ANNUAL

WATERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL
WATERTOWN MASSACHUSETTS
FOREWORD

Scurrying to classes, cramming for exams, chattering in the locker-rooms, laughing, and sometimes crying, over our mistakes—all were part of our three years at Watertown High School. In the time that passed between our first frustrating attempt to open the obstinate lockers and our last slamming of their clanking doors, we squeezed in studying and socializing, competing and composing.

Endless themes we thought we would never complete, dazzling prom nights we thought would never come, and classes we thought would never end finally passed. We were the “Almighty Seniors”; we were the Graduates!

The Yearbook Staff in this, the thirty-second volume of the Annual, has recorded and mirrored our trials and our triumphs, our big moments and the little, half-forgotten occurrences which together made up our years at Watertown High School.

MEMORIES OF WATERTOWN
In Your Honor

Harold Moody, we the Class of 1958 proudly dedicate this Annual in grateful acknowledgment of your many years of service to our school.

As art teacher, sponsor of the Art Club, adviser to the Annual staff, and decorating supervisor of all dances you have served our school competently and enthusiastically. The success you have achieved in your quiet and modest manner has inspired our confidence and won our affection.

Because you gave of yourself “above and beyond the call of duty” and because you have been a sincere friend as well as a teacher, Mr. Moody, we thank you.
Welcome, Dr. Kelly

As your first senior class, we extend to you, Dr. John J. Kelley, a cordial welcome. In our work together this year, we have found you an able leader, a co-operative adviser, and an understanding friend. Your sincere interest in our welfare and the future of the school has won our confidence. We are sure that, under your capable direction, our school will continue to grow and progress through the years. We, the senior class, wish you the greatest success in the future, and we thank you for helping to make our senior year a fruitful and happy one.

Dr. Kelley plunges into a new job, and a "pile" of paper work, earnestly.

Reading the 1957 Annual, Dr. Kelley and sophomore Judy Gattenby learn about WHS.

American educators have a tremendous responsibility in preparing young men and women to cope with the problems of the adult world in this era of the cold war, automation, mechanical brains, reduction of distance barriers, guided missiles for destruction, and more and better Sputniks.

To be adequately prepared today, the high school graduate must have not only academic knowledge and training but also a strong moral character and right social ideas that are proof against insidious propaganda.

It is our prayer that each member of the Class of 1958 will strive to augment the knowledge and training that we have made available to him. With divine guidance, may each graduate be enabled to live a happy and useful life in these challenging times.

UNDERCLASSES

The Big Compromise of East and West . . . Juniors, the “middle age” . . . Sophomores the “neophites” . . . test tubes, treaties, and translation . . . posters and publicity . . . aptitudes and ambitions . . . Seniors in the making . . . “e pluribus unum.”
Juniors here, Juniors there—Juniors just about everywhere! Working together for the betterment of our school and community, we energetic 59'ers are constantly on the go—and enjoying every minute of a now two-year-old adventure!

Our first important act as members of WHS elections was highly successful. Robert Smith, president; Salvatore Ciccarelli, vice-president; Martha Bortone, secretary; Mary Grandinetti, treasurer; Louisa Madden, Marjorie Manning, Norma Maria, Joseph Sacco, and Robert Skolnick, executive committee; led the "babies" to the auspicious completion of our Sophomore Year.

As summer ended, we, the class of '59 returned to the ivy-covered walls—new teachers to meet, old friends to greet—Juniors! First came our important elections. Experienced voters flooded the now-familiar booths to cast decisive votes, with these results: Salvatore Ciccarelli, president; Joseph MacDonald, vice-president; Martha Bortone, secretary; Mary Grandinetti, treasurer; Steve Assarian, Paul Farmer, Sheila Kelly, Peter Mancini, and Norma Maria, executive committee.
Many tickets for the Junior-Senior Showcase were sold through the efforts of these Junior Class Officers.

In October our Ring Committee, supervised by Mr. McNealy, was selected. Homeroom representatives elected Joseph MacDonald chairman. Which ring shall it be? After much contemplation we chose “our” ring, one with the unusual design of a circle set in an oblong.

Busy, industrious Juniors were witnessed on every scene—capably producing an impressive Christmas assembly, displaying budding talent in the Junior-Senior Showcase, excelling in sports, creating rhythms through band and orchestra.

As our exhilarating year rounded springtime’s corner, all thoughts concentrated on themes and decorations for our big night—the Prom. April eleventh found sparkling twosomes whirling to the completion of our highly successful Junior year.

Junior Class Officers were: SEATED: M. Bortone, J. MacDonald, Mr. McNealy (Advisor), S. Ciccarelli, M. Grandinetti. STANDING: S. Kelly, S. Assarian, P. Farmer, P. Mancini, N. Maria.
Plebes...

On September 11, 1957, WHS was blessed by the arrival of 356 additions to its student body, former sophisticates of the East and the West. Like little "tots" we at first had to stumble to find our way through endless corridors. But we "Sophs" were quick to learn; we soon found that we were the last to eat and the last to leave the auditorium. However, we took all of this in our stride.

On December 18, after a vigorous campaign, we went to the polls to elect officers. Because of the large number of candidates, two runoffs were necessary to decide the winners. Chosen were: Richard Ames, president; James Scalese, vice-president; Barbara Trombino, secretary; Donald Weeden, treasurer; Arlene Antonellis, Barbara DeFilippis, Norman Hoffman, Evelyn McNeil, and John Vartanian, executive committee.

After elections, nothing could restrain us. Helped along by upperclassmen, we began taking an active part in school affairs, participating in Student Council, giving all for the school teams, and displaying theatrical talents in, of all places, the Junior-Senior Showcase.

In March we, the Class of 1960, held our own special event of the season—the Sophomore Party. Later we conducted the Memorial Day Assembly, guided by our advisor, Miss Edith Jacobs.

We have successfully taken our initial steps. And we now move into our Junior year, much closer to responding to those long-awaited words from Headmaster Kelley, "Seniors first!"

Sophomore records get started on the road to confusion as the class officers receive the first class dues.

Practicing Democracy...

The Kouncil Kickoff in October, the United Charity Drive in November, and the sports banquets in January and May were only a few of the activities sponsored by our Student Council this year. The members, one elected from each homeroom, were under the leadership of advisor Miss Eleanor McCaffery and officers Dominic Antonellis, president; William Creonte, vice-president; Ann Gerondeau, corresponding secretary; Joan Forte, recording secretary; and Robert Lynch, treasurer.

