On The Eve Of Tomorrow

As the seed conceived in nature's womb
Awaits its blossoming dawn,
Conceived are we in the womb of tomorrow
Our future soon to be born.

Maturity fathers our past conception.
We shall nurse from the bosom of life.
Experience shall teach us of the world and its wonders
Ignorance, our only strife.

Time shall deliver our future soon due.
We cherish the days of past now.
Time won't allow sweat on yesterday's brow
Our memories of the past, to the future shall bow.

Labor begins this new life of ours.
Happiness masks the face of sorrow.
With the courage of a woman,
The strength of a man . . .

We are ready for the birth of tomorrow.
As the seed conceived in nature's womb
awaits its blossoming dawn,
Our future soon to be born
Experience shall teach us of the world and its wonders
gnorance, our only strife
We cherish the days of past now.
Happiness masks the face of sorrow
We are ready for the birth of tomorrow.
Mr. Thomas McGovern

Dedication
Psychology, the Natural Science of Man, defines stimulus as that which brings about a "response."

We have all established behavior patterns with different, yet somewhat similar characteristics. Much of our behavior is the result of teacher stimulus which has bound, shaped and moulded each of us in some small, yet unmistakable way.

As a teacher and coach, this man has helped us not only to understand our fellow man, but to understand ourselves as well. In the classroom he has opened our minds to the future and broken through one of the largest barriers facing today's youth - indifference.

We have identified him as one of the stimuli which has helped to shape us.

Therefore, to you, Mr. Thomas McGovern, we, the class of 1973, dedicate our Yearbook. We are grateful for all you have done to help us become the individuals we are today.

Escort us to the road of life
Our present and future progress is influenced more by our contacts with the guidance department than by any other academic experience. Pupil-teacher conflicts, advice on programs, college conferences, and scholarship information are all covered by this department.

Counselling, keeping academic records, adjusting incorrect or unsatisfactory programs, and arranging visits from college representatives are services which have to be performed for fourteen hundred students. It is a credit to the seven-member department that such successful results are achieved.

Crime and Mystery, Indian Culture, Great Books, Public Speaking, and Reading are examples of the one-term English electives which are offered this year. These courses, along with traditional ones, will be of practical value to us in the future. Beginning this year, one-half of the Junior English requirement could be fulfilled by taking electives. This proves how successful these electives have been.

The art of communications is the most vital area of knowledge for any member of society. The English curriculum has prepared all of the students to express themselves and share ideas.
Informing us of our loyal forefathers, their open hearts to our future
Learning from the mistakes of history and understanding the reasons for man’s often perplexing behavior are the purposes of the Social Studies department. A better future for man and his environment is the goal.

Social Studies and history enable us to study the past and the present and to prepare for the future. There are a wide variety of subjects to choose from. Psychology-sociology, current issues and cultural anthropology are offered along with the traditional courses in European and United States History.
Qualify us for our fraction of life
Knowledge of mathematical functions is vital to any citizen. For future math majors there are advanced courses, including one for college level credit available. But all students will use the basic skills of addition and subtraction in business or in managing a home.

Mathematics will continue to be one of the most important subjects in the curriculum due to the fact that some of the finest minds in our faculty are associated with this department.

Instilling in us the desire to experiment with life
Mr. Winand and Dave Manoogian confer on a Chemistry assignment.

Miss Finck explains the process of mitosis.

Across the hall from 102 is the Science Prep room, a narrow rectangular box, big enough to hold a small table, some chairs, a coffee pot and a mimeograph machine. Yet, from here emerge those who have the knowledge of what life is and how it begins. They contemplate the problems and explain the mysteries that life encounters.

The Science courses cover man, the earth, the sea, and the atoms which make up each of these. Students who are considering science-related careers can find many courses which will be valuable to them. Those whose careers are not directly involved in science will profit from a basic knowledge in this field. The study of any science will make the world around us easier to understand.
To interpret our neighbor, however foreign
In an ever-changing world, communications and appreciation of foreign cultures is necessary for a better understanding among people. Many nations and people are represented in the foreign language department through French, Italian, Spanish, Latin, and Armenian. English as a second language is offered to help new students to our country become acquainted with the English language and with the American culture.

With the knowledge of a second language a student has a well-rounded liberal arts education to prepare him for the future.
To paint of ourselves a picture of success
An outlet for creative expression unlike that of any other department is found through arts and crafts. A student can work virtually on his own with guidance from instructors as needed. This year the curriculum has been changed to include one-term electives. Thus, a student is able to concentrate in one area and become skilled at it. Jewelry making, commercial art, ceramics and functional crafts are a few of these electives.

