We are standing at the beginning of a new decade that sees the world coming even to the Summit Conference divided into factions: nationalism versus colonialism, dictatorship versus democracy, communism versus capitalism. This is the world that we are inheriting.

Here at WHS we have been ably prepared to cope with these struggles. We learned of the world through our experiences and through our readings; we learned of brotherhood and tolerance through association with our fellow students.

So that we might capture and preserve the very spirit of WHS, we, the Yearbook Staff, present this, the thirty-fourth volume of our Annual. If this volume, even cracked and yellowed with age, still has the power, in the future, to call forth pleasant memories, it shall have accomplished its purpose: to chronicle the days of our years here as we built for the future.

ADMINISTRATION
The aim of secondary education is to lead the student to discover, to develop, and to apply his talents to the highest possible self-realization and to the greatest service of his fellow men. The phenomenal progress of our times and the changing demands of modern life require, from time to time, judicious changes in curricula content and emphasis. Costly additions to classrooms and laboratory facilities have been made generously, to the end that our students be given every advantage. It is my hope and prayer that we have adequately prepared you to meet competition and, more important still, to live useful and happy lives.
In recognition of your many years of outstanding service to Watertown High, we the Class of 1960, dedicate this, our Annual, to you, Mr. Alfred Adams. Your profound knowledge of mathematics has infused us with a burning desire to conquer the challenge that math offers. Through your inspiring classes we have laid a firm foundation for progress.

Under your able guidance as the sponsor of the Math Club, many students who find math a source of pleasure and delight have been further prepared to meet the scientific challenge of our modern world.

And now as we are about to step out into that modern world, we thank you, Mr. Adams, for all that you have done for us. It is our sincere desire that your future be filled with all the success and happiness that you so richly deserve.
The whole art of teaching is only the art of awakening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satisfying afterwards.

Class of 1961

The Junior year is the middle of our student days at WHS, a time when we look forward to the future in anticipation and back at the past with pleasure.

When we, the class of 1961, entered WHS as Sophomores, we were swept into the confusion of Orientation, the beginning of a whirlwind that carries us through the three years to graduation. Our first act of importance was to choose our class officers. After an energetic campaign, we elected as our leaders: President, Al Verrochi; Vice-President, Robert Cappadona; Treasurer, June Valenti; Secretary, Stacia Conaxis; Executive Committee, Anthony Fantasia, Dorothy Leone, Beverly Malatesta, Micheal Arnold, and Peter McCarthy.

In September, returning as Juniors, we renewed friendships and settled down to another year of studies. Elections were ushered in by a most enthusiastic campaign. Candidates made posters and went about seeking votes. Actually, the campaigners were so successful that several candidates tied. After a revote, we finally elected as our leaders: President, Al Verrochi; Vice President, Robert Cappadona; Treasurer, James Arone; Secretary, June Valenti; Executive Committee, Harry Bazarian, Anthony Fantasia, Anthony Mancini, Peter McCarthy, and George Smith.

An eagerly awaited event of our Junior year is the choosing of our class rings. A committee under the direction of Joseph Balsama chose our rings and we subsequently purchased them with satisfaction.
On the opening day of school we as shy Sophomores took our places in our assigned rooms. What a time we had trying to find our destinations with all the construction going on! However, our shyness soon disappeared after we became acquainted with the more sophisticated Juniors and Seniors. School was especially difficult this year because of the confusing new schedule. Gradually, as the season progressed, we were so busy with studies and sports that we felt right at home. Once the upperclassmen stopped heckling our every effort, we contributed a great deal toward making this a successful school year by adding our various talents, skills, and services to many school activities.

After we had become acquainted with our fellow classmates, we held our class elections in a properly dignified manner. The result of the voting was as follows: John Airasian, President; Steven Everett, Vice-President; Elene Kechichian, Secretary; Arthur Avakian, Treasurer, and Roland Capone, Peter Doherty, Jacqueline Giannontonio, Karen Madden, and Joanne Rufo, Executive Committee.

At last we succeeded in adjusting ourselves to our new surroundings. We accredit our success to the assistance and friendliness of our teachers and upperclassmen. We also attributed our rise to our present status to Miss Jacobs, our class advisor.
Tides that we never know
Into our beings flow;
Rays from the remotest star
Converge to make us what we are.

