WATERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL
WATERTOWN, MASS.
With hopes of forever keeping alive the cherished memories of our high school days, we, the twenty-eighth yearbook staff of Watertown High School, present to you, the Class of 1954, your Annual. We have worked hard to produce an Annual different from those of previous years — one which reveals the individuality of this great class. In recording our activities of the past three years, we have attempted to make this edition of the yearbook not only an album of pleasant recollections but also a symbol of our achievements. As we advanced from boyhood and girlhood along the way to maturity, we made progress also in LEADERSHIP, KNOWLEDGE, SERVICE, CHARACTER, SPORTSMANSHIP, and COOPERATION.

Our deepest thanks go to the members of the faculty, the students, and to all those who so willingly cooperated in making this yearbook a reality. We especially wish to show our appreciation to Mr. McNealy, Mr. Moody, Miss Silva, Miss Thayer, and Mr. Yankowski for their unselfish contributions of their time, effort, and experience.

As we separate to pursue our chosen careers, may we always keep in mind the wonderful times we have had together, and may we turn to our Annual, as the treasure house of memories of our fruitful high school days.

We like you, Mr. Donnellan, because of the personal interest you take in us, the respect you have for our individual opinions, and above all, because you like us. We appreciated your presence at all of our dances and games. We will always remember you as the great friend who nevertheless knew how to squelch when a squelch was needed.

We will never forget you, Mr. Koumjian — your expressions, your jokes, your antics, your thunderous voice. We had a wonderful time in your informal classes. In your capacities as instructor, Recreation Supervisor, and Hi-Y sponsor, you personify for us leadership and good sportsmanship.

To you both, Mr. Donnellan and Mr. Koumjian, for a rare teacher-pupil relationship — thanks.

Leadership
Greetings to you, my friends, the Class of 1954. This is not a time for goodbye or farewell, for they signify the conclusion of a visit. A “greeting” is a form of salutation. That is precisely what I mean ― a salute to you on this, your graduation. A graduation from a part of your life wherein you have received through your sincere efforts and those of your teachers introduction to knowledge, skills, attitudes, and preparation for further enrichment of your life.

Reflection upon these last three years will point out to you that you have spent more than a mere visit — you have met the requirements of a curriculum of studies, you have experienced the meeting of and adjusting to new situations, you have acquired a greater appreciation of social concepts, and you now feel a satisfaction that these objectives have been reached.

You know now that you have arrived thus far along your life’s way, because you were helped by an ever-present God, by your parents, your schools, and your community. Full realization of this will come to you as you go on into your next experiences, and in addition you will develop spiritual values and standards of living which will direct your thinking and activity as you proceed toward the accomplishment of further goals. Sustained effort on your part must be your constant aim.

That you will accomplish your ultimate goal gives me no doubt, for I have seen evidences these past two years which lead me to believe that you are sincere, that you are honest, that you are workers, that you do have worthwhile aims in life. I have enjoyed these two years with you, and I hope you know that I was always “for you” and “with you” — that we were friends and that I am ever grateful for your cooperation in the many curricular and extra-curricular activities.

May I extend to you the best wishes of the Faculty and the School Department for a happy future. And my sincere prayer for God’s help in all your endeavors.

To a student she was more than an ordinary teacher; she was an instructor with a helping hand and an infectious sense of humor. To individuals who inadvertently neglected to report to class, she was more than a person with the unpleasant task of issuing those "On Arrival" slips in the Administration Office; she was understanding, friendly and fair. To the teachers of the Watertown faculty, she was "a nice person to work with." All this describes the former Miss A. Laura Campbell, popular member of the Commercial Department and a favorite of W.H.S. students.

After graduating from Cambridge High and Latin, Miss Campbell studied at Boston University where she received her B.S.S. She later took graduate courses at Boston University and at Harvard. Presently, she is vice-president of the Boston University Alumni Association. Prior to coming to W.H.S. in 1940, she taught in the high schools of Farmington, Vermont and Billerica, Massachusetts.

Our sincere wishes for success and happiness are extended to our "Miss Campbell" in her role as Mrs. Hazen Calhoun, homemaker.

In Memoriam

MARIO LOUIS DE MARCO
December 1, 1934 June 27, 1953

The deep sorrow left in our hearts by the death of Mario DeMarco can never be fully expressed in words. We remember Mario as a friendly, courteous boy, whose ever-present smile was familiar to us all. Although most of the time he appeared happy-go-lucky, Mario carried many responsibilities. An obliging and hard worker, he put his whole heart and soul into photography.

With Mario, who always enjoyed people, we leave the words of Paul, “... God loveth a cheerful giver.”
On the morning of September 11, 1953, some 300 confident students entered W.H.S. It wasn’t hard to distinguish them as Juniors, because they didn’t wear the bewildered expression of the brand new Sophomores, nor did they have the self-assured appearance of the mighty Seniors. Instead they acted the part of steady middlemen, ready for the year’s work and social life. And a satisfying year it turned out to be too!

Looking forward to their Junior year, the Class of ’55 had, as Sophomores, elected their officers. Successful candidates were: president, Vennie Carbone; vice-president, Richard Mastrangelo; secretary, Patricia Bourque; treasurer, Edward Sahatjian; executive committee: Barbara Bergman, Rosemary Kelley, Olga Mesniankine, Nancy Malatesta, and Joanne Russo.

Preparing the set for the play within a play, Miss Brooks coaches talented Junior actors and actresses.

Starting the year's program with the help of class advisor, Mr. John McNealy, the officers plus a willing and competent ring committee selected the class ring. How the "Oh's" and "Ah's" buzzed when the precious gems finally arrived!

The Christmas Assembly, traditionally staged by the Junior Class, entertained the school with "The Long Christmas Dinner," directed by Mr. Hughes, and with festive holiday music. Displaying their talents further, many Juniors took part not only in the Junior-Senior play, "Our Miss Brooks," but also in the colorful operetta, "The Fortune Teller," and the lively band concert.

Finally on April 30 came the long-awaited Junior Prom featuring the music of Gil Loring. The gym was transformed into a submarine wonderland, worthy of King Neptune and Ondine. All presented an exciting spectacle which was an unforgettable climax to a Junior's eventful year.