Members of the Council attended three conventions during the year; five pupils participated in the Student Government Exchange: William Creonte was chosen representative for the “Classmates Today—Neighbors Tomorrow” program during Brotherhood Week, and Ronald Young represented Watertown High on Good Government Day at the State House.

This year the newly-formed Athletic Banquet Committee of the Student Council held two banquets. The January banquet was attended by all participants of the fall sports and by members of the Band, Cheerleaders, and Drum Majorettes. The May banquet was attended by all participants of winter and spring sports.

Presiding over the Committee was Student Council President Dominic Antonellis.

These catered dinners afforded an opportune time for letters to be given to all team members and for trophies to be presented to outstanding athletes by our coaches and by representatives of other organizations.

Democracy in action is demonstrated by the work of the Election Commission, under the guidance of Mr. Peter Burke. To make up the organization, each homeroom elects a commissioner and an alternate, both of whom sacrifice any opportunity of holding class office.

The commissioners’ duties include setting up the voting booklets and the checkers’ table, and preparing the tally sheets. Three certified copies of the results of each election are given out—one to the headmaster, one posted on the bulletin board outside the Main Office, and one to the advisor of the group holding the election.

As colorful scenes of different ways of life in many Spanish countries flashed across the screen in Sala 213, Senora DeAvilla explained the customs of our Spanish amigos to fascinated members of La Tertula de Espana. By watching filmstrips and by listening to vigorous sambas and cha-cha-chas, and by celebrating important Spanish holidays these WHS espanoles furthered their knowledge of the Latin-American and Spanish civilization.

Officers of the Spanish Club this year were: Richard Bartley, President; Vincent Barba, Vice-President; Nadia Karnikyan, Secretary; Martha Elms, Treasurer.

Under the direction of Miss Patricia Fallon, benevolent members of the Volunteer Workers Club undertook such projects as the filling of Christmas stockings, the creating of three-dimensional Valentine cards, and the making of colorful Easter baskets. At Christmas time, combining their creative abilities, they expertly made seasonal novelties and small toys which they gave to the Walter J. Fernald School for mentally retarded children.

The officers of the Volunteer Workers Club under the president, Maureen Fitzgerald were: Bernadette McGaffigan, vice-president; Lorraine Henderson, secretary; Ellen MacDonald, treasurer.

And Caring......

“La seance est maintenant ouverte” are the words with which the president of Le Circle Francais, Joyce Mugrditchian, opened each meeting. The other officers were Lucy Samuelian, vice-president; Ann Fairbairn, treasurer; Diana Venzlowski, secretary; and the Executive Committee consisting of Christine Chevoor, Rose Marie Topjian Terry McGarry, Elayne Vlachos, and Sandra Kazanjian.

The purpose of the French Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Stella Boy, is to further student knowledge of French customs and traditions. Le Circle Francais certainly contributes to the culture of Watertown High School.

The Math Club, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Adams, this year, as in previous years, proved itself one of the most interesting clubs in the school. During the meetings, members learned how to use the slide rule; how to analyze difficult problems; how to prove, and disprove, that two equals one; and also received the fundamentals of higher forms of mathematics. Although the Math Club did not have any activities outside club period, all members agreed that they completely enjoyed being members of this educational organization.

Math Club members were, SEATED: S. Adrian, C. Helms. STANDING: P. Barrett, B. Ainsworth, J. Howley, Mr. Adams, I. Kamishlian, J. George.

Future Rembrandts? Possibly! The twenty-six members of the Art Club dabbled in the realms of art under the supervision of Mr. Harold Moody. The members worked with copper-tooling, plasteline, linoleum block carving, and ceramics. With imagination and perseverance several members made pins, earrings, and cuff-links with the copper enameling kit. Members were also encouraged to experiment with difficult media, such as casein, oils, water colors and pastels. Art Club members were indispensable to every dance at WHS—advertising the dances with ingenious, colorful, silk-screen posters. Invading the gymnasium, after weeks of planning, armed with scissors, tape, and crepe paper, they transformed the gym into a wonderland. Happy dance-goers marveled at the artistic genius of the decorators. In addition to dances, the members helped with assemblies, plays and other school projects. The illustrations in the Annual were products of the originality of club members. During the year helpful hints and instructions in the use of various media and techniques were relayed to the members by short movies. Officers of the Art Club under president Richard Lyons, were: Betty Pass, vice-president; Irene Papazian, secretary; Robert Skolnick, treasurer.
The delectable odors that floated out of the Cooking Room every Thursday morning made even the heartiest breakfast-eater feel hunger pangs. For forty minutes, Hobby Foods Club members, the male and female gourmets of WHS, made and tasted the most “scrumptious” edibles. Under the supervision of Mrs. Marion Roth, the club sponsor, future chefs produced everything from crisp cookies to mouth-watering shish kebab.

The highlight of the period was the tasting of the tempting finished products. At that time the members eagerly began to put their inflated gustatory glands to work, and we do mean work!

Officers under President Dominic Manzelli were: Roy Dyer, vice-president; Patricia Malkasian, secretary; Judith Marsh and James Natalie, Co-treasurers.

Miss Elizabeth Desmond sponsors the C.B.S. Club, which is made up of students from the Commercial, Business and Stenographic courses. The purpose of the club, which completed its 17th year at WHS, is to prepare its members for the business world.

To further this end, the club visited the Hood Rubber offices to see their office machinery and to observe the personnel at their jobs.

The group had visitors from Fisher Junior College, Burdett College, and the Modern School of Fashion and Design discuss manner and dress with the girls.

The Club held its annual Christmas party, and it planned a dinner in June to round out the year.

Officers were: Anne Maurer, president; Eunice von Schoppe, vice-president; Antoinette Leone, secretary; Frances DiDonato, treasurer.

One of the most select and interesting groups at Watertown High School was the Machine Club. Under the direction of Mr. Philip Garufi, five industrious boys met weekly to learn more about the mechanical trade through machine repair and tool making. Because of the small number in the Machine Club, the boys were able to use the machines in individual projects. By repairing many of the machines in the school's Machine Shop by themselves, the boys found not only an interesting project but a useful one. Officers were: President, Fred Glover, and Secretary-Treasurer, Fred Pendleton.

