A REFLECTION OF YOUTH

Once upon a time of life, when we were all young and free,
There was a feeling of spontaneity and optimism.
Tender in nature but tenacious in will,
We were determined to change the world to a better creation — to breathe, to absorb, to live.
Eyes were ponderous, searching in our own way, to solve unanswered questions.
Unique in our own beauty and individuality
We all wore the same heart of gold. We dared to reach forward to unknown skies,
And to challenge the forces of impatience. We weren't afraid to face our feelings,
We expressed our fears, hopes, doubts, and dreams. We touched the souls of our "Persona Grata."
As another memorable year passes by, a familiar face will be joining the departing senior class. Dr. Joseph Bannon will end his career at the Watertown High School after serving more than thirty-seven years in the school system, the last twenty as Assistant Headmaster.

Dr. Bannon began working for the Watertown School System in April of 1951 as a replacement shop teacher of woodworking for boys in the sixth grade. After serving one year in the Korean War, he returned to Watertown to teach Mechanical Drawing and Woodworking at the high school. He took numerous courses and received degrees from prestigious universities, focusing on teaching and administration. On Sept. 1, 1968, he became the Assistant Headmaster.

During his years at the high school, Dr. Bannon enjoyed working with teenagers the most. He loves his work and tries to help students by pointing out other alternatives to their problems. As a strong believer in today's youth, he feels that people should be more aware that kids need additional support and understanding on academic and social natures.

Other than his work at the high school, Dr. Bannon has been the president of the former Central Little League of Watertown for fifteen years. He is currently a member of the Licensing Board of Watertown and the treasurer of the Watertown Teacher's Association for more than eighteen years. His family is responsible for creating a trust fund, in the memory of his son, Paul. He is proud to present the Paul Bannon Scholarship each year to an outstanding graduating senior from the WHS. His positive outlook and enthusiasm are reflected in his leadership and guidance.

Dr. Bannon feels that it is time for him to move on. He is excited with the future and has a myriad of things to do. He may even build a house one day for he is a union carpenter.

Looking back at the years, Dr. Bannon is satisfied with his work at the high school. He is proud of his staff and students. He remarks, "I feel that I gave this place a pretty good shot of Joe Bannon."
TO THE CLASS OF 1988

As Headmaster of Watertown High School, it is my privilege to congratulate each of you on successfully completing twelve years of education and earning your high school diploma. Although we recognize that it is your accomplishment, we hope and believe you will be able to credit W.H.S. for assisting you in your efforts to graduate. No one can guarantee future success for you. But, as you can attest by looking back, applying yourself rather than hoping for good luck is a more effective mode of operation. We urge you to continue the quest for more knowledge, whether you go on to school or not. Learning can be a stimulating and fulfilling part of life and, most people believe, it is necessary for the truly happy life.

Enjoy this wonderful yearbook. And in the future, we stand ready to help you, if we can, just as we hope you will help us.

Best wishes —

Sincerely,

Dr. Manson P. Hall
Headmaster
Best Wishes to Class of 1988

The last two years went by so quickly, yet so many experiences were encountered. We enjoyed the fun times: the dances, athletic events, etc. The prom, banquet, and graduation contain the stuff of which memories are made. However, I'll remember the small times: the day-to-day process of getting to know you. Yes, there were times of tears and confrontation, but somehow life would work its way out, as long as we were willing to work at it.

Whatever life has in store, keep your enthusiasm high and work at it. I'll miss you, I love you and I wish you the best.

The Watertown Field Hockey team had a spectacular season. The team consisted of seniors — Lauren Hegarty, Julie Mandile, Marlene Demerdjian, Valerie Bayiates, Andrea Colacito, Nancy Clay, Sarah Kelley, Martina Deanne, Amy Cataruzolo, Geralyn Finn, juniors — Cathy Mastroianni, Kelly Khozozian, Sandy LaVache, Sophia Geragonis, Susie Hauswirth, Debbie Smith, sophomores — Cathy Guden, Joanna Rudelevige, Valerie. The two co-captains were Julie Mandile and Lauren Hegarty. From the beginning of the season, the players concentrated on each practice and game one day at a time. They were concerned with the present, without worrying about the future. With this type of attitude, the team went midway through the season with a record of 6-1-2, first in the Middlesex League. From this point, the team started to learn to work as one group on the field instead of several groups. They felt comfortable and confident playing with each other. The players were eager to finish the season with a strong performance. Each game whether they won or lost the game, was a learning experience. With their strong effort, the players finished with a record of 13-2-3, and captured the Middlesex League Championship.

