The Yearbook Staff PRESENTS
Mr. Carlo Vacca, we the Class of 1955, proudly dedicate our Annual. We congratulate you on your tenth year as a teacher at Watertown High School. During this decade you have constantly given your time and your skill to help us with our school problems. You have enriched our lives. Thanks to you we know far more about France and Spain and their peoples and languages than we ever dreamed we could learn in our high school years. Your reassurance, encouragement, and sincere concern for our feelings and success have brought out our best work and our best traits of character.

For your friendly and engaging manner, for your expert tutoring for the College Boards, and for your fine leadership in founding the Spanish National Honor Society and in heading the Language Department, with deep appreciation we thank you.

September 1952 and June 1955! What are they? Simply two dates which would mean little to many people. However, to all of us they signify the extremities in a phase of your life which I hope has been a happy one. These three years have seen you and me start on a high school experience together; these three years have seen you grow mentally and physically; they have brought you and me new experiences and new friends; they have seen you finish your high school career, and they have seen me looking forward to continuing with students, but without you.

What can I say to you as a farewell, except to express a feeling of missing you, as I most certainly will. By the very fact of graduation you have proved yourself to your parents, to your teachers, and to your community. If in addition you have proved that you are a person fit to live with yourself, then you have indeed achieved a true ideal. For however far you go in life ahead, you will never get away from yourself. I hope — I believe that that self has been made a good friend of yours.

Speaking for the faculty and for myself, I wish you well in the years ahead. I wish you success and good health. Above all I wish you happiness — a happiness derived from a satisfaction that you have tried hard in the past, that you have been and will be a source of pride to your parents and to your community, that you have a firm faith in God and, through God’s help, a firm faith in yourself.

Good luck, my Class of 1955. You have done well!

Having endeared herself to her many students, Miss Rose C. Smith upon her death on September 17, 1954, left an emptiness which only her own gentle humor and enthusiasm could fill. Miss Smith came to Watertown High School in 1930 and gave twenty-four years of loyal service to the teaching of students in the business course.

Her winning smile, her high ideals, her creative vision, and above all her love of her fellow men have benefited us all and have made her unforgettable to everyone.

It was just a regular day for an inquisitive little Mars-man like me. The sunlight glinted off my flying saucer as I got in by climbing to the edge and sliding down into the middle. As I nonchalantly pressed the overhead starter, I wondered idly what my proposed trip around the world had in store for me. Gazing lazily down on my Earth neighbors, I noticed a disturbance. Living up to my name, Nosy Joe Whizz crash-landed on a flat gravelled roof. Strange monsters (I think they’re called “kids”) were piling into the building. Shy but eager expressions gave them away as “Sophs,” novices entering this place called “high school.” Curious, I stayed. Aided by my convenient stature — I am just the size of a tea cup — I hopped into someone’s enormous case. The kids call these pieces of luggage, “shoulder bags.” Ouch! That bloomin’ pen!

Later I left my hiding place and kept following these fabulous Sophomores. Their advisor, a Mr. Donnellan, was going to help them stage something called “elections.” We don’t have “elections” on Mars, but they sound quite delicious. Some kind of dessert, perhaps?

A few weeks later cardboards popped up all over school. Some said: “Don’t be a mule. Vote for me!” I was puzzled. What have mules to do with this crazy “voting” thing? Horse stalls appeared in the gym and swallowed up all the Sophs. Imagine! I kept looking for the horses, but found only pony tails. When the kids reappeared, it was with chewed nails and trembling knees. Finally, a list was posted: “Larry DeAngelis, president; Anthony DeMarco, vice-president; Patricia Bourque, secretary; John Bowen, treasurer; Barbara Bergman, Virginia Bonanno, Joan Piantedosi, Joanne Russo, and Joan Samson, executive board.” I tell you I couldn’t make head or tail out of the whole horsey business.

Peace at last! But not for long! The Sophomore Party arrived with a bang. I was there, puzzled as usual. Why the segregation of girls from boys? I figured it must be a school custom.

Oh no, not horse stalls again! Some people never learn! Different names this time: Vennie Carbone, Junior Class president; Richard Mastrangelo, vice-president; Patricia Bourque, secretary; Edward Sahatjian, treasurer; Barbara Bergman, Olga Kean, Rosemary Kelley, Nancy Malatesta, and Joanne Russo, executive board. Please tell me what an “executive board” is. The only “boards” I know are planks of wood! I actually poked one member to see if he’d splinter. Ho-hum! Anyway, these officers buckled down with Mr. John McNealy to plan the year.

Now the group called themselves “Juniors” and chose class rings and selected a photographer. In December, the whole school came to watch the Juniors’ Christmas program. The actors in The Long Christmas Dinner ate air. Was there a food shortage?

That spring a calamity befell me. I flooded my helmet with tears of laughter, watching the hilarious Junior-Senior play, Our Miss Brooks. Believe it or not, its whole theme was taken from that caveman relic — radio.

Returning from convalescence (nervous prostration from the mad whirl of W.H.S.), I had the surprise of my life. The gym had turned into an ocean with fish, sea horses, and beautiful corals. It was the Junior Prom. Maybe they forgot their custom, but the boys and girls sure mixed. It must have been because the girls looked so irresistible in filmy gowns, and the boys so handsome in plaid summerbunds.

Books took a beating and brains really whirred. I was so impressed by the National Honor Induction that I longed for my own good old school days on Mars. That year my Junior Class also helped win football, golf, and cross country championships.

The year flew, but summer went even faster. I was back at my spying station before I knew it. The Jun — pardon me, the Seniors were lords and masters now. But still they doodled in horse stalls. Why, almost the same names: Vennie Carbone was president; Richard Mastrangelo, vice-president; Patricia Bourque, secretary; and Frank Aurelio, treasurer. Another board with some new sticks: Joe Arno, Joan Long, Nancy Malatesta, Cynthia Richard, and Joan Samson. Democracy’s too much work! Wouldn’t it be easier for the students just to obey the teachers?

