The Yearbook Staff Presents
The ANNUAL
for 1944
WATERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL
To You . . .

MR. IRVING C. KEENE

We, the Class of 1944, in recognition of your help and guidance, dedicate this, the eighteenth edition of the Annual.

You have developed here in the high school a biology laboratory of which we and the town can justly be proud. You have made Biology Project Night an important event which has drawn many distinguished visitors to Watertown High School.

You have, as Director of Visual Education, shown films which were not only educational and instructive but also interesting to all who saw them.

You have, as Coach of Basketball, won for the school an enviable record in inter-school competition and have been respected and admired by your contemporaries as well as by your "boys."

For these, and for other less tangible but even more important contributions to the school and to us, we thank you.

Foreword

We, the staff of the 1944 yearbook, proudly present this, the eighteenth edition of the Annual. We wish to express our thanks to all members of the faculty and student body who have helped to make this volume possible.

As our central theme we have selected Victory. We feel our choice is fitting because the hope of victory is at this time uppermost in our minds. However, we don't wish to limit the meaning of our theme to victory in war, but to include the ideal of Victory in life—victory in all phases of that free life for which this war is being fought, and to which our country is dedicated.

The Staff hopes that in some small way the Annual may in the years to come, help us all to relive the happy years spent at Watertown High.

To Our Servicemen...

While many factors contribute to victory in war, service in the armed forces is the most direct contribution and entails, probably, the greatest personal sacrifice.

We have set aside this page in homage to the boys and girls in our class who have left or soon will leave to join the ranks of Uncle Sam's men and women serving and fighting on far-flung battle fronts.

We join the rest of the world in offering a prayer that their sacrifices will not be in vain.
To the Class of 1944

With all the uncertainties that lie ahead for all of us in this war-torn world it is more difficult than ever to view with great joy the commencement season now approaching.

We had hoped a year ago that this brutal conflict covering the earth would be at a close by now and that the many high school graduates throughout our land could, in this year, resume their normal, peace-time, educational and vocational pursuits. It appears that such good fortune remains for graduating classes yet to come.

And what for the Class of '44? It is the belief of your Headmaster that you will carry on in this all-out war effort as effectively and efficiently as you have in your school work during High School days. It is his conviction that you will take into that effort the same enthusiasm, spirit and determination that you have demonstrated here at W. H. S. You will want to hasten a complete victory, which right now seems almost within our country's grasp, and with it you will desire to assist in the forming of a just and lasting peace. There is no bigger job for any group of young people—no goal more challenging.

You entered High School to learn—you are going forth to serve. Your service to your country is, in this instance, no more nor less than service to God and all humanity. The world must be freed from all selfishness, greed and aggression, and it appears the unhappy lot of youth to shoulder the burden of doing just that. You can do it.

Enjoy your commencement, as far as possible, and, as you leave us, take with you the thought that your teachers here have earnestly tried to prepare you for that big job ahead. May their every good wish and God's blessing be yours.

Everything moves forward. Improvements are constantly being sought and made. Progress depends on the youngest generation, the generation just setting out on the road of life.

We are that generation, about to test the theories we have learned, about to put into practice all our accumulated knowledge.

Because of the training we have received we should be well equipped to help win this complex and diversified war; but more important still, to help maintain a peaceful and stable world, dedicated to progress in science, in the arts, and in the art of living.

CLASS OF '44—HERE’S TO YOU

To the Tune of "Chin Up! Cheerio! Carry On!"

With a cheer loud and clear, and with a shout, hearty,
We sing, Forty-Four, here's to you!

With a pull all together and with strong spirit
We'll win, and for aye, carry on!

We will work here and now and forever for our school
With our heads, with our hands, with our loyal hearts and true.

With a cheer loud and clear, and with a shout, hearty,
We sing, Forty-Four, here's to you!

Through Education

The welfare of our nation; and the maintenance of a democracy depends on an educated electorate. In fact, the future of the world depends on the proper education of all its inhabitants. Despite some of its defects, the American educational system seems the best as yet devised.

Recognizing the importance of education, the Armed Forces have permitted many boys to graduate before drafting them.

In the complex social and economic world in which we live, education, knowledge, "book learning," are essential for that victory over self which makes for a truly well-balanced life.

As we reach the end of our Junior year, we take this opportunity to look over the events of the past semesters. We seem to have graduated a bit, for now we are no longer the youngest class of the school.

During this year we had our first class play, "Incognito." The entire cast gave a splendid performance and the audience immensely enjoyed this intriguing, modern comedy.

A Junior Promenade on May twenty-sixth made up for our disappointment last year when we failed to have our class party. The affair was a success, with many seniors and sophomores attending.

In the Bond Drive, sponsored by the Student Council, the juniors bought the largest number of stamps and bonds with $3890.35.

Green and white, our class colors, chosen by a committee of four, were selected this year and will follow us through to the day of graduation.

All in all, the junior class has prospered greatly under the fine supervision of Miss Jacobs and Mr. McNealy.
On that all important night the Class of "45" produced a smash hit under the veteran direction of Mrs. Betty Boerstler. "Incognito" was very different from productions of previous years. As the interest-arousing title suggests, the play is a mystery comedy based on modern events taking place just before the German war machine began to roll. All through this fast moving play there is a humorous background which makes an entertaining contrast to the plot.

