambridge Latin team at home. With about two minutes left, our team was four points down, but we tied it up on four foul shots by Harry Eordekian. Overtime play netted two points to the opposing team, however, and we lost 54-52. The very next day, though, the hoopmen went over to Cambridge and beat Cambridge Latin 64-51. A victory over Rindge 60-56 followed. Watertown then traveled to Brookline for a night game, uncorked their strength, and came home with another victory tucked away by a safe margin of 61-52.

Watertown then lost its last two games against Arlington and Belmont. Arlington, the Suburban League champs for this season and last, beat the Towners for a second time. Our team tried hard, but they just could not stop the League leaders.

The last game of the season was with Belmont. The Towners started off fine and were winning until Belmont started to explode. The game ended with Belmont defeating Watertown 60-48.

Watertown posted for their season’s record a respectable 8 victories as against 7 defeats.

The starting line-up was: guards, George Danielson and Aram Miller; forwards, George Horne and Fred Sacco; and center position, ”Big” Jim Centorino or Harry Eordekian. Coach Sheehan used Bob Emerton and Manuel “Butch” Gaipo as regular substitutes. Individual high scoring honors went to George Danielson with 214 points and Aram Miller with 200 points.

Caging the puck

Sturdy defense of Chuck Papalia and Joe Malley blocks Wellesley assault.

The Watertown puck-chasers had only a fair season, winning 4 games and losing 5. Every player exhibited such tremendous fighting spirit, however, that all the games from the first face-off until the final bell were thrillers.

Led by Co-Captains Ed Morahan and Fred Alberico, Watertown finished the season by winning their last three games in the second division playoffs.

Watertown opened their season against powerful B. C. High and suffered a 0-2 setback, although we outplayed our rivals by a tremendous margin in the last two periods.

Clutching puck, Goalie Messina saves, as Chuck Papalia rides Walpole forward off the play.
The first victory of the year came against Framingham by a score of 3-1. Framingham scored first, but Herb Holmes tied the count with an assist from Joe Malley. Tony Messina took a pass from Eddie Morahan and slammed home the second goal to give Watertown a 2-1 lead. Assisted by Chuck Papalia, Ed Morahan scored the clincher in the last period.

The 4-1 victory against a tough Norwood sextet showed that the Murphymen had really improved and with a few more breaks could easily have finished near the top of the Bay State Hockey League. They did, however, sweep the Bay State League second division playoffs.

Highlights of the season were Eddie Morahan’s high scoring and assisting throughout the whole season; Fred Alberico’s great team play and hustle; Tony Messina and Joe Malley’s all-round play; Babe Simourian and Chuck Papalia’s providing the best defense in the League; and finally, the top-notch goal-tending of Dick Piscatelli. Ed Morahan placed on the Bay State League All-Star Team, which beat the Greater Boston All-Stars and the Eastern Massachusetts All-Stars.

This year the reserve strength was a valuable asset to the team, for without the help of Herb Holmes, Greg Basmajian, George Ingham, Art Woodbury, Pete Dwyer, and Sandy Streeper, the team could not have played the brand of hockey they displayed during the whole season.

At the end of the year, Coach Murphy resigned his position as hockey coach to become Principal at the Marshall-Spring School. His successor will have a hard job to equal the record of victories that Coach Murphy has piled up during his years of superb coaching at Watertown High School. He was not only an excellent coach, but also a great friend to everyone who knew him. Best of luck, Coach Murphy!

The outlook for next year is very bright, and with numbers of returning lettermen, Watertown could easily cop the Bay State League hockey crown. The boys that can be counted on for next year are: Art Woodbury, Sandy Streeper, Gregory Basmajian, Herb Holmes, and Lenny Hill.

Rocky Charash, short and speedy, grabbed first place. In the shot put Paul Abrahamian of Somerville threw the weight 50 feet 4 inches to outdistance Jack MacDonald and Busky Balsam both of Watertown, who came in second and third places respectively. Joe Maria took second in the high jump while a tie resulted for third place between Sonny Ng of Watertown and Tom Goodridge of Somerville. Class B Champions

Winning state championships seems to be a habit with Watertown track teams. The Red and Black "corridor kids" have now hung up a splendid record of winning ten out of their last twelve state meets, for this year's squad once again annexed the Massachusetts Class B title.

Under the superb tutelage of Coach Robert Gleason, our "Mercury Men" tied with Somerville for the championship of the Metropolitan Track League. Undefeated in dual competition, this year's squad proved to be one of Watertown's best.

Among the outstanding Seniors who deserve recognition were: Robert Gandolfo — record-breaking 300 yarder, who kept the team winning with his sure five points; Co-Captain John Karrkikyan — a fleet-footed sprinter who always came through in the clutch; Co-Captain Joseph Maria — a fine high jumper and hurdler who was the high scorer in the "Met" Track League with 46 points; Sunny Ng — a high jumper who contributed his share of points to the team; and Jack MacDonald — a shotputer who tossed the heavy lead ball around with apparent ease.