Annual editors were chosen: David Ames, editor-in-chief; Olga Kean and Alberta Roman, associate editors; Joan Samson, art editor; Anthony DeMarco, photo editor; and Valentine Prest and Robert Rodd, business managers. These serious and unsuspecting seniors saw no more peace that year.

My proteges rushed themselves into a regular dither. Some filled out college applications and took another funny kind of “boards” while others searched for jobs. But neither work nor worry could erase those happy smiles.

The smiles broke into laughter with the Junior-Senior play, I Love Lucy. I was pretty shocked when Ricky, alias Vennie Carbone, chased Lucy, alias Diane Drake, with a broom (and broke the broom!) but nobody else seemed to mind. John Kevorkian and Virginia Bonanno, as Fred and Ethel had me checking my helmet humidity. I don’t know which was better, I Love Lucy, or Babes in Toyland, the spring musical. The “Toyland” music was so moving that my antennas wiggled.

Suddenly it was all over. My friends in the class of ’55 were all grown up. I watched them swing and sway at the Senior Prom, tug-tug at Class Day. Baccalaureate had me weeping, but the Class Banquet was almost as much fun as old times in the cafeteria. The time had come to get my flying saucer out of retirement on the roof. I flew over the last Senior as he received his diploma, and I felt so proud of my graduates that I burst every button on my supersonic flying suit.

Just flew in on a souped-up pogo stick from the planet Flunko. You may not know it, but several of us real live jet cats of the Class of '55 were right in the path of that remote-controlled, oxyhydrogen mistofier barrage — water pistols, you know, most dangerous weapon known to man — or boy. Anyhow, we escaped to planet Flunko on a hopped-up hornet with all the earthly possessions we could carry. They included: a half ton of guided spit balls, twelve feet of 4-D daydreams, and not one pound, not one ounce, but one gram — of Yelland. However, there were a few little trinkets we had to leave behind on the Columbia airstrip in Water . . . that is, H₂O town. We cats figured that the generous thing would be to will said trinkets to the kittens that are coming after us. Here goes:

Article 1. To all underclassmen we bequeath a tomb in yonder grave yard in which to bury the dead pans that greet faculty attempts at humor.

Article 2. To those students in Miss Horrigan's English classes who have trouble breathing properly (and we do mean properly) we leave a carload of respirators.

Article 3. To the office staff we leave an automatic tracker to catch Mr. Blake on the run.

Article 4. To Senor Vacca we bequeath a ton of tea bags and a never diminishing group of ambitious janitors.

Article 5. To Miss Virginia Murphy we leave an adding machine to count up the hours for her mischievous students.

Article 7. To room 102 (the M's, N's, and O's) we leave a good conduct medal.

Article 8. Eva Sartini leaves to the class her best-selling autobiography, "I Led a Shy Life."

Article 11. To all future trackmen we leave electrically heated sweat shirts for those “warm” days in January.

Article 12. To all students we leave a pair of scissors with which to cut classes.

Article 13. We leave the hope that John Kevorkian’s spotless white bucks will be an inspiration to Junior Jack Kingston.

Article 16. The entire class of ‘55 leaves to the spirit of ‘76 (1976, that is) their telephone numbers so that Richard Mastrangelo, candidate for President of the United States, will know that he has at least 300 loyal supporters.

Article 17. To Mr. Blake we leave a great big thank-you for a wonderful three years.

Just got a message by thought wave. The cats up on planet Flunko are finding it hard to take the rafied atmosphere. Their breaths are coming in short pants (not to be confused with Bermudas). I must go back. Where’s my pogo stick? Where’s my pogo stick, I said? Don’t anybody move. Lock the doors. Mr. Blake, get your oxyhydrogen mistofier. We’ll show these earth worms, they can’t do this to . . .

UNDERCLASSES
Fueling up for high-compression living.
We are about to discover the accuracy of a "Magnetic Memory" which is able to tune in the thought waves of students, record them, and, at the proper signal, replay them. Beamed at the class of '56, this machine of the Supersonic Age has been operating for the last two years recording the events encountered by this class. The replay lever has just been thrown!

"These students seem nervous. I believe they are new to this school. Yes, they're Sophomores; but they're adjusting quickly. They have already elected Arthur Burns president, Marcia Chase vice-president, Doris DeMarco secretary, Janet Sarkis treasurer, and Bruce Appleby, Barbara Bonier, Gloria Darakjian, Patricia Mee and Gloria Dhoku as executive committee. The class is now making its social debut at the Sophomore Party! It's so successful that they are going to have another one.

kids that entered here last fall, for now they are confident Juniors! Again they are having elections. This time it's James Kelly, president; James Sohigian, vice-president; Marcia Chase, secretary; Edward Nazaretian, treasurer; Virginia Alexander, Bruce Appleby, Barbara Bonier, Gloria Darakgian and Carmen Orrino, executive committee. Now these officers, aided by Mr. John McNealy, are selecting a college-style class ring.

"At their Christmas Assembly the originality of these Juniors is illuminating the stage with beautiful tableaux accompanied by the Glee Club and Orchestra under Mr. George Chase. Further displaying their talents, the Juniors are acting in the play, I Love Lucy, tooting and marching with the Band down Fifth Avenue, and singing in the colorful Victor Herbert operetta, Babes in Toyland. Finally the long awaited climax — the Junior Prom! What a success!"

A certain Martian visitor may have been astounded when he walked through the long, mysterious corridors of W.H.S. on the first day of school last September. Certainly he was frightened by the myriads of creatures fumbling through the corridors and continually clamoring into the wrong rooms. What were these bubbling, giggling masses? Not, surely, a new type of atomic energy — they looked far too dangerous for that. In a matter of weeks these dervishes began to subside and, lo, the outer space visitor recognized them (much to his relief) as mere humans, though of the lowest social order — Sophomores, as they were termed.

By October 22 the creatures had become almost conventional, so the Martian, having swallowed his fear, stalked into their Sophomore Party. In a matter of minutes he flew from the gymnasium, tripping on the tails of his little suit and breaking all speed limits. Inside, nearly 150 students were again tearing about wildly, their hopping feet a menace to the tiny visitor. Even today the little man lives in constant fear lest he meet Mary Ann Boujicanian and Philip Noel who took first prize in the Mambo Contest — a battle to see which pair could smash his brains out fastest as he scurried between their flying feet.

