The Yearbook Staff
of
Watertown High School
presents...
Mr. John E. McNealy

To you, Mr. John McNealy, we happily dedicate this, the twentieth edition of the Annual. The thoughtful interest which you have unselfishly devoted to the supervision of our activities, has played a major role in helping us bring to a successful completion our limited years at Watertown High.

It is with especial pride that the Class of ’46 claims you as our kindly judge of right and wrong, our unprejudiced arbiter of internal controversy and our creator of good will. By your wise counsel and by your example you have contributed more to our school than mere words can express.

Your work as disciplinarian has kept our morale on a high plane. Even though our misdemeanors have forced you occasionally to “crack the whip,” we have always known we were getting a fair deal. Your manner has forestalled any possible misunderstanding.

Those who closely follow high school athletics are proud of the consistency with which our tennis teams, under your tutelage, have been building up an enviable record of matches won as well as adding lustre to the good name of W. H. S. sportsmanship.

The class extends to you “a hearty handshake” in grateful appreciation of all that you have done for us.

We thank you!
Foreword

We, the Staff of the 1946 yearbook, have endeavored to make this, the twentieth edition of the Annual, a record of the highlights and happy experiences of our high school days in the hope that in the years to come it may serve to freshen our memories and help us to recall the many happy hours spent at Watertown High.

We offer our sincere thanks to all members of the faculty and student body whose ready co-operation made this book possible—especially Miss Appel, Mr. Moody, Mr. McNealy, and Miss Thayer for their constant assistance and supervision.

As our central theme we have selected Global Unity—an issue of vital significance today. The peoples of the world have come to recognize the urgent need for some enduring means of securing lasting peace between nations. The failure of past plans for international harmony should be an incentive to our rising generation to help set up the machinery for an organization that will substitute arbitration and judicial decision for “war as an instrument of national policy.”

It is the hope of the Editors that, in some small way, this little volume of ours may help to keep before us the need for Global Unity.
Throughout the ages global unity has been the goal of sages and idealists as the only means of maintaining lasting peace. From the days of Dante and Grotius to the time of Smuts and Wilson, organizations binding the nations of the world have been attempted. Always there has been the stumbling-block of so harmonizing two great interests of the state, international peace and national sovereignty, that peace will be permanent and sovereignty inviolate.

Mere negative renunciation has never proven sufficient to abolish war. The setting up of a practicable alternative has proven far more difficult. Many plans, among them the ill-fated League of Nations, proposed with full sincerity have failed due to selfishness, greed, and suspicion among countries.

The creation of a workable machinery for international co-operation is only part of the solution of securing global unity. By far the bigger problem is the task of establishing a world-wide good-neighbor policy. Nations, like individuals, must establish relations that are friendly, candid, and co-operative. Co-operation among nations in business, the sciences, art, and sports will play a large role in establishing mutual understanding. Any plan to succeed must have the support not only of the governments but also of the peoples of the world. Citizens of different nations must better acquaint themselves with one another. Then, through the compelling power of an enlightened popular mind, may world harmony be promoted.

Our brothers and sisters have fought to win peace. With the advent of the atomic era every common-sense citizen of the world realizes that no nation can survive without international good will; that, without global unity, this peace for which so many have sacrificed can never be a lasting peace.

History shows that the United States has been a leader in the international peace movement. World power involves world responsibilities and The World, now in the midst of a gigantic reconstruction period, looks to America for leadership. At our command is a country rich in rights and liberties, knowledge and materials. In the near future the task of promoting global unity will fall on us, the present generation. We shall accept that responsibility!
You are the first class to graduate from the Watertown High School since peace has been restored to the world.

Your generation has now the tremendous responsibility of seeking ways and means and finding the solution for a lasting peace through world unity.

Science has progressed at a rate that is almost beyond human comprehension. New and rapid means of communication, transportation, and production have caused nations to become infinitely more dependent upon and responsible to each other for their actions. The science of human relationships has not kept pace; man has not become adequately mentally or morally prepared for coping with his scientifically changed world. Because of these developments the friction which may arise between nations is of concern to all nations whether they are involved in the immediate misunderstanding or not.

It is your problem to lend your influence in bringing about world unity so that these tremendously important technological developments may be used for the advantage of mankind rather than for bringing about its destruction.

War must cease to be a determining factor in the future of any nation. In order to avoid war you must think not only of material and economic gain but also of understanding the problems of other people, their needs and desires.

Support the ideals that tend to influence people into dealing ethically and understandingly with one another. National as well as individual security in the future rests upon the ability of the individual to think in terms of world problems.

You as individuals may never sit at the conference table where international affairs are arbitrated even though you may have the privilege as citizens of interpreting properly the results of such meetings. But you as individuals are important. As you and your neighbors live and think and bear your share of voting and office-holding responsibility, so will the town and state and nation reflect your individual life and philosophy.

As graduates you must meet your responsibilities as intelligent citizens, and you can do this best by trying to realize that the peace and dignity of your country can and must be maintained through a real understanding of the value of world unity.

MISS LUCY E. GROSVENOR

In March of 1946 Miss Lucy Grosvenor retired from teaching, after twenty-four years of service in Watertown High School, to establish her residence with relatives in Parma, Idaho.

Miss Grosvenor was a graduate of Oberlin College in Ohio where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree. Having taught in Kentucky and in Taunton, Massachusetts, she accepted a post to teach Spanish and typewriting in the Commercial Department of W. H. S. in 1922, a time when the high school had a total enrollment of only three hundred and fifty.

During her more than two score years of unselfish service in Watertown she carried out her duties in a quiet, efficient manner and with an earnestness and sincerity that won the admiration and respect of all who knew her. Never did she lose her subtle sense of humor; never did she forsake her high ideals. Now in her retirement, she has the satisfaction of knowing she did her life’s work well.

We speak not only for our class but for her legion of former students when we wish her many, many years of good health and happiness.
MRS. RAYMOND FORD
1932-1945

Miss Rose V. Hughes, algebra teacher in the Mathematics Department and formerly teacher of commercial geography in the Social Studies Department, left Watertown High in November of 1945. She was graduated from Boston University and earned her Master's degree there. Before coming to Watertown in 1932, she had taught in the Bigelow Junior High School in Newton.

On February 21, 1946, Miss Hughes was married to Mr. Raymond Ford, also of the W. H. S. faculty, and now resides in Newton.

