WATERTOWN, MASS.

1985
ANNUAL

WATERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL WATERTOWN, MASS.
Looking Back, it doesn’t seem so long
And it doesn't seem so hard
And it doesn’t seem so bad.
Somehow those four years,
Once a hazy horizon,
Their ending an undefinable dot,
Have receded and passed.
Memory is all now;
For we wouldn’t do it again.
But maybe it was worth it:
The exultation,
emotions that threatened our equilibrium...
Our minds are more than they were,
And our lives, too, have been enriched
And expanded.
We have emerged unscathed, from the otherside of the world.

Andrew Rudalevige
The Class of 1985 would like to give you, Mr. Guden, the rightful and deserved recognition for your guidance and concern with us throughout our important years at Watertown High School. We thank you for your patience and tolerance and for giving us the necessary guidelines and discipline we have needed to grow into strong individuals. You have not only been an authoritative figure in our high school lives, but a friend whose genuine interest, concern, and enthusiasm has touched us each both individually and as a class.

In your striving to provide our class with the best, we hope that you realize that we have had the best for four years. We have had you as our coördinator and friend. We, the Class of 1985, gratefully dedicate our annual to you Mr. Guden, and wish you much happiness in the years to come.
FACULTY
On behalf of the entire staff of Watertown High School, I wish all the members of the great Class of 1985 a happy, prosperous and productive life. By productive we mean some measure of success in "helping" your community, as well as yourself, — whether the world community or your immediate community of family, friends or working colleagues. Hopefully, each of you has "used" Watertown High School to better yourself. We simply hope — even expect — that you will repay your community with your talent, knowledge, time, money and/or your commitment. Good luck and God bless you all.
Sincerely,

[Signature]

Manson P. Hall
In the years to come, the pages of your yearbook will bring back memories of your high school years. For each of you there have been hopes and fears, joys and heartaches, triumphs and defeats, but through it all, you have been growing into young men and women.

We hope that the years you have spent in Watertown High School have contributed to a better understanding of yourselves and the society of which you are a part. May this understanding continue to grow so that your contributions will make it a better place to live in.

Goodbye and Good Luck!

Starting in August, a new varsity team pulled together to begin practicing for the 1984 season. When it opened Watertown was predicted to finish the season placed ninth out of the ten Middlesex League teams. With unity and determination, the girls completed the season with a record of 8-7-6, placing fifth overall, and missing the State by only two points.

Despite a dumpy playing field, a shortage of sticks, a broken nose and a fractured wrist late in the season, the team did very well early on. One of the wins was over first placed Lexington, 2-1.

The team's defense was excellent this year, and included two Middlesex League All Star players Cheryl Mahoney in goal, and Kathleen Burke as fullback.

The offensive line was greatly improved over last year's, in aggression and passing skill. Link Lesley Reilley was chosen from them as another All Star player.

Although ten seniors will leave the team, the 1985 season should definitely be as successful, if not more, with the return of the many skilled players.

FOOTBALL

The 1984 Red Raider football team was truly a never-say-die group of scrappers. Although close to thirty seniors graduated from the 1983 Middlesex League Championship team, the inexperienced 1984 Raider edition battled each opponent, and completed its exciting season with another winning record, garnering six wins against four losses.

Captains Frank Dennison and Dennis Murphy were the team's inspirational leaders, aided by Cheerleader Captains Denise Russ and Julie Selewacz, who supported the team in victory as well as in defeat.

From the early Brockton scrimmage at camp, to the final whistle against Belmont, the Coaches heaped praise on this squad for its relentless effort, its unyielding commitment, and its hard fought performances.

Raider fans were treated to thrilling upset victories in the final seconds against Walpole, Woburn, and Reading, highlighting the Raider tradition of battling to the end.