On November 2, the Martian was preparing to leave our good planet for good, when, on passing the main office, he saw a list posted which read: James Bressi, president; Peter Mercer, vice-president; Jane Harris, secretary; Don Urquhart, treasurer; Sandra Brown, Jerry Orrino, Paul Pessia, Marilyn Weddall and Carol Williams, executive committee. These uplifted officers were elected to lead the class of 1957 on to bigger and better things.

"Perhaps," somebody heard him mumble, as he plodded out the door, "now that they have a little law and order, I shall return."

Presses are rolling and another issue of the Bulletin, our school newspaper, is on its way. During the school year the Bulletin staff produces ten issues, which inform the students and teachers of school activities, clubs, and athletics, and which present different opinions on current world and teenage problems through editorials. Students who have engaged in any unusual activities often find their names in the “Here and There” column.

The purpose of the paper is to encourage journalistic competition, and to train students in newspaper techniques, such as writing “heads” and doing page make-up. Many students don’t realize that all the work required for the Bulletin is done entirely by the staff. The Bulletin is entered along with publications of other schools in competitions sponsored by The Columbia Scholastic Press Association, The Boston Globe, and Quill and Scroll.

Club activities include attendance at Globe parties and conferences. The staff sponsors the popular Holly Hop, a Christmas dance at which tables may be reserved. This year the proceeds from the dance were used to send the editors to New York in April.

Our student government, better known as the Student Council, leads our school to successful achievement. The members, elected one from each homeroom, are advised by Miss Eleanor McCaffery and Mr. Arthur McGrath. The officers this year were: Richard Dronseiko, president; Marilyn Creonte, vice-president; Doris Bell, secretary; and John Williams, treasurer. The council includes a number of committees: Finance, Suggestion Box, Publicity, Cafeteria, Ethics, Constitution, and Assembly.

Activities sponsored by the council this year were the Kouncil Kickoff and the Consolidated Charities Drive. In December, representatives, along with Mr. McGrath, attended a convention of the Eastern Division of the Massachusetts Student Councils at Randolph High School. Vennie Carbone was elected to represent Watertown High on Good Government Day at the State House, and a Student Exchange Committee was selected to make a personal observation of city and town government in action.

The democratic way in which we elect our class officers might not be possible if it were not for the student Election Commissioners under the guidance of Mr. Peter Burke. These are elected — one representative and one alternate from each homeroom.

In preparation for the election, the boys set up the booths, checkers' tables, and the ballot box in the gym. The girls duplicate ballots and get two check lists ready to check off voters. At election time the commissioners line up the voters, check them in and out, and record the votes placed in the ballot box. After the election a group of commissioners prepares tally sheets, while another group stands by to store equipment. After the votes have been counted, the chairman makes out three certified copies of the results. One copy goes to the headmaster; one is posted on the bulletin board outside the main office; and one goes to the advisor of the group holding the election. This is true "democracy in action" in Watertown High School.

The beautiful and clever decorations at many of our school dances are the result of time and effort put in by the Art Club. Also some of the members are responsible for the posters advertising school events, such as dances and plays. Activities of the club include the discussion of interesting and effective art techniques, and the viewing of films. Members work with such mediums as casene, clay, copper, pastels, and water colors.

The club's purpose is to give art students the opportunity to work in mediums in which they would be unable to otherwise. This purpose was carried out this year under the direction of Mr. Harold Moody, faculty advisor; Bill Robinson, president; Olga Kean, vice-president; Audrey Lawson, treasurer; and Joan Samson, secretary.

The purpose of the Assembly Committee is to manage Student Council assemblies for the current year, as well as to select entertainment for the school for the year to come. All three classes are represented on the Assembly Committee. Once elected, a student has the privilege of being a member of the committee until he leaves or graduates. Some pupils who are in the Student Council are also on the Assembly Committee. The faculty advisor is Mrs. Stella Boy, who supervises the planning, scheduling, and presentation of all W.H.S. assemblies.

The student officers this year were: Frank Aurelio, chairman; Richard Mastrangelo, assistant chairman; and Grace Bazarian, secretary. Each Student Council assembly was conducted by Frank Aurelio, with an introduction by a senior member.
Under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Boyle, the Quid Nunc Club does charity work for the community. The members of this group spend their own money to help people who are not as fortunate as they are. This year the students in Quid Nunc filled and sent thirty-five Red Cross boxes to the Red Cross Chapter in Boston. Another project was to make tray favors, which were sent to Boston as Christmas gifts for hospitalized children.

The officers of Quid Nunc were: Joanne Mooney, president; Victoria Ajemian, vice-president; Margaret Guy, treasurer; Edith Cleary, secretary; and Virginia Soia, corresponding secretary. In the spring the organization held its traditional “dressed up” tea for the faculty. The school is proud to have a charitable organization like the all-girl Quid Nunc Club.

The Camera Club was established by Miss Helen Thayer to teach students interested in photography how to take, develop, enlarge, and copy pictures. This club worked hard throughout the year taking pictures of almost every activity. The members of the club took pictures for the Annual and Bulletin; also pictures of clubs, sports, and assemblies. The Junior and Senior Proms would not have been the same without snapshots from the Camera Club!

In addition to these activities, the club had minor contests during the year, an annual spring contest, and an exhibit at the Science Fair. Officers were: Anthony De Marco, president; Fred Schofield, vice-president; Brenda White, secretary; Richard Mastrangelo, treasurer; and Jeanette Latimer, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Music at all the football games was furnished by the W.H.S. Band. During the year the band attended many parades and festivals. They marched in the Veterans' Day and Santa Claus parades. The Band Concert was held March 11, and one week later all players went to New York to march in the St. Patrick's Day Parade. After leaving early on March 16, the Band stayed at the Hotel Shelton until the afternoon of March 18 when they boarded the busses for Watertown. The next important event was the Easter Bunny Parade in Waltham. From April until the end of the year the Band played at various events.

