The Yearbook Staff PRESENTS
Foreword

With our graduation another important chapter in our lives has closed. However, unlike a section of a book, we cannot in reality, turn back to relive those three years. And, as other classes take over, a feeling of nostalgia may be part of our emotions. But time never stops, and we, as part of it, must move on, faster than we wish.

To prepare us for the future, diverse academic programs suited to individual needs have enabled us the opportunity to achieve to the best of our ability.

Besides an academic preparation, WHS, through student government, clubs, dances, and various other functions, has developed in us an invaluable sense of responsibility and social poise. Therefore, make use of the present to insure a better future, but never forget the past — remember those glorious years when our hearts were young and gay — when life was all a joy. Hold fast to these memories and cherish them . . . . forever.

IN YOUR HONOR

JOHN E. McNEALY
Methodical and punctilious in manner, his calm disposition and smile are totally disarming . . . . . however, we, who know him well, admire his tactfulness, sagacity and kind, warm nature.

Having joined the faculty in 1932 as a teacher of history, later becoming Sub-Master, and now as Dean of Boys, our friend has aided thousands of Watertown High School students.

Thus, to help express our gratitude and respect on this, the 35th anniversary of your coming to Watertown; it is with great honor that we the class of 1967, dedicate our yearbook, to you, Mr. John McNealy.

In fulfilling the aims and purposes of W.H.S., the Administration strives to develop an open-minded person, capable, cultured, and intellectually aware, prepared to assume responsibility in society. The Administration Staff, concerned with the well-being of each student, seeks to provide able counselors, faculty, programs, and facilities for his creative and moral development.

Administration
Our Faculty

We as graduates will be forever indebted to the faculty for their dedication and sincere interest in our intellectual well-being.

The subjects they teach are many and varied, but in each they aim to stimulate thought and provoke in us an awareness of our social obligations. By encouraging honesty and independence all have done their best to prepare us to assume the responsibilities of adulthood.

The Staff endeavors to develop in each

English involves not only reading, grammar, and understanding figurative language, but a study in depth of great literature, effective oration and writing skills. Through analysis of novels, essays and drama, students learn that ideals and cultural traditions of today have continued since ancient times. Students develop insight and appreciation of English, as a tool of communication, which is both purposeful and of great value.

Many offerings in math curriculum
A major aim of the math department is to give all students some knowledge applicable in their everyday lives. Many diverse courses, which emphasize the understanding of math principles and the developing of a logical thinking process, are offered to meet the needs of everyone.

At all levels the math curriculum has been altered to keep in stride with the latest changes in the field by the introduction of new texts that hopefully will make all aware that math is a living and changing subject.
Preparation of our young people for

Through a study designed to keep abreast of the advances in the modern community, W. H. S. has prepared its students to occupy their place in the business-world.

The business curricula has three major divisions: secretarial in which proficiency in typing and shorthand is stressed; business which provides an introduction to routine business functions such as bookkeeping and money management; and, finally, clerical in which our future clerks and cashiers are taught how to operate duplicating, calculating and transcribing machines. Classroom instruction in all areas is supplemented with advice on office manners and dress.

Mastering fundamental manual skills
Because of the wide choice in the industrial arts curricula, students are offered ample opportunity to develop fundamental manual skills and are impressed with the necessity of safety in all undertakings. Knowledge of auto mechanics, woodworking, and electronics are tools employed by industrial art students in serving others.

the vital functions of History

Since the time of Heroditus and before, man has been questioning his beginnings. His inquisitive nature has led him to rediscover the past and to critically examine its problems. Students undertake an intensive study of European history by examining political, social, economic, and religious influences, in order to better understand the relationship among countries.

Since knowledge of our own country is so vital, W.H.S. offers us a chance to study our own history and current and future problems. Through such a study we hope to have the strength and courage to meet the challenges of the future.

Students acquire fluency in the study

At W.H.S. foreign language is stressed as an integral part of the learning experience.

For those who prefer the classical background, there is a four year program in Latin which provides intensive study of literary classics.

In the modern language curricula French, Spanish, and Italian are taught. Although more emphasis is being placed on speaking and good pronunciation, reading and writing are still stressed as a vital part in the study of a foreign language.

Building strong bodies and minds

WHS believes in the development of the body as well as the mind. For this reason a vigorous, compulsory physical education program has been developed. Its overall purpose is to provide for our general conditioning and body development through exercise patterns and drills. During these activities a competitive spirit pervades, and individual standards of sportsmanship are put to a test.

Guidance for a well-rounded education

All graduates of W.H.S. will acknowledge the fact that the guidance and counseling services offered us are extremely valuable. The guidance staff has shown a personal interest in each of us by willingly listening to our problems and advising us to their solutions. Through a series of career conferences and self-evaluation we are better equipped to plan our life's occupation.