Individual honors:
Middlesex League All Stars: Captain Frank Dennison, Captain Dennis Murphy, and Costa Harbilas.
Shriner All Stars: Costa Harvilas
Boston Globe All Scholastic — Division One: Costa Harbilas.
Commitment, skill, pride and heart are the hallmarks of the 1984-1985 Watertown High School Golf Team. Guided by Coach James Travers, team members honed their competitive edge as they matched their skills with rivals in the Middlesex League. The team was led ably by Captain Michael Deignan. Mike distinguished himself and brought honor to his team when he was named to the Middlesex League All-Star Team. Seniors Glen Balian and Christopher Coveney, veteran members of this year’s golf team, worked hard to inspire the team and spur them on to victory. While the team’s overall record of six wins and five losses was short of qualifying for this year’s state tournament, every match was close and in most instances a mere one point decided the outcome.

The golf team’s diligence and record of success have earned them the privilege of playing at the Oakley Country Club, the Watertown High School home course. Working at the Oakley, sharing both victory and narrow defeat, Watertown players have built a team spirit in a sport where it is often the individual who is emphasized. This team spirit along with their collected efforts and the encouragement of their coach will carry Watertown’s players into competition in the fall of 1985.

Returning players evince great potential. Newly elected Captain Robert Kashian, next year’s seniors Paul Warren, James Magliozzi and Erik Avakian will fulfill the promise of a successful season. Juniors Richard Mancuso and sophomores Richard Francis and Jason Balian round out the team that already has set its sights on the 1985-1986 state tournament.
CROSS COUNTRY

The Watertown Hockey program is not only healthy, but it is one of the most respected and feared in the state of Massachusetts. Its past accomplishments are many, but the more recent one is perhaps the most memorable.

In 1983 Watertown qualified for the state tournament and bowed 5-4 to a mighty St. John’s team in the quarter-finals. In 1984, a thrilling sudden death overtime victory, 3-2, over Newton North, sent Watertown to its first Boston Garden appearance against perennial champion Matignon. The semi-final contest was won by Matignon 7-3. In 1985, it took two days for Watertown to finally succumb to Wakefield 5-4. Four overtimes left both squads mentally and physically drained.

With the passing of the 1984-85 season, many memorable games came to mind. Led by John Leitner in the nets, Watertown set out to defend its title. Chosen number one or two in the state all year long, Watertown played under great pressure, but always with poise and precision. After losing only to Wakefield and Winchester, Watertown won 16 games to successfully win the title of the Middlesex League again. Among the noteworthy games was a highly publicized Reading game at which Hockey Night in Boston cameras witnessed a sound 11-1 drubbing of Reading. Coach Umile’s team scored almost at will as Watertown left no doubt who the champions would be. Watertown clinched the title with four games remaining on the schedule as a well disciplined Melrose team took a 3-1 lead only to have Watertown storm back with four unanswered goals to clinch the title.

One of the saddest games of the year is always the last seasonal contest against arch-rival Belmont. It is the finale for seniors on both squads. This year was no different. However the atmosphere was a happy one as Watertown prevailed 8-1.

Coach Umile commented “We are very proud of our accomplishments on the ice, but I think Coach Gardiner and I are prouder of our players and cheerleaders for their academic accomplishments. Every one of our graduating seniors is enrolled in college, just as all of last year’s seniors were. We know how difficult it is to win the Championship and still maintain academic excellence. That means more to us than anything. Jack and I will always remember our players with affection and pride.”
The 1984-1985 Girls Basketball Team provided their fans with an exciting season. The girls' excellent attitudes, strong determination, and HUSTLE allowed the team to be competitive in each game and to win the respect of their opponents.

The efforts of the three seniors — Captain Heather Holmberg, Lesley Hanoian, and Tracey O’Neill can not be underestimated in appraising the success of this year's team, and appreciating the foundation that has been established for the future. These graduating seniors will always be a part of the improving Girls Basketball fortunes.

The seniors leave the beginning of a tradition and a responsibility that is being passed on to the returning varsity players — Co Captains Kim Iodice and Leslie Reilly, Sue Tavares, Maureen Supple, Sandy Missakian, Kara Romanelli and a fine junior varsity squad. The key will be the willingness of the underclasswomen to put forth the off season effort, time and dedication to improve their basketball skills.