In terms of statistics, Watertown scored the most goals in the Middlesex League with 44 goals; Cathy Guden was first with 21 points, Julie Mandile was third with 18 points, and Cathy Mastroianni was sixth with 14 points. In addition, Watertown allowed the fewest amount of goals in the Middlesex League with 8 goals. The starting defense consisted of halfbacks — Valerie Bayiates, Lauren Hegarty, Andrea Colacito, fullbacks — Kelly Khozozian, Debbie Smith, goalie — Marlene Demerdjian.

Also, the team had three Middlesex League All-stars in Cathy Guden — MVP of Middlesex League, Lauren Hegarty, and Julie Mandile. In addition, Cathy Guden was selected to the Globe All-Scholastic Field Hockey Team.

In tournament play, Watertown got a bye in the first round. In the quarter finals, Watertown defeated Triton 2-1. Watertown scored first on a penalty stroke by Lauren Hegarty. In the second half, Triton scored early to make the score 1-1. This tie didn’t last long as Cathy Guden scored off a rebound to make the score 2-1. To insure the lead, Kelly Khozozian consistently cleared the ball out of Watertown’s defensive end.

In the semi-final round, Watertown defeated Marblehead 3-0. In the second half, Watertown started playing with more aggressiveness and intensity. Susie Hauswirth sent a cross pass to Cathy Mastroianni who belted the ball in to make the score 1-0. The next goal was scored by Cathy Guden who got her own rebound on a shot and slipped the ball into the net. The final goal was scored by Sophia Geragonis.

In the Division 2 Final round, Watertown defeated Lynnfield 1-0, becoming the Division 2 North Champions. In the second half on a corner hit, Susie Hauswirth centered a pass to Kelly Khozozian who blasted a high shot past the Lynnfield goalie. Throughout the game, Lynnfield had several offensive chances. However, Watertown’s team would not let them score. The team played with extreme determination. Watertown’s goalie, Marlene Demerdjian, made several sensational saves throughout the game.

In the State semi-final round, Watertown lost to Quaboag 2-1. Quaboag scored two goals early, but Watertown fought back with a smash by Kelly Khozozian who was assisted by Valerie Bayiates. From this point on, Quaboag played a very defensive and skillful game. Throughout the game, Watertown never quit and showed why their field hockey team has been successful. The team plays with a tremendous amount of confidence, determination, hustle, and most importantly, teamwork.

The Watertown High School Golf Team compiled a record of 4-7 in a highly competitive Middlesex League. This record, however, is by no means a reflection of the type of season the team enjoyed. Though not a league-leading power, the team earned the respect of both coaches and players of opposing teams for its tenacity, conduct and superior sense of sportsmanship.

Under the guidance of coach Jim Travers, this year's team displayed considerable improvement. With many young and inexperienced players joining the team, the prospect of a successful season seemed uncertain. Yet, with the encouragement of coach Travers and the older players, the newcomers additionally complemented a previously talented team.

The team is led by senior, Captain Rich Francis. Francis played consistently well this season in both league matches and tournaments. Talented, Senior Jason Balian added leadership and is instrumental in helping the team. Seniors Bob McCaffrey and Ed Minasian supported the team with consistent efforts and fine individual records. Building upon the experience of previous years, all of the seniors guided the team throughout the entire season.

The team boasted perhaps the strongest list of juniors in the league. Ryan Hanna developed into a first-rate player and was chosen to lead the team next year. Andy Deignan and John Forte developed their potential and combined to defeat even the toughest opponents. Newcomers Rick Currier and Chris McDonald, both juniors, have proven that they can meet the challenge of any opponent, of course. Finally, the team gained a pleasant surprise by the addition of Mike Arone. Only a Freshman, his natural ability and fine instincts make him an exciting prospect for the future.

Perhaps the highlight of this year was the natural blending that occurred between the veterans and the younger players. This year's team showed a unique ability to combine teamwork and individuality. In the Middlesex League All-Star Tournament, Rich Francis, Ryan Hanna, and Chris McDonald placed respectively. Both in match and tournament play, the team was a credit to their school.

All home matches and practices were made possible by the generosity of Oakley Country Club. Through the use of their fine facilities, the team was able to develop and gain confidence. Although the record does not indicate a successful season, the friendships and experiences of the year 1987-1988 golf season make it one to remember.