When the curtains opened, the spectators found themselves on board the American pleasure steamer, S.S. Imperial, headed for South America — eight fifteen and all was well. The audience was just beginning to settle back when suddenly things began to pop. Erick Jagendorf, a German espionage agent, was murdered as he was about to reveal to a prowling U-Boat the identity of a British spy who had been eluding the Germans for months. Herr Von Stumm, the submarine commander, boarded the steamer determined to find Jagendorf's murderer. Complications arose when he was confronted by a group of female passengers, one of whom he suspected was the murderer. From here on the audience was ready for anything and no thrills were spared. The third act was rounded out by the murderer's being trickily exposed.

We, the Sophomores . . .

The building seemed immense and strange to us, the bewildered Class of 1946, when we entered High School on September 8, 1943. To be sure we did recognize the famous landmarks in the halls—namely, the "Winged Victory" and "Discobolus, the pie thrower."

We dared not ask the Juniors or Seniors where Room 118 or 211 was, for we were well-warned that those who did would probably end up in the furnace room or some other forbidden place; so many Sophomores walked into their classes late for a week or two always giving the same excuse, "I got lost." According to the historian, however, the "Class of '46" managed to reach June pretty well intact, except for Henry Mosea, who joined the Navy, and George Hammond, who preferred the Sea-bees to our fair W. H. S.

Our biggest event of the year was the election of class officers. Richard Phelps came out on top for President; Jack Chinian, Vice President; Jacqueline Menghi, Treasurer; and Jean Gallahger, Secretary. Those elected to the Executive Committee were Charles Baboian, Elinor Morgan and Steve Russian.

The pride and joy of the Sophomore class were those who made the Super-Honor Roll during the year. Some of them were Varwoohie Bazarian, Charles Millian, Lois Mosher, Charles Baboian, and Peter Pochi.

Our class colors, blue and white, were chosen at meetings conducted by the representatives in the home rooms. We held class meetings as nearly once a month as possible, featuring guest speakers. Our May Assembly was a Class Talent Show which was, needless to say, one of the most enjoyable.

It had been the custom in the past years for the Sophomores to have a party and despite the fact that we were "War Babies" we also had one on June 2.

We feel that with the help of our advisors we were able to make this year a happy and successful one for all.

JEAN GALLAGHER, Secretary
Men strive for recognition. It is human nature to desire the plaudits of friends, relatives, and loved ones. To be honored for outstanding ability or achievement is a victory in a person’s life.

In all phases of life there are agencies, organizations, or societies to reward outstanding men and women. In the armed forces there are the medals and decorations which signify courage or leadership; industry has its “E” pennants; our school, too, has its organizations to recognize its leaders!
Membership in Cum Laude is limited to seniors of the College Preparatory Course only, and is awarded to those students who have achieved the highest average of scholarship based on their grades for the entire three years. The highest ranking students are elected after mid-years, and a few more usually succeed in attaining the required standard at the end of the third term.

The Watertown High Chapter of the National Cum Laude Society was chartered in 1921—an honor granted only to high schools of a sufficiently high standard of college preparation. Our Cum Laude Alumni have continued their achievement after graduation, winning recognition as outstanding students in college and advancing rapidly in officer's ratings in the Army, Navy, Waves, Coast Guard, and the other branches of service where they are serving honorably and well.

At Wellesley this year the only two Massachusetts girls to make Phi Beta Kappa in Junior Year were both Cum Laude graduates of Watertown High. These girls were also Durant Scholars—the highest honor Wellesley can bestow.

The Class of 1944 should be congratulated on the number of students in the class, found worthy of the honor of membership in Cum Laude.

Members of the Student Council are elected each year from the upper third of the class—two members from each of the five courses. Sophomore elections are held in April and Junior elections are held in June.

The Student Council, early in the year sponsored a triple jeep drive. This was held in order to buy one flying jeep, one amphibious jeep, and one regular jeep for Uncle Sam. On November nineteenth a rally was held in order to help boost the sale of defense stamps. Although on December seventh our goal was not reached a very good showing was made.

A new way to receive the students' opinion in regard to the betterment of the school has been adopted by the council. A suggestion box was put in the library for any who wished to submit their ideas. Many were received and acted upon.

The Student Council this year has acted as a court for the traffic squad.

A dance was held on April fifteenth from eight to twelve in Whitehill Hall for the enjoyment of all.

One of the coveted goals of all the students is to be elected to the National Honor Society. This organization recognizes the pupils who rank high not only in scholarship but also in good influence on their fellow students, and who serve the school as good citizens, practicing high standards of character in everyday living.

In February, the members who were elected in the Junior year, sponsored an assembly for the underclassmen, explaining the four National Honor Standards: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. Jack Morse, a former president of the National Honor Society, now in the United States Navy at Tufts College, explained their importance in military life.

In April the faculty elected from the upper third of the class the new members—five per cent of the Junior class and ten per cent of the Senior class. At no time may the membership exceed fifteen per cent of any one class. The impressive induction ceremony took place in May under the guidance of Mr. Archibald, and the faculty council—Miss Jacobs, chairman; Mr. Adams, Miss Ricker, Miss O'Brien, and Miss McNally.

Last fall the Society made extensive plans, but due to the unusual conditions it was unable to carry them out. However, the new members are anticipating a busy and prosperous season next year.

Life Sculpture

George Washington Doane

Chisel in hand stood a sculptor boy
With his marble block before him,
And his eyes lit up with a smile of joy,
As an angel-dream passed o'er him.