Her service was noted for her wise understanding of educational problems, for her generous sympathy, and for her professional zeal. Her high ideals and her sincere interest in her charges, will always live in our hearts.

MRS. JAMES M. HEALY

On March 2, 1946, the promise of Miss Muriel Tierney's sparkling diamond ring was fulfilled as she bade farewell to Watertown High to become the bride of Captain James Healy, U.S.A., recently returned from the Pacific. She now makes her home in Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Healy was graduated from Boston University with an A.B. degree and took up teaching duties in Portland High School, Portland, Connecticut. In 1943 she came to Watertown as a military substitute in the Commercial Department.

During her brief stay at W. H. S. her warm friendship, sterling character, and able leadership won the respect and admiration of student body and faculty alike.

To Mrs. Healy we offer our sincere wishes for happiness and good fortune in her new career.
Although plans for peace are being formulated at the conference tables now, it is to these young men and women that the world must look for permanent security.

“Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.”
Take heed, Underclassmen! So employ your school days that the learning acquired in the classroom may be one more stepping-stone on the road to lasting peace.
Alas! and Alack! our junior year has fled by, and soon we shall be enveloped in all the very important activities of our senior year.

With a new system, we held class elections in October and chose the following: Jack Harrington, president; Frank Cousineau, vice president; Jean Gonsalo, treasurer; Susan Piteri, secretary; and Phil Dupuis, Wally Faherty, Charles Clarke, the executive committee.

Our first big class assembly was held soon after, and special Cum Laude Certificates were given to all Juniors who had beep on the Honor Roll four terms in their sophomore year. Needless to say, there were quite a few students in this group.

The first of our two big class events took place on April 12th when, to our great satisfaction, we discovered in our classmates a vast amount of talent as we sat through our class play, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court." The entire cast deserved credit for their fine acting! The Play Committee, too, deserved special mention for their splendid organization.

The gym was gayly decorated in our class colors of red and white that evening of May 25th, when we had our traditional Junior Spring Dance. The committee had a grand time planning it, and everyone had a still better time attending it. Thus another year filled with many delightful memories has been completed, and we now approach our senior year with pleasant anticipation and high hopes!

Susan Piteri, Secretary
On April 12, the Class of '47 presented, under the capable coaching of Mrs. Betty Boerstler, a new full-length dramatization of Mark Twain's famous comedy, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court."

It is the story of a clever, young, mechanically inclined Yankee engineer named Hank, who, knocked unconscious by tripping over a light switch, finds himself in a dream, back in the Middle Ages. At first he believes himself in the local insane asylum but is soon convinced that he is faced with a death sentence handed down by King Arthur. He develops all the miracles of the 20th century—one of which is a cigarette lighter—to baffle the King's Court. By predicting an eclipse which he knows has already taken place, he saves his own skin and becomes the idol of the kingdom. Merlin, the court magician, with several others plots against Hank, but he keeps the knights completely baffled by converting the court into a 20th century business office. Hank accidentally touches an exposed wire on his switchboard and then suddenly awakens from his dream.

The class may well be proud of its young thespians—particularly of Philip Dupuis for his performance of "Hank," of Esther Ruth McAuley for hers of Queen Morgan Le Fay, and of Bruno Vittimberga for his of Merlin, the magician.
Class of 1948

With fearful hearts and trembling hands we made our entrance into what was then considered "Our Waterloo." Indeed, it was a full two weeks before the anchor which had so uncomfortably settled in the pit of our stomachs gradually lifted, until now—try to find a battle-scarred Sophomore who'll admit he didn't come to anchor easily at W. H. S.

By the time the Sophomore Party rolled around we were seasoned vets and had an opportunity to perk up and take note of our surroundings. The party was, of course, a success, due to careful planning by Miss Butterfield and Miss Randall, plus hard work by our homeroom representatives. The gym was decorated in a clever green and white pattern. Entertainment was in the form of movies and a professional dancing couple (the Champaignes) who were highly instructive as well as entertaining, and last but not least, we approach the tangibles—ah refreshment time!—the ice cream, punch, and cookies made a tremendous hit, especially in the male section.

It was not too long before we felt the need for class officers and a strenuous period of campaigning followed when nail biting seemed extremely popular. Finally we chose our leaders—for better or worse (of course we know it was for better!) Bernard Akillian took top place as president with Arthur Wallace as vice president, Joanne Hynes as treasurer and Peggy Fitzgerald as secretary; the executive committee was composed of Philip Pappas, Alicia Kelley and Dick Mayo.

One of the events most of us will always vividly recall was the rallies held in the auditorium, and although slightly awed and tongue-tied at first, we were all filled with a wonderful sense of unity and school spirit.

This brings us up to date; so here's a fond farewell and hearty thanks, (we mean it, believe it or not,) for a sophomore year we'll never forget.

Peggy Fitzgerald, Secretary

May the personal integrity and intelligence of our scholastic leaders of today make them the staunch advocates of world amity tomorrow.
To be elected to the National Cum Laude Society is an individual honor—a recognition of the record of high intellectual achievement of the individual student during the three years of Senior High School. To have so large a group of Seniors proved worthy of election contributes to the honor of the entire graduating class, and 1946 should be congratulated on the number of its members admitted to the Watertown High Chapter of Cum Laude this year; only the Class of 1939 has ever topped the record now set by 1946.

Election to Cum Laude is the highest scholastic honor awarded by the high school and is comparable to Phi Beta Kappa in the liberal arts colleges. Students of the college preparatory course only are eligible, as ability must be shown in a well-rounded curriculum, including languages, mathematics, science and history.

The Watertown High Chapter received its charter from the National Cum Laude Society in 1921. Ours was the first and is still the only public high school in Massachusetts to be so distinguished. There are nineteen chapters of Cum Laude in Massachusetts, but the others are all in strictly college preparatory schools of the most outstanding reputation, like Phillips Exeter, Phillips Andover, Lawrence Academy at Groton, Tabor Academy, and Dana Hall at Wellesley.

As our Cum Laude scholars of 1946 go out into wider fields of endeavor, we are sure that like the Cum Laude Alumni before them, their future achievements will continue to reflect honor upon their Class of 1946 and the Watertown High School.
During the past year the Student Council has enjoyed one of its most successful and helpful years since its inauguration in 1937.

The officers chosen to serve were: Elinor Morgan, president; Dorothy Doyle, vice president; Ann Connolly, secretary; and John Harrington, treasurer.