On the opening day of school last fall, many of us gathered for the first time in the corridors of Watertown High School. Everything seemed so strange that most of us wished we were still home, hiding under the covers. Thanks to an understanding faculty and a helping hand from the upperclassmen, however, our feeling of inferiority soon wore off. From then on, it was just a matter of remembering room numbers, the order of classes and, last but not least, lunch time.

The friendly rivalry between the East and the West was gradually forgotten as everyone joined hands to carry on the wonderful tradition of W.H.S. in sports and studies. Our first big undertaking was the election of officers. Successful in the spirited campaigns were: president, Arthur Burns; vice-president, Marcia Chase; secretary, Doris DeMarco; treasurer, Janet Sarkis; executive committee: Bruce Appleby, Gloria Darakjian, Barbara Bonier, Patricia Mee and Gloria Dhoku.

A highlight of our social calendar was the first of two Sophomore Parties. This sparkling affair, planned by our officers and advisor Miss Jacobs, got off to a rollicking start with a snowball dance. President Burns, acting as M.C., presented many talented performers and musicians.

Giving their all for W.H.S.

Elected by each homeroom are the members of the Student Council. This organization is of definite service to the school in that it gives the students a chance to voice their opinions through chosen representatives and learn to apply democratic principles to their school life. Aside from assisting in all matters pertaining to school welfare, the Student Council sponsored all school assemblies and new practices such as the United Charity Drive, endorsed by the student body for its practical aspects. Acting on student suggestions, the Student Council secured new tables and chairs for the cafeteria, a daily newspaper for the library, and the removal of the doors from the girls' locker rooms.

This year the Student Council members attended the Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils at the American International College in Springfield. Memorable events of the school year were the Student Council-sponsored student exchange and the Kouncil Kick-Off dance. One of the many suggestions the Student Council made was the purchase of new cheerleaders' uniforms. Officers were: Anthony DeFilippo, president; Samuel Kim, vice-president; Marilyn Creonte, secretary; and Robert LoPrete, treasurer. Advisors of the Student Council were faculty members: Miss Eleanor McCaffery and Mr. Arthur McGrath.
Of the numerous girls planning on the field of medicine as a career, many of them are members of Quid Nunc. This club, under the supervision of Miss Mary Boyle, has willingly fulfilled many requests for service from the school and the community. Quid Nunc contributed many useful articles to soldiers' hospitals and filled a great number of Red Cross boxes which were sent to the needy.

Aside from sending a representative to the Red Cross Chapter in Boston, the club held various other activities of service, such as the spring Quid Nunc tea for Watertown High School's faculty and the volunteer work in the army hospital in the vicinity. Each season a different type of holiday favor was made for these local hospitals.

Officers were: Priscilla Kingston, president; Sharon Mumford, vice-president; Joanne Mooney, secretary; and Hope Mourousas, treasurer.

Potential press personnel may absorb timely tips on news-editing as members of the Bulletin staff, under the supervision of Miss Margaret McCarthy. In addition to performing a service to the school in editing the Bulletin, staff members promote one popular social event, the Holly Hop, which keeps the paper abreast of expenses.

Between deadlines Bulletin members participated in journalistic competitions sponsored nationally and attended theater parties organized by the Boston Globe for school editors. High-lighting the year was an interview of Theresa Wright, of "Best Years of Our Lives" fame. Editors were Sharon Mumford, features; Marilyn Luck, news; Hope Mourousas, editorial; and Harold Harutunian, sports. Louise Jalalian was business manager. Faculty members, Miss Geraldine Murphy and Miss Mildred Caram, were chief copy-reader and business advisor respectively.
Pan-Americanism, which is of so much social and political significance today, is a primary interest of the Spanish Club and of its sponsor, Mr. Carlo Vacca. Under his guidance the club members this year participated in discussing the customs, songs and games native to many of the Spanish lands he has visited. Many interesting films of Latin America and the Philippine Islands were procured and exhibited for the benefit of the eleven Spanish students.

President Jack Dowling, Vice-President Marie Burke, Secretary Audrey Lawson and Treasurer Laura Shaw worked cooperatively to bring about a realization of the club's main purpose: increasing knowledge of how the domestic and foreign problems of Spain and Latin America may be solved for the benefit of all the Americas and the rest of the world.

Parlez-vous francais? Some of those who do are members of Le Cercle Francais, which strives under the supervision of Miss Stella Malkasian to promote an understanding of France and her people. This year the twenty-eight cercle members met to celebrate the Yule with French carols and to hear a firsthand report from Mr. William Donnellan of his period of study in Europe. Fifteen dollars was collected and sent to Les Maisons Claires—an orphanage in Paris.

Also on the year's agenda were samples of drama and cuisine from the land of Joan of Arc. Assisted in planning all club activities by a program committee elected monthly, the officers were: Louise Jalalian, president; Judy Spall, vice-president; Dorothy Landry, secretary; and Janice Piccolo, treasurer.
Ten years from now the public may be acclaiming a talented new young author. This author could very well have been a member of the 101 English Workbench sponsored by Mr. Elisha B. Chrakian. The aim of this club is to furnish an opportunity to those students, having superior scholastic standing and an interest in improving their writing ability, actually to write for the press.

Members have seen their articles published in The Watertown Sun, The Watertown Herald, The Boston Globe and The Herald-Traveller. Officers elected were: Richard Ajamian, president; Harry Metz, vice-president; Joanne Maloney, secretary; Agnes Gulli, treasurer; Nicholas Cannalongo, assistant treasurer; and Barbara Emery, sergeant-at-arms.

If you plan to make a trip someday to Italy, or if some of your relatives were born there, you are probably interested in Italian culture, language, art, and civilization. Maybe you were one of the pupils who joined Watertown High's Italian Club. The purpose of this club is to acquaint its members with the sunny, boot-shaped country on the Mediterranean. The twenty members in the group were under the capable guidance of Mr. Edward Craig.

During the year, the members attained knowledge through films, recordings, and a lecture given with the aid of slides. The officers elected for 1953-54 were: James DeSimone, president; Audrey Aguglia, treasurer; and Joan Manzelli, secretary. The entire membership was culturally enriched by the year's events.