Books, books, books! Books on your left, books on your right. Books everywhere! These are the sign of a library. Students who enjoy working with books and reading and discussing them are enthusiastic members of the Library Club. This year the Library Club attended some foreign movies, visited various libraries including the Watertown Main branch, filed "millions" of cards, and made up book lists for the students' use. During the week, each member spent an hour helping to run the library. They mended books, returned them to the shelves, and helped out at the check-out desk.

The club's main purpose is to serve the entire school under the direction of Mrs. Alice Deery, our librarian. Officers were: Barbara Kane, president; Maria Arpante, vice-president; and Cameron McDonald, secretary-treasurer.

The song in the air floating through the corridors is sure to be a product of the Glee Club. This year's officers were: Virginia Avedisian, president; William Brackett, vice-president; Nancy Malatesta, secretary-librarian; Marcia Chase, treasurer; and Norman Kirk, manager. The club's main 1954-55 production was "Babes in Toyland" by Victor Herbert. This operetta was a great success thanks to the talent and cooperation of members and the able direction of Mr. George Chase. The Glee Club also played an important part in the Christmas assembly.

A group which specializes in the singing of spirituals and hymns is the Special Chorus made up of selected singers from the Glee Club. The chorus has "joia and at various club meetings. Their purpose is to earn enough money to buy these students for the contributions to our mu-

The purpose of the Radio Club is to give to high school students an opportunity to develop their interests in the field of electronics. Among the activities of the organization are the holding of a code class and the teaching of electronic constructions. Although the club has been awarded an amateur radio station license, it hasn't been able to operate the station because of the lack of transmitting equipment.

The Radio Club has placed its station at the disposal of the Watertown Civil Defense, among whose most active members were five boys from the Watertown High club. The officers of this club were: Stephen Buchanan, president; Richard A. Cushman, vice-president; Alfred Maurer, secretary; and John Kelleher, treasurer. The sponsor of the club is Mr. Daniel Sullivan.
Brass and strings and drums, all combined under the skillful direction of Mr. George Chase to give the school a feast of orchestral music this year. At the Christmas Assembly the Orchestra members contributed far more than mere background music as they played traditional carols and other carols that were new to the ear but lovely to hear. On this occasion Mr. Chase led the entire student body in the singing of favorite Christmas songs.

In January the orchestra provided intermission entertainment at the Junior-Senior production, I Love Lucy. February heard our fiddlers and horn blowers accompanying the Glee Club on the WCOP student radio program. In the spring a string clinic, consisting of five string members of the high school orchestra and a few additional members of the junior high school orchestras, took part in the Eastern Music Educators National Conference in Boston. The orchestra’s final outside activity was its participation in a music festival in Beverly.

In mid April the orchestra combined with the Glee Club in its most ambitious undertaking of the year, the light-hearted operetta, Babes in Toyland. In this production seniors Patricia Bourque, William Brackett, Virginia Parent, and Patrick Trani sang and frolicked their way through a fairyland that never existed before, outside a nursery rhyme.

On a mid-June evening the orchestra performed its traditional final rite of the year when it saluted the class of ’55 upon their graduation. Thus all through the year the high spots in the life of the school were set to music by Mr. Chase and his talented performers.

If you should hear a group of students speaking French, you would probably be listening to some members of Le Cercle Français. The club’s purpose is to familiarize students with French culture and customs, and to give practice in speaking French. Through the use of film strips the club helps to acquaint the student body with France and to promote an understanding of her civilization and her people.

Activities of the French Club include buying French records for classroom use and listening to talks by various members of the faculty who have been to Europe and France. Prizes are awarded for outstanding accomplishments in the language. Officers were: Graham Yelland, president; Barbara Bergman, vice-president; Dorothy Landry, secretary; Bruce Appleby, treasurer; and Mrs. Boy, faculty sponsor.

Scholarship, leadership, character and service — these are the ideals for which the National Honor Society stands. Candidates are elected by the faculty with these ideals as the basis for their decision. Only fifteen per cent of the Senior Class, five per cent of whom can be elected during their Junior year, can be inducted into this organization. For this reason, although there is opportunity for everyone to try for membership, competition is stiff.

During the year members could be seen selling Watertown High plastic book covers in the lobby after school. Early in the spring National Honor sponsored an informal dance, the Spring Fling, which was highly successful. The presiding officers were: President, John Dowling; Vice-president, Dorothy Landry; Secretary, Virginia Bonanno; and Treasurer, Stephen Buchanan.

For those students who wish to develop a better understanding and appreciation of the Spanish-speaking peoples and their contribution to world civilization, there is membership in the Spanish Club. This year the club was under the guidance of Mr. Carlp Vacca, faculty sponsor. The efficient leaders were: Joseph Sergi, president; Laura Shaw, vice-president; Philip Sliney, secretary; and Marie Burke, treasurer.

The members visited local museums and restaurants, and attended concerts and operas. Other activities included lectures by the club’s sponsor and by distinguished visitors, demonstrations of regional dances of Spain, the viewing of color films and Kodachrome slides, and group singing of Spanish and Spanish-American folk songs.

One by one, up the aisle to the stage, the new members solemnly walked. It was the beginning of the Cum Laude induction ceremony. Cum Laude, the “Phi Beta Kappa” of secondary schools, was founded in 1906 at the Tome Institute, Maryland. The organization grew quickly, and soon there were chapters in many private schools, such as Exeter, Andover and Browne and Nichols.

In 1921 the Watertown High School chapter of Cum Laude was founded. Watertown was fortunate in having one of the few public schools judged worthy of conferring membership in Cum Laude upon its students. The purpose of this society is to afford recognition to those students in the college course who have excelled in scholastic achievements during their three years of high school.

Story...

Jigs! Gages! Templates! No, they are not jazz terms. Nat “King” Cole probably never heard of them. They have not a thing in the world to do with atomic energy, and you do not eat them either. However, any one of Mr. Philip Garufi’s boys in the Machine Shop Club could tell you all about them. These mechanical wizards could also tell you how to maintain shop equipment and how to make tools. They could give you inside information on heat treating and on complex machine operations. These boys could, in short, speak with authority on things mechanical, because their interests, their abilities, and especially their membership in the Machine Club have helped them to qualify as experts.