Under the direction of Mr. Francis Sollito, the Radio Club went full steam ahead this year. It acquired a new receiver through which the club members intercepted the messages sent by the outside world. During the first part of the year the members busily repaired radios and phonographs. Later, the club regained its amateur radio station license, WIBLT. Now once more people of far away places, at home and abroad, hear the "CQ" of WHS.

This year the club was led by its president, Peter Lynch; vice-president, David Murray; secretary, Thomas Murray; and treasurer John Miskell.
In a Sputnik-minded age, the Science Seminar Society, sponsored by Mr. Patrick Walsh, renewed with vigor its interest in current scientific problems and achievements. The club members are serious students of science who are admitted only by invitation of the organization. They are concerned with scientific discussions and individual projects in any phase of science. In their discussions the group kept pace with progress in biology, botany, anthropology, astronomy, physics and other fields of science. The high point of the year for the members was the Science Fair in March, in which they displayed many of their projects before the entire school.

The Woodworking Club trains boys who are interested in carpentry in the use of numerous hand and machine tools and encourages these boys to develop their own ideas. All projects are of a useful nature. The club members have made small tables, magazine racks, shelves, small cabinets, lamps and other household articles. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. William Donald, the members enjoy learning woodworking techniques that are both interesting and practical.

The officers of the club were Alan Forbes, president; Fred Politano, vice-president; Vincent Testa, treasurer; Peter Mancini, secretary.
This year, as usual, the Band was the first of Watertown High's music groups to be reorganized in the fall. Many interested sophomores tried out to fill the places vacated by musicians who had graduated. After three weeks of strenuous rehearsing, the band was ready for its customary appearances at football games and rallies.

After the football season, the band settled down to learning the more complex music of a concert band. It was enthusiastically received when it performed on the occasion of the Junior-Senior plays on February 7th.

Highlight of the year's activities was the exchange concert with Fitchburg High. On April 18th and 19th, the members of Watertown's band traveled to Fitchburg, and on May 9th and 10th Watertown was host to Fitchburg for the second half of their joint concert program.

The band made its traditional public appearance in Watertown this year, marching in the annual Memorial Day Parade.

Under the direction and leadership of Mr. Peter Siragusa, the band had a very successful and rewarding year. The student officers were George Ross, president; Robert Johnson, vice-president; Linda Dale, secretary; Louis Setti, treasurer; and Edythe Scott, historian.
Under the direction of Mr. Richard Hagopian, the Orchestra had a very successful year. At rehearsals twice each week, fifty-five enthusiastic members gathered to interpret various kinds of music. Officers chosen for the year were Robert Johnson, president; Philip Stanton, vice-president; Martha Elms, secretary; and Dorothy Nyvssonen, treasurer.

The Orchestra played at many school affairs, including the Christmas Assembly; concerts at the grammar schools in Watertown; the annual Christmas Pageant sponsored by the Watertown Recreation Department, where it played “White Christmas” and a special Christmas Overture, “Three Songs for Christmas”; and the Junior-Senior play.

Each year students from Watertown High School are chosen to participate in the All-State Orchestra. At this year’s festival, held in Springfield in March, WHS was represented by Patrick Fairbairn, a talented violinist; Armenne Kechchian, a cellist, who was chosen for the second time; and William Haroutounian, who attained the highest honor, that of acting as concert-master of the Orchestra.

For the first time the orchestra participated in an exchange concert with Fitchburg Senior High on April 19. Highlighting the concert were Leroy Anderson’s “Syncopated Clock” and a selection based on Cole Porter’s “Can-Can.” In May, the Fitchburg High Orchestra was received in Watertown, and a similar concert was given in conjunction with the WHS Band and Chorus.

On May 3 the Orchestra traveled to Winchester to take part in the annual Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival.

The final memorable performance of the Orchestra was at the Graduation Exercises.
The Special Chorus, led by Mr. Richard Hagopian, elected James Luck, president; Carol O'Brien, vice-president; Linda Dale, secretary; and Stephen Burns, treasurer.

A versatile group, the Chorus sang at the Elks' memorial service, gave four Christmas concerts at the Junior Highs, and sang in the Christmas Pageant.

On December 24, a selected section of the Chorus appeared on the Ray Dorey T-V show; they sang a group of selected Christmas carols.

The Chorus also participated in the exchange with Fitchburg High, and in the Music Festival. The WHS Junior-Senior Glee Club, a workshop for those who enjoy choral singing, is made up of one hundred forty voices. Directed by Mr. Hagopian, the members meet once every two weeks. The officers of the club were James Gleeson, president; Paul Farmer, vice-president; Joan Scott, secretary; Leslie Rhodes, treasurer. The Executive Committee included: Gail MacDonald, Elayne MacGregor, Mary Lou Vail, Linda Dale and Edythe Scott.

The Boys' Chorus, twenty male voices directed by Mr. Hagopian, was organized this year with the purpose of singing varied numbers for its many public appearances. The chorus sang at the Christmas Assembly and at the unique Christmas gathering sponsored by the Watertown Women's Garden Club. Later the group turned to singing barbershop-quartet music and Negro spirituals. A small group, the Boys' chorus proved easy to train; it performed excellently.

The group of library assistants, who greet their fellow students and members of the faculty with a cheery smile from behind the circulation desk, are known as the Library Aides. This service organization is a definite asset to our school library. Under the direction of our school librarian, Mrs. Alice Deery, the aides help by filing books on the shelves, managing attendance records, and setting up displays. Although this is not primarily a club, the group did meet during the school year for purposes of instruction.

The Camera Club, the oldest club active at WHS, enjoyed another successful year under the direction of Miss Helen A. Thayer. The twenty-three members learned both the fundamentals of photography and the more advanced arts of print and negative control. As in past years, the Camera Club displayed the members' work in its yearly contest. Members also took club, sports, dance, Bulletin, and some Annual pictures.

Officers were: Paul Bourque and Daniel Pond, co-presidents; Brian Villa, treasurer; Nancy Day, secretary.

Cheerful Service

Under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Boyle, the Quid Nunc Club carried on its activities in the fine tradition of past years. In addition to filling Red Cross boxes that were sent overseas at Christmas time, the girls made scrap books and tray favors for a near-by veterans' hospital. The club's activities were climaxed by the annual faculty tea.

This year's officers were Gale Lynch, president; Carol O'Brien, vice-president; Betsy O'Connell, recording secretary; Joan Leslie, corresponding secretary; and Leslie Rhodes, treasurer.