He carved the dream on that shapeless stone,
With many a sharp incision;
With heaven's own light the sculpture shone—
He'd caught that angel-vision.

Children of life are we, as we stand
With our lives uncarved before us,
Waiting the hour when, at God's command,
Our life-dream shall pass o'er us.

If we carve it then on the yielding stone,
With many a sharp incision,
Its heavenly beauty shall be our own—
Our lives, that angel-vision.

Through Activity

Idleness breeds discontent; the happy person is the busy one. Clubs, societies, and other activities give the student many opportunities to be busy and happy.

In addition they introduce hobbies; they teach skills; they increase range of interest; and more important still, they encourage good citizenship by developing co-operation, mutual understanding, and good will.
Though small, the Art Club had a most co-operative membership this year. One of its outstanding accomplishments was the tinting of over one hundred menus for soldiers' hospitals. Many posters were produced, including a series for the Red Cross blood plasma drive.

The murals of the Prehistoric, Babylonian-Assyrian, Renaissance, Colonial, and Modern periods were completed, and decorations for the Senior Prom were planned and developed.

An exhibition of water colors by Charles Morrissey was arranged and held in the school library.

A special Art assembly featured water color sketching, poster construction, and fashion designing, not to mention the skit of the "Mad Artist."
Under the able leadership of Mr. Chick, the band has had a very successful year. Like most clubs, the band met on Friday mornings; but the members also attended a Monday evening rehearsal. The first part of the school year was spent preparing for the main event of this organization, the annual January concert. Other activities of the year included playing at the football games, at drill day, at various school assemblies, and marching in several parades, among which was the Memorial Day Parade. The band also played at varied evening entertainments. Much of the money earned this year was invested in War Bonds.

In May the members of the band attended a Pops concert.

The Biology Club was organized in 1940. The purpose of the club is to maintain and improve the biology laboratory and to promote interest in the biological sciences.

The main activity of the club this year was to sponsor the annual "Biology Project Night." Each member had an individual duty to perform in preparation for the event and acted as a counselor to a participating student.

During the course of the year the club has had many interesting speakers at its meetings. Also, it has enjoyed many biological field trips and visits to leading colleges and museums. At the close of the year the club had its annual June outing.

Despite such worries as increased printing costs, paper shortages, and time-consuming after-school jobs, the staff of the Bulletin has managed to survive another year of snooping for news and scrambling to meet deadlines.

Barbara Ford and Walter Simcock, with Miss Campbell, attended the New York convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

About twenty members enjoyed the annual meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts Scholastic Press Association at Northeastern University. Betty White was chosen student treasurer of this organization for the coming year.

The Eastern Massachusetts Scholastic Press Association awarded first prize for school newspapers in Class B schools to the Bulletin.

The Camera Club is one of the oldest and busiest clubs in the school. The work of the club includes the taking of club and sports pictures, "candid," and individual portraits for the Annual and Bulletin.

Members of the club are instructed in various phases of photography: portrait taking, indoor and outdoor photography, composition, photographic chemistry, and darkroom technique.

Club members have at their disposal a well-equipped darkroom in which they may do their own and the club's work. The club holds informal contests in which individuals may submit their work for criticism.

During the club period each week various experiments were undertaken by the members and different problems on Chemistry were discussed by Mr. Kelley.

Dues collected each week helped the club to sponsor a dance on January seventh for members and friends, and also to hold a banquet at a Boston restaurant at which the members enjoyed a chicken dinner and good entertainment.

Some of the money in the treasury is to be used for buying materials for experiments and chemical equipment which will be of use for the chemistry students.

Membership in the Choral Speaking Club under the sponsorship of Miss Appel was opened in the fall of 1943. Fifteen girls desiring to improve their diction and to participate in choral work joined the group.

At the first meeting, officers were elected. The group then began practicing word endings, nasal sounds, breath control and special exercises for individual difficulties before practicing as a choral group.

The club's first activity was giving appropriate selections at the Christmas assembly. Later, club members attended the Spring Poetry Festival at Wellesley College. However, the major activity throughout the year was perfecting a repertoire of choral selections.

The chorus is made up of approximately eighty girls. In reality there are six different choral groups. Two groups meet on Monday, one during the first period, the other during the homeroom period; one chorus meets on Wednesday, the fourth period; another during the homeroom period on Thursday. Recently a special girls' chorus of selected voices has been formed. This chorus rehearses Tuesday during the homeroom period.

Most of the selections rehearsed by these choruses are semi-classical such as: "In a Monastery Garden," "Night and Day," and "In My Garden." Although the rehearsals are not very long, much is accomplished and steady improvement has been noted.

Some of the outstanding activities of the year have been: a visit to the Fisher School at the invitation of Mr. Smith, who gave a lecture; a play demonstrating right and wrong office manners, which was presented at a class assembly; an interesting speech by Mrs. Devlin, who described her fascinating experiences abroad; and type speed contests and spelling matches for which prizes were awarded to winners. A committee of three was responsible for each week's program.

The members of the club received much enjoyment, and benefit from their activities and socials, among which have been a skating party and a theater party.
During the past year the Debating Society has had many interesting discussions on the numerous debatable subjects brought to the front by the current war and governmental problems.

Each year the Society takes part in the American Legion Oratorical Contest and stages assembly debates, contests, and inter-scholastic debates.