Know-How...

of Music...

This year, WHS drama students presented "Best Foot Forward," a comedy.

This tremendous hit from Broadway centers around a big annual dance at a prep school. Deception involving a publicity-hungry movie star develops into trouble for one of the students, but all difficulties are dissolved in a happy conclusion.

This successful production was directed by M. Paul Hughes with the help of student directors, Lillian Nazarian, and John Donnelly, and choreographer, Barbara DeFillipis.

Lives of great men all remind us
    We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
    Footprints on the sands of time.

Ever moving — moving upward!
In these days of Senior High School
We have climbed the rungs of learning
To the year that we called Senior.
Pausing now in our ascent
We’ll recall with greatest pleasure
School, memories, deeds, and classmates.
At this feast in grand tradition.
Now together — these the Seniors,
Shall part into the future.
So classmates, at this gathering
Listen with most rapt attention
To these words historic with our building
Of our years in Senior High School.

On the first rung of our ladder
Met our class solemn conclave
Then to choose in group assembled,
Those who seemed best fit to lead us:
In that struggle for high office
President came first and foremost,
He, our leader — Richard Ames;
Second, then, in roll of honor,
Chose we Scalese as vice-president;

Swiftly flew the months of summer,
Came the time of autumn harvest,
As a sign to reassembly.
Here to toil and build the future

We returned to Senior High School
That this Class of Nineteen Sixty
Might achieve its place of glory.

As the Keeper of our Records
Chose we Barbara Trombino;
Donald Weeden, next in voting
Gained our trust as loyal treasurer.
Thus the East and West united;
And began their struggle upward,
Upward, to achievement’s glory
Where tonight we stand together
Facing each the dawn that ushers
Scenes of future days and all stand
Hopeful that this land of promise
May give to one and all its bounty.

Ten short weeks we left behind us
And ascended to the second rung
Once again our class assembled,
Here chose by voting those to guide us:
Ames, still to lead and guide us,
Followed Scalese again behind him;
Barbara holding still the pen of records;
Weeden constant with our money.
Through long days of work and pleasers
Came at last the hour of triumph;
With the success of "Matchmaker."
With its golden days of sunshine
Moving, moving, ever closer
Toward that hour of destiny.

Now tonight in feast assemble
At our last and pleasant gathering
Meet we once more our fellow classmates
And greet again our loyal teachers;
That our class far famed in history
Might enjoy those songs and feastings;
That this Class of Nineteen Sixty
Might arise to future glory.
And progressing ever upward
To reach our goals of fame and wisdom.

Ere two suns have crossed earth’n orbit
And two days have turned historic,
Will we face that day of reckoning
And for the last time gather together
Under a light of future planning
Move once more to height resplendent.
Assembled here with years behind us—
Ever echoing work and pleasures
Remembered always by our classmates,
Rise we must to face life’s issues,
Rise to heights that toil shall bring us.
With diploma in our hands
We shall climb forever upward.

’Til the name of Watertown
Shall spread forever, ever onward
And be renowned in the world before us.

Many tasks came forth to face us
On our way to reach this height.
Guided by our worthy leaders,
Richard Ames and James Scalese
Donald Weeden, Senior treasurer,
Followed next in line of prestige,
With Barbara Trombino as recorder.
So with these-our able leaders—
The Class of Nineteen Sixty goes
Up the ladder to world conquest,
With its play, its prom, its banquet
Strove to make its name known.
For the pleasure of our classmates
We presented “Best Foot Forward.”
Fleeting homes passed into history
And the days that sped so quickly
Brought us to that gay June evening
When, with pomp and youthful splendor
Came fair maids with their escorts
Here to dance a grand finale
To preserve in memory ever
High tradition, noble records
Of our years in Senior High School.
June progressed, that month of beauty

Class Will

On this occasion of our graduation from Watertown High School, we the illustrious Class of 1960, being of feeble mind and weak body, do hereby make our last Will and Testament before going out into the cruel, harsh world. Whereas the faculty played an important part in molding our miserable characters, whereas they were the first to acquaint us with blue slips, pink slips, and white slips which interrupted our afternoon, we bequeath the following:

To Doctor Kelley in order that he may keep his winning smile bright we leave Bucky Beaver's Ipana toothpaste.