"A picture is worth ten thousand words." The members of the Projection Club, under the supervision of Mr. Joseph Bannon, learned how to operate and maintain movie projectors, microphones, and wire and tape recorders. In addition to working at assemblies, the Club gave freely of its time in several other activities. The P.A. system, tape recordings, phonograph, loud speakers, spotlights and projectors are all under the able management of this club.

The officers included Mark Freeh, president; David Morrison, vice-president; William Foster, secretary; Philip De Angelo, treasurer.

“Body building and co-ordination” is the motto that brawny, steel-muscled males enthusiastically quote when they are asked the reason for their unique Weightlifting Club here at Watertown High School. This club also provides an opportunity for football and baseball players to keep in shape during their off-seasons.

Under the direction of Coach James Sheehan, faculty advisor, and President Frank Arricale, these aspiring “Tarzans” gripped, lifted, and heaved formidable looking bars and weights. As its particular brand of physical culture has a wide appeal, this comparatively new club has become a permanent fixture at WHS.

Once again this year, the Chess Club resumed its activities under the able direction of Mr. Edward Craig. The main function of the club is to provide a workshop for all students, both experts and novices, interested in the game of Chess, which requires a keen mind and quick, clear thinking. Ten of the most adept players make up the Chess Team which has a regular schedule of matches with clubs from other schools.

Officers of the club were: Mark Malkasian, president; Frank Mancuso, vice-president; Edward Haggerty, secretary; Edward Fitzpatrick, secretary.
The WHS Biology Club, which is sponsored by Mr. Patrick Walsh, is well-known in the Bay State for its state-wide activities. It was an active participant in the recent conventions of the “Science Clubs of Eastern Massachusetts” (SCOEM).

To the enthusiastic biology student, the club offers an opportunity to do further research and study of living organisms. During the year, these amateur biologists gave a series of talks and demonstrations during club period on “Kangaroo Rats,” “Guinea Pigs,” and other interesting subjects; they performed experiments in microbiology, nutrition, and genetics, and they even dissected a cat. The club went on field trips to the Boston College and Boston University laboratories. Many members entered projects in the club-sponsored Science Fair.

Officers of the Biology Club were: Philip Stanton, president; Wayne Johnson, vice-president; Mary Ann Bloomer, secretary; Carol Kapp, treasurer.
Chartered by the National Rifle Association in 1952, the Rod and Gun Club offers its members expert training in marksmanship. Under strict safety regulations imposed by instructor, Al St. Onge, the organization acquaints its members with the correct and safe use of firearms.

The ten top shooters constitute the first rifle team, which competes in the Minute Man Scholastic League, composed of eight teams: Watertown, Wal- tham, Winchester, Concord, Marlboro, Malden, Melrose, and Acton. Matches were fired from January through March. In March an elimination was held among the four top teams to determine the league championship. In addition to the first team at WHS, there is a second team, a girls’ team, and a casting team.

Led by Dean Thompson, president; John Karchenes, vice-president; Betty Fitzgerald, secretary; Ann Dulligan, treasurer; Sandra Short, executive officer; and Miss Ruth McCarthy, sponsor; the club also participated in other activities such as turkey-shoots, outings, and educational movies.

Under the supervision of Miss Virginia Murphy, the Tri-Hi again this year, as in previous years contributed its services to the school and to the community. With the objective of raising money to provide a scholarship for some worthy senior, the organization engaged in many fund-raising projects. Every Wednesday afternoon two girls paid a visit to the Sablean Nursing Home in Waltham to lend a hand and to add a little cheer to the lives of the aged folks there.

Officers were: Alice Herlihy, president; Ann Gerondeau, vice-president; Nancy Day, secretary; Gale Lynch, treasurer; Roberta Malatesta, chaplain.

The WHS Hi-Y, which meets one evening each week at the Newton Y.M.C.A., is directed by Mr. Donald Costello. Essentially a service organization, the members raised funds by various means, such as sponsoring the “Victory Dance”, to provide help for any needy cause including the furnishing of a sizable scholarship to some deserving senior. The award winner is selected because of his high character, scholastic record, and extra-curricular participation.

Officers this year were: Dominic Antonellis, president; Salvatore Ciccarelli, vice-president; Charles Smith, secretary; Domenic Manzelli, treasurer; Ronald Testa, chaplain.
Headlining Activities...

Eye-catching headlines, thought-provoking editorials, interest-stirring pictures—all these, plus a host of other items, provide abundant enjoyment for readers of WHS's newspaper, "The Bulletin."

Under the supervision of its new faculty advisor, Mr. Thomas A. Roach, the Bulletin staff harvests and perfects for publication any worth-while news item, original writings, or “tidbits” the students may have to offer.

Besides developing valuable techniques necessary for effective journalism, Bulletin staff members found time to sponsor WHS's popular Christmas dance, the “Holly Hop,” and to meet such celebrities as actress Susan Strasberg and scientist Dr. J. Allen Hynek, head of the International Geophysical Year Earth Satellite Optical-tracking programs, at the Boston Globe’s Press Conferences for High School editors. The Bulletin editors also exchanged issues with many other high school newspapers.

In addition to its business assistant Miss Mary B. Moran, business manager Diana Venzlowksi, photographer Paul Bourque, writers and typists, the Bulletin staff includes the editors: News, Terry McGarry; Editorials, Sandra Short; Features, Christine Chevoor and Joyce Mugrditchian; Sports, George Ross; Copy, Marjorie Milano and Antoinette Miller.

Soft Lights And Spot-lites

Newest of music groups at WHS is the Dance Band. Sponsored by Mr. Richard Hagopian, the band, consisting of about twenty musicians, played not only traditional dance music known by everyone, but also new music, some of which was on the current best-selling lists. The group made its first public appearance on the first night of the Junior-Senior play.

For aspiring thespians, WHS provides an excellent club, the Theater Workshop, sponsored by Mr. Paul Hughes. Members discuss interesting facets of the theater, and perform short sketches during club period.

Officers were: Judith Glazer, president; James Luck, vice-president; Roberta Malatesta, secretary; Janice Burns, treasurer.

"Oh! Oh! I'm literally covered with ants," groans Robert (Jim Gleeson) as other members of the cast look on with great mirth.