In May the Society presented, under the auspices of the School Committee, a public debate-discussion before the townspeople on "Resolved: That the Voting Age Should Be Reduced from Twenty-one to Eighteen."

During the past year the Glee Club has had a membership of sixty girls.

Among its many achievements this year, the club has added enjoyment to the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and April assemblies.

The monthly dues were added to a fund which is used for purchasing new music.

The club’s repertoire was composed of many beautiful selections such as: “This Is Worth Fighting For,” “My Hero,” “Strike Up the Band,” and “This Is My Country.”

The Library Club acquaints its members with library procedure by enabling them to participate in library work during club periods.

Throughout the year many teachers, and librarians from the staff of the Watertown Public Library, were kind enough to speak at meetings. Club members gave reviews of books.

During football season, small gold football pins were sold in an effort to increase book funds.

Shortly before Christmas, a party was held for all of the members. The social activities of the year were climaxed by an annual outing.

The Library Club tries to instill an appreciation of good books, to instruct its members in library work, and to provide a good social atmosphere.
The twenty-four members of the Linoleum Block Club had a busy year in the development of many interesting projects.

A fascinating and practical hobby, linoleum block work offers the student a most effective method of self-expression and an inexpensive process of reproduction.

The Military Club was founded in February of this year to aid those boys who will soon enter the armed services.

The club has attended talks, demonstrations and illustrated lectures concerning many of the phases of military life. The subjects covered included regimental organization, maps, map reading, scouting, sanitation, first aid, and the duties of individual soldiers of various ranks. Courties and customs of the services were also discussed.

The club's work was of an advanced nature and the information gathered will no doubt be put to good use in the near future.

All members of the club express deep appreciation to Lieutenant McGrath for forming so interesting and valuable an organization.

This club, which was composed of twenty-five boys, met in the woodshop every Friday. The club's specific task was making for the government model planes to be used in aircraft identification courses. These planes, which were copies of actual war-planes, had to be perfect in every detail to be accepted. The club's quota of twenty-five planes was filled. Under the tutelage and guidance of Mr. Adams, the Navigation Club delved into the intricacies of air, marine, and celestial navigation. Within the bulkheads of Room 101, our embryo navigators and pilots have mastered problems of drift, interception, and radius of action from fixed and moving bases. These versatile mariners have progressed rapidly from the theory of map-making to the interception of enemy planes. They learned the use of parallel-rulers, compass reading, and the handling of other instruments valuable to navigating.

This course was a skeleton of what the boys will have to face if ever they study navigation thoroughly under government jurisdiction.

As Juniors, the Class of '44 presented a delightful comedy. The plot revolved about a teen-age girl and the boy next door, their problems and their relatives. Penny Wood, a moon-struck youngster of fifteen becomes infatuated with Roger Van Vleck, her young Uncle Mervin's sophisticated college roommate, much to the dismay of Chuck, Penny's childhood sweetheart. However, Penny is soon disillusioned when Roger falls in love with Julia, Chuck's lovely older sister and Mervin's fiancée. Finally, Penny realizes her folly and Julie makes amends with Mervin, which situation gives Roger no other choice than to leave.

The play was flavored with humorous situations; and, under the able direction of Mrs. Boerstler, together with the eager cooperation of the cast, the committees, and our faculty advisors, it was an exceptional success. The production was later presented for the soldiers at Fort Strong in Boston Harbor.
The Class of '44 chose for its senior play an entertaining comedy. The story centers about the Rear­downs, a typically American family including Laura, the social-climbing mother who has engineered her lovely daughter Marcia into a match with wealthy Sherwin Parker; Reginald, the father, whose favorite pastime is tinkering with his car; Penelope, the youngest Reardon, who with her chum Maudie is the family pest; Warry, the only son, who aspires to be a writer; and Nana, the wise-cracking grandmother who craves Crosby records, and who succeeds in getting rid of the Parkers and reuniting Marcia with the boy she really loves, Todd Galloway.

How Nana does this, with the help of versatile Cousin Lily, provided hilarious entertainment, made even more enjoyable by the drollness of Mr. and Mrs. Parker who come to visit, and by the humorous entrances of the ungainly maid, Essie.

The accomplishments of Quid Nunc during the past year included: filling Christmas boxes for refugee children abroad; making Christmas favors for hospitals; taking part in a Christmas assembly; working at Service Men’s Center; knitting an afghan for a service men’s hospital; helping in gasoline rationing and at Watertown’s Price Panel Board; ushering on Parent-Teacher’s afternoon; conducting a drive for Junior Red Cross membership, and sending representatives to monthly meetings of the Boston Chapter, and cutting rug strips for Perkins Institute.

In a campaign for articles for Hospital Service the club gathered 1110 miscellaneous magazines, 30 bound books, 145 ash trays, 32 sets of playing cards, 27 games and puzzles, a piano, and a check for $5.00.
The Rifle Club became an unofficial member of the National Rifle Association at its first meeting. Members were chosen from only the senior class to permit pre-induction training for those who were to enter the armed forces. To encourage competition and better results, averages were set up with the same basic idea as baseball batting percentages. Three hundred per cent was considered average. Scores went up as high as 700 per cent and down as low as .098 per cent.

The membership was held down to twelve, the range permitting only four men to shoot at once—at prone, sitting, or kneeling positions.