Vincent Calleva served as president, and Charles Carreiro as secretary-treasurer.

If you were a girl expert at handling a needle and if you had a mature sympathy for the sick and the homeless, chances are you joined Volunteer Workers. The group was sponsored this year by Miss Anne Cameron as faculty advisor. The members aimed to brighten the lives of unfortunates a little by giving them small hand-made gifts. A favorite project was the making of gay scrapbooks.

As their Christmas and Easter endeavors, members made bibs, Easter baskets, and oil cloth bunnies for the youngsters in the Home for Crippled Children. The most ambitious undertaking was the making of an afghan, which was sent to a hospital. Officers were: Arline Daniels, president; Anne Vitale, vice-president; Patricia Diomandes, secretary; and Patricia Joyal, treasurer. A new organization, the Volunteer Workers have already won the school’s respect.

Since science is the foremost field of study today, the world needs capable scientists. The Science Seminar Society, which is an honor society, aids in the development of future scientists. To be eligible to become a member of this group, a student must be planning a career in science or engineering, or he must have accomplished an unusual project in either of these fields.

The activities of the Society include working on individual and joint projects, reporting on periodicals, listening to guest speakers, entering scientific competitions, and making career plans in science. The organization meets once a week to discuss different plans and projects dear to its interests. Dr. Robert MacCurdy, the club's sponsor, acted as moderator at all meetings. All members entered projects in the Science Fair.

The object of the Woodworking Club is to help students who are interested in carpentry, both as a career and as a hobby, to develop their ideas. The members of this club accomplished many useful projects during the year. They usually built furniture which could be used in their own homes. Some of the household articles that have been made this year, or are in the process of being built, are end tables, mahogany coffee tables, large kitchen cabinets, foot stools, hanging shelves, and corner shelves. With the helpful advice of the club's sponsor, Mr. William Donald, all projects were very successful.

Officers were: Joseph Del Raso, president; Nicholas Tzannos, vice-president; John York, secretary; and Alexander Tambascio, treasurer. Weekly dues of ten cents were collected from each member.

S. S. S. members were: Left to right: R. Keats, P. Venzlowski, C. Ticehurst, J. Aranson, Dr. MacCurdy, R. Nichols, P. O'Connell, R. Cushman, S. Buchanan.

Under the guidance of Mr. Victor Palladino, Hi-Y, which meets bi-weekly on Monday evenings at the Newton YMCA, sponsored the annual Victory Dance, several ping-pong and pool tournaments, and enjoyed films of W.H.S. football games. Also, the club joined Tri-Hi in sending Olga Kean to Paris for the “Y” Conference.

Red, white and blue — exemplifying sacrifice, purity and loyalty — are the colors of Tri-Hi. Advised by Miss Virginia Murphy, the girls, besides sponsoring the annual Winter Carnival Dance, donated money to the World Service Organization and presented a TV set to the House of the Good Samaritan. Officers this year were: Dorrie Landry, president; Barbara Bonier, vice-president; Nancy Malatesta, secretary; Marilyn Creonte, treasurer; and Olga Kean, chaplain.

Students whose hobbies are hunting and fishing flock to the Rod and Gun Club, sponsored by Mr. Joseph Bannon. The club, a member of state and national associations, aims at promoting a better understanding of the outdoors and instruction in the safe use of guns. The officers were: Roland Smith, president; Robert Bartlett, vice-president; Bonnie Kettett, secretary; Phil Ciolfi, treasurer; Sonia Whitehouse, executive officer; Al St. Onge and Ray Oteri, rifle instructors.

Silent deliberation and tricky moves were found each club period as the boys of the Chess Club skilfully outplayed one another in their attempts to get a “checkmate” (I win!) first. Beginners as well as experienced players performed at their best in hope of winning the tournament in the early spring. With the instruction of sponsor, Mr. Alfred Adams, and officers, Edward Sahatjian, president, and Paul Brown, treasurer, all the members enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Watertown High girls who are wise to the ways of the business world are members of the C.B.S. (Commercial, Bookkeeping, Stenographic) Club. This year’s officers were: Merle Chase, president; Joan Seaton, secretary; Barbara Manifiote, treasurer. Miss Elizabeth Desmond was faculty advisor. The purpose of the club is to broaden the members’ knowledge of the business world.

This year the girls visited the Union Market National Bank. The club heard such interesting speakers as Mrs. Cochran from Chandler Secretarial School, two representatives from the Winslow School, and Miss Driscoll from the Harvard Business School. These women spoke on personal charm, the use of the stenotype machine, and on business training. A lively question and answer period followed each talk.

Sponsored by Dr. Robert R. MacCurdy, the Biology Club gives students an opportunity to widen their interests in everyday science and learn interesting facts about biology. The club’s members are students whose scientific interest urges them to further their knowledge. The organization both entertains and informs its members.

Among the numerous activities of the club are field trips, films on biology, guest speakers, and exhibits prepared and demonstrated by its own members. The guest speakers, who are usually college professors, are very happy to speak to such an attentive group. The officers of this fascinating club were: Richard Keats, president; Joel Aronson, vice-president; Paul Venzlowski, treasurer; and Paul O’Connor, secretary.
The Projection Club, sponsored by Mr. Arthur McGrath, has met every Thursday for instructions in the various uses of the wire and tape recorders, public address system, and projectors. Their skills have benefited the school, as the students have increased their capabilities in showing movies and in operating the loud speaker at dances, games, and on various other occasions.

This year, the Projection Club has been credited with the fact that records are now being played in the cafeteria during lunch periods. The officers of this club were Charles Morrison, president; Aristides Poravas, secretary; and David Stark, librarian. More often than not these were the boys we saw manning the “squawk box” in the office! We appreciated all their efforts.