Through the study of art, students are able to appreciate beauty in all forms.
We are prepared for the world of business and its competitive folds
The Business Department offers a wide variety of business oriented courses for students planning a career in business or who wish to further their education in the business field. Some course offerings include shorthand, bookkeeping, typing, office machines, general business and distributive education which offers basic instruction in buying and selling for department stores. Students in this course receive classroom instruction and practical experience in local department stores. The Business Department provides the most modern equipment and instruction in order to keep up with the modern business world.

A world where the homemaker
Home Economics provides a selection of courses including Foods, Chefs, Clothing and Family Living. Students gain an understanding and appreciation of an important field in which they may pursue a career as a homemaker or as a professional.

Early Childhood Education is a vital part of the Home Economics Department. This course, now in its second year, is offered to girls who anticipate vocations in early childhood training. Students are involved in classroom observations and tutorial roles in local elementary schools.

The home is often referred to as the center of society. With capable and responsible people at its head, we can look forward to an improvement in society in general.
Is as vital as the craftiest of craftsmen
Courses which provide practical knowledge in woodworking, printing, electricity and auto mechanics are all part of the realm of Industrial Arts. But the skills which are learned are not necessarily limited to industrial careers. Many courses have practical value in any future, and can be creative and rewarding hobbies.

Those who are interested in a career in any of these areas will have a good basic foundation for a job or further study.
Where the athlete competes endlessly
Teaching the fundamentals of basketball or volleyball or counting the number of sit-ups one can do is not the primary concern of the physical education department. More important are the lessons of cooperation and competition and the development of the mind as well as the body.

Gym classes offer a variety of sports for girls and boys with the hope that they will be instructive as well as enjoyable.

A wide range of varsity and junior varsity sports is sponsored by the department. Students are encouraged to participate in these programs throughout the year as extra curricular activities.
With the driving mechanisms of learning

The streets of Watertown are hopefully safer thanks to our driving instructors.
We are instruments of life, chords of society

Our musical groups, the Marching Band and Concert Band are a vital part of our school. The fact that they devote countless hours to perfecting their skills is seldom realized by those who are not directly connected with these groups but their excellent performances reflect their dedication.

The traditional and popular selections of the Chorus provide sounds that appeal to everyone. Those who attend their concerts can see that they enjoy performing.

The popularity of the Dance Band has increased and their appearances are frequent. Less well-known are the Theory classes which teach the basics of music and encourage compositions by the students.

Another winner for football

Touchdown! And a victory over Lexington.
"A team of Destiny," Coach John Barbati called his club.

The year was highlighted by three huge upsets over Winchester, Melrose, and Reading. Co-captains Rich Keith and Joe Boyce led the team to a successful season of 5-3-1, as the Raiders "went on the warpath" at Victory Field, winning all five games.

This club consisted of a fine group of seniors. Four of them, Kip Beach, Joe Boyce, Dick Fico, and Rich Keith were named "All Middlesex." Dick Fico was also named to the "All-Scholastic" teams of Massachusetts.

New blood for cross country
Plagued by the loss of five members from last year's nine-man team, the cross country team fell to a three win, six loss record. The team was capably led by senior co-captains Mike Sheehan and Dan Quinn. With any kind of breaks the season could have been entirely different. The good breaks, unfortunately, were not forthcoming. Illness and injury did not help matters either.

Coach McGovern looks to brighter things next year. Top distance men like juniors Jim O'Loughlin and John McCarthy and sophomore Anthony Nugent could pave the way for a successful season.
Soccer team finishes a strong fourth

Ed Oteri and Kevin Clancy charge down field.

Kevin Clancy muscling in.

If Coach Costello didn't have an ulcer before the soccer season started, he sure has one now. The squad was loaded with returning talent and hopes for a tournament invitation were high. If you asked all the teams in the league who gave them their toughest game, they'd probably all agree on Watertown. Yet Lady Luck just didn't ride with the soccer team. They must have set a record for hit post and ejected players, not to mention the amazing total of seven double overtime games. And with referees getting trampled in Europe and South America for making a bad call, our own aficionados would need more than the nine lives of a cat to survive a game over there.