To the seniors — The juniors, sophomores, freshman and coaches — wish you happiness and a good life. We will miss you.

TO ALL — "Be the Best of Whatever You Can Be."
GIRLS BASKETBALL

BOYS BASKETBALL
The 1984-85 season proved to be a struggle for the Red Raider basketball team. The squad met a host of highly talented teams, but played well and was rarely out of a game. Although the 3-17 record didn’t show a successful season, there were many bright spots this year. Forward Greg Murphy led the league in scoring and Seniors Hunt, Gingola and Tolajian played surprisingly well. Although there were many disappointments, this season was a rewarding one for the Raider team and their fans.
GIRLS INDOOR TRACK
BOYS INDOOR TRACK

Led by seniors Bob Gagnon, Dan Beattie, John Paine, George Tsekrekas, and Captain Matt Woods, the team managed three League All-Stars: George Tsekrekas, Bob Gagnon and John Paine. These three boys also placed in the All-Class meet and All-State meet, and just missed qualifying for the Easterns.

Despite the individual successes, the team as a whole did not fare as well, finishing the season with a record of zero wins and nine losses.
It's not whether you win or lose it's how you play the game.

Although this year's Girls Tennis Team did not have a "winning" season, it did however have a "successful" season. Tennis is an individual sport and members of the team worked very hard, improved their games tremendously and always challenged their opponents with a healthy attitude. Leading the team were tri-captains: Nikki Karafotis, Lisa Barsoomian and Dawn MacCauley. Other senior members include: Sandy Altieri, Lesley Hanoian, Tina Choo, Angela Bayaitees and Missy Romanelli. The "Class of '85" wishes next year's team the best of luck for a winning season.
Tennis

There is much to be said about the 1985 Watertown Varsity Tennis Team. Four years ago, a man by the name of Frank DeMascio saw a basketball game going on down at Victory Field. Since it was tennis season and he basically had no team, he walked over to them with a new gleam in his eyes. Mr. DeMascio saw that the eight “basketball” players were very athletic, so it was then that he brilliantly began their transition to tennis players.

Four years later, after constant dedication and enthusiasm from Coach DeMascio, the tennis team rose to the occasion for the first time in almost 20 years. The varsity team finished with an 11-7 record in the extremely strong Middlesex League and qualified for the renowned State Tournament, which is a feat in itself. The most remarkable thing about the team is that they all play only two months out of the year, and have no ranked players, whereas, mostly every other team that qualified had New England ranked players who played all year round. Watertown reached the States by beating Wakefield, avenging a previous tournament loss to this town in hockey, in the last match of the regular season. In the States, Watertown lost to the 13-2 Weston squad in a tough match.

Finally, here is a run-down of the starting seven for the 1985 tennis team. First singles — John Khoozian — John is a strong player with aggressive topspin groundstrokes. He was also selected to the Globe Honorable Mention All-Star team. Second singles — Mark Khoozian — Mark seemingly wins on his ability or his quickness and a potent forehand. Third singles — Tim Dutty — Tim is a very balanced player with much determination to win and great accuracy in his consistent volleys. First doubles — Chris McKenna/Mike Tola — Ian/Steve Kashian — Chris and Mike’s key to winning was their perspective attitudes. When they came to win, they usually did so. Mike broke his thumb midway through the season, so Steve picked up the slack in an honorable fashion. Second doubles — Mike Venezia/Rich Kashian — Mike and Rich played together for all four years, which enabled them to get to know each other thoroughly, and in turn they won most of their matches. Mike and Rich were also selected to the Globe-Honorable Mention All-Star team. There you have it for the successful Tennis Team ’85. Congratulations are in order for a job well done.
SOFTBALL

The spring is here which means that Spring Sports are here, which includes Softball. Girl’s Softball started its tryouts on March 18, and results of the tryouts were in on March 29. The tryouts were a success, though they didn’t have a particularly good year last year, they are hoping that this year will be a great one.

The coaches of this year’s softball team are Head Coach Mr. Travers, Junior Varsity coach Mr. Coutinho, and Freshman coach Mr. Gardner.