Crepes suzettes? Lobster a la Newburg? Frogs’ legs? Well, no, this is not quite the menu that the members of the Hobby Foods Club prepare each Thursday morning. After all the boys and girls have but one short period in which to work, and these delicacies take time. However, President Anthony Cairo, Vice-president Paul Woodland, Secretary Grace Forlizzi, Treasurer Jack Williams and all the others find plenty of scope for their newly acquired culinary talents.

Muffins, scrambled eggs, cupcakes, pancakes, any kind of cakes — these are among the triumphs that the aspiring chefs and cooks prepare under the helpful guidance of Mrs. Marion Roth, club sponsor. Working in twos and fours, members apply themselves diligently, then eat ravenously!

Watertown hi-schoolers bitten by the acting bug joined Theatre Workshop. During meetings, members presented readings from major plays, both classical and modern. They also produced sketches to increase their own skill and to entertain other club members. One of the most interesting activities this year was attendance at the Massachusetts Drama Festival, a competition between schools from all over the state. Officers were. Nancy Malatesta, president; John Kevorkian, vice-president; Virginia Bonanno, secretary; and Vera Armen, treasurer.

I Love Lucy

Among the activities of the Theatre Workshop is staging the Junior-Senior play. This year, under the able direction of Mr. Paul Hughes, talented members happily presented I Love Lucy, a comedy in three acts. The part of Lucy was splendidly played by our Southern belle, Diane Drake, and the role of Ricky was cleverly handled by our Senior Class president, Vennie Carbone. Virginia Bonanno and John Kevorkian were Lucy's helpmates, Ethel and Fred Mertz. The cast also included talented Workshop members, Betty Burke, Virginia Colacito, Nancy Malatesta, Sonia Nazarian, William Grimes, John Murphy and Michael Yelland.

The play opened as Lucy was fearfully preparing to show her unbalanced household accounts to Ricky. To add to her troubles, the wacky heroine was obliged to teach two teen-age boys the art of dancing in order to free Ricky from a young girl who thought she was in love with him. As a further complication, Ricky, with thoughts of earning a promotion, decided to invite his boss to dinner and a demonstration of efficiency in the home. Hilarious and unexpected situations developed as one predicament led to another. However, all turned out for the best, and Lucy won not only the hearts of her friends, but also those of her audience.

ATHLETICS

Training for the race to Outer Space.

Under its new head coach, Victor Palladino, and led by Co-Captains Walter McKertich and Ted Kelley, Watertown rolled up a record of four wins, two defeats, and three ties in a season which saw the Red Raiders lose only to the eventual Class A and Class B champions, Brookline and Malden Catholic, respectively.

After an upset win over Brockton, the Palladino-men played host to Winchester. Watertown led 14-13 at the half on touchdowns by DeSimone and Basile. Winchester jumped into the lead early in the third quarter, but Abadjian's recovery of a fumble set up DeSimone for the tying score.

Journeying to Newton, the Towners trailed the Orange and Black 13-0 at the half, but Loprete's recovery of a fumble and later interception of a pass paved the way for two touchdowns by Deldon. Loprete passed to Berardino for the tying point, and was chosen Post "Player of the Week" for his efforts in the upset.

Watertown's first loss came at the hands of Malden Catholic by a 12-6 score. Malden scored first on a 70-yard pass play, but their lead was quickly erased by an 80-yard scoring thrust as Taverna passed to Basile for the tally. Watertown failed to score again, and a second Malden score proved to be the difference.

Thanksgiving Day brought cold weather and a muddy field. Tradition and mud proved great equalizers as an underdog but spirited Belmont eleven held the visiting Raiders to a 13-13 tie.

At the close of the season Richard Berardino, Jim DeSimone, Paul Franchi, Ted Kelley, and Bob Loprete were chosen to represent Watertown on the Suburban All-Star squad.

Co-captains Walter Burke and Fred Busconi helped the Watertown High Cross-Country Team break across the finish line as winners this year, capturing both the Class B State Championship and the Divisional Cross-Country Meet, placing second in the League Meet, and tenth in the All-New England Meet. The stalwart Gleasonmen snatched six of their seven dual meets to earn the coveted "B" crown for proud coach Robert Gleason. Coach Gleason says that he has the makings of another championship team in his jayvee men. Varsity top runners such as juniors Sonny Robak, Woody Woodland, and Jimmy Kelley help account for the excellent prospective.

The 1954 season commenced by meeting Belmont and Beverly at a Tri-meet on September 29. Watertown beat traditional rival Belmont, but suffered their first and only defeat to Beverly. A Tri-meet with Haverhill and Melrose proved the superiority of our boys, who led all the way for an overwhelming victory. In the next two meets, the harriers swamped Salem and Arlington. On October 22, the Gleasonmen placed first in the Divisional Race at Brandeis University, winning by nine points over second place Beverly. Sonny Robak set a new course record of 13 minutes and 23 seconds.

Thus our boys, bound by strong team spirit, again led WHS to retention of the Class B title.

Playing earnestly and hard, this year's Soccer Team literally belted the ball through the goal posts to make off with the league championship in Eastern Massachusetts. Defeated in the league competition only by Phillips-Andover and Medford, the W.H.S. soccer eleven truly earned the right to oppose the All-Star Team in Hudson, Massachusetts. This intense and exciting game showed the Malleymen that they could hold their own against tough opposition. The game ended in a tie of 2-2.

Teamwork is the keynote of success in any game. This year's success of the soccer team is attributed to the fact that the boys learned early in the season that each member must understand thoroughly his own particular job and that no player can be a "glory hound" and still be a member of a winning team. The players buckled down right away and worked to polish their precision and form.

Fast passes from outside right to outside left; lightning-like shots into the goal by the quickwitted inside forward players; quick expert dribbling down the field — these made up the snappy routine preached by the patient Coach Joseph Malley. The friendly biology teacher from room 2 was the constantly-firing spark plug who inspired and encouraged the eleven-man team to win the championship for the Red and Black booters.

Fortified by two new recruits from England, Senior Graham and Sophomore Michael Yelland, the champs started the season with a bang by crushing Acton, 8-0. All went well until they met up with the strong Medford team. Because of a slow start, they lost the game with a score of 3-0. The soccerites ended the season with a praiseworthy record of eight wins, two ties, and five losses.

