Love, Mom, Dad, Matt & Rachel.

Jennifer Rossi, may your future continue to be as successful to you and your classmates as the years have been in the past. Love, Mom, Dad, and Michael.

Lisa, You have made us so very proud. You’ve grown into a remarkable young woman. We wish you much love and happiness as you face many bright tomorrows. Love Mom, Dad, Lindsay, and Lauren xoxoxo
The Class of 1993 is unique because we are so close. We have spent four great years together, years that we will always remember! This Yearbook will help us to remember all the great times and to remember each other.

I would like to thank everyone who helped make this year’s yearbook a reality. I would especially like to thank Sabrina DeLuca, Jennifer Rossi, and Joe Gallagher for all their help and dedication. Also, I would like to thank Mr. Patrick Trani for his guidance and support.

Good luck to everyone as you go on in life. Take our Yearbook with you and be proud to be a member of the Class of 1993!

Best Wishes,

Lisa Chalmers

Dr. Dias, Members of the school committee, Mrs. Huntington, administrators, faculty, invited guests, family, friends, and fellow graduates:

Tonight we are celebrating the closure of a very significant part of our lives. At this point, the road for us divides. We will all continue to learn and mature as some of us will go on to work and to travel while others will pursue their education. Many of us have known each other as we've grown, through school and community activities. We have spent four years of high school together, learning not only from text books and teachers but also from one another. Now, we must take what we have learned and make our own decisions and set our own goals.

Tonight we are sad because we are saying good-bye to our friends and to all whom we've been comfortable with for so long. We should also be happy. We are embarking on new adventures, finding new beginnings. We have so much hope in the future. The world around us has changed dramatically since we entered the doors of Watertown High School only four short years ago. The Soviet Union, a world power which our parents feared when they graduated from high school, is no longer a threat. The Berlin Wall which once separated the east from the west, communism from capitalism, has fallen. The world is becoming a smaller and increasingly accessible place. The world, however, is not completely content. People in countries such as Bosnia are still trying to attain the freedom that we as Americans, sometimes take for granted. This freedom enabled the American people to elect a Democrat as President. An occurrence which we have not experienced since we were in the kindergarten! We have seen many negative changes in our society. The problem of racism is still very much part of the American experience. The racial confrontations at Molford and South Boston High Schools exemplify this dilemma. We have also seen numerous examples of young adults killing one another for various and incomprehensible reasons. We are very fortunate that we have not experienced such tragedy at our High School.

We have so many challenges to confront but we also have many promising tomorrows. Be hopeful in our future and in making our dreams come true. As we move on in different directions let us remember what we've learned at Watertown High School, remember the good and the bad, most of all, let us remember each other and what we've experienced together. In the end, that is what we'll have learned the most from. I wish you all the best of luck in the future. In conclusion I would like to refer to an old Irish Blessing which states my hopes for all of you:

"May the road rise up to meet you
May the sun always shine upon you
And may God hold you in his palm until we meet again"

Good-bye and Good-luck!
Dr. Diaz, Mrs. Huntington, members of the School Committee, family, friends, and classmates:

In looking back on our four years of high school and in looking at the years ahead of us, it is important for us to take a careful look at the choices we've made and the ones we still must make. Starting as far back in grade school we have had choices to make, in retrospect they were simple; at the time they were cumbersome, like whose team to be on during recess and which Dr. Seuss book to read next. We were young and thought we knew so much, but looking back we've come a long way in such a short time.

As we grew and matured, the choices became more difficult. We had to choose our friends, our classes, and also our beliefs. We made some good decisions and a few bad, some of which had worse repercussions than others. We now realize that our actions today may hurt us and each other in time to come.

Now that we are graduating, we will encounter many new people and events that will test the quality of our judgement. When we face these events, we will hopefully think back on not just high school but all of our past experiences to guide us. Whatever we decide, we ought to choose to have respect for others and ourselves. Because, in five or ten years, the world will be a drastically different place than it is now. Ideally we will learn from our parents, our teachers, and most importantly each other, so we can look back and be proud. We have the knowledge and experience necessary to face the future, and all that's left is for us to make the right decisions.