Choral group, directed by Mr. George Chase, performs for alumni on Homecoming Day.
Music, music, music! Ninety-two Glee Club members filled the ivy halls with song with the aid of their accompanists, Jane Chase and Elissa Bedrosian. Directed by Mr. George Chase, the Glee Club performed at the Alumni Reunion, the Christmas Assembly and other school programs. Their choral work was heard over WCOP on a student broadcast. On a bigger scale, the Glee Club presented a Victor Herbert musical, "The Fortune Teller." Officers were: Jane Chase, president; Virginia Avedesian, vice-president; Joyce Baker, secretary; Richard Dronseiko, treasurer; and Grace Bazarian, librarian.

Another phase of musical grouping was heard in the Girls' Chorus, which met monthly in preparation for various school musical programs. With no officers but with a surplus of musical talent, these girls prepared extravagantly for the May operetta, "The Fortune Teller," in which two senior girls had singing parts.

A new note in the school was Mr. Peter Siragusa, who introduced into Band routines snatches of jazz and be-bop. Activities of the band this year included the 100th Anniversary, the Grover Cronin Santa Claus parade, the Junior-Senior play, the Annual Concert, the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival, and concerts at the Murphy Army Hospital.

A number of new customs were introduced, such as practicing formations on the campus. Two of these formations, the gun and the turkey, contributed much spirit to the Thanksgiving game. Officers were: Samuel Kim, president; Richard Krutt, vice-president; Audrey Lawson, secretary; and Jack Porter, treasurer; assisted by librarians and an executive committee.

The tricks of the trade — the trade meaning all branches of the business world — are topics of discussion akin to the aims of the Commercial Club, sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Desmond. Also investigated by club members were other subjects of importance, such as feminine charm, demonstrated in a talk presented by Mrs. Laura Corcoran, a personnel officer of the Chandler School for Women.

Assisted by voluntary committees, President Yerin Bazarian, Vice-President Joanne Creonte, Secretary Dorothy Gulesian and Treasurer Priscilla Thurston took an active part in the club program. Highlights of the year were trips to business establishments such as the Union Market National Bank, with an annual outing in May to conclude a most active year for the club.

Shutterbugs and cameracats of Watertown High School have always found opportunities to fit their interests as members of the Camera Club, sponsored by Miss Helen Thayer. The club provides all photo enthusiasts with valuable experience in developing, printing, copying and enlarging — familiar terms to 1954’s active members.

Besides supplying a number of shots for the Annual, members held many contests among themselves, in order that they could increase their skill in an atmosphere of friendly competition and contribute exhibits to the annual Science Fair. Officers were: David Sliney, president; Robert Craig, vice-president; Marlene Wood, secretary; Fred Schofield, treasurer; Margaret Mallon, assistant secretary and treasurer; and Ronald Quinn, custodian.

For those who can successfully dissect frogs after lunch, the Biology Club offers scientific diversions in Room 3 amid the general aura of formaldehyde. Through many interesting films, lectures and discussions, the Biology Club hopes to promote interest in the sciences which are so important to world progress.

Although sponsored by Mr. Robert MacCurdy, the members had a chance to manage the club almost entirely independently under the direction of Richard Shapazian, president; Joel Aronson, vice-president; George Brackett, secretary; and Valentine Prest, treasurer. Numerous field trips were counted among the club's activities, such as visits to Babson Institute, the new Science Museum and Boston Harbor. The conclusion of the year's program was the annual outing in May.

Modeling clay, a standard amusement for children, is also a standard medium for artists of all ages. The Art Club, under the direction of Mr. Moody, worked in this and other phases of creative art, such as soap and paper sculpture, copper tooling, and pastels, all of which take patience plus ability.

Small in number but active in service, the Art Club members used their talent and interest in design to contribute to the Annual and to aid in the decorations for many of the proms and plays. In between projects, the Art Club dabbled in the conventional paints, enjoyed films on painting techniques and talks by personnel from various art schools. Officers were: Lewis Piantedosi, president; John Lyons, vice-president; Helen Compton, secretary; and Patricia Bourque, treasurer.
Last September Music Director Mr. George Chase decided that Watertown High had been too many years without a Boys' Glee Club. Therefore he formed this year's group by selecting the boys who were already members of the Glee Club.

Although the members rehearsed only once a month as a full unit, smaller groups met at various times to learn the assigned music. Due to the extensiveness of other activities, the boys, whose voices ranged from high tenor to low bass, were unable to do much more than launch out this year. However, several of their number, including Connie Pappas, Pat Trani, Harry Metz and Bill Brackett, happily sang their way through "The Fortune Teller." Since there were approximately thirty voices in this new choral group, Mr. Chase looks to a rosy future for the club.

Boy's Glee Club members were:

Composed of unusually talented and capable members, the Orchestra has completed a most successful and active school year. Rehearsals of the full orchestra were held twice a week under the direction of Mr. George Chase. Officers elected were: Anthony DeFilippo, president; James Kelly, vice-president; Elissa Bedrosian, secretary; Rocco Galimi, treasurer; and Virginia Parent, librarian.

In addition to playing at various school assemblies, the orchestra served the school by rendering selections at the class play. In April the orchestra traveled to Worcester to participate in the All-State Festival. By joining with the other musical groups to present Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller," the orchestra climaxed an unusually busy and successful year with an outstanding performance of the operetta.
Tri-Hi members included:

Hi-Y members were:

Are you a good citizen with a sociable personality? If so, you are probably very much like the members of Hi-Y. Being one of Watertown High’s most popular clubs, Hi-Y has an enrollment of very active boys, whose main purpose is to promote good citizenship throughout the school and community. Under the guidance of Mr. John Koumjian, the club held its meetings every other Monday night at the Newton “Y”. Officers elected were: David Paolicelli, president; Leonard Hill, vice-president; John Lyons, secretary; Edward Kelley, treasurer; and Larry DeAngelis, chaplain.

Listed among Hi-Y’s social activities was a very successful Victory Dance held on November 27. The second and most riotous social was a Splash Party, held for all the members of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi.

“To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character” is the purpose of Tri-Hi. The girls this year under the capable guidance of Miss Geraldine Murphy undertook many successful social activities. In December, a “cool” splash party was held by Tri-Hi and Hi-Y at the Newton “Y”.