Despite the many frustrations Watertown still banged out a very respectable 7-5-4 record and finished just shy of a coveted tournament berth. Vern Khederian, Paul Tirabassi, and co-captain Jim Pomponi were named to the Middlesex League All-Star Team. Jim Pomponi received the team M.V.P. trophy and was runner-up to Lexington's goalie as the Middlesex League M.V.P.
Field hockey: a frustrating season
Despite new skills and techniques, the Varsity could never quite put it all together for a win. Although some games were close and ended in a tie or loss by one goal, they just couldn’t score that winning point. Led by Co-Captains Carol Millian and Joan Morgan, the Varsity’s final record was 0-5-4. The scoring was done by many as lines and defenses were changed to achieve a working combination. Next year the girls hope to attend hockey camp as other schools do already. Many players will be returning with hopes for a more successful season.

The Junior Varsity had a fair season with a record of 2-4-3. Led by Co-Captains Doreen Vlachos and Carolyn Shea they defeated Wakefield and Winchester. Fine goaltending by Senior Ellen Ferguson made the last games close ones.

The Middlesex League proved to be the most talented and strongest in the state. Our fine team placed third with an excellent 6-3 record losing only to Reading, Winchester, and Lexington.

The strong, experienced, and talented returning line led by Co-Captains Carol Millian and Debbie Marcan­tonio was an important factor in the successful season. Maureen Everett was outstanding offensively, averaging 17 points a game.

Eileen Brackett and Kathy Horan controlling rebounds and setting up fast breaks were also a great asset to the team.

Indoor Track
This year the indoor track team moved its luxuriant, multifacilitated training station from the high school to the Arsenal. Methinks the only difference in the sites being that the Arsenal is a little more expendable for some of the "Practices."

Fearless Leaders Flecca and Sacco, masters of that intangible motivation, were successful in grinding two victories out of the team. Graduating will be co-captain Mike Sheenan and Dennis Bannon, Al Wood, Dave Girigosian, Lou Bertone, Tom McGuire. Track is not famous for the enjoyment factor, but let it be known that here in Watertown we still have people who can compete and have fun doing it.

Despite great disadvantages: the poor equipment, lack of decent facilities, and bad practice hours, the Watertown High Girls' Gymnastic Team has made great strides. This year the team competed in the tough Middlesex League, where the girls compiled a credible record and a lot of praise. They surprised many teams and almost defeated Burlington, Winchester, and Melrose, some of the better teams. The credit for creating and coaching this successful gymnastic team belongs to Karen Alexander with help from manager Nick Bakalis. Thanks for a great season.

Coordination, strength and competition
This year our gymnastic heroes vaulted through the Middlesex League to a 4-4 record. Senior Co-captain, Steve Paulino, Jr. Co-captain, Jeff Wogan led the way, dominating many events. Gymnastics has come a long way since its inception at W.H.S. and judging from the team, it's got a good future ahead. Congratulations to Coaches Gika and John for taking a rather unpopular sport and giving it a home at Watertown High School.
Spirited hockey

Pomponi watches the puck as Deignan circles the net.

Billy Rizzo and Kevin Cameron converge on Stoneham players.

The 1973 version of the Watertown High hockey team was a loser in record, but in record only. The men who wore the shin and elbow pads for Watertown this year displayed a spirit and courage unheard of for a team with a 1-17 record. They battled coach and every foe right down to the end in every contest, no matter what the score. It's easy to play for a winner but, man, it's tough to play for a loser. If these guys were going to beat anyone, let it have been Belmont, and it was.

The team was a predominantly Junior and Sophomore Squad, which brightens the future outlook. High-scoring captain Paul Tirabassi is definitely in line for league honors from Watertown. And if you hear someone blaming Coach Krol for the losing seasons, ask them where they played their hockey. It sure as hell wasn't in North America.
Watertown’s All-Scholastic, Thousand Point Man, Bill Hatten.

The march to the Tech
Riding on the shoulders of Watertown’s all everything Bill Hatten, the basketball team compiled an impressive 13-7 record and earned a berth in the state tournament. The Red Raiders overcame a rash of ankle injuries and an acute case of short basketball players to mow down all but four opponents during the regular season. This year we saw, as we’ve seen every year under Coaches Myers and Ballas, a 100% effort from every member of the squad.

Congratulations are in order for graduating co-captain Bill Hatten. In a little over two years of playing varsity ball, Billy scored 1038 points, a Watertown record. He ripped down more rebounds than any player in this town's history, and he's only 6' 3". He has been one of the most underpublicized, underrated, and unselfish players in Massachusetts since he was a freshman. It'll be a long time before someone recognizes this kid as the best basketball player to ever wear a Watertown uniform.

