DEDICATION

As we look back over our high school days, the capability and sincere leadership of our advisors stand out as invaluable to us. They have successfully guided the members of the graduating class through the numerous problems which have arisen during the last three years of our school life. It is not only in gratitude but in wholehearted admiration that we dedicate to Miss Sara D. Abbott and Mr. Harold S. Kenney this sixteenth volume of the "Annual" of the Class of '42.
CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations, many and hearty, to the Class of 1942. Your school work and activities with us are nearing the end—and what a glorious three years we have had together.

Your future, right now in this war-torn world, does not glow with the usual shining light and brilliant promise which under normal conditions would accompany graduation. All we can offer, and that in a very humble way, is "keep your chin up", have faith, and do your part in our country's struggle for the freedom of mankind. Finally, hold ever dear those cherished memories of school-day progress and achievement at W. H. S.

MR. R. GLENN SMITH

Mr. R. Glenn Smith had been teaching in the Watertown High School for seventeen years before he left for a new position as Associate Director of Placement and Employment in the U. S. Department of Justice in Atlanta, Georgia. He taught in the Social Studies Department and was formerly a director of research and guidance, as well as being Principal of the Evening School for two years. Among his greatest accomplishments are counted the National Honor Society and the Student Council. He made many friends here in Watertown and all were very sorry to see him go.

MR. RAYMOND FORD

Mr. Raymond Ford, a member of the Watertown Senior High School Faculty since 1938, left its ranks in March to enter the forces of the United States Army. Serving as an instructor in the Science Department, he made many friends. The fortunate students who studied with him missed him greatly. He will long be remembered as, among other things, the organizer of the very popular Safety Club. Mr. Ford was accompanied by wishes for happiness in his new undertaking.
FOREWORD

It is our sincere hope that the class of 1942 will derive many hours of pleasure, now and in the future years by reading this the sixteenth volume of THE ANNUAL.

We, the members of the Annual Staff of 1942, wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the indispensable assistance rendered us by our Annual advisors, Miss Ruth Appel and Mr. Harold S. Kenney.

FOOTFALLS

Sometimes, when the halls are still—
Supremely still, yet softly listening—
Step quietly and you may hear
(Whether it be in heart or ear)
The sound of footsteps,
RISING ... falling . . .
CALLING . . . calling . . .
"We are the students who’ve gone before
From this same door.
REMEMBER US . . . REMEMBER US . . . remember us"

Through the rush and bustle of the day
Flits back an echo from far away—
A name . . .
Some tale of fame
Of one who left us years ago.

The little mill grinds on
Tho we be gone,
Grinding the chaff from the "flower" of youth.

One thing we pray
When we have gone our way—
That we have played so well our part
To echo softly in the school’s great heart.

CLASS HISTORY

SEPTEMBER—1939

Buzz-buzz; murmur, murmur; chatter, chatter; ha, ha; (enough's enough). What's all this? Don't get excited dear members of the faculty, it's only the "CLASS OF '42" entering the portals of wisdom to see what it can offer them in the way of a'hem, shall I say "education"?

School wasn't in session very long before there was a familiar buzz, buzz; and murmur, murmur. Now what can this be? Soap boxes in one corridor, posters in another corridor. Can you guess? Of course, Sophomore Class Elections. East meets West in the battle of the year. Results, hot off the "Bulletin" press: President, Rudi Antoni; Vice-President, Bill Dawson; Secretary, Connie Scott; Treasurer, Betty Cate; and the super-super, triple threat executive committee, consisting of Betty Edmands, Daniel Looney, and Jack Sheehan.

Girls wearing pretty dresses, boys with neckties, such goings on! Why of course, how could we forget the Sophomore Banquet held in the gymnasium. Remember how Creighton Hoyt played the piano; Madeline Morgan tap danced; Helen Anderson played the violin; Rita Hughes, Bea Arone and Dora DePrato sang with Takouhi Yerganian accompanying them on the piano; and Vincent Massa played the harmonica? Remember, huh?

So the Social Merry-Go-Round started, leaving former mystified Sophomores a bit more familiar with the traditions of our wonderful new school.

This time the buzz, buzzing comes to an end. Why? Because it's the end of the school year. See you in September again.

TIME MARCHES ON!

SEPTEMBER—1940

A summer has passed and the former sophomores have gathered in the lobby and the corridors to reminisce about their vacation. Then, before we're more than settled—Quick, unscramble the votes and tell me the results. Oh! there have been some changes. Well, well. I won't keep you in suspense any longer: President, Rudi Iodice; Vice-President, Bill Dawson; Secretary, Arpena Kalostian; Treasurer, Betty Cate; and Executive Committee, Betty Edmands, Joe Gilfoil, and William Johnsdrow.

Time passes on and something new and exciting is going to happen because the Class of '42 has started another tradition. Yes, a "Junior Prom". Even a severe snow storm, the night of the dance, did not prevent its being called a great success.

We pause momentarily in profound reverence for the memory of our beloved little classmate, Marie Reagan, whose sudden death was felt by all.

Mid-years are over, and the eagerly awaited Junior Play puts its appearance. Under the direction of Mrs. Boestler, the production of "The Whole Town's Talking" was a great success. A great deal of credit should go to the leading stars, some of whom are: Natalie Bixby, John Morse, Sally Protheroe, Donald Arenburg, Jean McKeever, Charles Vian, and Andre Hambro. After this big success we Juniors went around with proud looks on our faces and with the feeling that we now belonged in the school. Nothing much happened from here on till June, except that all the Juniors were secretly copying their worshipped seniors’ actions and expressions, in order that they too would be successful in their senior year. Vacation is beginning, so long—
MORE TIME MARCHES ON! (Monotonous, isn't it?)
SEPTEMBER—1941

Having established itself, after a week of annoying friends with summer experiences, the Class of '42 once more gets under way.

We stop once more to vote for class officers, the results being the same as last year's with the exception of Bob Chase, who took Bill Johnrow's place.

Soon after elections for officers, committees for the Annual are chosen, with Gordon Goodwin receiving top honors as Editor-in-Chief, and Virginia Quirk and Marie Driscoll, Assistant co-editorships. Much credit should be given to two who rightly deserve it, Eddie Latorre and Bob Carbee, Business Manager and Assistant Business Manager, respectively.

Comes February 13th, no, not Freak Day, but the Senior Play, "The Thirteenth Chair," which reveals unexpected talent. Yes sir, Gordon Goodwin certainly portrays the part of Police Inspector wonderfully; and as for Barbara Clark's skillful acting as Madame La Grange—well there just aren't any words. Much credit should be given to the supporting cast: Jean McKeever, Audrey Bevan, Sam Famous, Andre Hambro, Victoria Sarkisian, and many others. A success? You bet!