Among the outstanding Juniors were: Martin Clynes — a 1000 yarder, who came in first at Bowdoin; Bob Barlow — a fine hurdler prospect for next year; Frank Vittimberga — 1000 yarder; George Charshoodian — 600 yarder; David Paolicelli — sprint man; and Frank Basile — understudy to Jack MacDonald in throwing the shotput.

Most prominent Sophomore was James DeSimone whose fleet feet greatly aided the relay team. Jim is expected to fill Bob Gandolfo's shoes in the 300 next year.

Of the three biggest meets including the State Meet, the B. A. A. and the Bowdoin Interscholastics, the track team enjoyed most the meet at Bowdoin. In this meet all the championship teams from New England are represented. Watertown's fifth was very inspiring, considering that this was the first time a Watertown team participated in this contest. Much credit to Coach Gleason for Watertown's success!

Over hill and dale

The 1952 Cross Country captain, George Horne, led his team of only seven men to a fairly successful season. Hampered by a lack of seniors, Coach Gleason had to rely on inexperienced runners.

The harriers' first meet was with a powerful Belmont squad. George Horne captured second place, as Watertown lost 44 to 19. It was apparent that, although inexperienced, the team nonetheless possessed great fighting spirit.

Coach Gleason is relying on George Horne and Frank Vittimberga to be the backbone of next year's team, with such underclassmen as Walter Burke, Fred Busconi, Jack Dowling, and James Hurley expecting to be nominated. The only Senior on this year's squad was Andrew Halnen.

In addition to the opening meet with Belmont, Watertown ran in three other meets which were: the State Meet, the Division Meet, and the League Meet. In the State Meet, although we were underrated and seriously hampered by injuries, we placed third in Class B. We came out sixth in the Division Meet and tenth in the League Meet. There were good reasons why the Gleasonites did not roll up outstanding records this season. First, there was an inadequate supply of runners on the team, and, second, the team sustained many injuries.

The Cross Country squad, did, however, uphold Watertown's high standard of sportsmanship and character on the field, even if it did not match its usual standard of fine distance running. With a little more support and luck, the team would certainly have been formidable on the track.

Next year's squad promises to be more balanced, since nearly all of the harriers are returning. Coach Gleason and the team are to be congratulated on this season's gallant spirit.

Best of luck to next year's Cross Country team!

Making up the spring sports season were baseball, tennis, outdoor track, and golf. Rated as a strong nine in the Suburban League this year, the Baseball Team, coached by Mr. George Yankowski, looked forward to a successful season. Holdovers from last year's team and newcomers were: pitchers — Manuel Gaipo, Harry Eordekian, and George Danielson; catchers — Anthony Messina and Edward Morahan; infielders — Babe Simourian, Fred Alberico, Guy Corbonde, and Joe Malley; and outfielders — Ralph Filicchia, Jack Pogarian, Chuck Papalia, and John Giglio.

This year's success in Tennis could hardly be avoided with a coach like Mr. Koumjian and players like Aram Miller, George Nazarian, Sammy Kim, Richard Wilkins, and Ara Gelenian. The team had many formidable opponents in their league, such as Belmont, Winthrop and Melrose, with whom they staged some very exciting battles. Success in the 1953 season was due mainly to the time each player spent at afternoon practice when Coach Koumjian gave many helpful suggestions. The boys' spirit and will-to-win will always be respected.

The 1953 Golf Team, led by Captain Anthony Oteri, made a fine showing in the Greater Boston High School Golf League's standings this season. Seniors on the team, besides Oteri, were Richard Faherty and Edward Vaughan. Prominent Juniors included: veteran Robert Wellman and newcomers Fred Syrjala and David Sliney. Coach Malley expects a lot from his promising Sophomores next season. And the team as a whole know that they owe a lot to Mr. Malley's top-notch coaching!

Each of the girls' sports — field hockey, basketball, and tennis — was successful in nearing its goal of coordination, precision, and good sportsmanship.

The Field Hockey team had a record which did not reveal the true picture of the fine playing of the girls; the Basketball team showed a fine display of teamwork; the Tennis team proved to be more skillful than ever.

Each week during the football season the enthusiastic members of the Pep Club met in the gym for cheering practice. Under the capable guidance of the cheerleaders, the girls practiced cheers until they had at their command every tongue-twister, old and new. Even the members' own classmates were amazed at their fluency.

A total of one hundred members, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, made the Pep Club outstanding. The members' presence in a group at all football games gave confidence and incentive to the team, cheerleaders, and spectators.

At rallies the members of the Club led the students in the cheering, particularly in newly-composed cheers, and also in the singing of school songs.

This year the Pep Club played an important part in every football game. The resounding cheers of the Club and its followers heard across our Victory Field proved that they carried the true spirit of W. H. S.

The Cheerleaders of 1953, attired in their new, bright-red skirts and white sweaters, made a prettier picture than ever as they went through their maneuvers. Certainly, we must attribute some of the success of this year's teams to these girls who poured their hearts into every inspiring cheer. The many new additions to the list of already-popular cheers gave proof of the pep and spirit of the club members.