1987 RED RAIDERS FOOTBALL

In most pre-season polls, the 1987 Red Raider football team had the dubious distinction of being picked to finish its season near the "bottom of the barrel."

The scrappy Raiders proved that the pollsters didn't have their information correct as the team fought its way to a 4-5-1 record to finish fifth overall in the ten team Middlesex League race.

Rusty Bigelow, Mark Crupi, and Mike King were the inspirational Captains of this extremely hard-working squad which, though heavily outweighed in every contest, battled their opponents for every inch.

The coaches were especially proud of the fifteen seniors who gave a Championship effort from the first day of Camp to Thanksgiving day.

Middlesex League All star: Rusty Bigelow
Honorable Mention: Mark Crupi, Michael King, Kenny Knell, Derek Tucker.

CROSS COUNTRY 1987

This year's Boy's and Girl's Cross Country teams enjoyed competitive seasons thanks in large part to a strong squad of returning veterans and a talented group of underclassmen.

Co-Captains Ray Davidian and Chris Giogas led the boy's squad which finished the season with a record of 1 win and 8 losses. Seniors Tony D'Aloisio and Scott Evans were regular scorers and were supported by junior members Steve McEvoy and David Smith. Freshman members Scott Coutts, David Masciari, Fred Camell, and Mike Walczak showed great promise and will be regular contributors next year.

Despite small members, the Girl's Cross Country team showed improvement and promise.

Captains Tony Basile and Arlin Dermouses were joined by promising underclassmen Susan Meagher and Diane Smith. The hard work these girls put in resulted in improved times and rewarding personal bests by season's end.

The 1987 Red Raider Soccer season was a success for the team, even if it did not show itself directly in the standings. In the powerful Middlesex League the Watertown booters displayed a homefield tenacity which made Filippello Park a most hated destination for almost all of our rivals. Highlights of the season included the dramatic upset victory at Reading, a stunning comeback at Stoneham, and the many thrilling games at home against the likes of Wakefield and Lexington which were both decided in the closing minutes. The Red Raiders refused to throw in the towel, they never said die, they always stood tall, and held their heads high. Francis Barsoumian and Anto Aboyan's Captain's leadership, as well as their spirit and hard work of all the Seniors, will greatly be missed next year.
GIRLS' BASKETBALL
This year's girls' basketball team, led by Denise (Nuggets) Nugent, consisted of three seniors, two juniors, five sophomores, and two freshmen. The team suffered a rough start with the loss of senior Michelle Dawson to a knee injury and also sophomore Cathy Guden who suffered a thumb injury from a tournament field hockey game. They had some close games during the first half of the season but managed a record of only three wins and six losses. Things changed in the season's second half, however, and their desire came through. Senior captains Amy Barry and Marlene Demerdjian helped pull the team together as a unit and the return of Cathy Guden topped it all off. The girls' hard work and determination brought about a second half record of six wins and only three losses. The girls defeated Winchester, Melrose, Burlington, Reading, Stoneham, and Lexington. Seniors Amy and Marlene each averaged seven points per game. Junior Kelly Khozozian averaged a valuable thirteen points and eleven rebounds per game. Sophomore Cathy Guden, after her return, averaged fourteen points and ten rebounds per game. Kelly and Cathy were top rebounders in the league.

The Raiders were proud to be represented by Amy Barry, All-Star Kelly Khozozian, and All-Star Cathy Guden who were all chosen to play in the Middlesex League All-Star game. The highlight of the game was when Kelly Khozozian was named the Middlesex League MVP All-Star 1988. The girls should be congratulated for their accomplishments this year and for a job well done. Good luck to next year's squad.

BOYS BASKETBALL 1987-88 SEASON

The 1987-88 season proved to be one of the most successful in Watertown High School Boys Basketball history as the team compiled an 18-4 record and gained a berth in the State Tournament for the first time in fifteen years.

The team opened the season with an impressive 58-27 victory at Woburn and never looked back, as they racked up victory after victory enroute to a perfect 9-0 record. Highlights of the first nine games included 20 point wins over Winchester and Wakefield as well as the Watertown Holiday Tournament championship over Malden. Senior captain Jim Pierrakos was named MVP of the tournament and captain Ray Davidian was selected to the All Tournament Team.

After back to back losses at Lexington and Belmont, the team rolled up three consecutive victories to raise their record to 12-2. The twelfth win, a 60-45 win over Winchester gave the Raiders their first State Tournament berth since 1973. The Raiders received key performances from seniors Mark McGrath, Barry Fanara and Rich Grant during these three straight victories.