Comes April 1st. Yes, you're right this time, Freak Day. Laugh! I thought I'd die when I saw tiny Mark Kelly wandering around the building as "Stuporman"; Tony Papandria and Mike Mgrdichian looking simply lovely as "glamour girls"; Slice Tooroonjjan, as Carmen Miranda; Rose Kazanjian as a negro comic; Catherine Hughes winning the prize as most original, Evelyn Olsen as a lovely ballerina, and last but not least, Norman Gardiner as an exceptionally fine Indian chief. Judging was difficult, but with the aid of our enthusiastic audience, we chose the best we could.

The month of May brings to us our Banquet, where all the Secrets of the Hall of Fame are disclosed. It also brings us the wonderful Senior Prom held in the gym on the 29th. After Baccalaureate comes graduation.

Becoming very serious, now, (yes, believe it or not) I hate to bring this history to a close because it means that school has come to an end, that we will soon have received our diplomas, and that each individual is going his or her way from here on. Best of luck everyone. See you at the reunion.

Ten years had quickly passed since we had been graduated from our Alma Mater. How clearly I remember the suffering and confusion the war caused that year; but in the end we emerged victorious with heads high and colors flying. Now after all these years David Powers had invited the class of '42 to a reunion aboard his super yacht, "The Valiant Victory," which lay idly pulling at her moorings in the clear blue water of Boston Harbor. On the deck of the boat, Captain Bob McDonald and his first mate, Phil Ernst, were congratulating Jean McKeever and Barbara Clarke on their wonderful performance in their latest Broadway hit, "The Gallant Gesture," by Paul Der Vartanian. Jean McKeever modestly refused credit by saying, "Don Howie, Jack Morse and Claudia Carchia in the supporting cast had a great deal to do with its success." Just as she finished speaking, Warren McNamara and his beautiful nurse, Janet Buffum, walked by and whisked the actors from the captain's welcome. As they strolled past, I could hear them reminiscing about their high school days.

When they had gone, the captain called down to Arthur Landry and Bob Smith, who were in the launch, asking if there was anyone else waiting on the dock. "Senator Mumford, Senator Zitso, and Representative Killeen have just arrived from Washington and are waiting to be taken aboard, sir," replied Bob.

Soon tired of watching the guests arrive, I wandered up to deck "B" where Betty Cate and Rudy Antoni were playing an exhibition deck tennis match for the benefit of the gallery which had gathered about the courts. Among the prominent onlookers I noticed Bill MacRae, a retired banker; Fred Ward, Bill Shaw, and Don Magnusson, aces of the last World War; Willie James, now famous for the invention of the automobile which runs without gas or tires; Sharkey Papazian, just back from a trip around the world, and Zaven Vanetzian, the Shakespearean actor. Also among the gallery were scattered several faces which I felt I should know but could not seem to recall. I beckoned to Hawley Gleeson and Charles McPherson, the comptrollers of stock in the Broad St. Market, who were escorting their private secretaries, Kay Morrissey and Beverly LaFrance, and had them point out to me the various personalities.

"There are Dick Helms and Madeline Morgan, owners of the Mikado Co.," said Charles.

"There is Jack Sheehan, who ran the 4 minute mile at the Olympics, with Ed Mylonas, the 100-yard dash king. Virginia O'Halloran and Connie Krancer, reporters for the New York Times, with its editor, Edith Hall, are interviewing Captains Harvey Ames and Bob Fulton of the marines," pointed out John.

The game was suddenly interrupted by the shriek of a whistle, the signal for Louis Ceddia, George Carpenter, James Vouras, and John Bedrossian, the engineers, to start the powerful diesel engines which were to take us to Nantucket for a cruise.
I went to the railing and saw on shore Arpina Kalostian, Eleanor Allers, Esther Cooper and Rita Costello, secretaries of Joe D’Onofrio and Company; Charles White, Joe Bragole and Joe Joyce, scheduled in the National Openings Golf Tournament that was to be held in the afternoon; Arthur Burgess, the new owner of the Red Sox; Donald Knickle of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, all waving and wishing they could come along. I returned a hearty wave and went to my cabin for a rest.

When I arrived in my suite, I switched on my radio in time to hear a familiar voice say, “Hello ladies and gentlemen, this is Paul Fitzpatrick, your daily news commentator bringing you your latest news. Here’s something hot off the wire! There is now an extensive man hunt all along the West Coast for “Blackie” Capone and Walter (Big Operator) Buguey, the notorious gangsters, who made a daring escape from Alcatraz—Henry Barry and Jack O’Neill of the F.B.I. are hot on their trail. . . . The Boston Bruins have just signed Bob Baker and Walter Delory to play with them this coming season . . . Priscilla Dunbar, Phyllis Bryant and Claire Feeney, the world famous aviatrix trio are now winging their way around the world in a super-charged plane designed by Al Martino, John Jertson and Donald McLeod. The long sought-for Dick Roche has finally signed a contract with the S.A.P. studios to play opposite Veronica Lake in “How Dead the End.” Flash—there is a threat of a rising dictatorship in “Corruptania” through the influence of Gordon McKay. Lou Salsburg was seen last evening at the Copley Plaza in the company of Ensigns Creighton Hoyt, Bob Chase, and Gordon Goodwin. Also in the new Oval Room were Isabelle Crosby and Rudy Iodice; Eddie Latorre and Marjorie Swan, the inseparables; and Donald Arrenburg and Claudia Carchia dancing to the music of Larry Chick, with vocals by the vivacious Betty Murphy. Among the members of the band we recognized Bob Ellis, George Fleming and Eugene George. This program has been brought to you through the courtesy of the Danielson, Dixon, Doggett, Dairies of Broad St., Boston.”

I turned off the radio and picked up a magazine lying on the table. The front cover was a clever photograph by Eugene Looney of Gini White wearing an eye-catching chutreus bathing suit designed by Jean Keyes. Glancing through the pages, I noticed a number of interesting illustrations by Norman Gardner and Robert Woodbury, the well known commercial artists. In Arthur Burgess’s Sports column was the report on the defeat of Tom Gullason’s Rangers by the outstanding playing of Mike Kennedy, Tony Conti, and Bill Pierce of the Boston Olympics. On the opposite page was a candid shot by Aram Tolajian of Vincent Massa, the new heavyweight champ. I found the feature article to be a full-length novel written by Natalie Bixby and illustrated by Evelyn Olsen. Included was a report about the biological research on tonsilitis which was done by the scientists, Audrey Bevan and Helen Anderson, and the chemists, Bob Carbee and Sam Hatch. The year’s best seller, “My Hour,” by Sonia Takvorian was reviewed on the back cover by Alice Rockwell.

After resting an hour or so, I arrived at the game room in time to see the remarkable side-pocket shot of Toni Piatedosi defeat Frank Mumford, the president of the Inter-city Pool Club.