Chosen as capable leader was Augustine Farber. The other girls on the squad were: Anne Lauricella, Eileen Phillips, Patty Schan, Rose Marie Sulahian, and Halcyone Astley — seniors; Agnes Gulli, Janet Finn, Roberta Donohue, and Ann Farese — juniors.

In addition to their regular practice sessions, the cheerleaders contributed extra time coaching the Pep Club, in order that all might learn the new cheers and serve as a still greater incentive to the team. Watertown High congratulates these generous girls. We think they are wonderful!

The Drum Majorettes of 1953, under the capable leadership of Marcia Zoller, added zest, color, and action to the football games last season. The high-stepping girls were constantly creating new routines to awe the spectators who watched them with admiration at half-time.

The squad included: Barbara Hunt, Alice Manasian, and Barbara Marr — all seniors who acted as co-captains. Joanne Maloney, Barbara Emery, Margery Barnes, Gilda DiGregorio, and Betty Salvo were the up-and-coming juniors.

The girls achieved skill and accuracy in performance by many hours of practice. Their co-operative efforts in tricky routines never failed to create a scintillating show.

The presence of these girls attired in their colorful costumes on the field at each game was a familiar and pleasing sight to all. They helped to keep victory at Victory Field.
The female Red Raiders of 1953, under the coaching of Miss Ruth McCarthy, had an action-packed season last fall. Although the girls were unable to claim victory over all their opponents, their fine teamwork never failed to give competing teams a hard, fast struggle.

Following are those who played on the varsity: Captain Priscilla Myers, Manager Janice Thomson, Anne Lauricella, Marlou Mitchell, Janet Altieri, Toni Davis, Pat Schan, Lauretta Pine, Margaret Ciarfella, Sylvia Ajemian, Barbara Hunt, Terry Agresta, Joan Tashjian, Nancy Prendergast, Jane Williams, Marilyn Luck, Penny Pendleton, Donna Thompson, Margie Pallone, Priscilla Kingston, Loretta Cafferelli, Roberta Schiavone, Harriet O'Brien, Eileen Phillips, Shirley Brooks, and Beverly Sawyer. The first eleven of these players were returning veterans of the 1951 team.

Of course the highlight of the season was the annual Girls' Hockey Tournament which was a new experience for the girls. At this event at Concord, on Saturday, October 25, W. H. S. was represented by thirteen girls, all juniors or seniors.

Although Watertown was scoreless, our team's alert, fast-moving players gave the opposition a terrific game. Out of the three games played, the girls yielded two goals to Winsor and one to Concord.

Winchester try for goal is blocked by Co-Captain Gladys Parks.

Fighting Floorgirls

So many candidates tried out for basketball this year that after a few weeks of practice it was necessary to cut the squad to twenty girls.

The Hoopsters started off on their own territory with pep, vim and vigor, scoring 41 points against Concord's 32. Patricia Hoover was the high scorer with 18 points. The forwards for the first team were: Co-Captains Patricia Finn and Gladys Parks, and Patricia Hoover, a very capable shooter. The guards were: Priscilla Myers, Barbara Hunt, Laureretta Pine, Margaret Pallone, Janice Piccolo, and Martha Knight.

A few days later Watertown played at the Arlington High School gym and lost a thriller. The score was 47-30. High scorer in this game was Patricia Finn with 13 points. Watertown's second win was at the expense of Newton. The score ... 24-18.

The second team forwards were: Janet Finn, Joan Appleby, and Jean McKay. In the position of guarding were: Ann Pitman, Marilyn Luck, Priscilla Kingston, Joyce Baker, and Elizabeth Norton.

This was the first year sophomores were allowed to play. The forwards were: Mary D'Angelis, Rosemary Kelley, and Olga Mesniankine. Guards were: Jane Norton and Darrie Landers.

These undergraduates will form the nucleus of next year's team and should uphold the high standards of W. H. S. girls' sports, which have become more and more active in recent years.
A gallant, hard-hitting group of girls made the tennis squad of 1953 one that was hard to beat. New strength provided by the sophomore members, Martha Knight, Rosemary Kelley and Jean MacKay, proved a fine addition to the skillful efforts of Joyce Gilkie and Anne Pitman, juniors, and Priscilla Myers and Elizabeth Norton, seniors.

To keep in practice, the girls interested in tennis participated in the annual fall tournament before they stashed away their rockets for the winter. The tournament helped in spotting new talent and aided the coach in choosing the members of the squad for the coming season.

The strong opponents with whom the Watertown “racketeers” clashed were: Arlington, Newton, Needham, Lexington, Brookline, Concord and Malden. Even though our girls had little opportunity to practice before their matches, they proved more than equal to every rival team, especially Newton, which has the use of five tennis courts on which to keep in trim. Each match was filled with skillful and colorful shots with which the Towners confused and dazzled their opponents. The smooth coordination of the girls who played doubles, plus the bang-up games of those who participated in singles, were a pleasure to watch and were responsible for the successful season which the squad enjoyed under their capable coach, Miss Biggane.