To Mr. Costello we bequeath bigger hoops and smaller basketballs.

To Mr. Kaveny we leave, with our heart-felt sympathies, a bottle of nerve tonic.

To Mr. O'Toole, alias "Julius," we leave a new wardrobe of tunics.

To Peter Burke we bequeath a "quiet" bow tie.

To Mr. Donald of the Industrial Arts Department, we leave more level-headed students.

To Miss Boyle, in order to save time and energy, we bequeath a record of "Piense Vd."

To all classes below Mr. Winand's lab, we leave life preservers.

To Mr. Sullivan we leave a loud speaker so that his soft voice can be heard.

To Mr. Adams we leave an adding machine in order that he may no longer make mistakes in addition and subtraction.

These and all other doubtful assets and definite liabilities we bequeath to and burden our faculty and lowly "underclassmen."

Given under our hand and sealed, this June eighth in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty, in the township of Watertown.

On May 30, the Kamishian Museum of Science and Research opened its doors to the public. This modern building was erected under the management of Edward Eaton, and landscaping was done by Peter Seale, Frank Cunio, and Marianne Pannessi.

Publicity director Ervil Kennet arranged for reporters Bonnie MacDonald and Ruth Vicklund to be present at the opening. Dr. James Lynch supplied the appropriate words and lovely Arlene Antonelli opened the gates to let the crowds in. Teachers Ruth Harutunian, Virginia Miller, and Marie DeMilia and their classes were in this crowd.

Near the entrance is the office where Judith Maurer and Gloria Barry receive incoming calls. There Director Michael Pugliese and his secretary Kathleen McKenna helped the new secretarial staff of Irene Grossi, Ruth Charshoodian, Margaret Ovoin, and Susan Timmons get acquainted with the new routine. Nearby in the information booth Kathleen Phillips and Rita Culliton answered questions. Competent guides Diane Viera, Patricia White, Marie Woodland, and Virginia Fulginetti was in demand.

In the wing financed by Richard Boltrus, is the research department headed by George Calman. Under the watchful eye of Dr. Monty Tucker, Richard Brunaccini and Robert Cookingham were setting up delicate instruments while Nancy Avedian took notes. Dr. Jean Smith was showing Pamela Noffter and Joyce Tashian a new technique in Physical therapy when they heard an explosion. It was chemist Janet George experimenting.

On the natural science floor Linda Murphy and her class enlisted the aid of sailors Arthur Holt and John LaFort to capture some monkeys which had gotten loose. In another room Stanley Rice, in front of a dinosaur told of the ferocity of this animal to his wide-eyed pupils.

Below, in the machine shop, while ones of the Sahatjian engines was being fixed by George Farraher, Sebooh DerGavage gave out brochures to the departing visitors.

These three men had collaborated on the novel, "Beatniks about the case, from the courtroom. Then sheriff Nicholas Makris removed George Harris, James McFarland, and Frances Pugliese, who were having a loud difference of opinion. These three men had collaborated on the novel, "Beatniks in Watertown."

Completing final plans, manager Edward O’Connell announced the opening of the Mulcahy-Mercer Department Stores. Famed actresses Barbara DeFilipps and Connie Cragin cut the ribbon to formally open the store.

The first interplanetary trial took place on May 29 with Judge Thomas Farese presiding. The Vahoe Home Company of Mars represented by Douglas Symonds and Richard Ames charged the Aviza Robot Company represented by Albert Nicolazzo and Paul O’Sullivan with failure to fulfill its contract.

Witness Paul Brown, after being sworn in by Brian Ford, testified that pilots Wayne Wood and Walter Johnston, delivering the robots to Mars were diverted by scientists Ralph Antonios, Clyde Schaffner, Gerald Griffin, and Anthony Lymnea of the Aviza Company. Witness Judith Gattenby, Teresa Riccio, and Judith Dwyer next testified as to time, place, etc.