Needless to say, the players were very disappointed in losing to Andover in the tournament after beating Chelmsford so convincingly. It should be remembered, however, that Watertown came from 15 points down to only 11 down when Hatten fouled o early in the last quarter. This comeback and the many others over the season were due mainly to the efforts of the tough, persistent, hustling seniors Kip Beach, Steve Crocetti, John Latronica, Dan Quinn, Vern Khe-derian, John Ryan and co-captains Joe Boyce and Bill Hatten.

Losing a lot of people? Sure, but don’t get discouraged. When the J.V.’s want to, they can beat any team in the state.

Watertown's answer to Annie Oakley once again forced their way into riflery competition this year. Under Coach St. Onge, the members have rounded into a top-notch team. No target is too small for the likes of Rich Jackson, Billy Rizzo, Pete Kazanjian, Bill Patterson, Rich Norcross, Moses Boyajian, Lini St. Onge, Rob Rizzo, and little John St. Onge.

The cheering section
This year's cheering squad headed by Captains Debbie Sabatino and Jody Greenough played an important role in boosting Watertown High's spirit and psyching all our teams. They devote much of their time to making up new cheers for rallies, the football, basketball and hockey games. We must express our thanks to a very enthusiastic group of girls who have encouraged our players to victory.

The majorettes work long, hard hours preparing routines and formations for the rallies and games. Led by Co-Captains Janice Brescia and Lillian Nardelli they do a great job and add to that Raider Spirit.

Once the football season is over their work doesn't stop because they enter competitions where they have been successful.
Gridiron Queen Chosen

The Pep Club at a rally.

"He had it right in his hands!"

INDIANS: Lo Tricia Roser, Mary Friedberg, Ellen Pye, Marianne Guggino, and Joanne Shuff
The Indians put much hard work into making signs for the rallies, leading the pep club, and helping the cheerleaders. They teach the Pep Club new cheers and take charge of getting buses for the away games. These girls who have a great deal of spirit and enthusiasm are Marianne Guggina, Ellen Pye, Ritti Russo, Mary Prendergast, and Jeanine Shutt. Your work has been greatly appreciated.

The Gridiron Queen and her court are chosen from the Junior class by their classmates. The Queen is crowned at the Homecoming Game and attends other Gridiron function such as the football banquet. This year’s queen is lovely Corinne Seferian and in her court Debby Doo, Diana Donahue, Patty Weber, Cindy Gallo, Kathy LaRoses, and Jan Comeau. These girls were chosen not only for their attractiveness but also for their personality and spirit.
Clubs
Annual Editors

The Annual editors make sure that all the vital ingredients of a yearbook are prepared and that all deadlines are met. This is accomplished through prodding, pleading and a great deal of strong-arming.

All the written material is the result of the efforts of the Literary staff. Writing, proof-reading, and rewriting go on for months to produce all the copy which appears in the Annual.

Annual Art and Photography Staff

Emotion and interest are communicated through the photography and art work of the Annual. Taking a picture is only a small part of this job. Developing, cropping, and setting up the layout are difficult and time consuming. In the future our appreciation of these visual memories will increase.
Information in a serious or a humorous context is found in the bulletin. Articles by students, sports stories, news, and editorial comments result in an informed student body.

Artistically talented students contribute sketches. The work of the photography staff complements and complements the efforts of all involved students.

Ski Club

Mr. Jutstrom and Miss Gray work with the Ski Club, teaching nonskiers to ski and improving the techniques of experienced skiers. This is accomplished through movies and discussions on the proper use of equipment. Week-end and day-long ski trips furnish the members with the chance to practice the things they learn.
Senior Class Officers

The responsibilities of the class officers are great. As elected representatives they must be able to carry out the wishes of the student body and at the same time make the wishes of the administration known to the students. Their efforts in raising class funds result in the ability of the student body to conduct meaningful and enjoyable activities.

Junior Class Officers

The Class of 74 is most fortunate in having outstanding leaders. More often than not, the Junior Class plays a secondary role to the Senior Class; it was not so this year. The outstanding success of the Junior Class Dinner Dance gives testimony to the spirit and devotion of the class officers. We look for them to continue their outstanding performances next year.
The essence of student government at Watertown High is found in the Student Council. Acting as a sounding board for the student body, they reflect the students' needs and protect their rights in dealing with the administration and the school committee.

During their weekly meetings, they discuss curricula changes and plan various student activities.

Student-Faculty Advisory Committee

The Student-Faculty Advisory Committee functions in an advisory capacity to the Administration regarding curricula and open campus.