Tri-Hi’s biggest and most successful activity, the Winter Carnival, was held on February 19, in the elaborately decorated Whitehill Hall. The money raised from this dance was used for a scholarship awarded to a worthy senior girl. Elected early in the year to lead the thirty members were the following officers: Sharon Mumford, president; Priscilla Kingston, secretary; Adeline Dilorio, treasurer; and Roberta Donohue, chaplain.
The Home Economics Club proved that worthy use of leisure time can be fun as well as profitable! The girls in this organization spent their time learning crafts and techniques valuable in homemaking. Occasionally an interesting movie was shown, or a special project tackled by the entire group. Most of the time, however, the girls worked on individual tasks which included knitting, embroidery, weaving, and crocheting. The finished products ranged from fluffy angora collars and Argyle socks, to colorful sweaters and bright afghans.

Sponsored by Miss Anne Cameron and Miss Mildred Jones, the eleven members met during club periods. The girls elected Elaine Keating, president; Carol Cardolino, vice-president; Joan Kacey, treasurer; and Christine Rogers, secretary.

"To provide an opportunity for development of the interests of high school pupils in electronics" is the purpose of W.H.S.'s newest organization, the Radio Club. A fast-growing group, the members build and repair radio sets, go on field trips to neighboring radio and television stations, practice code and theory, and operate the club radio station located over the Dark Room.

Operating with a high-powered transmitter, the hams sent free radiograms to unrestricted zones all over the world and often received answers within several days. Sponsor of the group was Mr. Cyril Ellis. Officers were: William Hammond, president; Thomas Doyle, vice-president; Stephen Buchanan, secretary; Robert Manzelli, treasurer; Stephen Buchanan, and Thomas Doyle, technical directors.
The great scientists of tomorrow were asked to join the Science Seminar Society to help solve the puzzling problems of the universe for the enlightenment of mankind. Mr. MacCurdy, the club's sponsor, acted as moderator at the meetings of this elite little group.

Scientists from many fields were asked to participate in informal discussions with the eleven members. Besides working on club projects, each individual compiled reports on periodicals assigned to him, and studied the contributions of great men to science. S.S.S. took an active part in producing our own Science Fair, and entered exhibits in more wide-spread contests. The numerous activities of the organization did much to increase the interest and talent of its young scientists.

The main objective of the Project Club is to promote interest and skill in the industrial arts. The sixteen members of the organization, sponsored by Mr. Donald, elected Richard Merullo to act as president; John Marini, secretary; and Arthur Carlson, treasurer. Dues of ten cents a week were collected from each member.

At the meetings, the boys were trained in many kinds of hand crafts. Each member had a special individual project to work out, with the aid of Mr. Donald. The success of last year's Alfred Burns and his prize-winning table stirred the boys to better-than-ever accomplishments. Besides these routine activities, the group served the school by preparing the auditorium stage for many assemblies, plays, and productions. More power to these able craftsmen!

In making this year an active and profitable one, each member took on a particular library project, chosen with his individual interests and talents in mind. Projects displayed were aimed at furthering student interests in the library and in good reading. Although primarily a service group, the club had several social activities concluding with a bang-up outing in May.
A great deal of planning and forethought goes into each school assembly that Watertown High School pupils attend. This service to the school was given by the Assembly Committee under the capable direction of Miss Stella Malkasian. The members selected from various pamphlets, programs that were educational as well as entertaining. Also the members themselves introduced the assemblies. In this way several students were able to participate in the school programs.

Membership this year was limited to eleven Seniors, eight Juniors, and five Sophomores. Although the underclassmen did not introduce the assemblies, they were very helpful in planning the programs. Officers for this year were: Robert Wellman, chairman; and Joan Appleby, secretary.

To teach students how to operate and repair audio-visual equipment is the purpose of Mr. Arthur McGrath's Projection Club. Sixteen willing and able club members worked behind the scenes for all school assemblies and dances, operating the public address system, wire and tape recorders and 16mm. projectors. These machines also moved continually from class to class and because of the great amount of wear and tear, the boys worked constantly to keep this equipment in operating condition.

This year, types of audio-visual equipment were used in over 600 individual classes, the popular 16mm. projector leading with 400 showings. Club officers were: President William Aytges; Vice-President Charles Morrison; Secretary James Hurley; Librarian Robert Wheaton.
A familiar and exciting sight, the setting up of election booths in the gymnasium, is only a part of the job carried out by the Election Commission under the supervision of Mr. Burke. Two representatives from each homeroom are elected at the beginning of the school year to compose this active committee.

The Election Commission takes charge of all school elections. The equipment, such as the booths, checkers' tables, ballot boxes and stanchions, are under the care of male representatives. A group of girls have charge of duplicate ballots and the check lists. During the follow-up for the election, tally sheets, vote counts, and certified copies of election results are attended to by the Election Commission, who also post all results on the bulletin boards.

"Service unlimited" was rendered by the members of the Library Club. Under the capable guidance of librarian Mrs. Alice Deery, club members received special instructions in library routines and preparing new book lists and gave able assistance wherever needed. Barbara Castellano, president, and Sophie Righellis, secretary-treasurer, took an active part in planning the club program.

In making this year an active and profitable one, each member took on a particular library project, chosen with his individual interests and talents in mind. Projects displayed were aimed at furthering student interests in the library and in good reading. Although primarily a service group, the club had several social activities concluding with a bang-up outing in May.

The Rod and Gun Club, formed to acquaint the members with the safe handling of guns and the skillful use of fishing tackle, is co-sponsored by Mr. Bannon and Mr. DeFazio. From the 28 members the following officers were elected: Roland Smith, president; Al St. Onge, vice-president; Bonnie-Anne Kennett, secretary; Phil Ciolfi, treasurer; Roland Smith, supervisor of fishing; Bob Clayton and Bob Bartlett, supervisors of hunting.

The 16 members of the Rifle team practiced weekly at the Watertown Arsenal and had numerous offers of competition from other schools. Elected delegates to the Sportsmen's Federation were Roland Smith and supervisor of fishing; Bob Clayton and Bob Bartlett, supervisors of hunting.