The Raiders received another setback with a 77-68 loss to Melrose, but this would be the last loss of the regular season as the team rolled to five straight victories to finish the regular season with a 17-3 record and a second place finish in the Middlesex League.

The highlight of the regular season was a 62-57 overtime win over Lexington. After losing at Lexington by an 83-52 score early in the year, the team felt that they had something to prove and turned in their finest performance of the season by defeating the Minutemen who were ranked number one in the state. Seniors Jim Pierrakos, Mike Timperio, Derek Tucker and junior Brian Carroll all turned in great performances to lead the team to victory.

The Raiders won the first round game in the State Tournament with an impressive 72-51 victory over Winthrop in Watertown. Jim Pierrakos led the way with 25 points and Mike Timperio added 16. The season came to an end in the second round of the tournament at Dom Savio who went on to win the Division 2 North Championship. Watertown held a 26-20 halftime lead, but foul trouble hurt the Raiders in the second half and they came up on the short end of a 65-52 score.

The hard work during the off season by the players proves to be the key to the great season. The team was led all year long by seniors Jim Pierrakos, Mike Timperio, Ray Davidian, Derek Tucker, Mark McGrath, Barry Fanara, Rich Grant and junior Brian Carroll. Pierrakos was selected to the All Middlesex League Team as well as being named a Boston Globe All Scholar. and finished his career at Watertown with 852 points and 578 rebounds. Timperio was also selected to the All Middlesex League Team and Davidian was selected to play in the Middlesex League All Star Game. The players and coaches can be proud of one of the best seasons in Watertown High School history.
The 1987-1988 Girls' Indoor Track season was highlighted by many strong efforts and personal best performances.

The team, led by seniors Lauren Hegarty, Megan MacFadgen, Julie Alarie and Toni Basile gained an important "year of experience" as many underclassmen showed steady progress and began to take their places in the strong Middlesex League.

The performances of juniors Cindy Potenza, Cathy Mastroianni, and Monika Walczak together with the steady improvement of a talented group of freshmen and sophomores lead Coach Sullivan to believe that next season could be a very competitive one.

WATERTOWN HIGH VARSITY HOCKEY

The Red Raiders compiled a record of five wins, eleven losses and two ties in a Middlesex League which sent four teams to the finals at the Boston Garden. The Raiders were led by Co-Captains Steve Kashian and Jim Dunleavy. Dunleavy was chosen Co-M.V.P. of the Raiders along with Steve Kashian. Steve Kashian was also selected the Middlesex League M.V.P. as well as the Scoring Champion with 48 overall points. Jim Dunleavy was the Raiders starting goaltender between the pipes, and played every game; he turned in stellar performances every game.

The Raiders received impressive performances from All Star Rich Francis with 25 points, John Burke was steady on defense, Dave Burns played right wing and was a steady asset, John Tirabassi made the transition to defense and was a big boost to the team effort. Shannon Daigle played on the power play.

The Raiders most impressive victories included a thrilling 6-2 victory over arch rival Belmont as well as victories over Wakefield, Winchester, and Burlington.

Next season looks promising for the Red Raiders. Underclassmen and Co-Captain Dave Smith and Co-Captain Bob Young will be the team leaders, along with Mike Loukas, Mike Tortorella, Brian Demore, Ryan Hanna and many others will keep the Red Raider pride as the Middlesex League powerhouse. Head Coach Jim Travers is looking forward to another successful season. This year's team is being exhorted by Coach Travers as the "Most Talented (academically)" as any team he has coached. He is very proud of his players selection of schools such as Rich Francis — Harvard, Steve Kashian — Bowdoin, Jim Dunleavy — Trinity, John Burke — Merrimack, and Shannon Daigle — Roger Williams. Good Luck to All.

Record = 2 wins and 11 losses.

Co-captains: Seniors — Martina Deanna and Amy Queander, Valerie Bizier and Andrea Colacito played varsity doubles and 3rd singles player Clara Rodrigues.
Junior Diane Berg played 2nd singles, and Sophia Geragonis played varsity doubles.
Sophomore varsity players were Claire Kotazpallonis, Jessica Leone and Alexandra Dileo who played doubles.
Freshman on the Varsity were: 1st singles player — Lauren Khozzian, and 3rd singles player — Carolyn Casey, Laura Queander, and Rhem Abdul-Messih, Erin Ryan played doubles. Pam Thomas.
The team was a young team and had many close matches. Coach was Mrs. Maryann Scali.