At the final meeting, standings were recognized and medals issued to members according to their marksmanship. The members greatly appreciated Mr. McCartney's assistance to the club.

Traffic in the corridors between classes has been a major problem in Watertown High School until this year. Early in the first term volunteers from the Junior and Senior classes were appointed by the commissioners as marshals on a new systematized traffic squad for the purpose of guiding pupils during the filing periods. The squad has had its ups and downs but has finally succeeded in overcoming all major obstacles. At various times the Student Council acted as Traffic Court to reprimand unco-operative students.

Early in April, Sophomore volunteers were appointed to form, with the Juniors, a nucleus for next year's squad.

The purpose of this girls' club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

The outstanding activity of the year was a Minstrel Show sponsored by both Hi-Y and Tri-Hi and put on for the benefit of The War Prisoners' Aid Society. The girls also have provided money for the care of a small boy in England. As a part of Judge Cuniff's juvenile delinquency program, they have sent representatives to give their opinions. A few of the social activities were an Alumni Tea and a dance in Whitehill Hall.

Mrs. Erskine, who had been advisor of Tri-Hi for the past five years, resigned from the club in March. She was forced to do this because of her added responsibilities in the war effort.

Laughter and fun are necessary ingredients in a well-rounded personality; in proper proportions they add zest and verve. With too little of these ingredients a person is drab and colorless; with too much, he becomes a clown or a practical joker, a burden to all who know him.

The ability to engage in good humored give and take without losing one’s temper can truly be called “victory over self,” for a humorless and over-serious person will never enjoy life, and more tragic still, never have friends.
History

We were like any new group of sophomores entering the building—bewildered, almost petrified by the seeming massiveness of the corridors of Watertown High School. How ridiculous some of us must have looked when we tried to find our way to our classrooms! How those seniors did love to mislead us! But as the days passed, we discovered what wonderful upperclassmates we had. Do you remember the fine “pep” talk Miss Severance gave on scholarship and the Cum Laude Trophy at the first assembly? Some of us really settled down after that talk and as a result many were on the honor roll.

Do you remember how curious and anxious we were to vote? There was a great deal of competition during the class elections. The class officers—Walter Simcock, president; Carol Connor, vice president; Dorothy Masterson, secretary; Robert Wessick, treasurer; Vivian Bold, Janet Megan and Virginia Oates, executive committee—held many meetings at which they selected red and white as our class colors and discussed plans for the year. We did have many entertaining and interesting assemblies. Remember Joe Mitchell Chapman, who spoke to us on “Triple A:” Albert Pain, the page boy from Washington; the Reverend Wilkes, at the Christmas assembly? Richard MacDonald, a classmate of ours who entertained us at the patriotic assembly, is now in the Navy. Then came the great event of that year. How the officers under the able guidance of Miss Jacobs and Mr. Grimes did hustle to make our sophomore movie-dance party a great success. Can you ever forget those two superb dancers Mr. and Mrs. Champagne?

What a great feeling it was to know that a year had gone by and we were closer to becoming seniors. We had many fine assemblies during our junior year also. Little did we realize what a talented man we were getting when Mr. Mayo was introduced to us as music director. What an efficient Student Council we had! Remember the election of Richard MacDonald as Chief Justice and the rules that the council established? We began to feel the war when, in October, we had a week off for fuel rationing—not that any of us minded—definitely not. It seemed as though every year had something new to offer. This year it was voting with all the formalities that go with real town elections. Didn’t you feel as though you were really voting for important people? Again we selected a fine group: Walter Simcock, president; Ernest Papazian, vice president; Dot Masterson, secretary; Robert Wessick, treasurer; Vivian Bold, Janet Megan and Virginia Oates, executive committee. This year those who had made the honor roll for four terms were presented with Cum Laude certificates by Miss Severance. Didn't Pat Murphy sing beautifully at our Christmas assembly! We certainly had a great deal of talent in our class! Of the large cast, Vivian Bold, George Schweitzer, and Hazel Tewksbury helped especially to make "June Mad" a great success. The cast presented the play at Fort Strong for the benefit of the soldiers. What a thrill it was for some of us to be elected to the National Honor Society! Remember the grand time we had at our informal Junior Party? Art Lyons' Orchestra was "right in the groove."

Could you believe it? We were actually seniors. We realized with sorrow and pride that some of our classmates were missing. They were serving in the armed forces. This year didn't we have a great deal of campaigning. The final results were: Walter Simcock, president; Ernest Papazian, vice president; Yolanda Falbo, secretary; Bob Wessick, treasurer; Arthur Barberian, Vivian Bold, and Janet Megan, executive committee. Our senior year was indeed a busy one. The various committees for the Annual and the play were selected. Leslie Elterich as Penelope, and Ruth Robbins as Emmie were "wows" in "Every Family Has One." December 2nd—that a day hard to forget. What an absentee list we had! That was the day Sinatra came to town.