Some of this year’s defensive strategies are pitching Paula Nevins, Laura Grillo, Amy Sullivan, and Jennifer York who is a utility player. Watertown’s outfield is showing their abilities with Karen McNeil in right field, Lauren Haggerty and Janet O’Neil in center field, and Kim Iodice in left field.

Sophomore Wendy Power is giving all she has at Third Base and is doing a fine job on the Varsity level.

Next to her is another sophomore, Heather Stuckey, at shortstop. She has excellent athletic ability, all she needs is a little experience which she has plenty of time to get.

At second base is sophomore Debbie Butler. This is Debbie’s first year with the program and is proving herself very well.

Sophomore Sandra Missakian has taken over the job at first base. This is a new position for Sandy but she has showed Coach Travers that she can handle the job.

Senior Kathleen Burke is the power hitter for Watertown, because of her hitting ability she is a DH.

Behind the plate we have junior Tina Ricci, and sophomore Kathi Morrison. Although Ricci has more experience, Morrison knows what she’s doing. Both do an excellent job controlling the infield.

The team has worked hard all season to improve themselves, and it is paying off. The team is putting more of an effort and the results are much better.

The players are being moved around to try new positions to build up a strong defense. The players are confident in working very hard, and most of all they are having a great time.

Sitting: Debbie Butler, Kim Iodice, Jen York, Janet O’Neil (Co-Capt.), Kathleen Burke (Co-Capt.), Wendy Power, Heather Stukey
With low numbers, but some high quality, the boy’s track team is cautiously optimistic about the season with the carry-over from the indoor season. The team has a chance in four meets. With a win over Wakefield already, and shots at Burlington, Melrose, and Belmont, the team is led by a strong seven group of Dan Beattie, George Tsekrekas, John Paine, Bob Gagnon, Frand Dennison, Dennis Murphy, Dave Grace, and Matt Woods. There are four potential All Stars and state qualifiers on this team. We are very happy with the dedication and enthusiasm of our club.
1985 GIRLS OUTDOOR TRACK
The Girl's Outdoor Track Team was earmarked by hard work and dedication. Led by Senior Co-Captains Noreen Nadeau and Susan Martinez, these girls improved with every week of the season. The girls carried their enthusiasm to Oliver Ames High School for the State Relay Meet, there Susan Tavares, Tara Kelly and Cathy Martinez set a state record of 314' in the Javelin. In the triple jump led by junior Cheryl Maloney along with Kara Romanelli and Laura Kalayjian the girls finished 3rd. In Shot Put Sophomore Zoy Zarkadas and Junior Beth Dacey along with Senior Jean St. Onge also finished 3rd. In the Spring Medley led by Junior runner Leslie Reilly, Cheryl Maloney, Jean St. Onge and Laura Kalayjian the girls finished 6th.

Continuing to improve the team carried its talents through the Middlesex League, highlighted against Belmont when Junior Cheryl Maloney shattered her own school record in both the triple jump and long jump.

Moving into Individual State Meet competition -- Cheryl Maloney finished third and Zoy Zarkadas finished 1st place in the Shot Put. As the League All-Star meet approached the team again sensed a winning edge. Sophomore Jean Minnelli finished 5th in low hurdles. Junior Beth Dacey earned 5th place in the Shot Put. Leslie Reilly finished 4th in 400 meters, Susan Tavares finished 3rd in the Javelin, Zoy Zarkadas finished 2nd in the Shot Put, and Cheryl Maloney won 1st place in the Long Jump, setting yet another record with a Jump of 17'3".

For the future the coaches would again like to have a year like 1985 and are optimistic about the team's chances, of course the graduating seniors will be difficult to replace along with their winning attitude.

Students often learn effectively from other students with whom they can easily relate. This is one of the concepts behind the Peer Leadership Program run by Watertown High School and the Watertown Multi-Service Center. The program trains high school students to teach seventh graders about drugs, drinking and decision making. The peer leaders engage junior high students in lively discussions around the use and abuse of drugs and alcohol and explore with them how young people make responsible decisions.
The Thomas Blake Award for School Involvement was presented to the 1984-85 Cum Laude-National Honor Societies. The members of the societies have an obligation to assist their community. To this end, this year's members participated in the American Red Cross Blood Drive and the Watertown Senior Citizen's Christmas Dinner.