The Council, a little publicized organization, solves a great many difficult problems during the course of a school year. Many requests of the student body are referred to the Council and its sponsors for decisions.

One project that was directed by the council was the monthly assemblies, which were enjoyed by all. Suggestions for assemblies come from the students through the use of the Suggestion Box in the Library.

The Council's biggest contribution to the school and community was the "Red Feather Contest," a unique and effective plan which encouraged competition between homerooms in order to advance the interests of the United War Fund.

Many innovations and renovations in the school program have been made as suggested by the Student Council during the past year. Among these, the provision of hostesses in the Lobby, the revision of the traffic system, and the remodeling of the Council Constitution, were activities of outstanding interest to the school and the student body.

Many thanks to our advisors, Miss Rita Tierney and Major McGrath for helping us make this year a successful one.

The Saltonstall Chapter of the National Honor Society, chartered in 1937, has in its membership those students who, regardless of their course of study, have ranked in the upper third of their class and who have been elected by the faculty on the basis of their possessing outstanding qualities of character, service, and leadership. These characteristics are the ideals for which the society stands. The society's purpose is, therefore, to create an incentive for the development of these characteristics in each student so that he may achieve a more early perfect personal and community life.

The society's affairs are limited by the nature of the organization and by the fact that most of its members are active in other school activities. However, during the past year, in addition to conducting the customary induction ceremony for new members on May 8, the society held an assembly during Education Week.

The society also sponsored a "Midyear Hop" featuring Baron Hugo's music. Members are very grateful to Miss McNally, Mrs. Thulin, and Mr. Moody who helped in preparations for this dance.

Mr. Reed is, by virtue of his position, automatically the head of the Saltonstall Chapter and Miss Jacobs is chairman of the faculty committee. Miss McNally has charge of correspondence, and our Bulletin Board, in charge of Miss Randall, has attracted pupils with its pictures, quotations and articles. Throughout the year, under the supervision of Mr. Adams, members have aided in the war stamp drives.

This club consists of the following three groups: Model Building, Wendall Finneault, Chairman; Engine and Design, John McGrady, Chairman; Meteorology, Albert Kamishlian, Chairman, and is sponsored by Mr. Ford.

The Model Builders have constructed a scale model of the B-29 for a child stricken with infantile paralysis. They have made a flying model of another plane, "The Aerocca," a sport cabin plane that has become very popular.

The Engine and Design section has studied the construction and working parts of all types of airplane engines. Illustrations were drawn on the board and discussed by the members.

The Meteorology section has studied atmosphere, cloud formations, types of winds and everything in general that pertains to weather.
The Art Club, under the able supervision of Mr. Moody, meets on Wednesday afternoons. The club is not only instructive, but is useful as well, for many of the students discover hidden talents. Those who do not wish to do figure and real life drawings illustrating different styles, may do business designing such as mural drawings and poster work.

Several members have painted bottles dressing up ordinary jars into practical perfume bottles and decorative knick-knacks. In retail stores, such jars sell for two or three dollars.

The girls like to do stencil work for they can make attractive designs for luncheon sets, towels, and kerchiefs. Some members make block prints for the Bulletin. The recently purchased air brush has proven to be a practical help.
This club is composed of eighteen boys who meet every Friday in the woodshop under the direction of Mr. Donald. Members may make any wood project they wish, paying for only the lumber.

The club has a large collection of books and pamphlets from which the members may choose their projects. Among the projects made this year were model sailboats, lawn chairs, tables, lamps, bookcases, and desks. The club also did numerous odd jobs for the school, such as mending chairs and desks.

Dues collected each week went into a fund for a party held by the club members at the end of the year.

Second Row: J. Lamacchia, F. Facago, J. Turbini, H. Hill, W. Vincent, F. Lamacchia, Mr. Donald
The Watertown High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Arnold Chick, has about forty-five members. They have been very active this current year, playing in assemblies, at the football games last fall, and at one of our hockey games. They were the only band to play this season at a hockey game in the Arena.

A very successful concert was held on January 11th at which many past members of the band, who have been in the service, took part.

In May the band attended two music festivals, one in Needham and the other in Gloucester.

In all, our Watertown High School Band has had a very successful and profitable year.

In September, 1945, the Biology Club was reorganized under the sponsorship of Mr. Gordon W. McKay. The club has contributed to the success of the biology department by conducting experiments in the greenhouse and mounting pictures to be used as visual aids in teaching.

A project to banish ragweed from Watertown was undertaken by the club. This involved the obtaining of information, the use of publicity in getting others to help fight it, and the actual work of uprooting the weed.

Outings to the Charles River Reservation, the Blue Hills Reservation, and the seashore have been conducted during the year. As a climax to the year's activities a June trip to Mt. Washington was undertaken.
The Bulletin, under the supervision of Miss A. Laura Campbell, is our student newspaper. The Bulletin editors meet every Friday morning during club period to set up page dummies, give out assignments to staff members, or check copy already turned in.

Several of the features which make up the four-page edition are "Here and There," "Fashions," "Campus Silhouettes," "Shop Talk," and "Between Bells."

In March of this year six Bulletin delegates attended the Annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention at Columbia University. The Bulletin is also a member of the Eastern Massachusetts Scholastic Press Association, which did not hold its annual conference this year because of existing difficulties.

Camera Club

The Camera Club is one of the oldest clubs in the school. The purpose of the club is to study different types of photographic work—enlarging, copying, printing, the use of various types of cameras, and the means of achieving good composition. Another purpose is to do photographic work for the Annual and Bulletin. Pictures of all clubs, activities, and "candids," are taken by members of the club.

Informal contests are held by Miss Thayer during the year and each member has an opportunity to exhibit his work for criticism or comment. The winners of these contests have been advanced to a higher group where requirements are more severe.

Club members also have at their disposal a well-equipped darkroom.

Third Row: R. Ayvazian, R. Hutchins, R. Sanasarian, D. Leary, N. Hayes, R. Johnston, A. Kalosdian
Since the war has ended, the Chemistry Club has converted back to a peace time program. Chemical materials not being so scarce as they were, the club has been able to conduct regular experiments under the supervision of our sponsor Mr. Kelley.
Our weekly meetings were held in Room 212 which allowed sufficient space to work.
Experiments were carried on by groups of three to five people. Some of the more interesting experiments were the testing of soap, the making of cosmetics, and the study of photography. Members also developed paint to cover the laboratory tables.

Club members have hoped not only to acquire a broader knowledge of chemistry, but also to realize how important team work is.