At this point bailiffs David Maurer and John Messina removed Donna Tiano and Patricia Perry, who were arguing about the case, from the courtroom. Then sheriff Nicholas Makris removed George Harris, James McFarland, and Frances Pugliese, who were having a loud difference of opinion. These three men had collaborated on the novel, "Beatniks in Watertown."

Just then court secretary Virginia Donofrio received a message from Lili DeParaseghian and relayed it on to Mary Wheaton, who along with Carol Kendall and Loretta Cairo comprised the battery of secretaries of the Vahoe Company. Lawyer Symonds then asked billionaire Joyce Barron to come to the stand. She testified that the scientists had wanted to learn whether a planet could exist where people worked instead of robots. Encouraged by her, the scientists had captured the robots. A cross-section of women had been asked for their opinions: four—Judith Venezia, Elaine Munroe, Sheila Sostedt, and Eleanor Baccodaro — had enjoyed work and didn’t want the robots while Francis Desler-Dernier was the lone dissentter. This testimony amazed jurors Joanne Tsolas and Sandra Quinn.

Later outside two eminent gentlemen, Prof. Richard Krikorian and Robert Cronin, editor of the New York Sun, nearly came to blows because of their opinions of the trial. They were dissuaded from fistcuffs by the presence of actress Dorothy Rutkowski, who eloquently reminded both of their duty to society.

The fifth annual convention of engineers convened at the Helms Engineering Center. After Lawrence Todd had extended his greetings on behalf of the Cornell—Chekiyanan Chemical Research Laboratory, Chairman Dale Samson called upon Frederick Dorey to give his annual report on the progress of the Sorenson Pimentel Corporation with which he is affiliated.

Then Dennis Noonan spoke on the relationship architecture to engineering. He was ably assisted by Mary Maurer and Claire Wyckoff, who were on hand with Seale models to illustrate the talk.

Following talks by freelance civil engineers Lawrence Antonios and Richard Gazzetti, luncheon was served by caterers Bonnie Lane, Jean DeVincents, and Sandra Quinn.

The engineers plan to meet again next year at the Edmonds Plant in New York.

In the fashionable dress shop models Ann Foley and Julie McEvoy were wearing the creations of Sandra Marshall, Angelina Alessi, Claudine Wentzinger, and Leona Thomas looked on enviously. Top designers of children's wear Marianne Bloomer and Valerie Dolbier gave novices Beverly LaPrete and Carol Kelly a few pointers. We asked Eleanor Piala the way to the furniture department. There Diane Riberio was trying out a desk. Salesman Peter Asare watched prospective customer Arnold Cairo testing a new chair.

In the hardware department Daniel Sweeney was busily sawing, testing the merchandise. After salesman Richard Fanelli vainly tried to stop him, John Vartanian sent for manager Anthony Scatlreto.

Later I interviewed Sandra Carboni and Joyce Grega, who both agreed that this store was better than its rival, the Ceriss Specialty Store, across the street.
Advising of the technology, a new story reported that before the Miskell Fashion Show in New York City, he overheard operators Marjorie Pizzuto and Charles Russel talking. This is what they said: "Prof. George Johnson of Harvard is coming! Probably to gather information for a lecture on women's atrocious taste in clothing..." "I just saw philanthists Sarobeth Hoffman and Priscilla Chapin. One of the dresses here could support a charity von muth..."

Many other celebrities were present. For television Haig Deranian and Carole Barber handled the commentary with Jane Kevorkian supplying the music. Director Leonard Bianchi arrived with glamorous Janet Alberico, then Marie Yeraui an excellent job—Jean MacLeod and Donald Weeden as the Miskell Fashion Show in New York City he had overheard will see that all the world hears of these new styles.

Trainer and Sandra Testa.

The Republican convention in Ohio will be very active with many candidates seeking the presidential nomination. For WHS-TV Sandra Stoff and John Colarusso are covering the event with George Pastore and Richard Fiorentino for radio. Senator Diana Nyskens is convention chairman and has her aides Michelle McDavitt and Margaret McDonald with her.

There are many volunteer groups here: The secretarial staff of Patricia Shea, Judith Hapogian, Ann Sardellitti, Sandra Giers, and Lillian Nazarian, the art staff of Linda Roopenian, Carol Corrigan, and Maureen Arslanian; telephone operators Mary Ann Daniels, Sandra Stoff and Johr Colarusso are busy taking notes for the Garabedian Fashion Shop managed by Steven Cento.