The 16 members of the Rifle team practiced weekly at the Watertown Arsenal and had numerous offers of competition from other schools. Elected delegates to the Sportsmen's Federation were Roland Smith and alternate, John Bowen. The club also participated in the state exhibition of fish, game, and gun ballistics.

Upside down and all around were the fourteen athletic girls of the Tumbling Club who, under the expert direction of Miss Ruth McCarthy, developed themselves both mentally and physically through their various stunts. Practicing in the gymnasium, the girls were more often seen heels over head than in upright positions.

Elected to lead the artists of equilibrium were Mary Jane Quinn, president; Joan Livoli, vice-president; Betty Joyal, secretary; Pat Joyal, treasurer. The various activities of the club this year included participating in the annual Sports Nite and a farewell banquet in June. Justly proud of their achievements, athletic and social, the members invested in Tumbling Club pins to top off the year.
A burst of applause filled the auditorium as the initiation of the new Cum Laude members drew to a close. The Watertown High School chapter of Cum Laude was chartered in 1921. Watertown is very fortunate in having one of the few public schools considered worthy of conferring the honor of membership in this society upon its students.

Cum Laude, membership in which is the highest scholastic honor given in our school, is a national organization with chapters in many secondary schools, both private and public. Its purpose is to afford recognition to those college course students having a superior academic standing during their years of high school. The members are elected by the votes of the teachers. This year's members are to be congratulated upon reaching this high scholastic goal.
The Centennial Celebration attracted many W.H.S. alumni to a full day's program on Saturday, October 17. Graduates flocked to the school to register, and to renew acquaintances with fellow classmates. The festivities commenced at one o'clock with a colorful parade to Victory Field to view the annual Newton-Watertown football game. Leading the parade was Commander Lefteris Lavarakas '38, followed by faculty members, the returning classes, the town officials and the W.H.S. band. At half time, Mr. Herbert O. Berry welcomed the returning alumni, one of whom represented the class of 1881, and the combined Newton and Watertown bands saluted the graduates with musical selections.

After the game a grand reunion took place at the high school where, following a buffet supper in the cafeteria, Alumni speakers addressed the general assembly. Dancing from eight on in the gym climaxed this 100th Anniversary of the founding of Watertown High School.

The purpose of Theatre Workshop is to stimulate interest in the theater and to entertain for school and public performances. Officers were: Connie Pappas, president; Elissa Bedrosian, vice-president; Edward DerKazarian, treasurer; and Marian Sabato, secretary. Besides preparing a special program for a P.T.A. meeting at the Brown School, and assisting as stage crew for The Fortune Teller members presented The Long Christmas Dinner and Our Miss Brooks.

This year Our Miss Brooks was chosen as the Junior-Senior Play. Among the thespians selected by Mr. Hughes to play leading roles were: Marilyn Luck (Miss Brooks), Robert Gerrard (Hugo Longacre), Nancy Malatesta (Jane), and Connie Pappas (Ted).

The story revolves around Miss Brooks, who, much against her better judgment, is prevailed upon to stage the school play. Besides coping with her other activities, Miss Brooks must be careful not to antagonize Coach Longacre, her romantic interest, who wants all available boys for the basketball team. Not to be outdone in the amour department are Ted and Jane, who lend Miss Brooks a helping hand. But “all’s well that ends well,” for Miss Brooks triumphs “dramatically” and romantically.

This is our story...

You can tell a Sophomore by his single book,
You can tell a Junior by his stride and such,
You can tell a Senior... but you can't tell him much!

Is it possible that three years have flown so—slowly? It seems like only a century ago that we took our first steps of high school life as petrified Sophomores. The corridors looked longer; the lockers were more unopeninger; the cafeteria was more crowdeder; yes, even the subjects were harderer.

Soon our class advisor, Mr. William Donnellan, presented the procedures we had to follow for the important duty of electing officers. After a spirited campaign, we counted the votes, and made an incidental discovery. East was East and West—was East too. Vittie was in—and he stayed in. The kitchen cabinet included: vice-president, Bob Ohanian; treasurer, Eddie Der Kazarian; secretary, Joanne Creonte; executive committee, Bobbie Donohue, Barbara Emery, Janet Finn, Mary Porter and Jane Williams.

The year limped along. High school had its little surprises—mid-years and finals. Were they a treat or a treatment?

Do you remember our Coming Out Event (Sophomore Party, that is) and the way we all mingled together so informally—with the boys on one side and the girls on the other and the teachers, teachers everywhere?

As our sophomore year rumbled to an end, we found that we had pulled our weight in athletics, clubs, and other organizations. When the honor roll came out, they found we were bright bunnies too.

After an endless summer of lolling around, we came back to face our brief junior year. (Brief like a 99 car freight train!) This was the good year, they told us. We were too big to be stepped on; too small for the crushing responsibilities of seniorhood. Confidentially, we sometimes felt like a nut in a nut cracker.

Officers for our second year were: president, Frank Vittimberga; vice-president, Bob Ohanian; treasurer, Jane Williams; secretary, Joanne Creonte; executive committee, Nick Cannalonga, Addie Dilorio, Bobbie Donohue, Barbara Emery, and Betty Joyal.

Saturday afternoon football games lightened the tragedy a little. By the way, didn't we capture the Class B Championship?
We were not far along in our junior year before we started work on class business, some of which reminded us that graduation would come — some day. With the help of class advisor, Mr. Peter Burke, the Ring Committee chose class ring and supplier, and the class officers selected our photo studio.

At the Christmas Assembly, talented Juniors displayed their versatile acting abilities in the dramatization of the warm-hearted Christmas scene from Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women." Remember Barbara Emery making like tomboy Jo? And Joanne Maloney playing mother hen to a brood of four chicks?

Then for the first time in W.H.S. theatrical history, a Senior tried to drive a Junior mad — in the Junior-Senior play, that is. But Elissa, alias the "Kind Lady," survived only to face that unscrupulous female, that conniving cockney, that merciless — that merciless Marian Sabato.

Later in the year, in May, fifteen Juniors were inducted into National Honor during an impressive ceremony. These outstanding members of our class were selected for their leadership, character, scholarship and service.