BOYS' TENNIS
This year's team was led by senior captain, Sarah Kelley and other seniors, Amy Barry, Michelle Dawson, Chris Drapeau, and Andrea Faherty. The team included three juniors: Carla Iannetta, Kelly Khozozian, and Cathy Mastroianni; three sophomores: Cathy Guden, Mary Lenaghan, and Laura Metcalf; and two freshmen: Jean Kelly and Desire McManus.

During the season, the team faced a tough Middlesex League. However the girls' competitive spirits drove them to play at their very best. The combination of Guden's pitching on the mound and Barry's catching at the plate was impressive. The defensive plays of the infielders, Faherty, Dawson, Khozozian, and Kelly, were super. The outfield of Kelley, Drapeau, and Mastroianni was played well. The bench was supportive and enthusiastic.

Under the coaching of Mr. Cousineau, the quality of the team improved. Throughout the games, the girls learned to work together and to have fun.
BASEBALL
WATERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL VARSITY BASEBALL

The 1988 Red Raider Varsity Baseball team began a new season in the cold and rainy month of March and ended in balmy June.

In spite of a good start, the Raiders struggled with a 3-6 record in the first half of the season. Led by Captains Jim Dunleavy, Mark McGrath, and Andrew Warren, the team improved dramatically in the second half with five wins and four losses for an 8-10 record (8-12 overall). During its second half spurt, the Raider team put together four consecutive victories, assuring a fourth place tie in the Middlesex League.

Captain Mark McGrath was chosen the team’s “Most Valuable Player” for his outstanding performance in pitching. With a record of six wins and five losses, he had one of the best ERAs in the league throughout the season.

Richard Grant received the “Most Improved Senior” award and David Smith was honored with the “Most Improved Underclassman” award.

Senior Captains Mark McGrath and Andrew Warren, who led the team with twenty-three RBIs, were chosen to represent Watertown in the Middlesex League All-Star Team.

Other seniors who contributed to the team’s improvement were Captain Jim Dunleavy, Greg Manousos, and Scott McMahon.

Coach John Barbati was extremely pleased with the team’s spirit and hustle.
BOYS' OUTDOOR TRACK

1988 Boy's Outdoor Track Team — yearbook

The 1988 Boy's Outdoor Track Team can be summed up in one word — dedication. Led by veteran Coach Smith, and assistant coach Marc Jigarjian, this year's team promises to be a highly competitive one. Tri-captains Christos Giogas, Tony D'aloisio, and Kevin Zimmerman's leadership and perseverance will prove to be one of the many focus points for the team.

This year's returning seniors are Christos Giogas, Tony D'aloisio, Kevin Zimmerman, Scott Evans, Jason Balian, Ed Minasian, Jason Ciolfi, Bob Mcaffery, and newcomers Khiem Tran and Rusty Bigelow. The team's future is a bright one with the abilities and attitudes of juniors Steve McEvoy, Chris Parovis, and Marc Gannon; sophomores Jason Messina, Danny Wagner, Rob Shanahan, and Rick Moinihan. Scott Odom, Ed Kebadjian, Alan Larose, Willie Fenichel, Billy Burns, and Mike Walzak make up the bright and promising group of freshmen for the future of the Watertown Boy’s Track Team.
This year’s Watertown High’s outdoor girls track team is young but very spirited. With only three juniors to lead the way, the sophomore and freshman team has been having its troubles in the tough Middlesex League. However, the good showing of the talented girls of the lower grades has everyone looking forward to next season.
Back in the USSR

April 1988 — Watertown High School launched its second encouragement of glasnost and perestroika when:

Rachel Knighten recited e e cummings at the Palace of Youth in Leningrad.

Jesse Fenichel traded jeans for caviar while locked in a bathroom stall.

Dave Mahoney avoided the food, but drank lots of NENCH KONA.

Beth Krikorian endured long walks to pectapahs, long talks by Svetlena, and Maryline’s train-to-Leningrad smoke.

Toni Basile got sick, lost her suitcase, but still came up smiling.

Fred Geis brought Elvis to Moscow, Zagorsk, and Leningrad.

Scott Evans took pictures all over the USSR, even from a closet.

Sarah Scanlon was kissed by Anton in Moscow, and soldiers in Leningrad.

Aaron Dushku was kissed by everyone, except the KGB.