Revived by Mr. Vacca, the Chess Club immediately got down to the business of electing officers and competing in match play for positions on the team. Hall quickly emerged as Number 1 man, but the team order varied according to our opponent's strength. This strategy proved highly successful as evidenced by the very creditable showing of our team in a difficult schedule. Contests with Milton High and Brown and Nichols were arranged on a mutual reciprocity basis. Tournament matches were scheduled with Cambridge Latin, Boston Latin, Boston English, and other local high schools.

The team also journeyed to the Boylston Chess Club to watch Mr. Rasehovsky, chess champion of three continents, engage forty opponents in simultaneous play.

The Special Girls' Chorus was composed of forty picked voices from the various choral groups in the school and was selected from members of all three classes. This chorus has sung special numbers at the Christmas assembly and various school functions as well as at the Forum held in the High School auditorium.

Most of the selections presented have been semi-classical but some modern works, such as "If I Loved You" by Rodgers, were rehearsed. Three-part songs studied included numbers like "A Wish" by Grieg and "Jesu Bambino" by Yon.

In conjunction with the Glee Club and the Orchestra, this group presented a special program at the Spring Concert and also at Graduation.
The Commercial Club was organized by Miss Desmond in 1941 for the benefit of students in business courses. A constitution was drawn up and four officers are elected each spring by popular vote.

This year many of our programs have stressed personality. Members of the Guidance Department have talked on the individual's characteristics and the qualities essential to obtaining and keeping a job. Other interesting speakers have talked on subjects varying from travel to beauty culture. An activity which causes great interest among the members is the annual typing contest in which three prizes are awarded. Each year the club enjoys social as well as educational programs and ends its activities with an outing.
The Debating Society has embarked on its tenth year under Mr. Chrakian's sponsorship. The purpose of the club is to make each member proficient in public speaking, debating, and parliamentary procedure.

The national high school debate topic for the current year was: "Resolved, that every physically eligible youth shall receive one year of full-time military training before attaining the age of twenty-four." In addition to preparing speeches on this subject, members of the Society held weekly discussions and debates on various topics.

Oratorical contests have been staged for the past nine years, by the Society, to determine choice of a student to represent the school in the Annual National American Legion Oratorical Contest.

Among the clubs formed in the last few years the Cercle Français, directed by Miss Severance and Miss Malkasian, is one of the most promising, having forty active members and a waiting list. Many activities such as listening to musical French records of hearing illustrated talks on French provinces vary the programs of the weekly meetings.

Members interested in dramatics with a French slant have attended plays adapted from the French such as "The Would-be-Gentleman" as well as French films at Harvard. One activity of the club is the singing of folk songs and favorite melodies such as 'La Marseillaise,' "Au Clair de la Lune," and "Ma Normandie."

The club has also collected many bundles for French relief.

The Glee Club of approximately eighty voices held rehearsals during the club period on Friday mornings in the Auditorium. Mr. Mayo has increased the number of boys in the group over the past several years.

The club also sang at various assemblies in the school. A special feature of this year’s activities was the caroling in the corridors at Christmas time. Among the numbers in the club’s repertoire were: “The Lord is My Shepherd” by Schubert, “March of the Toys” by Herbert, and a special arrangement of the “Battle Hymn of the Republic” by Wilkousky. The club, in conjunction with the Orchestra and Special Chorus, took part in the Annual Spring Concert held in May.

The motto of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend, throughout our school and community, high standards of Christian character.

This year the club held its annual Victory Dance which was, as usual, a large success. This year's program was varied in that it offered several splash parties and combined meetings with the Tri-Hi.

In November the club sent several delegates to the National Youth Conference at Pawtucket, Rhode Island. Many interesting speakers volunteered their services making this conference of much value to the boys.

The year was concluded with a spring dance called the Stag Struggle. This marks the beginning of a new series of highlights sponsored by the Hi-Y.
Founded this year by Mr. Vacca, the Italian Club got off to a quick start by arranging for a theatre party in Boston followed by luncheon at an Italian restaurant. Sound films, kodachrome colored slides from Boston museums, phonograph records, vocabulary contests, spelling bees, a Christmas party, lectures by outside speakers, trips to centers of interest appealing to persons of Italian extraction, discussion and formulation of club policies have been some of the activities indulged in with gusto by one and all.

The purpose of the organization has been to foster an appreciation of Italian contributions to world civilization. Along with interest in Italian culture, membership in this club is granted to those with good grades and good citizenship.

This school-year of 1945-1946, the Library Club has worked as a group on many varied projects. Members have sold, as usual during the football and basketball seasons, W. H. S. badges and banners which were made with the help of Miss Johnson, our sponsor.

The club took as a project the making of the big award-banners for Attendance and Punctuality which are being hung in the winning homerooms.

The members have had valuable library experience, helping constantly with the work of the library.

According to custom, the club gives a gift to the school. In previous years, the gift has been a collection of new books; but this year the members gave a beautiful globe for the High School Library.
The Mathematics Club, under the guidance of Mr. Adams, divided the year’s program into two parts. In the first half of the year elementary mathematics and historical development of the subject were studied. The latter part was spent mainly on navigation.

The club’s activities also included simple arithmetical puzzles, trick problems, and modern methods of computation.

Members interested in manual work used their skill in the interests of the club. They produced models which could be used better to explain and illustrate the methods used by the ancients for calculations.

The treasurer collected dues every Friday and with these the club planned to buy mechanical devices and books for the use of future members.

The Orchestra

The Orchestra, composed of forty-six members from all classes, had a successful year under the able leadership of Mr. Mayo.

The Orchestra played for the various assemblies and class plays. This year for the first time in several years the orchestra participated in the Massachusetts Music Festival at Dedham and also the New England Music Festival at Gloucester.

The members have practiced diligently not only during the allotted sixth period on Wednesdays but also during two homeroom periods a week and one afternoon after school. Among the new additions to its repertoire were “The Warsaw Concerto,” “Serenade in the Night,” “I’m Getting Sentimental,” and “The Egmont Overture.” The orchestra participated in the Annual Spring Concert.

Miss Boyle’s club can be traced back to 1920 when its charter was granted to Watertown High.

The Latin motto “What Now?” is a question which the members always keep in mind when they are helping others.

The important drives of the year were the collection of gifts for Christmas boxes, the Junior Red Cross enrollment campaign, and the collection of Christmas gifts for servicemen. In January the girls sponsored the March of Dimes drive.