The members, both teachers and students, have been elected to this body and have spent a great deal of time during and after school discussing and recommending ideas that will effectuate a responsive and responsible student body.
Art Club

The purpose of the Art Club is to advance visual creativity, through studying and creating all forms of art. The members are involved in various fund raising projects which result in the school scholarship award to a senior planning to major in art. Teaching art at Home Base School and a field trip to Rockport are important activities.

Photography Club

Students who are interested in discussing, observing and comparing different styles and methods of photography can do so as members of the Photography Club.

Field trips give the club members an opportunity to photograph subjects which they would not be able to photograph alone. Ms. Esenlohr is the club advisor.
Successfully continuing through its second year, the Distributive Education Club of America, more commonly known as DECA, has been an important addition to the business curriculum at Watertown High. The students have been enthusiastically involved in pursuits a retail career under the supervision of Miss Farnsworth, the club advisor.

Audio-Visual Club

Unlike most clubs which offer students a chance for enjoyment, the Audio-Visual Club performs a service to the school and to all town citizens. By operating and repairing the A. V. equipment and acting as technicians for assemblies and town meetings, the members fill an important need. With their advisor, Mr. Andrews, they are vital to the smooth operation of the school.
Basketball Club

The purpose of the sports clubs at Watertown High is to create and sustain interest in their respective sports. Their activities in athletic and fund raising areas are an important part of the extra-curricular activities of the school. Fitness of mind and body is their final goal.

Gridiron Club

Although the football season ends in November with the Thanksgiving Day game with Belmont, the Gridiron Club, sponsored by Coach Barbati, attempts to keep the interest in football going throughout the year. The club shows sports films, hears speakers from the athletic world, and aids the school with charitable works. The club membership is comprised of members of the football team and other interested students.
Biology Club

Investigating the living world around us helps to increase one’s appreciation of ecology, and is the major goal of the Biology and Scuba Club.

The most informative activities are the field trips. While the divers are enjoying the water and collecting specimens for the Biology classes they are helping to clean up our underwater world.

Scuba Club

Mr. George Buckley’s deep interest in underwater exploration has led to the formation of one of the most active and worthwhile organizations at WHS — the Scuba Club. Club members learn to handle themselves and their equipment underwater at the YMCA and, when weather permits, at local beaches.

Club members learn to become competent divers and, more importantly, they develop a respect for the sea and the land that is priceless.
Armenian Club

Activities which included a visit to an Armenian Museum-Library were a vital part of this year Armenian Club. An exchange of knowledge and ideas between American-born and foreign born members was an enlightening event which was helpful to all students.

The club advisor is Miss Yacobian.

French Club

For a more in-depth study of the culture of France, students at Watertown High look to the French Club. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Riselli accompany the members to such places as French restaurants and cafes, and to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.
Students of Greek ancestry have a club which gives them the opportunity to study the Hellenic culture. With Mrs. Carito as faculty advisor, the club members participate in such events as athletics, museum and theatre field trips, concerts and dances.

Hellenic Club

The problems and benefits of foreign travel are discussed at meetings of the Travel Club. Miss Nathan, the club advisor, helps students to plan trips to foreign lands including Bermuda, Italy, and France. All students who are interested will now be exposed to the experience of travel.

Travel Club
Chess Club

The sole purpose of the Chess Club is to increase and sustain interest in this ancient and timeless game.

Members use time during club periods to play and study the strategy of chess. Many hope to gain a place on the team by improving their game in this manner.

Chess Team

The Chess Team of the '72-'73 season is made up of the most talented group of players that the high school has ever had.

Their season record of five wins and three ties proves that concentration and intelligence produce victory. During the season they were rated the best in the state. Their dedication resulted in many hours during and after school spent over a chess board.
Mental exercise and enjoyment come from the study of abstract concepts of mathematics. Not to be overlooked are the practical applications in science and industry. Both aspects of mathematics are considered by members of the Math Club. During club periods there are movies and numerous field trips. A spring visit to the Wood's Hole Oceanographic Institute highlights the year's activities.

Math Club

Math Team

Representing Watertown High in interscholastic competition, the Math Team must use intelligence and common sense to solve difficult problems. Pressures of stiff competition and a race with the clock compound the difficulties of the meets. Team members get together after school to prepare for meets by using problems similar to those used during actual competition.
Tri-Hi-Y

Tri-Hi-Y, an active organization here at Watertown High, focuses its activities on charitable endeavors. Holiday fruit baskets and colorful Christmas favors wrapped by members of the organization were distributed to nursing homes here in Watertown during the holiday season.