A second priority for the group is to be leaders in their school. The members of the societies assisted in the arena scheduling, tutored youngsters and acted as aides at Parent's Night.

Watertown High school is one of the few public high schools to hold a charter in the Cum Laude Society. To be elected to the Society one must be academically talented.

Election to the National Honor Society is based on four criteria — scholarship, leadership, service and character. Juniors and seniors selected for membership in the societies must at all times continue to fulfill these qualities.
At Right: National Honor members at the Blood drive in April.

Cheerful, resourceful, imaginative and tireless, they check your passes, your books and magazines, they thread the films you watch in the viewing room and set up the video cassettes you watch in your classrooms. They repair torn pages and torn film; they clean library tables and the heads of tape recorders. They book films and film books. In short, they service and circulate the basic forms of communication you use for learning.

We, the staff of the Library Media Department, are grateful for the hours of service they have given to all of us.

Thank you! — from Mr. Flores, Mrs. Boyce, Mrs. Clark, Mr. Napolitano, Miss Sproul, Mr. Whyte.

The Distributive Education program at W.H.S. is designed to prepare students for either business college or future employment in the fields of marketing and distribution. The skills learned are practical and useable in future employment. The D.E.C.A. Club enables the students to participate in employment workshops within the school and at various locations held in the other locations.

Tri-Hi-Y is a service organization made up of Juniors and Seniors, who throughout the year help with projects that benefit both the high school and Watertown. Outstanding among this year’s activities were the annual Thanksgiving Day food donations, the new Toys for Tots Fund, the Christmas party for the prevocational class, Carnation Day, and the Winter Carnival. Town organizations also called upon Tri-Hi-Y to help with senior citizen parties, and elementary school outings. Tri-Hi-Y remains, with the enthusiastic support of its members, a successful school club that gives students an opportunity to serve both their school and town.
ARMENIAN CLUB

Watertown High School's Armenian Club had a very successful year. The club sponsored activities such as Armenian cultural Day (which enhances Armenian dancing, music, food and slides), bake sales and fund raising to promote scholarships. End of the year festivities include a club breakfast to honor our seniors and a roller skating night out. The Armenian club's purpose is to bring Armenian youth together to perpetuate the language and culture.

Officers include:
President: Silvy Seradarian
Vice President: Martin Haroutunian
Secretary: Zovig Jilian
Treasurer: Sofia Soukiasian
Advisors: Aline Stepanian, Tamar Yeretzian, Alisa Nalbandian, Hagop Fouroujian, Sarkis Minassian

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year's Council has been extremely active within the school as well as in the community. Some of the Council's activity included assisting in Watertown's 10 km Road Race, sponsoring school dances, helping Watertown's needy families at Thanksgiving by assembling food baskets with money raised from the annual Thanksgiving Drive, participating in Student Government Day (members of Student Council took authoritative positions in the Town Hall and actually ran the town for a day), fundraising to promote scholarship and recognizing the teaching staff at WHS by organizing a "Teacher Appreciation Day."

The eighteen member council is composed of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors and is an organization that caters to the needs and gripes of the entire student body. This year a number of salient issues were brought before the Council. In one case, the Council was effective in voicing student opinions on the midyear exams were administered, resulting in a revision of policy.

First row: Janet O'Neill, Lisa Barsoumian (President), Susan Amatangelo (Parliamentarian), Kathleen Burke, Kellie Gildea (Vice President), Kristy Lesczczak (Secretary). STUDENTS AGAINST DRUNK DRIVING

This year a new group was established at Watertown High school. Students Against Drunk Driving, better known as S.A.D.D., is a national organization formed by concerned students. The students know the fatal accidents which arise when students drink and drive. Hundreds of chapters have developed, across the states.

In the hopes of increasing awareness to this deadly problem, W.H.S. is now privileged to be a member of this life-saving group.