Two representatives attend the monthly meetings of the Red Cross where they discuss activities and acquire new ideas from members of other service clubs.

“The purpose of the club is loyally to serve its school and community.”
The Rifle Club was happy to welcome back, as our sponsor, Major McGrath who served twenty-seven months in the South Pacific.

The club is composed of eighteen members, most of whom own their rifles. Under the direction of Major McGrath the members learned the correct firing positions, breathing while firing, sighting, and trigger squeeze.

The club has ten cent weekly dues which pay for the ammunition, cleaning patches, oil, and other small items that are important in taking proper care of rifles. In the future the club hopes to have an arrangement of target pulleys, a new firing platform, and improved lighting facilities, which will enable members to become better marksmen.
The Sketching Club sponsored by Mr. Moody has proved to be a success since its formation this year.

Its aim is the development of the art work for the Annual. Its twelve members devoted club time to the planning of the cover, book plate, signature page, sectional headings, cartoons, etc. While this is a small part of the work of getting out an Annual, the art work is an important feature and a most practical project for our club.

Two talented students of the junior class had drawings chosen for use in this year's Annual. Harold Kloongian submitted the best idea for the cover and John Coakley's cartoons have been reproduced in an interesting manner.

The Speech Club aims to give students an idea of speech as a means of social adaptation and of social control. Members study voice and its articulation into speech and practice exercises for posture, breathing, voice production, and articulation. The breathing apparatus, the speech mechanism, and the elements of tone are analyzed.

Under Miss Norcross's direction members learn how to improve their speaking voices through control of breath, through proper initiation of tone, through correct resonance, and through control of pitch and volume. In all these exercises the phonetic approach is used.

The club is recommended to Seniors and Juniors who sense the need of good speech in developing a greater self-confidence.
The purpose of the Tennis Club has been to further interest in tennis and to improve the skill of the individual members. During the year the club welcomed as a guest the noted tennis lecturer and winner of many trophies, Mrs. George Wightman, who demonstrated various strokes and explained the techniques of some of her famous pupils. At one meeting Mr. McKey showed films of famous matches. Some members of the club attended the match between Bobby Riggs and Don Budge at the Boston Garden.

This year the Tennis Club has been sponsoring badminton in the gym on Wednesday during the homeroom period.

Under the able direction of our sponsor, Miss Rita Tierney, the club hoped that by the end of the year the members would all become "masters of the court."

The purpose of the Watertown Tri-Hi, which holds its meetings bi-monthly at the Newton Y. M. C. A., is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

The club enjoyed various speakers during the year, among them a representative of the Northeastern American Airlines, and sponsored a bridge party held in Whitewell Hall in February. The girls also provided the money for a scholarship fund for a worthy Watertown High School girl. Tri-Hi joined the National Hi-Y Fellowship and sent representatives to its meetings.

Its social program included two dances in Whitehall Hall and an Alumnae Tea.
“Galahad Jones,” our Junior Play, won acclaim as one of the finest performances ever held in our auditorium; and our coach, Mrs. Betty Boerstler, added new glory both to herself and to our school.

The play is about a frustrated, bewildered, high school student who lives in a realm of fairy tales oblivious to the practical affairs of his age. But this seclusion in an imaginary world is interrupted by the arrival of a lovely girl, who awakens him to realities and brings him back to terra firma after some very hilarious scenes.

The cast was well chosen and each member played his part enthusiastically. All the committees concerned deserved much credit.
As Seniors the Class of ’46 presented a hilarious Broadway comedy ably directed by Mrs. Boerstler and successfully portrayed by a most capable cast.

“Janie” depicts the life of a typical teen-age girl and the rivalry between the home-town boy and a young Army private for Janie’s affections. Complications are provided by the amusing antics of her seven year old sister, Elsbeth, and her father’s endeavors to get O.P.A. permission to purchase a new printing press.

The play reaches a climax with a party held by Janie at her home for a few soldiers from the nearby training center, because, when half the camp arrives for Janie’s “open house,” a near riot occurs. All ends happily with Elsbeth’s father getting the press and “Scooper’s” getting Janie.
The world must have its humor, for the universal sign understandable by all men is the good old-fashioned laugh.
History

Can it really be three years since the Class of 1946 wandered bewildered into the exalted halls of Watertown High School? Being eager to adapt ourselves to the customs and traditions of this wonderful building, we soon began planning our many sophomore activities.

First came the election of class officers. Top honors went to Richard Phelps, who was voted president; Jack Chinian was chosen vice president; Jean Gallagher, secretary; Jacqueline Menghi, treasurer; while Charles Baboian, Elinor Morgan, and Steve Russian made up our executive committee.

The highlight of our year was the Sophomore Party. That memorable night proved to be an outstanding success with Judith Miller and Harry Der Vartanian acting as co-chairmen. The program consisted of excellent entertainment followed by dancing in the gym. Who will ever forget the performances of Marjorie Christie, Steve Russian, Jeanne Verdi, and Anthony Zani?

Time passed quickly, and 1945 found our class marching into the junior year full of hope and confidence. Victorious at the polls were: Lenox Cooper, president; Robert Burns, vice president; Elinor Morgan, secretary; Jacqueline Menghi, treasurer; and Dorothy Doyle, Alexander Garabedian, and Jack Sarkisian as executive committee.

As time passed on, we exhibited our dramatic abilities in a play called Galahad Jones. We will always remember the excellent performances of Jeanne Verdi, Steve Russian, Doris Whelan, and William Westgate.

On December nineteenth we welcomed the arrival of our new headmaster, Mr. Roberts v S. Reed.

Our next social gathering was the Junior “Spring Dance” held in the gym, which was appropriately decorated in a motif of blue and white, our class colors. Ken Reeves and his orchestra furnished the music and the affair was a huge success. The dance sounded the finale for junior activities, and we settled down to our studies looking forward with yearning to our senior year.

At last the long-awaited year of 1946 came slowly in. After discussing our summer trips with our friends, we settled down to the more serious problems. Not content merely to be dignified Seniors, the class eagerly waited for election results. Lenox Cooper again took top honors as president; “Hank” Germanian became vice president; Elinor Morgan, secretary; and Jacqueline Menghi, treasurer. The executive committee was made up of Dorothy Doyle, Harry DerVartanian, and James Norbury.