Ambling into the lounge, I saw Charles Farrenkoff, a radio expert; and, in the midst of an animated group; Lee Hodges, the new owner of the "Stony Ridge Farm." At the bar Curtis MacArthur, designer of the 500 story skyscraper in Boston, was discussing President Roosevelt’s coming campaign with Admiral George Johnson of the United States Navy. Standing next to them were Bob Keith, just back from the Ski Meet in Norway; Ralph Stanley and Ken Larsen, electrical engineers for General Electric; the two Quirk brothers, Bob and Jack, still heckling Bob Rich, the big business racketeer. As the boys stood there discussing sports, who should walk up to them but Ronnie Stapleton of the Chicago Bears—his nose looked a little battered but he’s still centering the pigskin as well as ever. Right behind him was Dick Mehan, who broke the all-speed record at the recent air meet, and Tony Papandrea and James Donnelly, star pitchers for the Red Sox.

At that moment the steward, Sam Famous, announced dinner, and as the crowd moved into the dining hall, I spied Anahid Akillian, composer of “The High School Blues,” and Harold Christie and Albert Collins who were arguing about the merits of Dot Hotz, Jeanne Rundquist, Marie Bagwell, and Esther Krikorian, New York fashion models. After being seated, I noticed Mařion Hayes, Carol Sheehan and Connie Scott the three best known matrons in Boston Society, and Mark Kelley, popular comedian of the stage. Looking across the table, I saw Carl Christianson, automobile dealer, trying to make some headway with Pauline Elwell, who had finally received her pilot’s license after many years of trying. Looking a little farther down the table, I located Elsie Hall, still collecting souvenirs. George Gaitanis was across from them trying to draw the attention of Irene Christopher and the handsome Christy Christopher with his fiancee, Irene Contos.

The banquet was excellent, having been prepared by that caterer of all caterers, Hagop Jamgochian: When the epicurean concoctions had disappeared, the guests leaned back satisfied as the first speaker rose. It was none other than Charles Lynch, the mayor of Boston. After announcing the guests present, he read several telegrams from people who couldn’t make the reunion. Among them were Cynthia Elterich, the happily married wife of a Champagne Film Company producer; Phyllis Whitcomb and Frances Kennedy, state representatives to the legislature; Joe Santoro, the happiest warden of Sing Sing College; John Inferrera, an Air Corps Officer stationed at a United States Base in Japan, now one of our small islands in the Pacific; and Bob Kenslea, a traveling salesman for a farm equipment company. There were several radiograms from other lands—one from Jean Morrissey, who is a secretary to a missionary in China; Frank Buc­ciaralli, a machinist’s mate on a United States battleship; one from Gerard Chevrette, a mechanic at an air field, in England; and last but not least, a short note from Major Joseph Gilfoil of the United States Air Corp, who is making a goodwill tour of the European countries.

As always Al Head had a short speech concerning M. I. T. where he teaches drafting. Bob Henderson, an interesting speaker, next gave a short review of his latest book, “What To Do and How To Do It.” The last speaker was Bill Dawson, owner of the “Largest Photographic Studio in Massachusetts.”

When Bill had finished speaking, the group strolled on deck in order to go ashore
the minute the boat landed. We had been invited to stop for a moment to see the lovely house of Virginia Quirk and Victoria Sarkisian, the linoleum heiresses. As soon as the gangplank was lowered we went ashore. On the dock, waiting to meet us, were Dick Bramhall, Freddie Wright, Don Smith and Bill Johndrow, the quartet who got tired of Watertown High (who can blame them?); Dot Wells and Frannie Molito, the glamour girls on vacation, and Giles Laughrea who has taken over the management of Jane Ford. On the lawn I noticed Marjorie Skinner, the world's highest paid stenographer; Larry Sullivan, president of Brazil; Margaret Ross, retired bandmaster at M. I. T., and David Beeler, owner of the largest Bug Laboratory, absorbed in a game of croquet.

There were many others there with whom I would have liked to chat, but the time being short, I hurried out the door, only to bump into "Truck" Gallinaro and John Anastasi, owners of the South American Banana Company, who were just arriving. Directly behind them were Barbara Frappier, the famous dress designer, Beatrix Arone, a lovely nurse, and Mary Cavallero, escorted by Joe (how did he get in here Mary?).

Utterly exhausted, once back on the yacht, I sunk into a deck chair and continued to watch the parade of classmates go marching by...

CLASS WILL

Having reached the mature age of twelve years, the Class of 1942 is about to retire from active existence. Inasmuch as the majority of the members of said class have spent 2,940 hours, 42 minutes, and 3 flat seconds within the walls of dear old W. H. S. one might well expect that parting with instructors and underclassmen would indeed be a tedious task. Heretofore the teachers have had the distinct privilege of distributing among the students such blessings as homework and individual faculty opinion well flavored with helpful (?) criticism. Feeling that our meager bequeathments may, in some slight way, bring comfort and happiness into the lives of those to whom we owe our greatest debts, we, the Graduating Class of Watertown Senior High School, being of sound mind and sturdy character (of a sort), do, on this fourth day of June in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-two, hereby bequeath that our entire estate (after the taxes have been deducted) be distributed in the following manner:

Article I. To OUR BELOVED ALMA MATER—One Juke Box to liven up study periods.

Article II. To HEADMASTER ARCHIBALD—One All-School-Night Committee which will function as that of 1941.

Article III. To THE JUNIOR CLASS—Enough intestinal fortitude to carry them successfully through their Senior year.

Article IV. To MR. KENNEY—One Boy Scout compass in case he is ever tempted to glide from the straight and narrow path.

Article V. To MISS ABBOTT—One efficient little machine guaranteed to take the place of Audrey Bevan.

Article VI. To MISS SEVERANCE—One pupil just her size.

Article VII. To MR. KEENE—An unusual educational film written, produced, directed, and acted by the Class of '42. The title of said masterpiece is "Passing the Buck" or "How, With the Least Effort, To Put the Most Over on Teacher."

Article VIII. TO MISS NORCROSS—One pair of galoshes so she won't get her green, suede, wedgies wet when it rains.

Article IX. To MISS THAYER—A trained blackout photographer to find out exactly what does go on in the dark room.

Article X. To MR. ADAMS—A special valet to brush the chalk from his suit at the end of every period.

Article XI. To MISS SWEET—An automatic crank machine so she, herself, can take a short rest.
Article XII. To MR. CRAIG—One copy of the latest Thrift Society publication "How to be Scotch Without Being Stingy," by O. U. Piker.

Article XIII. To MISS BOYLE—A lone student who possesses enough originality to give her a new nickname.

Article XIV. To MR. KELMAN—One appointment with John E. Warner. (Need I say more?)

Article XV. To MISS KEEP—A recipe booklet containing 101 new ways to serve hamburg steak.

Article XVI. To MR. CHANDLER—Enough Fuller brushes to equip each and every one of his super-duper salesmen.

Article XVII. To MISS APPEL—Two empty toothpaste tubes so she will have plenty of ammunition to keep 'em smiling.

Article XVIII. To MR. MALLEY—The zootiest suit advertised in "Esquire."

Article XIX. To MISS CARVER—A Senior class thoughtful enough to rob their piggy banks weekly and pay their dime dues regularly.

Article XX. To LIEUTENANT McGRATH—One amored car to convoy to the bank each week the enormous amount of uniform money that the boys are not paying.