With the regular academic curriculum, the following special services are offered: developmental reading to improve reading speed and skill, driver's education for the purpose of developing better road safety, speech therapy for improvement of enunciation and speech habits, data processing which is responsible for the more efficient processing of report cards and attendance, and a staff nurse, offers medical aid to students.
A library is an important part of any educational system. It provides students with material to supplement class readings, information on current affairs, and reference texts to help them with assignments. Because of the many new subject areas especially in science and math, it is vital for a library to be kept up to date, due to a federal grant, which was extremely beneficial, the library is now better equipped to help all students.

Realm of books for pleasure and learning
One of the essentials to happiness is good food. For this reason, we of WHS will attest to the important role of the cafeteria staff who prepare and serve our meals.

Behind the scenes, along with the cooks, the custodians work diligently carrying out their duties to insure us of a warm, clean school in which to study.
Looking back over the past three years, we recall the memories and experiences that formulated this chapter in our lives. As sophomores, we had to adjust to the maze of corridors and schedule #3 days. We were eager to display our school spirit at rallies and to participate in school functions. In the junior year, we set our academic and athletic goals. We participated in numerous activities such as the Winter Carnival and assemblies: all of which were culminated by the Junior Prom. This year, as our high school days draw to a close, we cherish the memories of the Senior Prom, Class Banquet, Awards Day, and finally our graduation. Now guided by the knowledge gained through achievement and failure we as seniors are preparing to embark on the future.

"The only guide to a man is his conscience; the only shield to his memory is the rectitude and sincerity of his actions."

—Winston Spenser Churchill
Whether it be the math team, orchestra, art club, student government, one of the publications, or a sports team, activities within the school provide for student enjoyment.

Participation in an extra-curricular activity is as important as doing well in an academic study; it is through working with others that a student develops his Character — a big step towards maturity.

Members of Advertising Staff report in for assignments.

Staff

The editors of this year's Annual have worked together to produce an entirely new book. It contains new features, such as, an alphabetical index and directory. There are individual candid shots of the faculty and larger senior class pictures. Mr. Moody, who retired last year as head of the Art Department, was back this year helping the art staff plan the new layouts.
The Bulletin

The W. H. S. student newspaper, "The Bulletin" is published once a month. In its role as the voice of the student body, it is both informative and argumentative. Informative by presenting news of current school events, interviews and student personalities and argumentative because in its editorials it takes a stand and invites student response.

Managing Editor, Donna Smerlas and News Editor, Joan Karahalis read copy.

Business Manager, Louis Fantasia, prepares ad copy.

Pete Martin, Editor-in-chief, proofreads the paper.
The school art clubs under the direction of Mr. Cafarella and Mr. Voci extend their time and services to the high school by decorating for all school dances. Besides being involved in projects of this nature, members of the two clubs devote their efforts to developing skills in applied art or experimenting with clay, metal, mosaics and other media.
Quid Nunc

The sick, poor, and lonely are the concern of Quid Nunc, a charitable association supervised by Mrs. Callaghan. In the course of the year the club provides a needy family with a Thanksgiving dinner, visits the ill, and sends cards to the soldiers in Vietnam.

Secretarial

The Secretarial Club with their sponsor, Mr. Megrian plans several field trips yearly. Members visit IBM centers and listen to guest lecturers in order to have a deeper awareness of their profession.
Hi-Y

Mr. Neylon and members of Hi-Y experience satisfaction and enjoyment in aiding others. Members visit hospitals, rest homes, and orphanages during the holidays. They also find time for splash parties, dances, and overnights.

One of the school's two organizations affiliated with the Y.M.C.A. is TRI-HI-Y. This club is composed of girls who are willing to give up some of their time to charitable pursuits. Advised by Miss Hazel their activities include cake sales, toy drives, and the Winter Carnival.

Tri-Hi-Y

French Club

Students interested in pursuing a study of French culture, traditions, language, and daily life join the French club. Mrs. Allen with the club officers plans activities such as attending movies, and plays, visiting museums and eating at French restaurants.

In order to keep up with the new developments in the teaching field, W.H.S. several years ago installed a language lab. Because it has been found to be vital to the foreign Language student, it must function properly. For this reason, Mrs. Allen has organized the Lab Assistants whose purpose is the maintenance of earphones and other lab equipment.

Lab Assistants

An innovation at the high school this year is the Italian Club. Sponsored by Mr. Mastroianni it extends to its members the opportunity to explore the culture and language of Italy more intensively than mere classroom work does.
An organization that specializes in service to the school is the Projection Club. Its members with Mr. Joseph Bannon are responsible for audio-visual aids used in the classroom.

Chess is becoming more popular at WHS each year. The influx of new talented members has enabled the club to participate in the Middlesex Suburban League. Mr. Craig who willingly offers his advice invites all members to play chess every afternoon.

Math Club

The Math Club, one of the schools largest organizations, gives students ample opportunity to develop math skills and discuss new ideas. Its stimulating program includes lectures given by Mr. Cleary, club members, and guest lecturers, club outings and participation in Nu Alpha Theta, the Math Honor Society.