As soon as the officers had taken over their duties, the Annual staff was selected. “Bob” Dodge, one of our most prominent Seniors, was chosen as editor-in-chief with Barbara Smart and Armen Esserian as assistant editors. The other committee chairmen were as follows: Graham Wright, Class Gift; Cathryn MacDougall, Class Day; Jean Gallagher, Class Ring; and Thomas Theurer, Senior Play.

Janie was selected as our Senior Play. Margie Christie gave a superb performance as Janie, backed by an excellent cast: William Westgate, Sue Hemphill, Barbara Harris, Steve Russian, Lenox Cooper, Doris Whelan, James Norbury, and Graham Wright.

At our Senior Prom, held in February, Johnny Alaura provided the music. The gym was decorated in blue and white as a winter scene, with penguins and igloos, making this a memorable evening, the last senior dance of the year. Many thanks were due to Mr. Moody and the Art Club for helping to make our Prom a success.

On April first our class enjoyed one of the cleverest “Freak Days” in the history of the school, with many glamorous Seniors at their worst. Prizes were won by “Sleepy” Fletcher, Jean “Moonbeam” Gallagher, the “Clothesline Twins,” Siroon Stepanian and Bea Pottie, and “Bride” Fournier and “Groom” Nazarian.

Though our last year seems to have slipped through our fingers, we shall always remember the banquet, when the Annuals were presented; Class Day; Baccalaureate; and then, best of all, Graduation, when we finally received our diplomas and accepted best wishes from our friends and bid fond adieu to W. H. S.

On Ivy Planting Day

A happy day? You bet it is—
No problems, worries, cares, regret;
And yet, you say, as happy’s 'tis
We still may have one cause to fret
On ivy planting day.

Of course at last we’ve made the grade.
But what’s ahead on life’s long road?
What job is ours in future years? What must be paid?
Should we be glad and toss our hats, or think about the load?
On ivy planting day.

Yes, there they go, they’ve just begun,
There drops the ivy to the ground.
This age-old scene is new and fun;
We hold our breath, there’s not a sound
On ivy planting day.

It’s over now and time to go . . .
With feelings mixed, we stand and gaze . . .
Our high school days are o’er; we know
We forge ahead, new trails to blaze.
On ivy planting day.

Last week Life, in the persons of its ace photographers Al Cutting and Bill Richardson, trudged its way through Boston's most impressive show in years. Chosen by Life editor, Armen Esserian, Cutting and Richardson left New York in the newly-designed Manning P-52 piloted by Joe Puccia (co-pilot, Frances Powers), and arrived at Frain Airdrome on schedule. Noticing the airport's Castellano timepiece was correct, they were informed by pretty Barmakian Airline hostess Bea Pottie that it was personally checked by chairman Mr. Roy Blair whenever he came to board meetings.

Soon Life's photographers found themselves in the Copley Plaza. Relaxing with Manager H. E. Hill over a daiquiri made by cocktail chef, Bob Acker, they learned that although special suites were being reserved for Lady Swithin, née Bonner, and her dear friend Pat Donnelly, rooms would be available for transient Exposition guests, many of whom had already arrived.
Hostess Peggy Steadman showed our Life men to their rooms and had their luggage taken up by George Zakarian, bell captain. After reading Don Parkhurst’s famous comic strip, “The Witch on the Hill,” they retired, first warily testing their Yannino mattresses.

The next morning after breakfast in the Blue Room, recently remodeled by decorator Penny Misakian, photographers C. and R. set out on their travels. Fighting with wind and pedestrians, among whom were Herb Mosman and Cathy Gardini, at the corner of Tremont and Boylston they were trapped by a taxi; and on peering into the window, they discovered that the license was made out to John Finn and that the sole passenger was manufacturer Diran Basmajian. Recognizing Life’s aces, he invited them to join him; they complied nimbly and presently were speeding across the city. On the Hill, driver Finn slowed down to wave to a friend of his in uniform—patrolman Bob Jackson; and as he drove by Johnston’s Beauty Salon, he honked some sort of special signal.

While the occupants of the Thomasi an Taxi were enjoying a pack of Murray-Gal cigarettes (manufactured by the Maguire Tobacco Co.) they caught sight of the fabulous exposition buildings, facing the Charles, and surmounted by wind-whipped world flags, hired from the Mee Flags-For-All-Occasions Syndicate. The exposition architecture, remarked Businessman Basmajian as he nodded to Gatekeeper Don MacIsaac, was the modernist creation of Todino, McNamara, and Relatives, of Boston and Beverly Hills. Alighting from the cab, C. and R. joined the crowd listening to the opening addresses delivered by Congresswoman Rita Torossian; Peter Pochi, president of Harvard; and Dick Hewitt, heavy-action mayor of Boston. They saw, seated in the reserved section guarded by Jim Avtges, Mrs. Frank Cousineau and her debutante daughter, Joanne; authoress Jo Dorey; and Margie Christie, star of Vic D’Amico’s recent hit, “The Man In Our Lives.”

After the opening ceremonies the first exhibit C. and R. visited was the Howland-Vello automobile display, featuring several models of the 1971 Howmobile, designed by McDonald. A sign, and Engineer-guide Arko Bourgoujian, pointed the way, past Mary Badoian and Jo Fantasia who were admiring a bronze by Charlie...
Barrett, to the structure housing the Russian Ballet. There they perceived Monsieur Russian himself drilling ballerinas Dottie Andreasson, Rita Conti, Bobbie Costello, and Alyce Derderian in the Campbell Fling. Prima donnas Ronnie Stepanian and Mad Warren were off in a corner practicing. C. and R. wanted to join them, but Monsieur Russian with graceful leaps into the air led them back to the private office of Manager Zevitas, where the painter, Nicki Altoon, was discussing with designer Dorrie Whelan the color harmony of new ballet costumes.

From the ballet, Life-men went to the mundane. It was time, they decided, for refreshment—hot dogs at Fournier's served by Lou Caira. Terry Urquhart and Gerry Cress, also hungry customers, posed obligingly for several candids.

Next the Aquacade beckoned, and C. and R. jostled over to watch stars Dick O'Brien and Peggy Rogers both of whom had recently accepted a movie contract with Moore-Godwin-Matthews. Edith DiPietro and Dick Quinn were featured in breath-taking dives from this 170 foot tower. Intently observing were president of Transcontinental Television, Ken Ramsay; his brunette wife, Janet; and several friends.