What a proud year this was for us: Richard Donnell won a scholarship to Harvard; nineteen people were elected to the National Cum Laude Society; and we finally succeeded in having our numerals engraved on the Cum Laude Trophy. We were proud of our boys and girls in the athletic world. Walter Simcock, Bob Clark, Jimmy Eordekian, Kay Burke, Thelxy Rallis, Sharon Stepanian, and Mabel Hicks were superlative and led their teammates to many victories. Remember our prom, held on February 11th because many of the boys were leaving for the service? Didn't the gym look gay and colorful with its decorations of red and white hearts, cupids, and g-clefs! The boys, very handsome in their tuxedoes, and the girls lovely in their beautiful gowns, laughed at old man winter's threat to spoil their evening with six inches of snow and a blustering wind. This year we had several entertaining assemblies. Jack Morse, past president of the National Honor Society, was a good speaker. I don't think we'll ever forget the interesting art assembly sponsored by Mr. Moody. There were many other memorable events—Freak Day, Banquet, Baccalaureate Services, and above all the long-awaited graduation day.

We leave our dear Alma Mater with fond memories of our helpful teachers and principal, the gay and joyous hours we spent with our classmates, and the entertaining social events we have experienced during our high school life.

The Challenge

At last the doors have opened wide
That we may all pass through
To meet a life that ever has
A need for hardy crew—

A life that's lost in blackened shades
And cries aloud for light—
It seeks a power that will have
The strength to make it bright.

And shall we help to make that power
Or have that strength to be,
And fashion life for all the wor'd
And its posterity?

—Alice Lousarevian
Watertown . . . 1964. How times have changed! No longer are Mt. Auburn and Main just streets; they are rip-roaring, white ways—crossroads of 150,000,000 people. Watertown has come a long way since "44." It has been transformed from a mere town to a gigantic metropolis teeming with a population exceeding a million. Skyscrapers thrust themselves high into the sky, while deep-down beneath the surface, an intricate subway tunnels through the city's foundations.

At last we have returned to our old home town and stepping out of Terzian Terminal, we hail a cab. Our old classmate, Ed Seferian, pulls up to the curb and, piling in we are off to the Hotel Parsekian. Driving along we see: "Goganian, Peros and Ryan"—one of the exclusive haberdasheries of the town; "Miriam Dolan's Beauty Salon;" "Nancy Woodbury and Mary Ruggiero's Dancing Studio;" "Sorrenti, Sperandio, and Sheytanian—Secretarial Service with a Smile;" the office of loan sharks Dick O'Donnell, Bob Wessick, and Dick Herzig; "Gallagher's Greaseless Garage" where Tom English, Charlie Yassemites, and Gil Kaprielian are first-class mechanics; the "Brad and John Sign Co."—an establishment which has earned a fortune for Carey and McManus; Harold Godwin, Bob Whitney, and Lawrence Kelley's "Escort Service;" "Mesdames DuBois and Paquette's French Tea Room;" "Connie McDonald's Deluxe Dress Shoppe" managed by those supersalesgirls Pat O'Donnell and Elizabeth Coole; and "Papalia, Ravanis, Cirillo, and Corcoran, Attorneys at Law."

Turning sharply, almost knocking over the traffic cop, Bill Walsh, we enter the theatrical district. On the left we behold in lights, "Vivian Bold starred with George Schweitzer" in Barbara Colbert's latest hit "The Life of Sylvia Druli" and on the right Anthony Grassia's musical comedy "Hi-Y and Handsome" directed by Bob Farring-ton and starring the famous quartet of MacDougall, MacDonnell, Hagan, and Goldberg.

Finally we arrive at our hotel, and passing through the door, we see a familiar face. Could it be Will “Deduction” Morton? No! He’s in Washington devising a “Pay-What-You-Want Income Tax” system. Could it be Al Goodrow? No! He’s chief surgeon at the John Mc Ardle Children’s Hospital where Phyllis Zeldin, Thelma Donahue, Mary Bryant, Helen Deliandis, Ruth Faulkner and Betty Ernst are nurses. Could it be Dick Donnell? No! He’s professor of English Composition and Rhetoric at Harvard. Then, who could it be? Is it—? Why yes, it is—Charlie Flamburis, playbody extraordinaire; and right behind him Florette Blair, Clementina Brescia, Joe Are go and Betty Yankowski are wildly waving autograph books. Before us is the desk—behind it George Mann, our genial clerk. He rings a bell and Eddie McDade and Arthur Schmall take our luggage to the elevator piloted by Bob Dupuis.

Two minutes later, lounging in our suite, we turn on the radio and hear Al Gayzagian, eminent news commentator!

“Flash! Washington! President Simcock announced today his intention to run for fourth term. Flash! Pittsburgh! It was made known today that Deenan Krikorian, President of the A. F. of L. will call a strike Monday unless a two-cent wage increase is granted. However, Sheridan Smith, Chairman of the Steel Trust, threatens a lockout if such action occurs. Flash! Washington! Alma Reynolds was appointed early this afternoon as minister to Zanzibar to succeed Helen Morris who is retiring from public life. In closing I remind you—start the day off right. Each and every morning, fill your tummy with a heaping bowl of Wheeler’s Wheat Flakes and go through life with a smile. Remember our motto: ‘Whether your name is Sawyer or Knell, Wheeler’s Wheat Flakes will ring the bell.’"

We now decide to take in the opera and soon find ourselves again out in the cold black night. Doorman Ernie Papazian finds us a taxi and to our surprise the cabby is Pete Anastasi who quickly drives us to the Moriggi Opera House. Entering, usher Bob Hurney escorts us to our seats. While waiting for the curtain we see many familiar faces. Up in the balcony are Dot Sell, Anesta Hayes, and Christine Mitselis, foremost social workers of the town; Harvey Lucas and Ken Ward, successful brokers for Chapski Chemical, Inc.; and also, in the far corner, Adrienne Blanchard, Catherine Pino, Pearl Salvitti, the Anderson sisters, and Mary Kachagan—all married now and talking of the good old days as secretaries and of how they landed their bosses.