The show, Vivian Kekarian commented on, directed by Henry Wingate. All the models did an excellent job—Jean MacLeod and Donald Weeden as the bridal group and Jean Young, Frances Renna, Wynman Swanson, and Richard Sheytanian as members of the wedding party.

Tomorrow reporters Richard Tashjian and Emily Mansfield will see that all the world hears of these new styles. Today the most modern ship in the world, the U.S.S. Spearman, the U.S.S. Spearman, is situated around the world. Waitresses Mary McBride, Joanne Nocera, Sandra Romano, and Sheila Dempsey took the book passage were the following: actress Jean Piper, wearing an outfit designed by Elaine Sanderson of the House of Corey, Michael, and Maureen Air-Marquis. Strategically situated around the auditorium are Robert Walker supporters James McPhail, Daniel Igoe, Jack Eagle, Jack Williams, and Gilbert Bartone. At the entrance checking passes are Dominic Pizzuto's supporters George Dennison, Robert Krawitt, and Richard Bal-sano.

The Yacubian band, with featured singer Evelyn Kekarian, and quartet composed of Diane Cornet, Marilyn Loeb, Elizabeth Torilli, and Verna Hession, will entertain...

For the first time in three years under the able direction of Coach Palladino and his assistants Frank Sollitto, Frank Cousineau, and freshman coach, Donald Costello, the Watertown High Football team ripped through their opponents for a successful season, compiling a record of six wins and three losses. The Palladinomen were full of spirit and imbedded with inces­dent drive which made them top contenders in their league.

The Watertown Footballers gained the attention of the Greater Boston League by trouncing Medford High 38 to 8. The following Saturday at Matignon Field, the determined Red and White, after being scored upon on the opening kick-off, buried Matignon High by a score of 48 to 14. After beating Rindge Tech 30 to 8, the Red Raiders tagged powerful Newton High School with a 28 to 8 loss. The Watertown “Powerhouse” then rolled over Revere High at Raul Revere Stadium by the score of 24-18. The Gridders lost to Brookline, Brock­ton, and Belmont by small margins.

The aggressive, hard-hitting, forward-wall led by Captain Jim Scalese, Paul Bythewood, and Vin Mulcahey, opened holes in the opponents defense for speedy backs Joe Montagna, Leo Pelleritti and versatile Dick Green. The Palladino machine was blocking and tackling superbly, passing accurately and running with speed and agility. The Red and White were considered by many experts as the “Surprise Team of 1959.” Ends Peppy Smith and Tom Stanley, stalwart linemen Bob Norton, Terry Caruso, Harvey Bazarian, John Iannello, and Ed Volent, our dependable quarterback Ron Miglicaccio, and our “workhorse” Bob Cappadona were the outstanding Juniors on the squad. The student body supported the team, filling the stands every Saturday at Victory Field. The Watertown High Band and the Cheerleaders performed flawlessly to speed our gridiron greats on to victory.

Modern Mercurys

With the arrival of Indian Summer, Coach Gleason and the Watertown High Cross Country Team began enthusiastically training for the 1959 season. Due to lack of depth and injuries, however, the team compiled a win-loss record that was somewhat disappointing. Fleet-footed Kip Kennet suffered from a foot injury early in the season and was not able to add those few vital points that are so necessary for a win. The graduation of three former Harriers also served to decrease their strength. Although victories were not frequent, each member of the team displayed the fighting spirit that is so typical of Watertown High School.

The team was led by the undying stamina of Captain Bob Walker who placed first or second in every race. He was aided by hustling Fred Cornell, who also placed in the top few. Other seniors on the squad were hard pressing George "Rabbit" Calnan, Ralph Borghetti, and Jerry Doyle.

The three promising Juniors, Dick Howley, Joseph Murray, and Ed Sullivan will be back next year to lead Watertown High School to what we hope will be a more successful season.

Coach Malley once again went to work this year to mold yet another soccer team from the young soccer aspirants. His efforts were not in vain, as the team showed substantial improvement in coordination, spirit and general team work over the preceding years. The formidable opposition which they faced made every victory a hard-fought struggle and every loss a heart-breaker. They finished the year with a 6 win, 8 loss, and 1 tie record.