Article XXI. To MISS BIGGANE—Vitamin B1 capsules, guaranteed to give her "oomph."

Article XXII. To MR. BLACK—Three weeks of perfect model racing weather next Spring.

Sole Testatrix Edith Hall.
SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Senior Class Play was successfully presented on the night of Friday the thirteenth of February, 1942, an appropriate night for the murder mystery, "The Thirteenth Chair."

The plot revolved around a murder perpetrated during a seance at the house of wealthy Mr. Crosby. In the ensuing confusion, none the less heightened by a love affair, one suspect was arrested only to turn out to be the wrong person in an exciting and dramatic climax.

The action of the play centered about Rosalie La Grange, the medium, and Tim Donahue, the masterful police inspector. Their acting was superb and contributed greatly to the general success of the play. The love interest was furnished by Helen O'Neill and Will Crosby who expertly portrayed lovers innocently caught in the murder.

The success of the play was in a large part due to the expert direction of Mrs. Boerstler.

CUM LAUDE SOCIETY

The Watertown High School Chapter of the Cum Laude Society was chartered in 1921. Watertown High is fortunate in being one of the few public schools considered worthy of granting this honor upon its students.

As the time remaining after the election of the members to the society in the spring is inefficient to accomplish any activities, most of the work pertaining to the society is done by the Watertown Cum Laude Alumni Association. This organization donated to the High School the Cum Laude Trophy upon which the numerals of the class having the greatest percentage on the Honor Roll are engraved at the completion of each term. The Alumni group held frequent social and business meetings throughout the year.

The members elected this year are to be congratulated upon attaining this high scholastic honor. After graduation they will be offered the opportunity to become a member of the Alumni Association and continue to serve their school with this worthy group.

The Saltonstall Chapter of the National Honor Society, one of 2,300 chapters located through the country, was chartered here in 1937.

This past year the members of the Society assisted the Library Club by ushering at the play, "The Curtin Rises," which the Library Club sponsored. In the middle of the year Mr. R. Glenn Smith, the previous sponsor, left the faculty of Watertown Senior High, and Miss Edith J. Jacobs took over the Society.

The Executive Council consisting of the officers, and Mr. Herbert H. Archibald, Mr. Alfred S. Adams, Miss Alice McNally, Miss Madeline O'Brien, and Miss Ethel Ricker held several meetings and discussed new methods for the election of incoming members. As its project for the year the Society decided to revise its constitution.

This year our Junior Class really had the opportunity to show its talent and class spirit.

The first big social event, the Junior Promenade, took place on January 23, 1942 in the high school gymnasium. The boys and girls danced in a hall decorated with their class colors, gold, red, and white, to the strains of Lou Williams's Orchestra. This was a huge success and a thrill to the class because it was its first social affair.

Now let us turn our thoughts from the dancing ability of the class to its acting ability. The Juniors presented the play "I'm in the Army Now," to a large audience in the high school auditorium on the evening of April 10. The play was directed by Mrs. Betty Boerstler who is known in Watertown for her many successes in the field of directing. "I'm in the Army Now" proved no exception and was acclaimed as being one of the best plays ever put on in the high school.

While the Juniors beamed with pride over their two accomplishments, consider the Seniors. The most looked-forward-to day in a Senior's life is Freak Day. On this hilarious occasion the Junior Class officers had the difficult task of judging the contestants. Believe, me, that was quite a job!

Although the Juniors had quite a successful year, they are all looking forward to the day when they shall be mighty Seniors.
This year on April 10 the Junior Class presented as their annual play "I'm In the Army Now." It was a hilarious comedy, and the audience acclaimed the performance as being one of the best ever put on in the school.

The cast worked diligently under the able direction of Mrs. Betty Boerstler for four weeks, which was the shortest time any class ever had to accomplish such a task.

The play was a story of a family with a pampered son who was drafted, and of the complications which arose while the son was away.

Class Advisors

Miss. Edith J. Jacobs

Mr. George Grimes
Here’s to the Class of 1944! A class which from the very start demonstrated a fine spirit in both classroom work and extra-curricular activities. The class is beginning to feel its strength as an organized unit and as a cooperating part of the school unit, and hopes to be of the greatest possible service to Watertown High and indirectly to the community, during its high school days.

What have been some of our activities? First of all should be mentioned our class officers and home-room representatives who have shouldered bravely and well their responsibilities in holding class meetings and assemblies, in directing the choice of our class colors, in planning our party and in many other helpful ways. Under the leadership of Walter Simcock, who along with his ability to rise to the demands of any situation has a good sense of humor. Quite regular officers’ meetings and representatives’ meetings have been held. We aim to have the democratic spirit prevail in the government of our class affairs and attempt to make each member feel he has an important part in the organization.

We have had several interesting and enjoyable assemblies, among which was one conducted by the Debating Society in which Bernadette Martocchio and Arthur Sockol gave fine speeches and at which time Arthur was chosen from the contestants to represent Watertown at the Annual American Legion Oratorial Contest; a patriotic assembly; our Christmas assembly at which Mr. Wilkes of the Baptist Church gave a timely message; one when Creighton Hoyt played for us and many others, for which we are very grateful to Mr. Archibald.

Our one big social affair came on April 16 when we held a movie-dance, which our leaders had planned for us. Everyone had a perfectly grand time and we hope that the sophomore classes to come will have as much fun as we did at our “coming-out” party.

The class has cooperated in school affairs, especially in the traffic squad. We have had a good honor roll each term. We have helped when called upon in various defense activities of the school and town. We have bought several hundred defense stamps. And with all, we intend to keep up our good work through high school.

In athletics, we have had a record of which to be proud. An exceptional number of boys from the sophomore class were members of the various teams. Football, basketball, baseball—in these major sports as well as in the minor ones, our boys have shown great promise and have done their bit for the school. Due credit should be given to girls, too, who have made an excellent showing in hockey and tennis.

All in all, we sophomores are “swinging along”; we feel that our first year in high school has been a successful one and we are grateful to our homeroom teachers and advisers for their guidance.

We salute you, seniors, and wish you Godspeed!!
SPORTS TAKE FIRST PLACE IN HOBBY CENSUS!

Remember way back in September, 1941, when we decided that our Annual was going to be different? Well, we've tried, and as one of the results, we decided to have this hobby page. Thus, a hobby census. We discovered, surprisingly enough, that 90.5% of the seniors had hobbies. Leading all other hobbies with 30% was sports, a fact which shows that W. H. S. seniors are certainly trying in some way to help their country in its physical fitness program.

The "big ten" according to our careful survey were as follows:

1. Sports
2. Dancing
3. Music
4. Art
5. Stamps
6. Model Building
7. Records
8. Collecting Souvenirs
9. Reading
10. Girls

Among the numerous other hobbies were such unusual and interesting ones as collecting figurines, bookplates, pressed flowers, animals, coins, making gum drop favors; thinking (is it possible?); and even skipping school (tsk! tsk!).
ACTIVITIES
The club had its start in 1929. In the years 1930-1931 the members built the glider now in the balcony of the gym. We have had some notable speakers and made trips to places of interest in aviation.