Near us are a few noted critics, Jeanne Camorey of the Globe, Marylyn Russo of the Planet, and Al Gaines of the Sun, and also the "Main St. Mortgagors," Maynard Bates and Guy McIntosh. Turning around, we see Edith Young, famous interior decorator for the Atlas Department Store. We ask her about our classmates and she tells us that: Bill Tack, Al Smith and Bob Sutherland are on their feet all day selling Absorbine Jr.; Thelxy Rallis, Louise Jacobson, and Mabel Hicks are out in Chicago organizing a women's softball league; Robert Stone is raising skunk weed in great quantities in the farm lands of Nebraska—he sells his crop to the London Scientific Institute where our old friend Leonard is attempting to perfect synthetic geraniums; Viola Bianchi, Evelyn Parrella and Jennie Scarpetto are attendants at the Whittington Home for the Mentally Unstable; Paul Supple and Art Richards are proprietors of a pet shop; Bob Clark, Joe Giordano, Harry Misaskian, and Pete Crowley are competing in the semi-finals of the Tri-State Tiddlywinks Tournament; and that the Bedrossians-Anita, Beatrice, and Dorothy are singing together over Station BLAW, sponsored by the Jim Sullivan and Paul Johnson Dog Biscuit Company.

But now as Maestro Nuovo is leading the orchestra through the overture we notice in the pit, violinist Patty White, clarinetists Dick Theurer and Hazel Tewksbury, and Artin Arslanian, bass drummer. The curtain rises and Prima Donna Angie Raymond addresses her leading man, Carmen Perna. Sweet music fills the hall and taking out our hankies, we begin quietly to weep. But there—the villain, Stu Savage, makes his entrance and in a deep bass utters a sneering "So!" Perna bellows back a defiant "So What!" A clash of steel—and the two are fighting it out in fierce battle. Meanwhile the chorus members, among whom are Mary Aurelio, Ruth Butler, Gloria Zerella, Grace Gulesian, Pat Harris and Helen Falvey, are chanting a soothing aria.

The evening passes quickly and before we realize it the last curtain falls. We wring out our hankies, slip into our shoes, and make our way out the nearest exit. The late editions have hit the street and newsy Llewellyn Quilty is shouting the headlines: "Extry! Extry! Gambling syndicate smashed—District Attorney Harold Krikorian indict 23!" We buy a paper and find out that policewomen Phyllis Sabato, Joyce Gordon, Nancy Venditti, and Gertrude LaForest have received much praise for their incessant investigation which eventually brought about these indictments.

Hunger has set in by now and we cross the street to the exclusive night spot “Club 106.” Winking at check girls Madeline Nahabedian, Irene Provas and Rose DiGiacommandrea, head waiter Jim Eddy escorts us to our table. We dine on chef Don Gustafson’s exquisite Blue Plate Special—ham and eggs, coffee, and pie; and then lean back, relax, and enjoy the soothing music of Dick Akillian, “the sweetest trumpeter in all the land.” And now—just in time for the stellar floorshow featuring that comic master of ceremonies, that wit of all wits, Art Barberian. The program starts with a rendition of “Dairzy Moats” by heart-throb Frank “Sinatra” Hynes. Then comes an acrobatic act starring those deb- onair double-jointed damsels, Sharon Stephanian, and Georgia Trebels. And now, Blanche Bortone; Claire Finn, Lillian Corsetti, Claire Sullivan, and Maureen Shyne trip across the floor in a specialty dance for the final number.

But now it is growing late. We have had an enjoyable evening and have found out much about our old classmates. But before leaving, we fill our glasses and rising, give a hearty toast to the Class of ’44.” We don our coats, pull up the collars, and are once again out in the cold black night. We stand shivering and chattering waiting for a taxi but as we glance across the street, a broad smile covers our faces. We see in neon lights “Huebner’s Heavy-duty Heating Pads.” With a chuckle we step off the curb and hail an approaching cab.

"William Ryan"
Whereas we the “Class of 1944” of the Watertown High School, County of Middlesex, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Democracy of the United States, Continent of North America, Hemisphere of the West, Planet of the World, heretofore being of allegedly sound mind and being cognizant of the vicissitudes of this earthly existence, declare the hereafter mentioned to be our ultimate will and epistle, hereby revoking now and forever all foregoing wills by the heretofore mentioned at any era heretofore made. Subsequent to the settlement of our lawful liabilities and graduation disbursements, we devise as hereafter stated:

I. To our Headmaster, Mr. Herbert Archibald, in appreciation of his kind guidance and understanding, we bequeath “a sigh of relief” at our departure.

II. To Miss Edith Jacobs we bequeath one ticket to Frank Sinatra’s next performance at the R.K.O.

III. To Miss Madeleine O’Brien, we bequeath a book entitled “Ten Easy Ways to Keep a Desk Top Clean.”

IV. To Miss Helen Thayer we bequeath a complete filing system to organize her numerous responsibilities.

V. To Miss Ruth Appel, we bequeath an infinite number of “specific references.”

VI. To Mr. Irving Keene, we bequeath a truly educational film entitled, “The Adventures of Peter Rabbit.”

VII. To Mr. Elmo MacCurdy, we bequeath a contract with Houghton Mifflin and Company to publish his philosophical dissertations.
VIII. To Miss Ethel Ricker, (knowing the Underclassmen won’t object) we bequeath a lie detector.