The success of the team was due largely to two forwards, seniors Brian Ford and Pete Airasion. Peter worked skillfully and tirelessly on the right side of the field for most of Brian’s unprecedented 7 goals during the season. Scoring 2 goals to give Watertown a last minute victory over a determined Belmont team (3-2), Brian again came through with 2 goals to defeat North Quincy (4-2).

Equally as industrious were hard fighting halfbacks, Charles Helms, Peter Swanson and Winston Yelland. Charlie Helms relentlessly shot the ball toward the opponents goal, giving great aid to our forwards. Pete Swanson, in his first year at soccer, proved himself no novice with his intricate plays, while fleet-footed Winston Yelland did his part by scoring 5 goals.

An integral component of this year's squad was the juniors. Outstanding among these were agile forward Tony Pane and rugged fullbacks Mike Arnold and Ralph Caldwell, who added much to the success of the team and will provide an iron backbone, along with other promising Juniors and Sophomores, for next year's team. Watertown High School can begin to look forward to even more successful seasons as soccer gains more popularity among the student body.

Hustling

After winning their first home-court victory in over two years against Berlin High School of Berlin, New Hampshire, the Costellomen proceeded to compile the best season's record for a Watertown High School Basketball team in four years. The opening game in the Suburban League found WHS losing to Waltham in overtime 70-68. Rebounding against Cambridge Latin the basketeers won their first league game in 34 tilts. Later in the season the underdog Costellomen defeated the strong clubs of Newton and Rindge Tech. The team then entered the Bay State Tournament. After winning the opening game against Medford, hopes for a tourney victory were stilled by a potent Needham squad.

The team was led this year by the co-captains Norm Hoffman and Pete Airasian, who were backed up ably by the three remaining seniors Jim Lynch, Dick Boylan, and Leo Pelleriti. Sharpshooters Hoffman and Airasian, both placing among the top 10 scorers in the Suburban League, scored over 250 points each this season. Ballhawks Boylan and Pelleriti provided both offensive and defensive punch for the squad. The clutch shooting and tough rebounding of Jim Lynch kept the Costellomen in many a ball game.

Norm Hoffman, star forward, had the distinction of setting the following records:
1. Total points scored during the season 351 (Watertown record).
2. 18 fouls in a single game, (tied Suburban League Record).
3. 16 consecutive foul shots (Suburban League Record).
4. 37 points in a single game. (Watertown Record).

With Flying Feet...

Despite fine showings of seniors Dan Igoe, Kip Kennett, Jerry Doyle, and Bob Walker, the WHS indoor track team found itself unable to wear the victory laurels as previous teams have. The lack of depth in many events, coupled with a severe lack of sprinting ability, spelled the tracksters defeat this season. Their final standing in dual meet competition showed no victories and five defeats.

Regardless of what this year’s record may seem to indicate, this year’s track team had some bona fide talent in Danny Igoe, Bob Walker, Kip Kennett and Jerry Doyle. These four boys led the way for Watertown, scoring the majority of the points. Other seniors on the squad were Al Sorenson, Ralph Borghetti, George Calnan, and Fred Camell.

Junior standout of the year was Bob Cappadona who displayed winning ability in the shot put. Other juniors who helped the team cause were Jack Watson, Dick Howley, Richard Dinjian, Bob Montminy, Bob Norton, and Kenny Doyle. About half of this year’s team was composed of sophomores whose undeveloped talent should blossom, if not explode, within the next two years. Among the sophomore track stars were Roland Capone, David Cavanaugh, Joseph D’Amico, William Flecca, Joe Fanelli, Ralph Holmberg, James Williams, Jack Kerveshian, and Pete Marto. Still other sophomores were Tom Sansone, Dan Sweeney, John Sutherland, Tom Tomson, Richard Titus, Warren Todd, and Roy Vicklund.

Rink Raiders

Sparked by co-captains Rich Green and Don Weedon, the WHS pucksters under the leadership of veteran coach Bob Dupius, showed great improvement over the 58-59 season.