CIRCLE: "Lookee, over there! It's a baby cow!" Blossom (Connie Cragin) points out the unusual aspects of the landscape to her fellow picnickers.

"Antic Spring," by Robert Nail, was a hilarious episode with a plot centered around a country picnic attended by six teenagers, put to the trials and tribulations of that eventful day. The entire act was done in pantomime without props or scenery. The cast included the combined talents of Edythe Scott, James Gleeson, Connie Cragin, Richard Falt, Wendy McDonald and Ronald Young.

"Enter the Hero" by Theresa Helburn highlighted the efforts of a girl to invent a suitor for herself and the eventual discovery of that pardonable deceit. This comedy had the added attraction of a few musical numbers. Marjorie Manning portrayed the part of the girl with the overworked imagination. James Howley played the part of her hero in a most professional manner. The cast also included Zenda Monseratte, Tanya Agopian and Emily Carmichael.

"Affection is expressed in many ways." Ring-giving Sam (Ron Young), poet laureate Robert, and crazy man Elbert (Richard Falt) all try their own approaches.
"It's a lovely day today!" Anne (Marjorie Manning) expresses her feelings in song to Ruth (Zenda Monseratte) and Liza (Tanya Agopian).

James Luck, narrator of the plays, looks on with interest as three old London charwomen chat over a cup of tea.

Talented Thespians

"The Old Lady Shows Her Medals" by James Barrie, interwove comedy with pathos producing a drama about Britishers during the First World War. The plot depicted a childless woman, played by Martha Bortone, who longed for a son of her own. Shirley Jordan, Victoria Nazarian, and Penny Serrem portrayed three dowdy London charwomen; Roger Austin, the agreeable curate; and Patrick Fairbairn, a burly Scottish private in the Black Watch Regiment.

FEATURES

"Togetherness"... Senior series... the "grand slam" year... bucks and books... tops on the team... enter the Sophs, exit the Senior... college campus coming up... Senior leftovers... plebes to promenading... first bewilderment to final baccalaureate... Seniors signing off.
June 11, 1958! The last game of the series! We, the Senior Class, enthusiastic teammates, are eagerly awaiting our final victory. As we don our uniforms, flowing gowns and tasseled caps, we nostalgically recall all the other important games that we have played—those games of “Togetherness”.

Even from the very first day, three short years ago, we were a well-balanced team. Although the game, the field, and our teammates were all new to us, we were off to a flying start. The first view of our stadium, Watertown High School, completely overwhelmed us. But although we were rookies, we weren’t fooled long by those “fantabulous” fables of elevators and escalators that were told to us by the elite upperclassmen! After a few weeks of “fall training” in working together, learning together, and playing together, we were ready for our first major contest, the election of our Sophomore Officers. Oh, the tension of that election week—the wrists cramped from signing so many nomination papers, the corridor walls cluttered with publicity posters, and the auditorium filled with booming campaign promises. After the ballots were filled with those carefully marked X’s (no check marks allowed! Remember?) our team found that it had chosen capable captains, namely: John Kilcoyne, president; Ronald Young, vice-president; Roberta Malatesta, secretary; Gordon McClay, treasurer; and Frank Mancuso, Judith Marsh, Terry McGarry, Ronald Ohanian, and Brenda Smith, executive committee. Heartened by our first success, we enthusiastically faced our next challenge, the Sophomore Party. What a wonderful time we had dancing to the “pop” records spun by disc-jockey, Stan Richards. After the “ball” was over we continued to improve our game of “Togetherness”. Throughout the winter season straight into spring we were on a long winning streak! Finally in May we were ready for one of our most rewarding endeavors, the Memorial Day Assembly. How earnestly we “warmed up” for that all important game. Our sophomore officers, chorus, and teammates combined their talents and efforts to score a triumphant climax to a successful season. We were no longer rookies! As seasoned players we had earned the privilege to be called Juniors. (Well, it seemed like a privilege then!)

Earnest, eager, and enthusiastic, we returned to our “home base” the next September for another memorable series. First on our list of important games was the election of our Junior Officers: John Kilcoyne, president; Ronald Young, vice-president; Janice Burns, secretary; Gordon McClay, treasurer; Harry Chebookjian, Richard Conti, Judith Marsh, Frank Daniels, and Charles Smith, executive committee. With such leaders in our experienced team, we were batting 1.000 from the very first! In October we selected artistic representatives of our group to decide upon our team emblem, our attractive class ring. Those rings must have been good luck charms, for our next venture, the Christmas Assembly, was another decisive victory. Filled with the Christmas spirit, we worked together to present an inspiring program. Then, having grown accustomed to the stage, our team launched one of our most unusual "plays" (the Junior-Senior one, of course!) Deadwood Dick, a rollicking melodrama, revealed many of our talented Junior thespians. Still jubilant from our success, we stayed in our little theatrical world to present our "Wonderful Town." How we delighted in chorusing together those memorable melodies. Whirling from the stage into a dreamland of blue and white, we found ourselves at our Junior Prom. Together we danced away our Junior year.

As elite seniors, we returned to our "stadium" for our most memorable series, our Senior year. Our traditional opening game, the election of our class officers, provided for us another capable group of captains: John Kilcoyne, president; Ronald Young, vice-president; Carol Caporiccio, secretary; Gordon McClay, treasurer; Charles Smith, Anthony Pastore, Frank Arricale, Mary Fulton, Richard Lyons, executive committee. Playing perfect ball from the very first, we "veterans" were not overwhelmed by our next game, the Veterans' Day Assembly. Our professional performance proved our prowess at our game—"Togetherness." We were sportsmen of the first class (ditto first lunch!) The first few months of our season whizzed by, and soon we waltzed with winter joviality through our last Holly Hop. With our bases loaded with talent, we presented our Junior-Senior Showcase. This proved to be a triple dramatic success—on first base the light teenage comedy, Antic Spring, on second base the comic pathos of The Old Lady Shows Her Medals, and on third the tale of teenage daydreams, Enter The Hero. Still in grease paint we were ready for our hilarious individual performances on Freak Day. Our final season came to a climax with a series of champion games: class competition complete on Class Day, and a final festive feast at our Senior Banquet. One last whirl at our Senior Prom! This "ball" carried us above the stands into the blue sky of the adult world. Our heads bowed, we sought guidance from our Supreme Captain at our Baccalaureate. Then the last game of "Togetherness," graduation! Leaving the "field" as champions with our trophies, our well-deserved diplomas, we faced a greater league, the "wide, wide world"—but this time not together. No matter what victories we win in the future, our team, the Class of 1958, knows that no game will ever mean so much as our games of "Togetherness."