Eddie Asencios films a “KGB bust” in Moscow, and searched all night for a Pepsi in Leningrad.

Bob McCaffrey took on Moscow and Leningrad, and took off his shirt.

Julie Madden sang “Yesterday,” ... and made friends.
This year's book was under the direction and guidance of Mr. Trani and his student editor-in-chief, Selena Zubrowski. The annual staff consisted of twelve members.

The making of the annual publication is not easy. It is a year-long project which demands hard work, dedication, and commitment. Each page is done with the utmost care to hold strong memories for the graduating seniors. The project was divided into sections, each headed by a student editor: layouts, copy, business, and sports.

The layouts are an important part of a yearbook. They give a book a sense of excitement and originality—a quality to stand out from others. Photos and text are blended together to create a theme on each page. Designing layouts is a time-consuming task which requires creativity and patience. Mr. Trani, who designed this year's layouts, added new sections to the annual, such as the baby pictures and an autograph page. His new ideas led to fantastic layouts.

Michele Lee, this year's copy editor, was the most outstanding. She was always there when Mr. Trani needed her. She was always available and met every deadline on time if not before. Michele was responsible for all copy and creative writing. It is editors of this quality that make a yearbook successful.

Students are involved in not only the creative aspect of the project but also the financial side. Selling advertisements to local business establishments helped to defray publication costs. Students made necessary phone calls, wrote business letters, and went out to sell the ads. This made it possible for students to purchase the yearbooks at a lower price. Jane Faccenda was the business editor for this year. Under her persistence, the yearbook raised the needed money.

The sports section is planned to revive the great moments of victories and the sadder instances of losses of various teams. Copy is written to provide a summary of the team members and their performance on the past year. Cathy Mastroianni was this year's sports editor. Her duties included the responsibilities of identifying team photos and urging obstinate coaches to write up the necessary data.

Working on the yearbook is stressing and demanding but nevertheless, the project was fun and educating. By working together, students learned responsibility and organization. To see the finished product was worth all the hours and hours of hard work they put in.

On February 28, 1988, the Watertown High School's Tri-Hi-Y sponsored the annual Winter Carnival Dance. The evening was filled with excitement and anticipation as students entered the gymnasium, which was converted into a dance hall. Blue and white decorations with a touch of silver adorned the place. Long tables, covered with refreshments and foods, were arranged for hungry dancers. Tri-Hi-Y members, who came early in the morning to set up, were responsible for the beautiful work.

The Winter Carnival is a traditional "girl-ask-boy" dance so the girls arrived with their dates on their arms. Dateless students, who showed up stag or with friends, enjoyed the dance as much as the couples did. Because the dance was a semi-formal event, the boys dressed elegantly in suits while the girls wore fashionable dresses. From 7:30 to 11:30 pm, the students danced the night away with music provided by South Machine. The theme song for this year's dance was "Hold onto the Night" by Richard Marx.

The money from the dance was used to provide for the Work Studies Program Scholarship and to hold activities for the seniors. Although the attendance was not as high as the sponsors had hoped, the 1988 Winter Carnival Dance was a success.

WINTER CARNIVAL
As you are aware we are a much smaller band this year. During band camp after Mr. Hahn and Mr. Williams chose the music and started teaching the field show, we all realized just how much work it was going to take from everyone in order to reach the goal of a quality band. We needed to be full of desire and spirit to be a winning unit, and one that the school could be proud of.

After our first competition in which we exhibited, we realized that the potential was there and with hard work we could be as good as any band in our division. The band, especially Mr. Hahn and Mr. Williams from here on put in many extra hours after school, and at night practicing with the drumline and the color guard.

At our second competition held in Malden the long hours paid off. Our drumline won first place trophy and our drum major won a first place trophy for Best Drum Major. As the weeks went on the practices became more intense and productive.

The band went to Winthrop for their third competition and increased their score by fifteen points, getting themselves one step closer to the silver medal that we decided to make our goal by "completions seasons." On the morning of the championships finals Mr. Williams sat everyone in the lecture hall and proceeded to give a very moving pep talk, which rose their spirits to the highest they could go. Later that morning as the band entered the field for their last competing performance of the year, the band gave a salute to Mr. Hahn as a way of saying thank you for all his help and encouragement through the years. On this day the band reached their goal and earned a "silver medal!"

The band could not have reached its accomplishments without the dedication from Mr. Hahn and Mr. Williams, and the support of their music boosters.