Mr. Eisenhower has led discussions on planes and other things connected with aviation. We visited the East Boston Airport and were shown through the Flagship of the American Air Lines. The club has also been through the New England Aircraft School.
ART CLUB

OFFICERS

EVELYN OLSEN .................. President
ELINOR PHILLIPS .............. Vice-President
ISABEL CROSBY ................ Secretary-Treasurer
ALICE COOLIDGE ............... Executive Committee
PARKER HIRTL ...................
BURTON DIXON .................

The club was organized in October, 1939, as a result of a demand of a talented group of students for a meeting place to discuss their art problems and work them out in their own way. The membership at that time was 12 and has increased to some 20 members at present.

In January a group of our members attended a lecture at Technology on Etching, and also went to Museum of Fine Arts to study History of Art. We have sketched from still life and human figure during our club meetings. We are now planning a mural for the Art room which will depict the history of art from the pre-historic era through the Egyptian, Assyrian, Greek, Roman, Renaissance, Georgian, Colonial, Modern and Modernistic periods. The Club had a masquerade ball during May.
Our High School Band, comprised of about seventy students representing the sophomores, juniors, and seniors, is a very active organization. The band at the first of the year played for all football games. During the rest of the year, they played for various assemblies at which the student body enjoyed many semi-classical selections, modern compositions, and marches.

On January 16, 1942, the combined High School and American Legion Bands presented their annual concert with one hundred and forty musicians taking part. Our school is proud to have such a fine organization which has been so successful under Mr. Chick's excellent leadership.
The Bulletin, under the supervision of Miss Laura Campbell and Mr. John Craig, has had a successful year.

The features which make up this bi-weekly publication are: Here and There, Girls' Sports, Sports Merry-go-Around, Sports Reviews and Previews, Fashions, Familiar Profiles, Open Letters, Club Notes, Information Please, the Editorial Page, and general news of the school and its functions.

In March four delegates representing the Bulletin attended the National Conference held at Columbia University. They were Larry Chick, Joe Joyce, Sports Editors, and Elsie Hall and Louise Salsburg, "Here and There" columnists. Later came the Eastern Massachusetts Scholastic Conference held in April at Northeastern University, to which the Bulletin sent twelve of its staff members.

During the year the Bulletin sponsored a press meeting with Newton, Lexington, and Melrose. Representative from the Boston Globe and the Boston University News spoke to the group as a whole. Then group conferences covering various phases of newspaper work proved very valuable.

The Bulletin staff has worked hard to publish a splendid high school paper which has won honors at the Eastern Massachusetts Conference and also at the Columbia Conference for the year 1941, and deserves much credit.
The Camera Club is one of the oldest clubs in the school. In its early years it took over, as its contribution to school activities, the work of supplying pictures for the Bulletin. At present it also supplies all the group pictures and "candids" for the Annual. The club's object has been to acquaint the members with the fundamentals of picture taking, enlarging, and copying. For three years the club has sent pictures to the Massachusetts State Camera Club Contest for high schools and has been awarded one second prize and two honorable mentions.

Activities for the year 1941-1942 included the taking of "candids" for the Bulletin Club and pictures for the Annual. The club also developed, printed, copied, and enlarged films for individual students at reduced prices.
CARTOON CLUB

ROBERT EVANS . . . . . . . . President
ANN MEE . . . . . . . . . Secretary-Treasurer

The Cartoon Club was organized this year under the sponsorship of Mr Cyril Ellis. Books of information regarding cartoons, written by Carl Anderson, were purchased for the members. Club periods were spent designing and analyzing cartoons. A contest held for originality was won by Robert MacDonald for his cartoon entitled "Pete." Robert Farrington won second prize for his patriotic cartoon, "Setting of the Rising Sun."

Since this was the first year of its existence, the membership of the Cartoon Club was limited; but the club will be better known next year and therefore have a multitude of applicants.
This club, newly organized by Mr. John Kelley in September, 1941, was formed in order to give interested students an opportunity to further their work in chemistry. Meeting each week in the chemistry laboratory, the club carried on varied experiments. The most interesting experiment was the destructive distillation of crude oil producing the by-products ether, alcohol, ethene, and pethane. Also, during one of its periods, the club was honored to have as a guest speaker Mr. Smith from Boston College. He gave a very interesting talk on organic chemistry.

The club was so successful and made such rapid progress Mr. Kelley plans to have a chemistry club again next year. He feels sure, because of the students' aptness for experimentation, a more instructive and varied program can be planned.
COMMERCIAL CLUB

MARY MAHER ........................................... President
HELEN PAPPAS ......................................... Vice-President
STELLA CANARIS ....................................... Secretary
IRENE CONTOS .......................................... Treasurer

The Commercial Club was organized in 1940 under the direction of Miss Desmond. The students from the Commercial Department met and selected a committee which formulated the constitution. Officers were elected and the club enjoyed educational and social programs during their first year.

The club met in September and had election of officers who are listed above. The club visited the Edison Electric Company, and the radio station, and also visited Station WHDH. Mr. Gimelli, World's Champion Stenotypist, visited and demonstrated his skill in taking rapid dictation. Each year the club has an enjoyable social at Christmas time and an outing to wind up the activities of the year.

The club was organized in 1935 by Mr. Chrakian for the purpose of encouraging interest and developing skill in public speaking.

Activities for the year included an oratorical contest staged before a Sophomore assembly. Instruction in public speaking and parliamentary procedure was given by Mr. Chrakian. Also during the year members attended college team debates to study their methods.

The members feel that by joining this club they have gained considerable poise in public speaking and a clearer expression of thought.
The Golf Club was organized in 1941 by Mr. Malley. The club consists of 70 members who meet each Friday morning in the Golf Room. With the assistance of all members, Mr. Malley intends to continue sponsoring this club in the future.

The club purchased a golf net, which has been put up in the Golf Room. Members of the club have played at the Minute Man and Fresh Pond Country Clubs. The club has had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Peter Manning, golf professional.
Under the able direction of Mr. Gustaf Frye, this newly-formed club has done everything possible to uphold its creed which is "to create, to maintain, and to extend through the school and community higher standards of Christian character and leadership."

The club sent two delegates, Stuart Smith and David Bramhall, to the 33rd Annual Older Boys' Conference which was held at Brockton, Massachusetts. They reported on the conference to the club at the next meeting.

Several interesting speakers contributed greatly to the success of the weekly meetings, which were held Monday evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A.

The Triangle Chapter participated with other Hi-Y Clubs in a Good Friday Service and in an outing held at Dunstable, Massachusetts.

One of the improvements in Hi-Y this year was an increased ability on the part of all of the clubs to understand one another's problems.
THE VICTORY CHAPTER OF HI-Y

BOB CARBEE ........................................ President

EUGENE LOONEY ....................................... Secretary
BOB FULTON .......................................... Treasurer
GORDON GOODWIN .................................... Chaplain

The Watertown Victory Chapter of Hi-Y during the year 1941-42 was very successful under the advisership of Mr. Samuel H. Johnson, the Newton Y. M. C. A. Boys’ Work secretary.