Spring brought new ideas as well as group activities for the organization. A trip to Bermuda was the highlight of a successful year for Tri-Hi-Y.

Hi-Y

In its capacity as a civic organization, Hi-Y raises money for an annual scholarship through raffles and other fund raising activities. Under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. of Newton, their purpose is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the community high standards of character and civic consciousness.
Sigma Alpha Nu

Sorority initiation is one of the more interesting days of the school year for all students. Hilarious costumes and funnier actions are day-long activities. This is only the beginning for the new members, however. Frequent meetings, the yearly ski trip, and the spring trip are other highlights of the year.

Psi Sigma Tau

Although basically a social organization, Psi Sigma Tau provides the opportunity for its members to help both the community and themselves in many ways. Their charitable works are well known, and their meetings add a bright spot to a work-laden school year.

The sorority offers to its members the opportunity to make lasting friendships and to aid their fellow man.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people with all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

Bridge Enterprises, Inc. manufactures and distributes all sorts of scientific equipment for elementary, junior high and high school people. If you have a yen for a package of dinosaur bones, some silicate garden kits, a whole line of chemicals, or even a power supply, you can either call us, or come on in (we're a small place and we really like to have visitors!). Our doors are open from 7:00 in the morning until 5:00 at night (Monday through Thursday). (at 5 Bridge Street, in Watertown, Massachusetts)

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The staff of the 1973 ANNUAL would like to express their thanks to those people whose special help contributed to making this yearbook a success. They are grateful, above all, to Mrs. Cook and Mr. Kelleher who guided the staff through many hectic weeks. They are indebted to Dr. Kelley, our headmaster, and Miss Donnelly and Miss Mathew, for their cooperation and understanding. We are also grateful to Miss Moran and Mr. Chevoor of the business department, and to Mr. Bob Ford of the Watertown Press and Mr. Dave Gardner of the Watertown Sun for the use of their photographs. And a special thanks to Miss Linda Esenlohr for her assistance with photography.
An astonishing laser experiment wins 2nd prize.

Watertown High's students proudly displayed the fruit of their work, on April 24, 1973, in the Watertown High gym.

The students participating were members of the lab science courses who used both scientific knowledge gained in the courses and imagination to construct the various exhibits.

Who knows? We may have a second Einstein somewhere in the class of '73!

Watertown High has always encouraged students to strive for high academic achievement. In recognition of students who possess the qualities of leadership, honesty, and high scholarship, Watertown High sponsors the Cum Laude and National Honor Societies.

The annual honors assembly was held on May 16, 1973 in Watertown High's Shaw Memorial Auditorium. The speaker for the evening was Dr. John McKenzie, president of Massachusetts Bay Community College. This year a 4.2 average qualified students for Cum Laude and a 3.5 average qualified students for National Honors.

Congratulations to all the students concerned!!

Bottoms up!!
On Friday evening, June 1, 1973, Watertown High’s Annual Senior Prom was held at the Chateau de Ville in Framingham. In the elegant Versailles room the one hundred sixty (160) couples who attended danced to the music of the Jack Hahn Band.

Guests of honor included Dr. and Mrs. Kelley, Dr. and Mrs. Bann and other members of the faculty.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, Alina Medina, and the selection of her court: Elaine DeVito, Vivian Cruz and Maryellen Monroe.
"Ahem . . . How's this for a pose?"

"What?? No Raisin Bran?"

The Jack Hahn Band was on hand.

It's all over now.

The Watertown High School graduation exercises were held at Victory Field the evening of June 6th. Guest speakers were Dr. Kelley, Dr. O'Connor, and Mr. Carver. Jay Segarra and Jean Papalia were the essayists for the class of '73'.

After the traditional cap throwing event, a mass of proud parents and happy friends swarmed the field. The class managed to survive the hoard of well-wishers, and then left for the all-night party where they celebrated the happy occasion.

Hats off to the class of '73'!
Sixteen students from Watertown High participated in "The City," a program which lasted for many weeks so that the students would become familiar with different aspects of city life.

Under the guidance of Miss Karen Kazarosian, the participants from this school were Lydia Babaian, Bill Bean, Lynne Bejoian, Georgia Boudouris, Ronnie Busconi, Rashmi Chandra, Marian Ferro, Doug Gallien, Wendy Gallien, Guy Griffey, Kathy Horan, Peggy Koumjian, Jane McManus, Jean Papalia, Debbie Rallis, and Susan Stadolnik.