Baby Face  words and music by Benny Davis and Harry Akst

Rosy cheeks and turn'd up nose and curly hair,
I'm raving 'bout my baby now,
Pretty little dimples here and dimples there,
Don't want to live without you,
I love you, goodness knows,
I wrote a song about you,
And here's the way it goes:

Baby Face
You've got the cutest little Baby Face,
There's not another one could take your place,
Baby Face,
My poor heart is jumpin'
You sure have started somethin' Baby Face,
I'm up in heaven when I'm in your fond embrace
I didn't need a shove 'Cause I just fell in love
With your pretty Baby Face.

When you were a baby not so long ago,
You must have been the cutest thing
I can picture you at ev'ry baby show,
Just winnin' ev'ry ribbon
With your sweet baby way,
Say honest, I ain't fibbin',
You'd win 'em all today.

Baby Face
You've got the cutest little Baby Face,
There's not another one could take your place,
Baby Face,
My poor heart is jumpin'
You sure have started somethin' Baby Face,
I'm up in heaven when I'm in your fond embrace
I didn't need a shove 'Cause I just fell in love
With your pretty Baby Face.

Face.
Farewell
by Rich Francis
The lockers are empty, the crowd is gone
The bells have stopped ringing, something is wrong
A piece is missing that cannot return
From this place in which we all had to learn.

Four years have passed by and we all have grown
Enjoying those special friends we have known.
Yet we must move in our separate ways.
The finish has come to these countless days.

Nothing remains but a path to follow
But do not fret or feel any sorrow
Although we must leave, it must be this way.
Take with you the memories of these final days.

Farewell to high school teachers, classmates and friends
For although life awaits us, it is also the end.

PROM 1988
Forwel
by Sharon Abrahamian

We have spent much time thinking about after graduation.
But now as we count the days away, we seem to sit in total concentration.
When we think of all the time we let slip away
We wonder what we could have done to make things go our way.

We know that after this summer there will be some rearranging.
We can only hope that we are ready to do all this changing.
We are not afraid of going to college or learning new trends.
But we can't stop thinking about losing our friends.

Now we can only hope that all this worrying is for nothing.
So we can go away and try to learn something.
We thank and will remember the people of our past.
We are just so sorry it all couldn't last.
Valedictory Oration

Dr. O'Connor, School Administrators, Members of the School Committee, Parents, Friends, and Fellow-Graduates:

I welcome you here today to participate in the joys and sorrows of a graduating class, to celebrate the accomplishments of four years, and to look with anticipation toward the years to come. You who are here today are witnesses to the passage of time and the fruits of labor. More importantly, you are witnesses to one of the greatest miracles of life—a journey into adulthood. It is a venture that is neither simple nor easy. Although always in sight, this day has never quite seemed real. Yes, the time has come.

For four years we have been as one, individuals of different backgrounds bonded together by common fears and shared happiness. We will always remember the times we have spent together, in study sessions before school and athletic endeavors well after dark. We will remember the tests and the term papers, the dances and the weekends. Above all, we will never forget those special friends of the last four years who have made life wonderful. Perhaps that is the saddest part of saying goodbye.

We will be leaving the administrators and the teachers who have shaped our educational horizons, spurring us on to achieve and to realize our potential. They were in many instances our friends, helping us to develop into young adults and respectable citizens. Despite our best attempts, they have become a part of us, and we a part of them. Only as we progress through life will we recognize the valuable lessons taught at Watertown High School.

Above all, graduation in many ways is a breaking away. Next year, many of us will be on our own, some in different parts of the country and in different parts of the world. It may well be possible that we may never see each other again. Indeed, it is a frightening concept and one which detracts from the joy of this day. Yet, we will keep the memories of four years in our hearts and, indeed, if we do so, we will always remain friends.

The journey upon which we embark this very day holds much promise and many disappointments. There are issues which we all must face if we wish for our country to prosper and for our children to enjoy the opportunities which we have had. Our fields of employment will be many, and some of us may choose to take the road less traveled. Frontiers abound everywhere and there are situations to be remedied. Nuclear war, poverty, hunger, subsistence abuse, and the denial of human freedoms are just a few of the issues which cloud our future. Yet, it is my firm belief that the members of this graduating class can and will change the world. It is a mighty concept, indeed, but your very presence today reveals your abilities. You are talented, bright, and capable. You must try to help the community which has fostered your success. It is not only a responsibility but a necessity.