Consisting of 5 members, the students felt their small number was a great asset in achieving their goals. Under the guidance of Ms. Tassinari, these 5 put together a stimulating program. Their first project in public awareness was a poster contest. They gave away a free limo ride to the prom as a prize. Overall, their most rewarding experience and accomplishment arose when they held the first S.A.D.D. Day at W.H.S.

Each member was in charge of a specific task. Sally Vanerian and Marietta Vassiliadis researched and received much information from national groups. This was very beneficial, because it provided a foundation on which the group could build. Nancy Hunt provided our guest speakers for S.A.D.D. Day and also contributed many hours of research.

The group would not have survived, though, if it had not been for the dedication and teamwork of Christine Iuliano and Christos Kandaras. These two coordinated the contest and the S.A.D.D. Day itself. Both worked many hours planning meetings, gathering information and essentially keeping the group united.

It was a great job by all. The group hopes their efforts will aid in the continuation of a S.A.D.D. chapter at W.H.S.
Throughout the year in the outdoors course, students participate in activities such as mountain climbing, canoeing, orienteering, hiking, technical rock climbing and most important: building self-confidence.

Mr. Hirtle has taught everything from photography, geometry, industrial arts to the Outdoors class in his thirty-six years in the Watertown Schools. Mr. Hirtle was a member of the 10th Mountain Division during World War II. This elite group of special combat forces fought in the mountains of Northern Italy. He has served as chairman of the Mountain Leadership Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club. He has led many groups into New Hampshire's White Mountains. In the last fourteen years, he founded and taught the Outdoors Course in the Watertown Schools. He has successfully attempted to share his love and respect for the mountains and the great outdoors with the students of Watertown High.

... Bert has challenged us on so many occasions. He opened our eyes from the tops of mountains. He has led us through blinding snowstorms and through forests in the dead of night. He has pointed out Bald Eagles by day and the stars by night. He has shown us how far our limits can be stretched. He taught us more about ourselves than we ever knew. Thank you Bert, from all of us.

The Watertown High School Biology Club Ocean Explorers made a spring expedition to the Everglades National Park and the Florida Keys with a stop at Epcot Center on route. They saw alligators and rare land snails in the Everglades and new technology and SCUBA diving. The group observed coral reefs and the multitudinous organisms that live in association with them. A huge four foot barracuda was seen. At night they hunted the beautiful but elusive Cowry Snails in the shallow shoreline areas. The group raised all of their own money and prepared well by means of regular meetings and check-out sessions to practice skills.

The trip was coordinated by science chairman George Buckley with chemistry teacher Allan Arena as assistant. The group was led by president Matt DiSanzo, vice-president Brian O'Regan and treasurer John Jay Giordano Jr.

The Watertown High School Band, known as the "Red Raider Marching Band," has 50 playing musicians and 20 young ladies of the Color Guard this year.

This group of 70 high school artists spends two weeks prior to the opening of school in the fall working on music, drill and show design in preparation for a very busy football, competition and parade season during the months of September, October, November and December.

In the 1984 fall season they performed at 10 football half-time shows, 6 New England Scholastic Band Competitions, the "Finals" of N.E.S.B.A., the Discover Watertown Festival, the Belmont Anniversary parade and the Nonantum Children’s Christmas parade. They played also for the Canadian Cultural Exchange in March and will finish the year with the annual Memorial Day Parade.

The band members and their instructors spend many hours together, day after day, improving their "show" for competitions. Their hard work is reflected in the many trophies they have captured. Their intense self discipline, reflected in their reaching for excellence, is a significant ingredient in the positive development of each one of these young adults.

Students involved in the band program at Watertown High School learn cooperation, responsibility, good work habits, and the value that practice has in improving one’s abilities. Their final enrichment is that of having been a part of a successful worthwhile endeavor. This is an experience that will enrich their lives.

"Sail On"

(Commodores)

Sail on down the line
'Bout a half a mile or so
Oh, don't really want to know
Where you're going.
Maybe once or twice
You see time after time I tried
To hold on to what we've got
But now you're going.