Be it remembered that we, the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-eight of Watertown High School, in the town of Watertown in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of questionably sound mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life, do make this, our last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all claims for class dues and graduation charges and bequeathing as follows:

Always for the Red Raider Cause... fighting and hustling for old WHS... hysterically cheering in victory... resolute in defeat... fiercely competitive... sportsmanship-plus... equal to triumph and disaster... lessons learned for the battles of life... fond memories for the years to come.
For Watertown football fans 1957 was a year of colorful, interesting games and discouraging luck. The gallant, well coached Red Raider eleven surely was one of the more spirited and talented clubs in recent Watertown annals, but the combination of new Class A schedule and overwhelming bad luck prevented the team from ripping off a better won-lost record.

One of the most important factors in the fighting makeup of this “Big Red” team was the tremendous, stalwart play of the huge senior linemen. At the tackles, co-captains Dom Antonelli and Ron Testa held the line with bulldog tenacity. In the guard slots, Nick Ortolino and Rich Mancini were outstanding. On the ends, Jack Kilcoyne and Charlie Smith left nothing to be desired. The play of center Frank Arricale inspired the team to greater heights.

In the backfield, the senior swifts were Sal Yerardi at quarterback, Joe Basile at halfback, and Bill “Toe” Tragakis at fullback.

Class B Champs

The combination of a few experienced seniors and juniors, an influx of talented sophomores and the expert leadership of Coach Robert Gleason made the 1957 "Harriers" champions again. The "Harriers" swept all of their five dual meets, won their divisional crown, placed third in the Middlesex league, captured the coveted state Class B title and placed sixth in the New England meet, ahead of all the other Massachusetts teams entered.

Senior Jimmy Howley accomplished the unprecedented feat of finishing first in all of the five dual meets. Howley also broke the Belmont and Newton course records while compiling this amazing streak. Senior Ron Young, another team mainstay, gave his all for the team by finishing behind Howley consistently in either second or third place. Seniors Dick Bartley and Dave Noonan also performed well throughout the season to pick up points for the team quite often. Junior Vin Riccio and sophomores Bob Walker, Dan Igoe, Kip Kennett, Fred Carnell, and Ralph Borghetti contributed greatly to the team's record by finishing regularly in the first ten in dual competition.

In the state meet at Franklin Park the team, while winning its fifth straight state title, showed that its success was the result of a group effort by sweeping the field in spite of the absence of Number One Man, Jim Howley. Ron Young, the first Watertown runner across the line, finished third followed by Vin Riccio in fourth and Dick Bartley in seventh.

At the New England meet in Saxton River, Vermont, the team finished sixth in a field of eighteen. Jim Howley, the first “Towner” to finish, came in nineteenth.

A Resounding Boot...

Soccer 1957 was a story of improvement. Starting with a team that had played very little together, Coach Joe Malley molded a well-balanced, powerful outfit. Their season’s record of three wins, six losses and two ties does not do justice to the fact that this team did not give up when faced with discouraging losses but came on hard at the season’s end.

One of the main factors in the team’s steady improvement was the outstanding leadership and play-making of the seniors. Captain Gordon McClay led the team’s scoring with nine goals. But Gordy was even more notable for his fine competitive spirit.

Mario Magno (six goals) and Gus Pallotta (two goals) helped the team considerably by their aggressive play and scoring finesse, Joe Abreu and Sal Boccadoro, two more senior stars, also played magnificently, helping with many assists and staunch defensive work. Dave Harris, senior goal­tender, did a tremendous job between the posts for the team. Harris was the picture of grace as he lifted his massive frame to stop screaming shots hot off the foot of ambitious opponents.

A great deal of credit is due to Coach Malley, whose able leadership and knowledge guided the team through the season.

If success is measured in teamwork, good sports­manship and improvement, the 1957 edition of the soccer team rates with the best.

A Driving Layup...

...Basket!!

In a year of rebuilding, WHS hoopsters, despite their fighting, hustling play, went winless in league competition. Never conceding defeat, the team suffered from an absence of luck in compiling a hapless 0-15 record. Under the able coaching of Mr. Sheehan the team improved until the end of the season.

The team's leading scorers were center Dave Harris and guard Gordy McClay. Harris, who rebounded in a professional manner, scored in double figures in almost every game. McClay, whose deadly set shots struck fear into opponents, also dropped in many important points each game. Other seniors who contributed to the team's efforts were Jim McCarthy, Frank Daniels, Tony Pastore, Steve Burns, Fred Glover, and Louis Biasi.

Fighting tenaciously from the beginning of every game, the team made every contest a joy for the spectator to watch. A lack of bench strength made last period efforts to overhaul the other team almost impossible; nevertheless, the boys did their best at all times.

3rd BAA
1st State Meet
5th Nationals

David Harris—B.A.A. Shot Put champ, State Shot Put champ, undefeated in Met League competition.
To Victory...

In keeping with tradition, the Indoor Track Team again defeated all competition. Guided by the superb coaching of Mr. Robert Gleason and paced by Jay Luck and Dave Noonan, hurdles; Jim Gleeson, 300; Dick Bartley, 600; Ron Young, 1000; Jim Howley, mile; Ron Raphalian and Joe Basile, 50; and Dave Harris and Frank Arricale, shotput; the “Gleasonites” went undefeated in league competition while extending their dual meet streak to a phenomenal 20 straight.

In the state meet, the tracksters defeated their closest rival, Belmont, as Jay Luck, Dick Bartley, Ron Young, Jim Howley and Dave Harris notched victories in their specialties and the relay team, made up of Jay Luck, Al Ward, Dan Igoe, and Dick Bartley left their rivals in the dust.

Jim Luck—National Junior A.A.U. champ, B.A.A. record holder 5.9 sec., State Meet Record holder 5.9 sec., Division II Met League record holder 6.1 sec.

Entering the Nationals in New York, five members of the team ran against the best in the country and finished fifth. Jay Luck, competing in the 60 yard hurdles, won in a breeze to become the first Watertown runner to win in New York. The two mile relay team—Young, Bartley, Howley, Riccio—finished a strong fifth to complete the Watertown scoring.

A Screaming Slap-Shot...