IX. To Mr. John Craig, we bequeath a flashlight to aid him in searching for the silver dollar George Washington threw across the Potomac River.

X. To Mr. Harold Moody, we bequeath a priority on Art Assembly dates.

XI. To our president, Walter Simcock, we bequeath our vote for a “fourth term.”

XII. To the Student Council, we bequeath multitudinous suggestions for their new Suggestion Box.

XIII. To the Commercial Girls, we bequeath harmonious typewriters.

XIV. To the Juniors, we bequeath a rubber stamp of Mr. John McNealy’s signature so the necessity of forging it will be eliminated.

XV. To the girls of the Underclasses, we bequeath just some “Men.”

XVI. To the Senior Homeroom Teachers, we bequeath our sincere apologies.

XVII. To the faculty of W.H.S., we bequeath—with fondest memories—a pleasant summer vacation.

Having thus provided for the disposition of our material and nebulous possessions, we hereby appoint as trustees and executors of this unimportant, irrevelant, inconsequential, idiotic will, the School Committee, with the expressed desire that all the above articles be hereafter completely ignored.

Signed, The Class of 1944
Witnesses to the above stated:

Victory

Through Strength

With industry and the armed forces demanding physical endurance for the war effort, the school's athletics have taken on a new importance.

Competitive sports are not only excellent body builders but also character moulders. Fair play, team play, sportsmanship, and above all, the will to win, will carry our sportsmen to victory not only on the athletic field but also on the battlefield and in life.
THE SWING CHEER
1, clap, 2, clap, 3, clap, 4, clap, clap
3, clap, 2, clap, 1, clap, 4, clap, clap
Who for, why for, who 'ya gonna' yell for?
With a W and an A and a T E R
And a T and an O and a W N.
That's the way you spell it, brother,
Here's the way you yell it, sister,
Watertown, Watertown
Team, Team, Yea!

THE CONGA CHEER
Ya see that team, yes, yes,
That is our team, yes, yes,
We'll cheer that team, yes, yes,
Well come on gang let's get in step.
Come on Watertown, Let's go
Come on Watertown, Let's go
Come on Watertown, Let's go
Come on Watertown, Let's go
Come on Watertown, Let's go-o-o-o-o-o!

HIT 'EM AGAIN
Hit 'em again, Hit 'em again—
Harder, harder—
Hit 'em again, hit 'em again—
Harder, harder—Hit 'em again, hit 'em again
Harder, harder—Team, Team Yea!

HIT 'EM HIGH
Hit 'em high, hit 'em low
Come on Watertown, Let's go.

GIVE 'EM THE AXE
Give 'em the axe, the axe, the axe,
Give 'em the axe, the axe, the axe,
Give 'em the axe, give 'em the axe
Where?
Right in the neck, the neck, the neck
Right in the neck, the neck, the neck
Right in the neck, right in the neck
There!
Once again our cheerleaders put in a vigorous and enthusiastic year of cheering for a football team well deserving of the honor. They practiced many hours for rallies, held homeroom periods on Fridays when new cheers were tried out and taught.

The cheerleaders participated in the annual Sports Night program and later cheered at the Student Council Bond Rally and at basketball games.

The peak of the year, came when they also were invited to compete, with neighboring schools, in a cheerleading contest sponsored by a well-known Boston firm. Backed by many Watertown rooters, they walked away with the top honors and the title "Cheerleading Champions."

So another "cheer-ful" and victorious year has passed, but we will always have vivid memories of our rooting days at Watertown High.

Basketball

For the first time in several years the girls' basketball team finished the season undefeated and untied.

Much credit is due to the first team seniors: guards, Kay Costello, Kay Burke, Georgia Treblas, and Elaine Emmanuel; forwards, Mabel Hicks, Mary Ohanian, Sharon Stepanian, and Louise Jacobson.

The school will miss the good sportsmanship, playing ability, and team work of these girls.

To all who participated, field hockey proved to be an enjoyable sport. The girls had a very successful season, tying the first game and winning the rest.

Mabel Hicks played right half-back; Kay Burke and Sharon Step-panian played left full-back and center half-back respectively. Georgia Treblas, left half-back, and Louise Jacob-son, right full-back, completed the powerful backfield. Mary Ohanian, right wing, and Kay Costello, center, were the only seniors on the forward line, and were responsible for many of the goals.

"Let's go, Kay."
The tennis team was fortunate in having the following Seniors: L. Jacobson, J. Megan, M. Ohanian, D. Masterton, and G. Treblas. These girls have held their positions since they were Sophomores and proved to be valuable players. The following are up-and-coming Juniors and Sophomores: B. White, L. Gillis, L. Carroll, S. Dexter, J. Menghi, J. Wright, and P. Roberts.

The singles team was made up of: L. Jacobson, J. Megan, and G. Treblas; the doubles team of: M. Ohanian, L. Masterton, B. White and L. Carroll.

Our coach, Miss Biggane, should be given credit for her fine enthusiastic work. She has given a great deal of time and patience in making the tennis team a success.

Matches were scheduled as follows: Somerville, Concord, Arlington, Belmont, Newton, and Needham.