The first team consisted of T. Burns, goalie; H. Holmes, right back; P. Venzlowski, left back; G. Yelland, right half back; W. Robinson, center half back; M. Yelland, left half back; A. Filicchia, outside right; K. Malley, inside right; C. Morrison, center; David Holmes, inside left; and K. McClay, outside left.

While mentioning the first team, we must not forget to congratulate also the second team for going undefeated. We all agree that this year's championship soccer team certainly knocked the cack back into the game of soccer.

The Basketball Team compiled a record of two wins and thirteen losses, but statistics don't tell the whole story, as the efforts of our hoopsters were somewhat hampered by their lack of height. Led by co-captains, Dick Berardino and Nick Deldon, the Red Raiders opened the season with a 70-53 win over Malden Catholic in a non-league contest.

The Sheehan-men opened their Suburban League schedule with a heart-breaking loss to Waltham. The game was nip and tuck all the way. With a tie score and less than 60 seconds left, a Watham forward sank a push shot to give his team the victory over the Red and Black of Watertown.

Watertown came up with another thriller in their home game with Brookline. The Towners scored with less than a minute left, coming within one point of Brookline, and stole the ball when Brookline tried to freeze it. But time ran out before the Red Raiders could score. The final tally was 63-62.

The Red Raiders' second game with Waltham resulted in a new League scoring record. The game followed the same pattern as the first, except that the scoring came twice as fast. The score was tied 79-79 with less than a minute to play when the same Waltham forward, Tom McGovern who had scored the winning basket in the first game, repeated his performance to give Waltham another victory, 81-79.

Watertown defeated Arlington 56-55 in their final League contest. The score was 55-55 when the final buzzer sounded, but Armand Yazejian was fouled just before the end of the game. After missing his first shot, he coolly sank the second to give Watertown a victory.

At the close of the season, the Hoopsters, defending champions, entered the Bay State Tournament, drawing Malden in the first round. The Red Raiders fought to a 66-66 tie in regulation time, only to be defeated in overtime after being weakened by the loss of three men on personal fouls. The game marked the close of the 1955 basketball season.

The Watertown Hockey Squad, under the guidance of Coach Carl Clem, was able to achieve a record of three wins, two ties, and five losses, even though they were hindered by injury. In the pre-season practice the squad lost Dom Russo to a broken ankle. Improving their skill and form, the team practiced twice weekly at the Boston Skating Club.

After losing the season’s opener with Walpole 4-1, with Buddy English tallying for W.H.S., the puck-chasers, in the second game, bounced back to a 4-2 win over B. C. High, with Captain Herb Holmes and Tony Vahey scoring two goals each. In the third game of the season the Red Raiders faltered and fell to a strong Wellesley six, with a score of 4-2, Tony Vahey scoring for Watertown. The next encounter found the Red and Black icemen tying a scrappy Framingham team 1-1 with Ted Kelley scoring unassisted. In the fifth game of the season, Watertown met Waltham for what seemed to be an exciting game of clean, scoreless hockey until Mack Brown tallied in the final minutes to give the Watch City skaters a squeaky 1-0 win.

The fighting six suffered their worst setback of the year when an injury-ridden squad of eleven went down to an 8-2 defeat at the hands of Needham, eventual Bay State League title winner. Lighting the lamp for old W.H.S. were Dick Dronseiko and Herb Holmes.

In the first play-off game, the squad faced Wellesley. Playing their best hockey of the year the boys were able to eke out a 1-0 thriller on a tally by Rookie Sophomore Ed Brackesy. A strong Norwood sextet proved too much for the determined Towners, as Norwood defeated Watertown 4-2. Both Watertown goals were scored by Herb Holmes. In the final game of the year, the W.H.S. bladesmen skated to an exciting 1-0 win over B. C. High, as Kennie MacDonald whizzed the puck past an outmaneuvered Maroon and Gold goalie.

Although the squad will have to absorb the loss of nine seniors, Peter McGrath, David Glavin, Ted Kelley, Raymond Killian, Dom Russo, Kennie MacDonald, Dick Dronseiko, Herb Holmes, and Anthony Vahey, the school can look forward to a winning season as team leadership shifts to a fine nucleus of returning lettermen. These include Charles Dale, Buddy English, Walter Nahabedian, Dick Usseglio, Tom Blake, and Ed Brackesy.
Entering upon what was to prove to be another championship season, the Watertown Track Team boasted an energetic and enthusiastic group of boys representative of all three classes, sophomore, junior, and senior.

New Year’s Day marked the beginning of the Metropolitan league season and our boys got off to a flying start by defeating Cambridge Latin 52-24. "Sonny" Robak won the mile, with Clark Mayo, who placed second, close behind. Paul Woodland and Jim Kelly captured first places in the 1000 and 600 yard runs respectively. Carl Johnson took first place in the shot put and Nick DiNitto second. Jack Robinson grabbed first place in the fifty-yard dash while Mike Yelland leaped to top honors in the high jump. Jim DeSimone, Mike Yelland and Paul Kelly took first, second and third respectively, in the hurdles.

On the following Saturday, January 8, the Gleasonites defeated Somerville High, the Division II Champions of the previous season, by a score of 43-34.

Paul Woodland captured first place in the 1000, Jim Kelly took first in the 600 and Walter Robak won the mile again as he had done the previous week. Nick Deldon romped to victory in the 300 and Mike Yelland tied for first honors in the high jump.

Topping off the season, the boys became Class B champions by winning the State Meet on January 29. First place winners in that meet were Jim Kelly, and Jack Robinson in the 600 and 50 yard runs respectively. Running second were Jim DeSimone, hurdles; "Sonny" Robak, mile; Carl Johnson, shot put. Other placers included Mike Yelland, Nick Deldon, Paul Woodland and Nick DiNitto.

Having won the State Meet, the Gleasonmen went on to capture the Metropolitan Track League Division II championship by downing Belmont and Arlington in dual meets.

Congratulations to all the boys on the team for a terrific job well done and for their wonderful display of good sportsmanship.