The Telexhibit presented to an interested audience—among whom were Dot Haskian, Anne Sarkisian, Dr. Daniel O'Shea and Greg Nazarian—the Metropolitan opera star, Jeanne Verdi, who was followed by a special broadcast of Information, Please! with Oscar Garabedian as MC and Cynthia Dunn, Chris Pacifico and Elizabeth Morton as guests. Next on Life's list was the physical culture demonstration next door, arranged by Ann Krikorian and Peggy Nahigian, co-editors of Physical Culture Magazine. Clad in blue, Sirappi Aharonian, Connie Boccadoro and Betty Ann Branchaud executed a modern dance to the beat of Al Leombruno's tom-tom; and farther on Joan Beattie and Rosemary Farber demonstrated exercises for Buddy Hanrahan and Ed Keljik, Avis Boyd, and Rosie Kears. Seeing a crowd around some sort of exhibition, C. and R., cameras in hand, worked their way over and shot Mary Amichetti and Barbara Kierce admiring the pyramid acrobatics of Ken Billings, Frank Carey, Dom Luppino, and Bob Hunt.

Upon inquiring, they learned from receptionist Priscilla Hutchings that Madame Schei, famous Boston and Paris couturiere, was showing some of her latest creations. In they went to "Chez Schei" and were seated by hostess Gloria Manzelli. Near them they observed Barbara Smart, of Vogue; Pat Doyle Rushings, noted clubwoman; and Jean Gallagher Baker, watching models Shirl Dexter and Patsy Peacock show startling fall ensembles. Tea was being poured by Eve Eokszuzian, buyer at Saks' and Pat Mullin; taking a cup, C. and R. joined playboys Don Looney and Dick Rose in previewing 1971 spring suits shown by Nancy Peyton and Lois Holman, graduates of Harry Beck's School of Beauty. Cynthia Hamparian, celebrated concert pianist, who recently returned from a tour of the Continent, provided a background of original composition.

Life's photographers finally tore themselves away, and hailed a taxi to take them back to the Copley, where the opening banquet of the Boston World's Fair was to be held in the evening. Sharing their cab was Helen Toro, who had just come from the Parrella Rocketship display, arranged by scientist Howard Robinson. She was on her way to meet Vicky Inferrera and Louise Brackett in the Cafe Rouge of the Statler. Heading through Park Square, their taxi narrowly missed a fire engine careening down the street with Anthony Cirillo and Charlie Georgopoulos hanging on weakly. The fire, luckily, was not in the Statler, but was only Queenie DerParseghian's car steaming in the Park Square Garage, owned and managed by Armen Kazanjian.

The taxi went on and drew up at the Plaza with a flourish. The door was opened by Angelo D'Aloisio, resplendent in maroon and gold. C. and R. tipped their attractive cab driver, Doris Bryan, and went to dress. Arriving in the main dining room at 8:30, they soon engaged in conversation with Ann Ford and Mrs. Doris Starke-Raven, one half of the Boston socialite team. Photographer Cutting found himself seated between Eleanor Mc-Cabe, secretary to the Governor, and Martha Tedesco, both of whom drew him into spirited repartee; across from him were seated Dr. Lenox Cooper, nationally known North Carolina surgeon, and Audrey Hansen, a director of the District Racing Commission.

After a brief opening, Master of Ceremonies Robert Yonis introduced His Excellency, James Norbury, Governor of Massachusetts, who spoke for several minutes on the Exposition, and then raised his glass... .

"Ladies and Gentlemen, a Toast to the Class of 1946 of Watertown High School, whose members have made a greater contribution than that of any other similar group at any time, to the progress and advancement of the Commonwealth, and, I might say, the Nation!"

Having finally achieved that goal which for nearly twelve years seemed but a glorious gold brick in a dismal, unending grey mist of years and years, the Class of 1946 of Watertown High School, with due formality and reasonable self-control, wishes to make public its retirement from the hustle and bustle of school life. It hereby demands to be acknowledged as sane and leaves its earthly belongings to be divided as follows:

Article I. To our Headmaster, Mr. Reed—a scooter on which he can make all the rounds before the 8:15 bell.

Article II. To Mr. McNealy—our appreciation for his understanding and cooperation which have made our school career a success.

Article III. To the Underclassmen—a review book of “Do’s and Don’t’s in the Classrooms and Corridors of W. H. S.” so as to avoid those blue slips.

Article IV. To our librarian, Miss Johnson—a couple of dictaphones in order to hear what really goes on in those conference rooms.

Article V. To Mr. Keaney—a bottle of slickum to keep that cowlick down.

Article VI. To Mr. Adams—a pair of professional complimentary tickets to “Lost Weekend.”

Article VII. To Miss Rita Tierney—a new regulation uniform “a la Vogue.”
Article VIII. To Miss Jacobs—a perfect day with no absences, tardinesses, or dismissals—Saturday.

Article IX. To the incoming green Sophomores—a floor plan of W. H. S. including the elevators and recreation rooms.

Article X. To Miss Campbell—a naval radar set which will show the whereabouts of all “skippers.”

Article XI. To the Bulletin staff—a package of brillo and steel wool to scrape up some dirt for the “Here and There” column.

Article XII. To our Superintendent, Mr. Kelly—the telephone numbers of the Fire Department and stations WNAC and WEEI so as to make more use of that statement “no school, all schools, all day in Watertown.”

Article XIII. To our Alma Mater—we leave; that’s all, we leave.

Lastly, we appoint Jack Harrington, President of the Junior Class, to be sole executor of our last will and testament. In witness of the above thirteen articles we, the undersigned, declare this to be the final document of the Class of 1946.

Again this year our cheerleaders put in an enthusiastic and vociferous year of cheering for our hard-fighting teams.

Many rallies were held in the auditorium during homeroom periods to try out the new cheers and to encourage support and loyalty to our football squad. The cheerleaders accompanied the team to all the games and did much to arouse the enthusiasm of the crowd.

In addition to cheering at the usual football games, the cheerleaders were also invited to cheer at an exhibition game held for the soldiers at Fort Devens.

So another inspiring year has passed but we shall always remember the splendid job the cheerleaders have done in supporting our team and giving them the necessary fighting spirit.
After receiving an honorable discharge from the Army Air Corps, Lieutenant Keaney took over the coaching reins of the Red and Black football squad. Utilizing a heavy line and light, fast backs, he introduced to W. H. S. a modified T formation with a man in motion.