And I don't mind 'bout the things
you're gonna say Lord
I gave all my money and my time
I know it's a shame
But I'm giving you back your name yeah yeah
Yes, I'll be on my way
I won't be back to stay
I guess I'll move along
I'm looking for a good time.

Sail on down the line
Ain't it funny how the time can go
Oh the men say they told me so
But it doesn't matter
It was plain to see that a small time boy like me
Just wasn't your cup of tea
It was wishful thinking.

I gave you my heart
And I tried to make you happy
And you gave me nothin' in return
You know it ain't so hard to say
Would you please just go away yeah yeah
I've thrown away the blues
I'm tired of being used
I want everyone to know
I'm looking for a good time, good time
Oh, oh sail on honey, good times never felt so good
Sail on honey, good times never felt so good.
Sail on Sugar, good times never felt so good.
Sail on.
Fellow classmates, teachers, administrators, school committee members, parents, relatives, and friends,

I welcome all of you who are here today. On behalf of the Watertown High School Class of 1985, I welcome you to our celebration of the past and future. We are gathered here to say farewell to the last four years and to greet the next four, the next forty. We are here to reminisce and to dream, to celebrate the life we are leaving and the one we are entering. We are here to celebrate the ending of one responsibility and the beginning of another, much greater, one. We are here, in essence, to graduate into adulthood.

There is a certain romantic quality to all of this. Now that they're over, we can more fully appreciate our high school years. It doesn't seem so long ago that we were fresh out of junior high, dwarfed by the high school building and the students inside, jealous of their familiarity with the place and each other. Since then we have grown together and become a class, not just a random group of individuals, connected only by age. Our lives are intertwined now, what one does affects all. After four years we can hardly help it. In a sense we have become fused into a single conglomerate individual — the class of '85.

We will remember much about our years here; and we have not yet even assimilated all that has happened. So much has occurred that it seems hard to believe that all of it happened to us. But in the months and years to come, we will remember, and in the process realize what a good time it really was.

We will remember at least some of what we learned in class, and we will remember our favorite teachers and subjects, and our least favorite. We will remember falling in the courtyard during lunch, we will remember getting another cup of coffee at three in the morning to keep awake just for two more pages of a term paper. We will remember the dances, the athletics, the concerts, the parties. We will remember counting down the weeks, the days, and finally the hours until our last day of school. And we will long remember the jubilation of this day.

But while our experiences are relegated to memories, we retain what we will longest recall, our friendships. We will remember those free periods when we sat in the library or cafeteria, doing absolutely nothing tangible. "Do something useful," some teacher walking through would hiss; but we were doing something useful — we were talking, we were laughing, crying, we were growing, we were preparing for our futures in perhaps a better way than any class could have done. We were planning and hoping, worrying and caring and in the process matur ing. Four years ago we had a lot of people we knew. Now, we have friends.

At any rate, one thing is clear: we cannot blame the future on the past. We have been blessed. We have now a great opportunity — more, an obligation — to spread that blessing. For the past is over, and it is the future that we must deal with. It is pleasant to remember, but we must not allow nostalgic memories to dominate our reality. Instead we must shape reality to our demands. The future is indeed open, but it is not so automatically rosy. It is up to us. We are entering a world now that doesn't care that we are the class of '85, the next wave of the best and brightest. If anything we will be looked down upon for that. We are young, even naive — we are not fully prepared for life. Only living will accomplish that — and thus it is our duty to ensure that we will have a lot of living left to do. We have a duty to our future and to our legacy.

We are going to have to face the issues which before we could get away with not caring about; we cannot now afford indifference. Whether for better or worse, we will have a responsibility to be informed about the world we will eventually inherit. We will have to take a stand on our values: on abortion, on racism, on sexism, on hunger, on poverty. We will have to recognize our nuclear armaments not as 'peacekeepers' but as 'life threatening', and work to avert Armaegeddon. We will have to recognize the fact that if the United States wages war in Central America, it is our generation that will be doing the fighting, and that all the heroes of the armchair warriors will not lessen the suffering of the young. And we will have to recognize that if this country can see the brutal racial domination of South Africa and still react, then there is something wrong. And when something must be done, it is we who will have to do it.