Colorful and spirited are the two words which best describe the slam-bang style of the 1958 Watertown hockey team. This year’s group, one of the best in recent years, is the first to benefit from the newly-initiated junior high hockey program. Under the very able coaching of Coach Dupuis, the Red Raiders became a potent outfit, no longer a sitting duck for opponents but a team to be feared for their aggressive hustling tactics. The magic combination of seniors and sophomores with the steady play of juniors made the team a solid, well-integrated club.

In the nets, senior goalie and co-captain Charlie Smith was superb, turning away enemy shots with a grace becoming a pro. Co-captain Dom Santoro and Ron Tashjian made their presence felt with jarring body checks and great stick-handling. Repeatedly pulling games out of the fire, the first line, consisting of center Phil Felton and wings Bill Bettencourt and Joe McElhenny did its job well. Holding the opponents in check, the second line made up of sophomore center Dick Green and wings Rich Plunkett, a senior, and Don Weeden, another sophomore, scored prolifically. Senior Bob Weeden also played steadily and well at the forward spot for the WHS cause.
Dick Bartley begins his "kick" as he chalks up a victory in the 1000.

CIRCLE: Dan Igoe, an upcoming sprinter, takes an early lead in the Armory.

BELOW: Center Dave Harris blocks an opponent's shot.
Strutting majestically in front of the band and putting on a precision display of “batonistics” were the ’58 majorettes. Led by their red-clad captain Barbara Sahagian, the group organized and executed many new and intricate routines for the enjoyment (and at times amazement) of Red Raider football fans. Throughout the year they entered several competitions. The senior members of the team besides Captain Barbara were Nadia Karnikyan, Judy Marsh, Brenda Smith, and Maureen Griffin and the juniors, Sheila Kelly, Marie Gobbi, Jocelyn Pelletier and Lillian Danielson.

This year’s majorettes startled some of the more staid fans with innovations. The first was the addition of a mascot, three year old Patty Gobbi, who brought down the house at her every appearance and charmed all who watched her; the second was the wearing of red and white Indian headdresses at the Belmont game; and the third was the addition of talented baton champ Patty Ann Vahey whose skill at baton twirling was amazing.

'58 saw the rise of the imaginative "Ice Peppettes", Watertown's patented ice hockey cheerleaders. The "Peppettes" made up of seniors Gale Lynch (captain) and Pat Malkasian, and juniors Marie Alberico, Joan Leslie, Marjorie Manning, Wendy McDonald, Betsy O'Connell, and Mary Vahey, added spirit, enthusiasm, and a good deal of noise to the otherwise dreary interior of the Boston Arena. During the actual playing time, the red and white clad cheerers yelled from sideline boxes, and between periods they ventured onto the ice—skates, shakers, megaphones and all—to lead WHS fans in cheers for their team. The group started with very little skating experience, but with practice and an occasional slip became pros toward the end of the season. The girls did much to stimulate student interest in hockey and added considerably to the atmosphere at the games.

Whether at a pep rally or a football game, on a bus or in a gym, the 1958 Cheerleaders were superlative. Drawing from a seemingly endless reserve of energy, the yellers, under co-captains Janice Burns and Alice Herlihy, were always capable of arousing the interest and spirit of the Watertown fans and inspiring the Big Red teams to greater heights. The pert red-clad girls did much for the classes of '58, '59, and '60 by establishing a real school patriotism in WHS.

Other members of the group were seniors Carol O'Brien, Mary Urquhart, and Caryl McCarthy and juniors Cary Dillon, Tanya Agopian, Camille Poilucci, Marion Haboian, and Louisa Madden. As a switch, the Annual offers three cheers to the very capable 1958 cheerleaders.
Raiderettes...

Sweeping down the field, en masse, to the cry of “Ground Sticks”, the Red Raiderettes of 1957 hustled from season’s start to its end. Despite the team’s lack of experience, they molded themselves into a well integrated group through their practice and the good coaching of Miss Sally Biggane. Under the field leadership of co-captains Ann Fairbairn and Ann Dulligan, the team consisted of Gale Lynch and Elaine Vlachos, on offense, Barbara Ainsworth and Terry McGarry, in the nets, and Mary Bonier, Bernie McGaffigan, and Barbara Malley, on the defense.

Despite their losses, the team improved right up to the final game. The team suffered from the lack of a potent scoring punch, but their aggressive tactics made up for this deficiency.

Hoopster-ettes

This year's "Fighting Fems" had a luckless season. In seven starts, Miss Biggane's hustling sextet entered the win column only once. The team's desire and hard work paid off as the Raiderettes performed with great finesse at the season's end.

The first team, composed of five seniors and four juniors was sparked by captain Pat Malkasian, the team's leading hooper, averaging about 12 points a game. Backing up Pat on the first team were forwards Ann Dulligan, Phyllis Parrella and Margaret Kadehjian and guards Ann Fairbairn, Gale "Jungle Jim" Lynch, Elayne Vlachos, Stella Tsolas and Elizabeth DiPace.

The team's one win came in a thrilling league contest against a strong Cambridge High and Latin squad which fought with great vigor but was overpowered by our talented hoopster-ettes.

Miss Helen Thayer, after forty years of devoted service, has now left WHS. Behind her, she leaves with us warm memories of a capable and respected teacher and a kind and understanding friend.

As a teacher of science and advanced mathematics, she not only inspired and encouraged many students to continue their studies in science and advanced math in higher education but also helped all her pupils to better understand these subjects by presenting them in an interesting and unique manner. Also, as founder of the Camera Club and its sponsor for thirty years, Miss Thayer promoted the fine extracurricular program at WHS. In her work with this club, she provided many aspiring “sutterbugs” with opportunities to develop their skills.

We acknowledge and appreciate Miss Thayer’s faithful service to our school, and we wish her all happiness and success in the future. We salute Miss Thayer for a job well done!

Coach Yankowski pauses before giving advice to next batter, Roy Johnson.

WHS’s “Diamond Demonds” of 1958 were a young team, one which felt greatly the effects of the departure of its 1957 stars. Nevertheless, due to some adept coaching by Mr. George Yankowski and some hard work by team members, the 1958 version of our Baseball Team fared well and threw some of the heavy-hitting league favorites into fits with dramatic hitting and stylish fielding. Playing in a league which included some of the state's best teams, the Yankowskimen ran hot for the first half of the season winning five and losing three, but due to the team hitting slump and an overworked pitching staff lost seven straight to end the season with a 5-10 record.