The Victory Chapter met at the Newton Y. M. C. A. every Monday night. The year’s program of meetings was arranged to include one swim meeting, one business meeting, a speaker, and a supper meeting each month.

Bob Carbee and Bill MacRae were appointed as delegates to the 53rd Annual Older Boys’ Conference at Brockton, Mass.

This year the club was represented by one officer and one non-officer in the newly formed Hi-Y and Tri-Hi Council which was established to create a better understanding between the clubs and to endeavor to solve their various problems. The club also participated in the Council’s Good Friday Service which was held at the Eliott Church in Newton.

The Victory Chapter had charge of the Annual Victory Dance at the high school. The following took part in the program: Tickets, Bill MacRae; Orchestra, Creighton Hoyt, Rudy Antoni, and Bob Carbee; Decorations, Jack Sheehan, Bill Pierce; Coat Room, Gordon Goodwin, Eugene George, Bob Keith, and Aram Tolajian.

The two Hi-Y chapters enjoyed an outing at Dunstable Mass., the week of February 23.

JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CLUB

The Junior Chamber of Commerce now in its thirteenth year was organized to assist in all school activities and to be to the school what a Chamber of Commerce is to a community. This club, under the supervision of the late Mr. David Wheeler, was first named the Social-Civics Club. Eleven years ago Mr. A. Robert Kelman took Mr. Wheeler's place and it was then called the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The activities of the club are carried on by group committees responsible for each month's program.

Outstanding speakers are furnished for both school and club assemblies. Among the most interesting were Mrs. Kenneth Erskine, sponsor of Tri-Hi, who spoke on the work of the Y. M. C. A.; Mr. Applin, Selectman, on Civilian Defense; Mrs. Bean on her experiences in France during the time of the German invasion and Mr. Valentine, of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, on his responsibilities and experiences.

Ushering at Parent-Teachers Reception, providing Thanksgiving baskets for needy families, a Christmas Party for the club, and outing in June for all Senior members, and the awarding of trophies for the most outstanding boy and girl of the Senior Class are the club's outstanding activities.
The Knitting Club, under the capable direction of Miss Marion Sweet, was formed to promote an interest in knitting. After learning the fundamentals, each member made either articles for her own use or sweaters, scarfs, and helmets for the soldiers. Some of the popular garments made were mittens, bed jackets, socks, hats, and purses.

The club has enjoyed offering its services for "Uncle Sam" and making its year an all-round success. Next year it means to carry out a more extensive schedule and to enlarge upon the basic principles learned this year.
LIBRARY CLUB

RICHARD HELMS . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . President
PAUL JENKINS . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . Vice-President
MARY MURPHY . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . Secretary
DONALD MacLEOD . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . Treasurer

For many years the Library Club under the guidance of the school librarian, Miss Johnson, has been a very active service club.

This year, the club sponsored two plays given by professional players. The first was given by the Little Theatre Players from Plymouth, Massachusetts, and the second by the Little Theatre group of Boston. The profits from these plays have enabled the club to give many fine new books to the library. Other projects carried out were selling the little gold-plated football pins, which were so popular in the fall, and selling candy at the basketball games.

This year, the club has had unusually good library workers, and their assistance in the library has been an important contribution.

At the end of the year the club enjoyed a day's outing together.
Since 1939, the Linoleum Block Club has been satisfying the urge to whittle and carve by teaching us how to make useful cuts and blocks with a bit of linoleum and a few tools. A knowledge of correct design and arrangement and a little interest are all that's needed. So, since 1939, we've been studying working principles of harmony and line. With these principles as a foundation we turn out cuts suitable for plaques, textile prints, and Christmas cards, cuts which can very soon acquire that professional look.

As their first project this year, the club again made and sold over a thousand Christmas cards for the District Nursing Association. Other projects included linoleum plaques suitable for hanging on the wall and black and white reproductions of half-tone photographs. A few extra cuts were also made for Mr. Moody's notebook covers and for the tickets and dance orders for our annual masquerade ball.
The Music Appreciation Club, one of the newer organizations added to the extracurricular activities of the high school, has completed its second year. Under the supervision of Mr. O'Toole, the club has continued its policy of catering to those students who have a zest for the music that lives.

The group met in Whitehill Hall during the club period. A variety of programs, arranged by the members, was heard; usually the procedure was a talk on a composer's life and the playing of his most familiar composition. The library of classical records was increased out of funds paid in by members. On special occasions the club was entertained by its own talented musicians.
ORCHESTRA

Edward Odian, Concert Master

Under the leadership of Mr. Arnold Chick, the Watertown High School Orchestra met for rehearsal once a week. The orchestra is composed of members from all three classes.

This year the orchestra supplied music for the Senior and Junior plays, and participated in the "All Music Night," a program presented by all the musical units in the school system. The Women's Club play was also aided by the High School Orchestra.

The training received in the orchestra has helped many students who have continued their music either as a profession or as a hobby. This foundation, attained in the orchestra, will always be with the musicians.

As usual, the orchestra ended the year by playing at the graduation exercises for the Class of 1942.
The Quid Nunc Club is a girls' organization with a charter granted in 1920. The Latin motto means "What now?", a question which the members of the club ask themselves continually in their work of helping others. The club is associated with the Junior Red Cross of Boston. For all work completed and given to this organization Quid Nunc receives Certificates of Service.

Besides the usual club projects of knitting, dressing dolls, making patchwork quilts, and various scrapbooks, the member of Quid Nunc this year have served the school and the community in numerous other ways. Under the auspices of the Red Cross, the club sponsored throughout the school a drive for various articles to fill Christmas boxes to be sent abroad. Enough articles were contributed to fill twenty-two individual boxes. Many of the girls volunteered their services to do their part to collect contributions during the Salvation Army Drive and the Red Cross Roll Call. At Thanksgiving the club furnished dinners for needy families in Watertown.

In the fall the entire club made its annual visit to the Red Cross center in Boston. Here the girls were able to obtain many ideas for club projects.

Besides the usual club outings of bowling and skating, the girls this year attended the Harvard-Radcliffe Carols at the Harvard Memorial Chapel.

As stated in Article VIII of the constitution, "The purpose of this club shall be to serve loyally this school and community."
The Watertown High Radio Club has been organized in past years under various sponsors with varying degrees of success. The present club was reorganized in the spring of 1941 under the leadership of Mr. Mitchell. In the fall of 1941 the club started its activities.

The activities planned for the year 1941-42 were mainly instructive. Many new and inexperienced members were admitted into the club and officers for the ensuing year were elected. The first part of the year was devoted to instructing these members in both code and theory. The rest of the year was devoted to the teaching of the nature of actual experimentation and construction of radio equipment.
Previous to 1938, the Watertown Senior High School Rifle Club was one of the most popular clubs of the school. In 1939 the club was temporarily disbanded, only to be revived successfully this year by Lieutenant John C. McGrath.