Saugus, aided by Red and Black fumbles, won the opening game of the pigskin parade. At Dedham the teams battled to a scoreless tie in a drenching drizzle. However, on the brighter side of the picture, the Red Raiders overwhelmed a strong Marlboro eleven 20–7, at Fort Devens, with injured veterans as spectators. A not too successful season was brought to a close with an 18–0 loss to arch-rival Belmont.
The soccer team did not fare too well this season but we are fortunate in having seven veterans returning next year and with this roster of experienced men, W. H. S. should have an excellent team.

Outstanding for the Red and Black were “Buddy” LaForest, mighty mite, “Buddy” Rose, our sensational goalie, and Jack Beale, a speedy forward.

The most interesting game of the season, against Tabor Academy, was played in freezing weather at Victory Field. Twice Tabor received free foul kicks but couldn’t score against Rose. At the end of regulation time neither team had scored. A five minute overtime period was played but neither team was able to get the crucial goal, and the game ended in a scoreless tie.
Throughout the season, brilliant playing was displayed by our girls in field hockey. Over the past three years the varsity has set a marvelous record and this year our girls helped to keep up this standard.

Captain Krikorian deserves a great deal of credit for keeping Watertown undefeated. Her brilliant stick handling stood out continually. Another outstanding player was Margaret Abrahamian, who was the high scorer in practically every game. Her skill in playmaking has been a big factor in the team's victories. Also, special mention should be made of the determined play of Goalie Rose Agahigian.

The real success of the varsity squad was due not only to certain individual ability, but rather to the high degree of teamwork which is characteristic of W. H. S. sports.

So many candidates tried out for basketball this year that after a few weeks of practice it was necessary to cut the squad to twenty-six girls.

Miss Biggane's varsity, composed almost wholly of Seniors, had a good record winning three games, losing only one, and tying one. The play of the guards was outstanding as is shown by the fact that Watertown scored 180 points while holding their opponents to 158 points.

The "jayvees," directed by Miss Tierney, played several games and the sophomore team defeated the Newton Sophomores, 34–14. These undergraduates will form the nucleus of next year's team and should uphold the high standards of W. H. S. sports.

Watertown’s new coach, Frank Keane, Jr., son of the basketball mentor initiated a new basketball system this year. His style is similar to the point-a-minute “firebrand” style played by Rhode Island State.

Coach Keane’s squad, made up mostly of underclassmen, did not fare too well, but next year he will have an experienced team of capable veterans. Outstanding were Captain “Hank” Germagian; “Billy” Wickstrom, second highest scorer in the Suburban League; and “Lefty” Tashjian, sharp shooting forward.

In the best game of the year Watertown beat Brookline 33–28, with “Wicky” scoring seventeen points. Watertown was one of the few schools honored by playing in the Boston Garden this winter but lost to a superior Stonington, Conn. team, 44–28.
Under the auspices of Mr. Joseph Malley, hockey coach for the past three years, the 1946 edition of the Red and Black enjoyed its best season in several years.

Led by Captain "Dick" Quinn, who scored eight points, and "Dick" McBride with nine points, the Malleymen ended the season with a record of five wins, seven losses and two ties. Opposing teams were always ready to commend the excellent defensive tactics of the Watertown sextet. Particularly effective at the defense posts were "Buddy" Rose and "Dick" O'Brien, while Warren Hoffman turned in a creditable job at the nets.

Perhaps the outstanding game of the year was the 2–2 tie with B. C. H., one of the strongest teams in local circles.

Hockey

Pre-game strategy by Coach Malley
Combining speed in the field as well as on the base paths with a slashing batting attack, the Red and Black nine had a very successful season on the diamond. Although Coach Keaney had to begin with only two first team veterans, good material was found to fill the gaps left in last year’s roster by graduation, and an early spring and good weather made possible a long pre-season practice period at Victory Field.

Hustling “Joe” Boyce created a spark which spread to the rest of the infield. “Fancy Dan” McBride with his smooth fielding and timely hitting, was a valuable asset. John O’Connell proved to be the mainstay of the moundsmen while “Hank” Germagian handled very nicely the catcher’s chores.

Mr. Frank Keaney
During the past season Coach Malley celebrated his tenth year as mentor of the W. H. S. golfers. During this span his teams have always finished high in the Greater Boston District Golf League standing—evidence of the time and effort he has contributed to Watertown athletics.

Led by "Bill" Casey, captain and number one man, the "divot-diggers" had a victorious season. Keen competition featured the 1946 contests but smart all-round play by Ken Billings, a talented veteran of last year, and Leo McKeon, who has taken up where his brothers Paul and Jack left off, were major factors in the team's success.
Practicing on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in the gymnasium the varsity racquet-wielders had perfected their strokes by the time weather and court conditions made it possible to transfer their activities to Victory Field. The first game played demonstrated the value of these pre-season workouts.

Faced with a difficult schedule, the girls set out determined to repeat their undefeated record of last year. A thorough knowledge of stroking techniques, combined with natural ability and sound coaching were responsible for a successful season.

Seniors on the squad were: Captain "Peggy" Rogers, Shirley Dexter, "Jody" Wright, "Jackie" Menghi, Elinor Morgan, Rose Agahigian, Alyce Derderian, and "Peggy" Abrahamian.

"Reaching for the stars, Bob?"

With ranks depleted by graduation and by the transfer of three regulars to private schools, the 1946 racquetiers found only two veterans returning and were faced with an uphill fight. However, the call for candidates brought out some very fine material.

Since the Suburban League did not resume its schedule, matches were played with familiar rivals among whom were Belmont, Needham, Newton, Winchester, Lexington, and Hingham.

Led by "Bob" Dodge who was number three man in the '45 State Tournament, the team upheld the record of its predecessors who had lost but one match in three years. Undoubtedly the most improved player of the year was "Ed" Gallagher, whose speed and ability were vital factors in the success of the McNealymen.

With six veterans returning to the cinder path, the track team looked forward to a very good season, and with the assistance of some very capable and promising Juniors and Sophomores tackled a difficult schedule.

Outstanding performances were made by "Bill" Fletcher, who runs the half-mile and who as a Junior was undefeated in the high-jump; "Lou" Mastrangelo, a strong miler; "Lenny" Cooper who competed in the half-mile and high jump; "Hazy" Hale, in the 440 and broad jump; and "Joe" Tangusso, who was a flash in the sprints.

Besides the usual dual meets, the Gleasonites competed in a Quad Meet at Concord, the Belmont Relays, and the State Interscholastics.