Seniors starting on the '58 nine, which was primarily an underclass club, were Captain Bill Bettencourt, southpaw centerfielder; Lou Setti, slick-fielding third baseman, Bob Cerrati and Ed Fitzpatrick, talented behind-the-plate receivers. Aiding the team also was a versatile utility outfielder, senior Joe McElhenny.

Bill Bettencourt, star centerfielder, laces a hit into right field.

"Please replace your divots," echoes the masterful voice of golf coach Joseph Malley as "Slamming Steve" Burns and "One Putt" Dave Vahey dig in with perfect nine iron shots to the pin while the golf team racks up another victory. Playing a rough schedule with a team led by only two returning seniors, our well-coached golf team ran up a very creditable nine and two record for the '58 season. The team will have several returning starters next year; nevertheless, it will sorely feel the effects of the losses of stars Vahey and Burns.

In a year of rebuilding around two returning senior stars the '58 WHS tennis team, coached by Mr. John Koumjian, racked up an impressive 6-2 record. Despite dual losses to Belmont, the team, behind seniors Mark Malkasian, captain and No. 1 singles player, and George Ross, No. 1 doubles man, played aggressively throughout the year. Coach Koumjian, with his tremendous knowledge of tennis and his winning air, buoyed up the team on several occasions and guided the team to several "coaching" victories. With a strong influx of talented sophomores and juniors, the team has a star-studded future.

Guided expertly by Miss Sally Biggane, the 1958 girls' tennis team, played smart and creditable tennis from the season's start. Swinging their way to a 2-4 record, the team played their home matches at the newly-refurbished Victory courts. Seniors performing well for WHS cause were Stephanie Hagopian, Terry McGarry, Mary Bonier, Ann Fairbairn, Virginia Ellis, and Penny Serrem. Through the adept coaching of Miss Biggane, the team developed into a well-oiled tennis machine which produced not only several individual stars but also a great team spirit.
Finding it impossible to avoid redundancy in describing our WHS '58 track team and coach, we must happily write that again, in outdoor track, our boys have brought home the State Class 'B' Title and the Belmont Relays Division II Title prize to add to Watertown High's already loaded track trophy collection. Again Coach Robert Gleason fielded a tremendously well-rounded and well-coached club, which not only had many individual stars but also possessed remarkable depth. Senior stalwarts who helped build the team's championship road were Jimmy Howley, a miler of real prowess, Jay Luck, WHS's "Harrison Dillard," Dave Harris, a shot putter par excellence, Ron Young, a runner of many talents, Dick Bartley another versatile middle distance man, Jim Gleeson, a swift sprinter, Bill Cavanaugh, a whip-armed "javelinist," and Joe Basile, a sprinter and javelinist."

In addition to the aforementioned meets the team also sent five men to the Penn Relays in Philadelphia where the quick quintet finished seventh out of fifty—one entering teams.

The musical highlight of 1958 was the Watertown High-Fitchburg High Exchange Concert. On Friday morning, April 18, one hundred twenty of WHS's band, orchestra, and chorus members boarded busses for Fitchburg. On arrival, they began rehearsing almost immediately — the band with Mr. Peter Siragusa, WHS band director; the orchestra with Mr. Richard Hagopian, director of music in Watertown; and the chorus with Mr. Edward Hanjian, director of music in Fitchburg. After a strenuous day of practice, WHS students were guests of FHS at an enjoyable record hop. After the social, the young musicians returned to the homes of their Fitchburg hosts. On Saturday evening, April 19, after another day of rehearsal, the three groups presented a combined concert, featuring, among other selections, “Emperor Waltz” and “Syncopated Clock” by the orchestra, “Alleluia” and “Deaf Old Woman” by the chorus, and “Overture Militaire” and “Li’L Abner Overture” by the band.

On May 9 & 10, Fitchburg High's eighty musicians journeyed to Watertown for the second part of the exchange, presenting the same program which the Fitchburg audience enjoyed.

The Exchange concluded with the Fitchburg students' returning home, taking as many happy memories as they left in Watertown.

“Go, Song of Mine.” The combined choruses sing in the Watertown half of the Exchange Concert.
Twenty-one scholastically superior senior students in the college course were inducted into the Cum Laude Society this year. Determined solely by academic achievement, membership in the Cum Laude Society, which is modeled after Phi Beta Kappa, is very competitive. Inducted at a solemn program this May was an exceptionally large group of qualified seniors.

This year the new members were honored at an Alumni tea, and a scholarship of one hundred dollars was awarded to a Cum Laude senior Joyce Mugrditchian.

Members of WHS's student body who displayed outstanding qualities of scholarship, character, leadership, and service were honored by induction into the National Honor Society at an impressive assembly in May.

The annual project of the National Honor Society was the selling of WHS plastic bookcovers. From the money earned in this project, the Society presented the school library with many new books.

Officers under president Terry McGarry were: James Luck, vice-president; James Gleeson, treasurer and Roberta Malatesta, secretary.

Acknowledgments

THE YEARBOOK STAFF takes this opportunity to thank everyone who assisted in any way with the publication of the 1958 ANNUAL. We especially acknowledge the aid given by:

Our Advisors,

Mr. Thomas Roach, our new chief advisor, who guided us on the road to our goal, your Annual.

Mr. Harold Moody, our most competent and experienced art advisor, who devoted long hours to making lay-outs, supervising art work, and helping us with our problems.

Mr. Nicholas Papas, our business advisor, who directed the procurement of all our advertisements.

Miss Helen Thayer, our photographic advisor, who guided our staff photographers along the way.

Mr. William Kelleher, our literary advisor, who patiently corrected all our copy.

Our Headmaster,

Dr. John J. Kelley, who most kindly gave both his assistance and encouragement in arrangements for Annual projects and a great deal of his office space for use by the Annual staff.

Our Faculty, who were unfailingly patient despite the many interruptions and inconveniences inevitable with yearbook production.

Our Professional Friends,

Purdy Studios, and its staff members: Mr. Castro, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Corregan, and especially Mr. James T. Bleiler, who gave indispensable advice in every phase of our yearbook preparation.

Delmar Printing Company, and especially Mr. Douglas Dunn, who waited patiently on each "Deadline Day" while we scurried about, locating the last bits of material.

... and The Chief puts it to bed.