The last four years have not been the last difficult times we will have, but they have been the last easy times. Like it or not, we will have to decide what kind of place we want our America to be. And if we want to be remembered as people who cared for more than themselves, as a class who wanted more for all, who wanted to share the blessings they had received, who wanted to be patriots for humanity, we will have to dedicate ourselves to a better future for our country and our world.

Before, we were young. We could sit in the courtyard without a care; we could watch MTV instead of the news. But now, while we are still young, we have in a sense gained a thousand years this day. For we are adults now. It is a sobering thought, but it is a sobering task that has been handed us. The future is now in our collective care. Let us hope and pray and above all work to make that future a bright one — to help this nation and world to live up to the idealism and the dreams that humanity has always had. It is our turn now. It is up to us.
Graduation
Dr. O'Connor, Dr. Hall, faculty, school committee, parents, relatives and friends of Watertown High, Class of 1985.

First of all, I would like to roll out the red carpet and welcome the class of 1985 to a new position in life. We will soon be passing into a new era filled with different goals and expanding opportunities. We are closing the doors of our high school days, but new doors will be opening for us to pursue.

Second, I would like to stress the importance of having goals. We must try to attain the security and happiness that rightfully belongs to us. Success is not something that we should foresee as always being ten or fifteen years down the road. We must act now, always remembering that success is whatever you want it to be.

The Spanish painter Francisco Goya once said, "The sleep of reason breeds monsters." There is no need to aim for the unobtainable dream. Take each day one step at a time but get the most you can out of it. We can all contribute something of ourselves to society. With the proper focus we will be able to apply our acquired knowledge to our daily ambitions, and, as a result, we may capture the vast opportunities that indeed await us.

Knowledge is the spark that enables us to reach our goals; goals which are the fires that flare within us. When the fire does not burn any longer, or when the goal is reached; smoke is the resultant. Smoke that was initiated by thousands of sparks, or by that knowledge gained from many different sources; smoke that signifies the accomplishment of a particular goal; the smoke that translates into the fruits of all our labor, which are the well deserved rewards for acquiring our goals step by step, day by day, never giving up. Unfortunately, when a person no longer has goals in sight, he or she will be lacking a needed incentive. So we must set new goals obtainable by the addition of more daily knowledge in order to spark the fire once again.

In closing, I would like to direct a piece of writing from the great lyricist/musician Bob Dylan to the class of 1985:

"May God bless and keep you always
May your wishes all come true
May you always do for others
And let others do for you
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung
May you stay Forever Young"

"May your hands always be busy
May your feet always be swift
May you have a strong foundation
When the winds of changes shift
May your heart always be joyful
May your song always be sung"

May you stay Forever Young."

Thank you

SAMUEL JOHNSON
Through the years, a yearbook becomes a treasured possession in everyone's personal book collection. Your annual will help you to reflect, reminisce, and remember those "Best of Times" when we were all part of Watertown High School. Although the years will come and go, the photos, names, and writeups on these pages will keep fresh the times we shared together that someday we can talk about at a class reunion.

I would like to acknowledge the hard work, dedication and creative input of the many people responsible for the 1985 annual. From the concept on through the execution to the culminating point of the final printing, the yearbook was a joint effort of students, faculty, staff, advisor and patrons. A special thank you to my very gifted and talented editor Joey Schiel who spent countless hours overseeing and working on this project, giving of her time and expertise. My gratitude to a past Watertown High School graduate of 1984, Matthew Tavares, who last year as an annual staff member was an important member of our team and who returned this year to lend a much needed hand. Our appreciation is extended to Mrs. Hannon and Mrs. Samaria, faculty members, who were there to aide me and my staff with their time and work.

As faculty advisor, the position has offered me a unique opportunity to work closely with the graduating class and to guide and nurture them in developing a book of quality, talent, and pride. It has been a most rewarding and enlightening experience for which we are all a little richer.