Shouts of girls' voices echoed throughout the gym each Friday homeroom period during the football season as the Pep Club, sponsored by Miss Sally Biggane and led by our peppy cheerleaders, practiced the school cheers for Saturday's game.

During these practice periods, excitement would climb higher as class competed against class to see who could shout the loudest. Seniors, juniors, and sophomores alike each won first place many times, but who yelled the loudest the most times? That is a question which has never been answered and never will be because of "varying" opinions.

At every game this season, in spite of bad weather or the distance of the game, the members of the Pep Club were always present, sitting in the bleachers, waving their bright red and white shakers, rooting their team on to victory, swaying from side to side to the beat of the band music, forming a waving sea of color and faces, and throwing up a cloud of confetti whenever we scored a touchdown. Their undying spirit boosted the morale of the team.

Many of the girls in the Pep Club were athletes themselves. As members of the field hockey, basketball, or tennis squads, they had spent long hours in the gym, on the campus or at Victory Field, and they knew what it felt like to be cheered on by their fellow schoolmates. Let's give a cheer for our Pep Club and girl athletes!

This was only one of the new cheers and arrangements which our peppy group of Cheerleaders performed under the direction of their spirited captain, Marilyn Creonte, ably assisted by Co-Captain Joan Samson—all under the supervision of Miss Sally Biggane.

Adding color and zest to every football game this season, these vivacious girls lifted the spirits of all, even in Watertown's blackest moments. Particularly noted and approved were the new princess-style uniforms which the Cheerleaders introduced as a very happy surprise. Besides rooting our team on, this lively crew conducted pre-game pep rallies to arouse school spirit and led the Pep Club at practice sessions every Friday.

Flying batons, swishing skirts and high-stepping strutting—all these heralded the arrival of our Drum Majorettes, led by their captain, Gloria Castano, as they marched down the field at each football game this season. Right behind Gloria came assistants Virginia Colacito and Barbara Murray. All the girls were under the supervision of Miss Sally Biggane.

This year, the girls introduced a touch of ballet to their routine, as they roved gracefully in rhythm to the tunes of Steamheat, White Christmas, and other songs played by the W.H.S. Band.

Besides performing at the games, the Majorettes marched in the Armistice Day Parade, the Santa Claus Parade, the Tenley Albright Welcome, and the Easter Bunny and Memorial Day parades. Highlighting their activities was their participation in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in New York.
"Hurray! Another goal for Watertown!" was a common cry during the girls' field hockey games this year. The Red Raiderettes, under the guidance of Coach Sally Biggane, wended their way through a very successful season of four wins, three ties, and only one loss. Captain Sonya Der Vartanian, capable goalie, agilely maneuvered the clumsy leg and foot guards. Manager Rosemary Kelley could often be seen taking her famous long-legged stride, while enthusiastic guard, Barbara Bergman, intercepted many passes. Jane Norton, whose short blocks and long drives became indispensable; Knarig Kaloosdian, who took a tumble now and then; and persistent Virginia Colacito, on the other side of the field, completed the strong defense line.

Among the forwards, Olga Kean shone with quick pick-ups, fast dribbles, and tricky dodges. Mary De Angelis, always ready to block and intercept, was a strong link in the offensive line. While Anahid Hablanian, in the right wing position made good use of her swift lunges, Assistant Manager and Timer Jean MacKay cheered the team. Looking back on the 1954 field hockey season, the Red Raiderettes are proud of the record they're leaving behind.

Watching tensely Rosemary Kelley's famous jump shot are Marilyn DiFraia, the referee and of course the Concord opponents. Certainly the shot scored!

Basketteers

Dribble! Pass! Shoot! Yea, a basket for Watertown! Shouts filled the gym during many an exciting moment as the Girls' Basketball Team, under the splendid coaching of Miss Sally Biggane and the leadership of Captain Mary De Angelis and manager Jean MacKay, rolled up a season's record of three wins in five games.

High point of the season was the game with Arlington. Rosemary Kelley, highest scorer for the season, displayed her usual top form as she lent valuable assistance to her competent first teammates: forwards Mary De Angelis, Jean MacKay, and Olga Kean, and guards Sonya Der Vartanian, Denise Ryan, and Mary Silverstone. The final score was a close one with Watertown forty and Arlington thirty-five.

The season ended with a bang as Watertown met our next-door neighbor, Newton, for the last game of the year. This time, however, despite the Raiderettes' combined efforts, we went down to defeat by a margin of five points.

Next year's team will be captained by Mary Silverstone and managed by Louise Jucknavorian. We know that these girls will lead another fighting six.

With the passing of the vernal equinox every year, or in plainer English, the coming of spring, one notices a certain restlessness among students. There are other signs too: the first warm days, the first robin, the first flower, and, last but not least, the notices that all baseball candidates will meet with Mr. George Yankowski at two o'clock, that any boy interested in golf should contact Mr. Joseph Malley after school today, that tennis hopefuls (boys) should see Mr. Joseph McDermott and girl "racketeers" should report to Miss Sally Biggane. Spring sports time has arrived.

Now baseball '55 has left us with some pretty pleasant memories. To begin with there were seven returning lettermen: Richard Berardino, Ted Kelley, Bob Loprete, Vennie Carbone, David Walker, Robert Lonergan, and Nick Deldon. Battling along with this solid foundation were many promising underclassmen. This array of talent left most opponents just a little bit sadder after each game.

To a follower of the fairways our golf team with five returning starters — John Kevorkian, John Danielson, Tony Vahey, Thomas Gilligan and James Hurley — looked pretty good right from the beginning. And Arsenal Towners went right on believing in our own "Ben Hogans" and "Sam Sneads" although the boys had to fight through a league better balanced by far than last year's.

On the tennis courts the boys coached by Mr. McDermott had three veterans — Seniors, Captain Ed Sahatjian and Paul Venzlowski, and Junior Herb Applin — back from the '54 team. The Sophomores contributed much to the squad's fine record. As for our girl court stars, ably captained by Senior Barbara Bergman and composed mainly of veterans, the team often wound up in the winners' circle.