The club's equipment included seven twenty-two calibre rifles, two of which were owned by the school and five of which belonged to individual members of the club.

Meetings of the Rifle Club were held every Monday and Wednesday after school. According to custom, there was an annual meeting on the third of April, at which time the officers for the club were elected. The club joined the National Junior Rifle Association which arranged competition with the other Rifle Clubs of the Association.
SAFETY CLUB

ED LATORRE . . . . . . . . . . . President

GEORGE WICKSTROM . . . . . . Vice-President

ROSALIE WHELAN . . . . . . . Secretary

PAULINE ELWELL . . . . . . . Treasurer

This club, organized in September, 1940, was under the direction of Mr. Raymond Ford until his departure for the U. S. Army in February, 1942. Mr. Arthur McCartney then assumed the sponsorship. The club was first known as the Auto Drivers’ Club but the name was later changed to the Safety Club since its purpose was to acquaint its members with all safety precautions instead of merely driving precautions.

The club has been privileged to hear a speaker or to see a film almost every week. The members enjoyed a banquet at the end of the year.
The Sports Club, newly organized this year by Mr. Joseph Murphy, has progressed rapidly for a new club.

During some of the club periods, movies of various sports were shown to the members while the coach explained the pictures taken of each sport during its season. The films have not only been interesting, but they have taught the students how to play fair.

Our club periods have been devoted to the discussing of the various games in which our high school teams have participated.
STUDENT COUNCIL

THOMAS MAY . . . . . . . . . . . . . President
RUDY ANTONI . . . . . . . . . . . . . Vice-President
STELLA PALASHIS . . . . . . . . . . . . Secretory

The Student Council was organized in 1938 by Mr. R. Glenn Smith for the purpose of developing and encouraging student leadership and of establishing an effective student government.

This year, when Mr. Smith was unexpectedly called to Atlanta, Georgia, to work for Uncle Sam, the council was reorganized under the sponsorship of Miss Sara D. Abbott and Mr. Douglas Chandler.

Under the direction of the council the traffic system has been changed, members now being chosen on the basis of sophomores, junior, and senior home-room representation instead of being made up of senior appointees as was the former plan.

The council has also instituted a Court of Justice for the purpose of enforcing the traffic laws. The court is made up of one chief justice, Walter DeMars, and four associate justices—Stella Palashis, Rudy Antoni, Evelyn Olsen, and Donald Leach.

A School Spirit Committee has also been formed to encourage student cooperation in all phases of school life.

After Thomas May’s departure into the world of work, Rudy Antoni took over as president for the remainder of the year.

In future years we hope the classes to follow will carry on our work, growing stronger and more effective year by year, proving that the student council, a typical unit of American Democracy can be a real benefit to the institution it represents.
In the past years the traffic squad has been under the direction of various faculty members with Seniors and Juniors as members of the squad.

Many changes have been made in the traffic squad this year since the Student Council has assumed charge of the organization. This squad is headed by a commissioner, an assistant commissioner, and eight lieutenants. It has been the duty of the staff to enforce some sort of discipline in the corridors. The squad and its advisors are confident that the plan will be put into successful operation in the approaching year.
The purpose of Tri-Hi is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the high school and community high standards of Christian character.

The girls, this year under the able guidance of Mrs. Erskine, have undertaken a great many social activities. In December, a party was given in Whitehill Hall for needy children. Each girl did her part by taking a child to the party where entertainment was provided and presents distributed.

During Christmas vacation a successful formal dance was held at the Woodland Country Club, and recently the members made a trip to Chinatown where they enjoyed the Chinese food and visited the many Chinese shops.

The activities and meetings were planned in order to aid the character building of those who were members.
Under the leadership of Miss Taylor the Type Club provided its members with the opportunity of employing their artistic skill in the making of typed designs and with the chance of improving their speed in typing.

Although the activities of the club somewhat resemble classroom work, they differ in that the emphasis is placed on speed rather than accuracy. The introduction of speed tests created interest among the members as well as improved ability.
ATHLETICS
FOOTBALL

The strategy and genius of Coach Joseph Murphy, coupled with a hard-charging line and a driving backfield, more than made up for a poor season on Thanksgiving Day when the Red Raiders swarmed all over hapless Belmont 12-7 at Victory Field.

Late in the game, Belmont’s Jack Meade ran 80 yards for the invaders’ only score, while Rudy Iodice ran wild, and the passing attack with Delory at the helm pierced the Belmont defense time and time again.

Watertown lost the season’s opener to Framingham in the last seventeen seconds, 7-6, and the following tilt with Brookline was also lost, 25-0, putting Rudy Iodice out of commission at the same time.

Revere replaced Somerville on our schedule but again heavily favored Watertown lost, 12-6.

The season as a whole was not up to the W. H. S. standard but, when the “Murphy Maulers” tore Belmont to bits on Turkey Day, the past was forgotten while the glorious remembrances of Thanksgiving Day remained.

SOCCER

Although the 1941 edition of the Watertown High Soccer team lost its previously gained championship of the Greater Boston League, they managed to finish a close second, due to the magnanimous effort of Italo Torocco, Rudy Antoni, Joe Bragole, and Larry Chick.

The only dark spot on an otherwise fairly clear record was the game at Lexington against the "Minute Men." The league referee failed to appear so both teams agreed that the Lexington coach should act as the official. Watertown lost the game 3-1 and then protested the decision at the next meeting of the league, but to no avail. As a result this loss cost them the championship which they had won the year before under Johnny Craig.

Mr. Craig left his coaching post at Watertown to tutor the M. I. T. booters, who, judging from their past record, sorely needed the teachings Mr. Craig had to offer.

On the whole the season was a successful one, with the game against Medford, which the "Raiders" won 2-1, about the best tilt of the season.

Outstanding Games—Winchester and Belmont.

The hockey season for 1941 was one of the most exciting in many a year. The team, composed of six seniors and five juniors, proved to be real competition for all their opponents.

The seniors, Rosalie Whalen and Peggy Leary on the defense, filled the full back positions; while Connie Scott was left halfback. Seniors on the offensive were Victoria Sarkisian, Ernestine Bolduc and Carol Sheehan. These girls were very ably supported by juniors—mainly, Marie Leary, a good offensive player. She was the main factor in our win over Belmont and has been elected captain for next year with Dot Wright, another excellent offensive player, as manager. Phyllis Flynn, Jean Conrad, and Betty Backofen were three juniors who helped to keep down the score of the opponents.

The Watertown pucksters ended one of their most successful seasons in years, being tied at the top of the Bay State circuit with Waltham; achieving this without the services of Don McLeod, who was ruled ineligible shortly after the season commenced.

Although Watertown had once toppled the "Watch City" sextet, 3-1, they were tied at 10 points apiece and, on the basis of goals scored for and against, it was decided that they should be termed co-champions and that Waltham should enter the Eastern tournament to represent the Bay State League.