The Raiders launched their season in the newly formed Middlesex League with a 4-0 victory over Reading with Don Weedon scoring 2 goals, Rich Green 1 goal, and Jack Callahan 1 goal. The Pucksters followed with wins against Lexington, Stoneham, and Wakefield, and were defeated by Winchester, Melrose and Belmont. In the second half of the season Watertown again defeated Reading, Lexington, Stoneham, and Wakefield and were set back by Winchester, Melrose, and Belmont. The last game of the season proved to be the most exciting and hard fought. Wakefield took a 2-0 lead before Watertown retaliated with two goals by Rich Green and one by Kevin Pond in the closing moments of the game.

Experienced seniors continually proved a great asset to the team. In the goal, John Colarusso consistently turned back the staunch attacks of some of the strongest teams in the state, while defensemen Alan Taylor and Gerry Vahe jarred the opposition with crushing bodychecks. Don Weedon and Rich Green consistently added to the team scoring while Bob Valcuis did a fine job defensively. Much credit should go to all the members of the team for the finest season's record in 15 years.

Girls' Sports

Review

Under the enthusiastic coaching of Miss Sally Biggane, the 1959-60 field hockey team ended the season with an excellent record of 3 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie.

This year's Raiderettes were led by co-captains Pat Dulligan and Marjorie Wolejko. The aggressive forward line consisted of Linda Murphy, Isabelle Kamishlian, Nancy Wolejko and Jane Kevorkian. Mary Maurer, Pat Dullian, Brenda Short, Pat Barrett and Mary McBride, astute strategists, were valuable assets to goalie Marjorie Wolejko, who chalked up four shut-outs this season.

In the scoring spotlight this year were seniors Linda Murphy with three goals and Mary McBride with one goal.

The eager sophomores, coached by Miss Ruth McCarthy, learned basic field hockey and are looking forward to a winning season again next year.

Girls Basketball

Though the girls of our basketball team worked hard in their temporary quarters at the Phillips School to provide competition for their opponents, the scores were somewhat disappointing. The Raiderettes’ hopes of starting the season with a win were wiped out when the always powerful Winchester sextet met and defeated the locals at the East Junior High gym. This defeat was followed by another at the hands of host team Cambridge Latin. In their third game against arch-rival Newton, the Watertownites were again kept out of the winning column despite Linda Murphy’s twenty-two points. Playing against Weston in their last game for W.H.S., the Senior Raiderettes sparked their team-mates through the most spirited contest of the season.

Sharing the forward court with Captain Linda Murphy, our high scoring senior forward for two seasons were Wilma Pentz, a faithful rebounder; Margie Wolejko, a speedy ball handler; Isabelle Kamishlian, a formidable opponent; and Junior Nancy Wolejko, the captain-elect for 1961. Supporting the forwards on the other side of the court were guards Brenda Short, outstanding in her defensive play, and fellow Seniors—Becky Hotch, Susan King, Claire Wyckoff, Mary Jo McBride and Pat Barrett.

THE YEARBOOK STAFF takes this opportunity to express its appreciation to everyone who assisted in any way with the publication of this—the 1960 ANNUAL. We would especially like to acknowledge the invaluable aid given by:

OUR ADVISORS

Mr. Thomas Roach, our faculty advisor, who guided us on the road to our goal, your ANNUAL.

Mr. Harold Moody, our most competent and experienced art advisor, who devoted long hours to preparing our layouts, supervising the art work, and helping us with our problems.

Mr. Nicholas Papas, our business advisor, who directed the procurement of our advertisements.

Mr. Daniel Sullivan, our photographic advisor, who guided our staff photographers.

Mr. William Kelleher, our literary advisor, who aided our biography staff.

OUR HEADMASTER

Dr. John J. Kelley, for his sincere interest and encouragement.

OUR FACULTY

for their unfailing patience, despite the many interruptions and inconveniences inevitable with yearbook production.

OUR PROFESSIONAL FRIENDS

Purdy Studios, its capable staff, and particularly Mr. James T. Bleiler and Mr. George Corregan, for their constant cooperation and willing service.

Delmar Printing Company and especially Mr. Douglas Dunn, who somehow managed to retain his composure while we scurried about locating the last bits of material on "DEADLINE DAY"