Do you remember the excitement of the Junior Prom, the artistic Japanese motif and the dreamy music of Gil Loring's orchestra — or did your feet hurt too much?

In the fall of '53 we charged back as Seniors and received the ghostly news; in the matter of class advisors, we were (and we quote) "stuck with Blake." Somehow we seem to have survived. For some this meant the last year of formal education; for others it was another stepping stone to further schooling. But for all it was a long-awaited year — oh, brother, how long! The officers elected to serve this last term were: president (er . . . er . . . the president was — oh dear, this is embarrassing!). Well, anyway the vice-president was Koko Gargodian; treasurer, Jane Williams; secretary, Joanne Creonte; executive committee: Nick Cannalonga, Addie Dilorio, Bobbie Donohue, Margie Pallone, and Dave Paolicelli.

Will you ever forget seeing the idle Annual staffers ambling around without a care in the world? (Everybody knows Annuals just . . . just . . . happen!) Key positions for the yearbook staff were held by: Robert Wellman, editor-in-chief; Louise Jalalian and June Macurdy, associate editors; Beverly Sawyer, art editor; Dave Sliney, photo editor; and Frank Kelly, business manager.

Came the football season — Bermuda shorts and dig that cr .. . azzy Bleacher Boogie. The band was cool, the bleachers were hot and incidentally, the team picked up another Class B Crown.

We celebrated our centennial year . . . without the help of Newton. Old grads registered, gabbed, paraded, gabbed, spectated, gabbed, ate, gabbed, danced . . . and collapsed.

Later — much later in the year, portraying the smiling school teacher, Marilyn Luck starred in the unforgettable Junior-Senior production, "Our Miss Brooks." Then, early in April, that terrific band of ours held its concert (time was really moving). Another hit for W.H.S. was the spectacular musical performance, "The Fortune Teller."

Nearing the grand finale, we waltzed at our Senior Prom, planted the ivy on Class Day, marched solemnly to Baccalaureate, and finally got together for a little occasion called the Senior Banquet. Honestly now, we have had fun, haven't we?

We, the illustrious members of the 1954 Brotherhood of Morticians and Pallbearers, Inc., being of sound mind and stiff bodies, do hereby bequeath our earthly possessions to our worthy successors of 1955. Since we are leaving our comfortable crypt for a more spacious environment, otherwise known as the "Great Beyond," we will have no more need for these treasured trinkers. So with heavy hearts and light heads, we hope that you will profit as we did from this inheritance.

II. To Mr. Kelman, the gay blade so fond of "stepping out," we leave an automatic test corrector so he can still go out nights.

III. To Miss Jacobs, although she has no use for it whatsoever, we leave a lie detector just to furnish her office.

IV. To Mr. Adams, who, stacked in his hands, holds the fate of all math students, we leave a deck of blank cards so that never again need anyone fear the fatal results of those dreaded F slots.

VI. To Miss Margaret McCarthy... an electric eye to trip all students who enter her room without saying, "Good morning, Miss McCarthy!"

VIII. To Connie Pappas we give a lapel to sit on because he's such a shrinking violet.

IX. To Miss Silva we leave a pair of flats so students won't have to look up so far.

XVI. To Mr. Moody, if he’ll stop SHOUTING long enough, we’d like to say “Thanks” for all the wonderful things he’s done for us.

XVII. To a noisy Junior . . . Barbara Emery leaves her shy, timid personality.

XX. To Mr. Koumjian we leave a megaphone so that we can better hear his soft, shy voice.

XXI. To Mr. Two-Gun West . . . a canteen full of Chanel #5. (We’re sick of that 12¢ stuff he uses in experiments!)

XXII. To Mr. Amee . . . one of the last persons ever to let us down — we leave — we leave — well, we’ll try to dig up something for him!

And now, Brothers in Black, we must be shoveling off!

We remain the undertakers . . . or rather the undersigned,

SPORTSMANSHIP
"Watertown Wins Class B Title." So read the Boston papers as the Red and White successfully defended its football crown—a feat never before accomplished in Class B football. Led by Coaches Zeno, Sheehan, Ward and Mantenuto, and Co-Captains John Marini and George Gorgodian, the squad won 7 games, lost 1 and tied 1.

The opponent on opening day was Class A Brockton, whom the Towners took into camp by a score of 20-0. Lou Piantedosi, Koko Gorgodian, and Buzzy Basile scored touchdowns, while Joe Mastrangelo converted two extra points. Following a 13-13 tie with Winchester, the Zenomen trimmed Rindge Tech 28-13.

Newton, the eventual Class A co-champion, didn't cooperate in the centennial celebration as they defeated the home team 28-13. The boys put up a good struggle for the first half, but from that point on it was completely Newton's game. The loss, however, failed to dampen the spirits of the Zenomen, who in their next encounter ran through a weak Revere squad with Koko Gorgodian doing all the Watertown scoring.

Against Malden Catholic, a leading contender for the Class B title, the Red and White, led by the sparkling offensive play of Lenny Hill and Koko Gorgodian won in a walk. Watertown then journeyed to Brookline and overpowered a strong eleven, thus avenging last year's defeat.

Sparked by three straight victories, the Arsenal Towners, with Nick Deldon and Aram Miller starring, crushed Cambridge Latin 32-0. The traditional Thanksgiving game against Belmont again found the Towners too strong. Although Watertown's rival put up a good fight during the first half, the Red Raiders ran away during the second half to win, 31-6. Congratulations, Champs!

The soccer season started with a bang as the home team headed by Captain Harutunian beat Acton. Following a heart-breaking loss to Belmont, a game in which the opposition scored in the final minutes, the Malleymen came back with great spirit to defeat a strong Hudson eleven.

Disaster struck in the next two games as the Watertown booters failed to start clicking until late in both contests. But again the boys bounced back to battle a powerful Belmont squad to a scoreless tie.

With unconquerable spirit the team fought hard, but lacking experienced substitutes lost three rugged contests, each by one goal. Although the season closed with three more defeats, Watertown, coached by Mr. Joseph Malley was never out hustled and never lacked spirit in its play. Charlie Morrison and Kevin Malley led in the scoring department with six goals apiece.