Watertown placed Paul Fitzpatrick, "Del" Delory, and Bob Baker on the Bay State All-Star team, which overwhelmed their Eastern League rivals 6-2 but in turn were trampled by the greater Boston All-Stars 8-1.

Arlington High pinned the first loss of the season on the Big Red with 1-0 in an inter-league match, a new policy which featured this year's hockey season.

Watertown stopped Charlie Butler and his Waltham team mates 3-1 in one of the best games the Murphysites played all year. Don McLeod tallied twice, assisted by "Del" Delory, and Paul Fitzpatrick scored the other goal.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Due to a sudden attack of appendicitis, Coach "Irv" Keene was sent to the hospital while his basketball team struggled valiantly with their new coach, "Cy" Ellis, at the helm. The quintet had a fairly successful year so that better things are expected in 1943, for once again the same team of Degnan, Favuzza, Wickstrom, Eordekian, and Bardizian will take the court for W. H. S.

One feature sadly lacking in the Watertown High School schedule was the usual double tilt with Belmont. The Belmont officials were unwilling to play more than a single contest. However, the Red Raiders took them in stride 35-30 in their only encounter.

The last game on the schedule was the most trying, for Waltham floored a team of giants compared to the "Mighty Mites" of Coach "Irv" Keene. However, brains and crafty play overcame physical handicaps and the local Red Raiders came out on top 23-21 to put an auspicious lid on the 1942 basketball cauldron.

Outstanding Players—Catherine Ranucci, Mary Cavallero, Armen Garabedian, Marion Khederian, and Shirley Devenney.

The 1941-42 basketball season has been a huge success. The team has lost one game only, and that to the Alumnae. The most exciting game was that with Winchester when the girls made the grade by but only a very narrow margin. Despite this, however, the team is an excellent one and deserves much credit for their marvelous record. The Belmont game was another thriller and the girls won the tilt for the second year in a row.

High scorer was Marion Khederian with a total of 54 points. Both the defensive and offensive players deserve loads of credit for the low score of our opponents, and our own high scores.

Outstanding Players—Dave Bramhall and Jack Sheehan.
Led by Jack Sheehan, Dick Bramhall, and Ted Vogel, the Watertown High cinder wreckers mauled the opposition supplied by their eight-meet schedule, commencing May 1st.

Other competitors who helped the Raiders in their drive into state-wide recognition were George Gilbert, Ed Mylonas, Dick Champagne, Larry Chick, Gerald Mec, Rudy Antoni, Ralph Brown, Walter Simcock, Claude Cooper and Phil Guidrey.

The highlight of the tracksters’ season arrived May 23rd when the State Meet was held at Tufts College. Jack Sheehan held the torch aloft for W. H. S.

Outstanding Players—Rudy Antoni and Donald Leach

Under the expert tutelage of Coach John McNealy, the Watertown High racquet wielders hoped to provide a season's standing that would outlast any other record the school possesses.

Leader of the ace smashers was Rudy Antoni, a senior veteran “par excellence,” while Jack Clayton, Donald Leach and Eugene George filled out the rest of the McNealy roster.

As usual, the home matches were decided at the Victory Field courts and this year, aggressors from Belmont, Arlington, Waltham, and Winthrop invaded the local premises.

The courts opened the last week in April and from the early outlook, it seemed that local Columbia Prepsters foresaw a mass of victories.

The girls of Watertown High School were all set to start on the tennis season, which marks a close of the sports era for another school year. They had been practicing as faithfully as ever, and such spirit can't go unrewarded.

The four top-ranking stars of this year's team were: first, a sophomore who was champion of all three classes as was proved in last fall's tournament—namely, Louise Jacobson. Second, came our only senior in the group, Betty Cate, who had been an ardent member of the team since her sophomore year. In third place stood a girl well known to all our tennis fans, a junior, Madelyn Dexter. She early proved herself to be a real threat to our two top stars. Janet Meagan, also a sophomore, was next and a plucky player with plenty of the spirit it takes to win.

The newly formed golf club, whose prize possession is the golf net underneath the gym, is the main reason for the improvement of "Jungle Joe" Malley's golf charges this year.

Divot enthusiasts practiced faithfully throughout the dreary months of winter and when the warm sun rays hit the greens and fairways, the W. H. S. divoteers held the edge on their Greater Boston League competitors.

A tryout round was held at the Oakley Country Club, the home course for the W. H. S. golfers again this year, and the six starters were selected from a long list of capable candidates.

Once again this year, the forces of Nashua High School and Watertown High met in a home affair. Previously W. H. S. journeyed to the wilds of New Hampshire, but the Twin State golfers did not return the compliment due to schedule difficulties.

J. J. Malley now has a sufficient number of A-1 calibre golfers for next year to practically assure him of winning the Greater Boston League Championship.

Outstanding Players—Joe Favuzza and George Wickstrom

Under the former Holy Cross baseball star, Bob Daughters, the Watertown High diamond men entered the Suburban League, which boasts of such powerful contenders for state wide recognition as Arlington, Cambridge Latin, Brookline.

The main weakness in the Watertown strategy lay in their none-too-effective pitching staff. George Wickstrom had proven himself a valuable asset to the Red Raider ball club, but he alone could not bear the brunt of an eighteen game schedule.

Joe Favuzza was the club's leading sticker but outside of this powerful outfielder, the batting averages of the others shaped up about normal.

The Columbia Prep nine met Belmont in an early season tilt at Concord avenue, but lost the game in the ninth inning 12-11, Santoro being the losing pitcher.

CHEERLEADERS

"Come on Watertown, Let’s go!" That's one of the numerous lusty yells with which the cheerleaders spurred our pigskin defenders on to victory. The peppy cheerleaders did a fine job in stimulating enthusiastic support from the grandstand. Several new cheers and school songs, written by members of both the faculty and the student body, were introduced at the various rallies.

Two of the most popular songs were Mr. Archibald’s "Fight Song," and Arpina Zovickian's "Gridiron Song."

FIGHT SONG
By H. Archibald
Come on, Watertown High,
Fight on to Victory,
Come on, football team
A drive now down the field
Our foe may be stronger,
But we'll never falter
Our boys are out to win the day,
We'll show the way.
So let us sing our songs
To that football team,
And let us cheer them onward
A fight team—fight.

Chorus
Now here's to our High School,
Here's to our team,
The red and black, our colors,
Fight, Team—Fight
We'll praise our boys in victory
And ever as they play
We're singing, cheering, loyal
To the team of Watertown High.

AS THE GRIDIRONS COME MARCHING ALONG
By Arpina Zovickian '42

(Tune: Caisson Song)

Come on, Red! Come on, Black!
Come on, team, let's push 'em back!
Come on, gridirons, come marching along
There's the field, there's the field,
Where the football is your shield,
Come on, gridirons, come marching along.
Get that ball and throw it over the goal line
Victory will be for us tonight
With Coach Murphy at your side,
You'll be the fame and pride
Of your old Alma Mater tonight
Of your old Alma Mater tonight.