It is true that none of us knows what lies ahead. What is most ironic about these final days is our anticipation to leave. All of us counted the final days of our high school experience. Now that it is over, we recognize how precious that time was. Perhaps that is the true indicator of enjoyment—sorrow when it has ended. But we are young and the world is in the palm of our hands; we must protect and preserve it, and with our talents fashion it into something beautiful.

We, the Class of 1968, cannot begin to express our thanks to those who are responsible for our being here today. Yet, a special thank you must be mentioned to our parents or guardians who have molded us by an occasional look over the shoulder or a pat on the back. You have given us the wings needed to fly and now we can touch the sky. Thank you.
Fellow classmates, teachers, administrators, school committee members, parents, relatives, and friends:

Welcome all of you to this celebration of the class of 98. Today we say farewell to the last four years and prepare to greet the next stage of our lives whether it is college or employment. We have waited for this day for a long time, we have counted down the weeks, the days, and even the seconds of school remaining and finally this day, our Graduation from high school, our Graduation from childhood to adulthood, has arrived.

Most of us intend to seek further education, some for two years, some for four, and others for longer periods of time. If asked why we are doing this, most would answer that it is necessary to make it possible to obtain good jobs although some might confess to possessing some intellectual curiosity as well. In short it is merely more preparation for "life." Many of us in preparing for "life" will have completed a third of our lives. Too often we spend so much effort on preparing for our future that we forget that today is indeed yesterday's tomorrow.

I am not suggesting that we should ignore the future and live only for the present. We must take responsibility for our lives. It is up to us to fulfill our potential. I am not referring to our potential to make money or to wield political power though we may excel in these areas but to our potential to achieve and spread happiness. Each individual must decide what happiness is and then find his or her own route to it and possible help others to reach this state.

But whether we are politicians, lawyers, scientists, teachers, engineers, construction workers, or something else does not matter as long as we are happy being what we are and are not satisfied merely because what we are doing ensures a secure future. As we plan our futures we must decide not only what we want to be but also who we want to be. To do what we want to be we only need get the necessary education and assume our goals are within our potential we will probably get a type of job we want. To become who we want to be we must recognize how that differs from who we are now and then to figure out how to change ourselves.

Who we are now is largely dependent on our past. How we describe ourselves is mainly based on achievements in the past and characteristics shown in the past. Who we would ideally like to be lies in the future. The process of getting from one to the other is the present and the most important. This transformation is life's most important achievement. It depends on learning from the past, preparing for the future, and most importantly living in the present.

The November many of us will vote in our first Presidential election and while the candidates may be described as doing the question of how this country is going to be run is not. The policies that run this country over the next four years will determine the state of the nation when we emerge from college. Far from being dull this election will be crucial in determining our future experiences and thus who we become.

It is through such simple acts as voting and making our opinions known that we can exert the greatest control over our future. The shaping of the future is a continuous event in which all participate. The more we take part in this by becoming active members of our communities instead of worrying about or preparing for a predicted future the more likely that the future will be something we enjoy.

The temptation to conform to what society wants us to instead of what you want to be is difficult because these two visions of the future "you" overlap a great deal and so it is easy to be trapped into conformity while pursuing your own ideals. It is necessary to avoid blind conformity but equally important not to follow blind non-conformity. We must choose our own paths of development not one planned by society, family, or even ourselves. Growing can not be avoided. It is how we grow that must be decided. Hopefully we have grown enough in our last four years of life that we will be able to choose the directions in which our future growth takes place.

It is up to us to shape our own future and through that the future of our country and the world.

J & S CARPET CO. INC.
There is a time when we all must say good-bye to our high school years to take a step or two towards the bigger world. The memories of our spent years should not be abandoned but rather to be carried forward with us. During the four years we've been together, we emerged from a group of faces to become unique individuals. We grew, we matured, we learned. We experienced the joys and heartaches of life. We hope that those years will be revived every time you turn a page in this book — for memories are the sweetest when cherished.

We would like to express our deepest thanks to our advisor, Mr. Patrick Trani, whose time and effort helped make the yearbook a success. We would also like to thank our business editor, Jane Faccenda. Her persistence in selling ads helped fund the book. We are especially thankful to Michele Lee, our copy editor, for her dedication and hard work in putting this project together. Although the year's staff was relatively small, we are grateful for everyone's help and time.

Lastly, we wish you the best of luck in life and hope that every step that you take will lead you closer to your dreams and goals. Good-bye and good luck.

The Yearbook Staff 1988