In the All-Star Game, Charlie Morrison, Kevin Malley, Sammy Kim, and Kenny McClay were selected to represent Watertown and played an outstanding game although in a losing cause.

All eyes are glued on puck as Greg Basmajian scores following pass from Sandy Streeper, after Wellesley defenseman is pulled out of position by Herb Holmes.

The Watertown hockey squad, coached by Carl Clem in his first year, opened against very strong opposition, Walpole, last year's Massachusetts State Champs and this year's runners-up. Art Woodbury tallied the only Watertown goal in a 5-1 losing battle. Next after a strong two periods against B. C. High, the Watertown puckchasers went down to defeat, 4-1, as Greg Basmajian scored the Watertown goal. In the following game, Wellesley proved to be too much for the Townies whose only goal was registered by Greg Basmajian in the 3-1 loss. In their next two outings the squad played strong games and controlled the puck throughout, but couldn't send the disc into the strings.

Framingham and Waltham ruled the Townies by scores of 2-0 and 3-0. In the next encounter, Needham, the 1954 State Champions, smothered a fighting Watertown sextet, 6-0. Still the pucksters came back strong to tie Norwood 1-1 with Herb Holmes doing the lamp-lighting. In the first game of the play-offs, the squad met a strong B. C. High sextet. With Kelley and Basmajian registering, the boys fought to a 2-2 tie. Watertown, spearheaded by Holmes and Kelley, just missed defeating Framingham by 30 seconds as the game ended in another 2-2 tie. The final game of the schedule against Norwood resulted in a 1-1 tie as Kelley tallied.

Although the 1953-1954 season was not a great one, the team showed steady improvement. Since the squad will lose only five members to graduation, namely, Greg Basmajian, Sandy Streeper, John Lyons, Art Woodbury, and Bob Quinn, next year's pucksters, with a fine nucleus of returning lettermen, headed by Ray Killian and Bob Lo Prete, sharing the net-minding chores, and Richie Dronseiko on defense, should have a winning season.

Led by Co-Captains, Aram Miller and George Horne, our basketeers turned in a creditable season. With five returning lettermen, namely, Len Hill, George Horne, Aram Miller, Lewis Piantedosi, and Jack Porter, Coach James Sheehan produced a good offensive ball club. Handicapped by the lack of a good “big man,” the team resorted to a quick-breaking, possession type of game. The overall season’s record of

Reserve hoopsters seem to take a dim view of the situation.
10 wins and 9 losses doesn’t tell the whole story.

The boys were defeated by Lexington at the latter’s home gymnasium, but bounced back to trounce Reading High School. The team, however, couldn’t get started once their league got under way. They lost their first three games, two of which were away from home. Once back on their home court, they upset Newton High School 45-41. After losing to Waltham at home, they journeyed to the Watch City’s floor and upset Waltham in what was described as one of the best games a Watertown quintet has played in years. Finishing fourth in the Suburban League with a record of 5 wins and 7 losses, they played St. Patrick’s, Division II Catholic League Champs, in a benefit game. Watertown led all the way as they handily whipped St. Pat’s by 13 points.

With the Bay State tournament coming up, Coach Sheehan had to cut his squad to ten players. Using five Seniors, three Juniors, and two Sophomores, Watertown defeated Medford High School, 68-50. This victory qualified Watertown to meet Newton High School in the finals. After a hard-fought game, Watertown’s quintet came out on top, 37-33. For superb playing Lenny Hill and George Horne were elected to the all-tournament team.

The boys who carried most of the load for the Red and White were Aram Miller, George Horne, Len Hill, Richard Berardino, Nick Deldon, Lewis Piantedosi, and Jack Porter. Prospects for next year are good, since two of the starting five are Juniors and the Jayvees finished their campaign with a 17-0 winning slate.

With flying feet

This year’s Track Team was sparked by the running of Co-Captains Koko Gorgodion and Rock Charshoodian. Koko led the team in the 300 and climaxed by winning his event in the State Meet. Although the team was unsuccessful in defending its league and state titles, there were numerous outstanding Underclassmen who formed a strong nucleus on which Coach Gleason can build more championship teams. Very promising were Sophomores Jim Kelly, who placed third in the 600 in the State Meet, and Sonny Robak, who won the mile regularly. Other standout “corridor kids,” who strengthened the squad were Jack Robinson in the hurdles, Dingy Deldon in the high-jump, and Bob Lanergan in the fifty.

The season opened with the Townies nipping a strong Arlington squad in the final event. In the next meet the boys swamped Cambridge Latin in taking seven first places. Somerville, led by Phil Reavis, proved too much for the Arsenal Towners, who suffered their first defeat. In the following meets the Gleasonites bowed to North Quincy and finally to Belmont in an upset victory for our rivals. Nevertheless because of the great number of good trackmen in the underclasses, prospects are excellent for a stronger and more exciting track season next year.
With only four returning lettermen, namely Co-Captains George Horne and Frank Vittimberga, and Walter Burke and Fred Busconi, this year's Cross Country Team was supposed to have only an average year. But our boys fooled the so-called experts and won the Class B Cross Country Championship going away. Bolstered by Seniors, Gregory Basmajian and Jack Porter, and a horde of magnificent Sophomores, the team was unbeatable.

Running against Belmont and Beverly in their first triangular meet of the season, our boys defeated both teams. George Horne led the pack over the 2½ mile course in 13 minutes and 11 seconds while “Woody” Woodland, one of magnificent Sophomores, finished a close second. Co-Captain Horne paved the way in almost all of our cross country victories, with Jimmy Kelley, Paul Woodland, and “Sonny” Robak close behind him. It was due to these four outstanding boys that the team managed to win the Class B title.

In addition, the harriers copped a second place in the Pioneer Division Championships and a seventh in the Middlesex Cross Country League Championships.

Making up the spring sports season were baseball, tennis, outdoor track, and golf. With George Gorgodian as his only returning starter, Coach Yankowski had a difficult job trying to field a well-knit Baseball Team. Senior holdovers from the 1953 varsity were: pitchers — Lewis Piantedosi and John Coffey; infielders — Bob Ohanian, Bob Manzelli, Haig Mardirosian, Jack Porter and George Charshoodian; outfielders — Dave Paolicelli, George Gorgodian, Joe Mastrangelo, and Gregory Basmajian. Following a 5-4 loss to Boston English, these boys turned in a creditable season in the Suburban League.