Library Assistants

The Library Assistants have an important function in helping Mrs. Deery provide efficient help to all students. Furthermore, they assist in checking out books and in returning them to the shelves. They also help keep the file up to date.

Pat Donato and Joyce Jigarijan, the English Aides, assist the members of the English Department. Supervised by Mr. Carbone, these girls performed duties such as duplicating materials, stamping books, clerical work and various errands.

Sponsored by Miss Raybould and Mrs. Henaghan, the Student Leaders Club has proved to be a valuable asset to the Girls' Physical Education Department. The girls, besides being responsible for care of gym equipment, assist the instructors during classes. Also included in their program are charity drives and a faculty-student basketball game.
It's Academic

This year W.H.S. participated in "It's Academic", a weekly television program designed by WHDH studios of Boston. Composed of Louis Fantasia, Richard Brown, and David Appel, our team won its initial contest and moved to the semi-final competition. The program tests a student's quick recall of general information. Alternates were John Calcagni, Roberta Kasper, and James Deackoff.
World Literature Club

In discussing and analyzing great literature, members of the World Literature Club gain greater appreciation of the values and symbolism of a literary work.

Under the able guidance of John Kelly, the Radio Club offers its members the opportunity to investigate the technical aspects of the radio and its related fields. The club provides an incentive in preparing its members for a successful future.

Music

Through their musical endeavors, whether they be vocal or instrumental, students obtain inspiration, enjoyment, and self-satisfaction. The band and the orchestra, under the guidance of Mr. Zarba, provide entertainment at football games, civic functions, and school assemblies. The Madrigals, led by Miss Goudey, after much preparation, display their talents at the Christmas Assembly.

Sports
A high school can be represented by its students and accomplishments on both an academic and social level. It can also be represented by its sportsmanlike endeavors, being success or failure. In the past year WHS's athletic teams reflected the greatest picture of our school and its students to many of our neighboring schools. Be it basketball, football, hockey, or gymnastics, we were the victors morally if not statistically.
Red Raiders

Under the leadership of a new head Coach, Mr. Edward Hayes, the football team continued to improve their season's record. Facing formidable competition, the Red Raiders were a tough team to beat. The 2-6-1 record does not tell of the effort and ability of the individual players. The student body is proud of the spirit and sportsmanship demonstrated by the team throughout the season.

Despite a record of 8-12-0, varsity coach Mr. McGovern is to be commended on his first year's effort. The team lost four games in overtime and three games in regulation time by 3 points or less. Hockey

Although having a far from successful season, the WHS Hockey Team always showed the determination each member possessed. Coach Krol, finished his second year as coach, hopes for a better season with the aid of the returning Juniors and Sophomores.

In the third year of competition, the WHS gymnastic team had a successful start by winning its first two meets. The team lost its chance for a league championship when Captain Tom Pollard and Vahan Antaranian, both three-event men, were injured. The team finished with a respectable record of 3-5-0.

Rifle Team

The rifle team, finishing a 4-4-0 season, showed the determined and consistency of each of its members. Led by seniors Bill Donnelly, Rich Rossi, and Bill Davis, the team offered tough competition to all other schools and represented WHS well.

Girls' Field Hockey

With a great deal of initiative and spirit, Miss Raybould's starting team progressed their way through a challenging season. The Varsity team with a 2-5-0 season and the Junior Varsity team with a 3-2-2 season showed the girls desire to represent our school will, as they did. The future looks bright for the field hockey team with the talented supply of experienced juniors and sophomores.

Girls basketball, led by co-captains Mary Fratto and Carol Cormier, finished the season with a 4-5-0 record. Each game, whether home or away, showed each member’s energetic desire for athletic competition. Their representation on the court was well done and the merit they received was well deserved.
Track Club

Members of the Track Club hold biweekly meetings at which films are shown and discussions are held. The club, under the leadership of Coaches Jenkins and McGinnis, is responsible for much of the track team's self-generating spirit.

Guided by Coach Hayes, the Gridiron Club is one of the most active organizations at WHS. The Pigskin Frolics Dance, and the Football Banquet at which the football trophies were distributed were some of the past year's activities.

Before you accept that first job...

Look over your employer as carefully as he does you.

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon... before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

Thanks

Realizing that the 1967 Annual couldn't have been produced without the assistance of many people who offered their advice and service to us, we, the staff of the 1967 Annual, would like to express our gratitude and thanks to:

Our Advisors:

Mr. William Kelleher, our faculty advisor, who helped us organize, and who made valuable suggestions in preparations of our yearbook.

Mr. Harold Moody, our art advisor, who devoted his time and talent to us.

Our Headmaster:

Dr. John J. Kelley who understood and helped us in our difficulties.

Our Faculty:

All the teachers who extended their co-operation at all times.

Our Professional Associates:

Purdy Studios, especially Mr. George Corregan, Mr. James Bleiler, and all those patient photographers whose talents were of invaluable aid.

Delmar Publishing Company and Mr. Douglas Dunn.