The 1954 Golf Team, led by captain Bob Wellman, was comprised entirely of lettermen. These veterans were: John Danielson, Anthony Vahey, Dave Sliney, Fred Syrjala, James Hurley, Tom Gilligan, and Kevin Malley. Under the able direction of Coach Malley, the boys played superb golf. Our team's good showing in the Greater Boston High School Golf League was due mainly to the many practice hours spent on the links at the Oakley Country Club.

Under their new coach, Mr. McDermott, the Tennis Team fielded a veteran squad and made their presence felt in the strong Suburban League. Because of the strong base-line play of Aram Miller and Sam Kim and the powerful all-round game of Bob Wellman, the singles matches were spectacular duels. The racquetees could usually count on another point from the first doubles duo of George Karcher and Eddie Sahatjian, who fitted their playing together to make a smooth-working unit. Because of their spirit and confidence, the boys really played championship tennis.

Each of the girls’ sports teams this year displayed so much enthusiasm and good sportsmanship that they were a great credit to W.H.S. Whether they won or lost, the girls kept up their morale and worked even harder to defeat the next team on their schedule.

Many girls who participated in sports also showed their school spirit by entering other activities such as the Pep Club.

At its football games this past season, Watertown had a large, lively cheering section which, of course, consisted of all the members of the Pep Club. The Pep Club’s exceptionally large numbers this year were due to the fact that so many enthusiastic Sophomores signed up for membership.

Every Friday, during the fall season, the Pep Club’s exceptionally large numbers this year were due to the fact that so many enthusiastic Sophomores signed up for membership. Every Friday, during the fall season, the Pep Club met in the gym to practice the old tongue-twisters and learn the new cheers. This highly spirited group was under the direction of the cheerleaders, who have done a wonderful job in leading it.

The Pep Club’s wonderful school spirit was witnessed as its members’ voices echoed:

T-E-A-M-! ! ! Yea, TEAM!
TEAM! TEAM! TEAM!

If some part of a team’s strength is in the stands, these enthusiastic girls can take a share of the credit for our Class B championship.

"What's the call that's best of all? Wa-Wa-Wa-Wa-Watertown!" bellowed our own Cheerleaders dressed as Indians at the annual Turkey Day classic with Belmont High.

Under the capable direction of Janet Finn, these energetic lasses added much color to the football games during the past season. Squad members were: Capt. Janet Finn, Roberta Donohue, Ann Farese, Agnes Gulli, and Margaret Pallone — Seniors; Marsha Conduris, Marilyn Creonte, Marian Green, Marilyn Haskell and Joan Samson — Juniors.

In addition to their regular cheering at the games, the Cheerleaders also conducted a pep rally at the annual Hi-Y Victory Dance. The audience was both surprised and thrilled when the girls donned football helmets and "made like" our wonderful Class B champs.

Watertown's colorful and lively Drum Majorettes of '53 sparked enthusiasm at every football game with tricky surprise routines. Combining with the band, the twirlers entertained spectators with original formations every week of the season.

At the Cambridge Latin game, a real gone Western stint complete with ten gallon hats and six guns attracted the crowds. Oh, yes, do you remember that cute little turkey, Barbara Emery, who almost lost her head at the Thanksgiving game . . . and the dramatization of the hit tunes, Crying In the Chapel and Dragnet?

"Ground stick! Ground stick!" Suddenly the ball flashed down the field and another goal was scored for the W.H.S. Red Raiderettes.

Under the capable direction of Coach Sally Biggane and the leadership of Captain Jane Williams and Manager Marilyn Luck, this year's field hockey team ended the season with an enviable record of 5 wins and 2 losses. During the entire season Miss Biggane stressed the importance of skillful stick and team work.

The biggest thrill of the season came to the team when they broke Newton High's winning streak by defeating the Orange and Black 1-0. A determined Watertown team had set out to avenge its football team's only defeat. It was a hard fought, scoreless game throughout the first half. However, during the opening minutes of the second half, Watertown's forward line took a direct path toward the heavily guarded Newton goal. With much determination Jane Williams broke away from the Newton defensive line and went in to score Watertown's winning goal. Watertown's Red Raiderettes in his final game proved their worth not only as individuals but as a team.

Fighting Floorgirls

Despite the combined efforts of our fighting floorgirls and coach, Miss Sally Biggane, the girls' basketball team wound up the season winning only 3 out of 7 games. However, Watertown's first-team total score for the season as compared with the total for the opponents was 265 for Watertown and 285 for the opposition.

One of the most exciting games played was the one against Arlington, when in the final minutes of the game Arlington soared ahead to defeat Watertown and win the league championship.

The most "outstanding" game of the season was that played between the Senior and Junior members of the squad. It was a nip and tuck game all the way, with the Seniors leading one minute and the Juniors leading the next. The final whistle blew as the Juniors came up with the tying basket and ended the game with a bang.

On the court

Captain Beverly Sawyer
Manager Anne Pitman
Coach Miss Sally Biggane

Confident smiles of veterans Anne Pitman and Beverly Sawyer anticipate future tennis victories.

With a nucleus of four returning veterans and two promising Sophomores, the girls’ tennis squad of ’54, coached by Miss Sally Biggane, proved to be very successful. Members showed excellent technique in both forehand and backhand strokes. The two Seniors, Captain Beverly Sawyer and Manager Anne Pitman, and Juniors Rosemary Kelley and Connie O’Brien were very capable and great assets to the team. After a series of tournaments in the fall, Sophomores Carole Ann Ritchie and Eleanor McCarthy earned positions on the team and were valuable and promising additions.

Although our girls were handicapped by short practice sessions, they proved to be one of the hardest-hitting teams among those in the neighboring towns. The teams on the racquetees’ schedule were: Concord, Arlington, Malden, Weston, Needham, Lexington, Newton and Brookline. Each match was filled with skill and exact precision, which left our opponents confused, dazzled and usually defeated.

A great deal of credit is due to the team as they were able to improve on last year’s record and uphold the high standards of girls’ sports set at Watertown High. Congratulations to our champions of the court.
