

CALL FOR WCMP ENGAGEMENT VOLUNTEERS

Help make history.

Do you love history and believe it should include everyone? Are you a creative thinker and skilled communicator with connections in the community?

The library is building a digital collection of Watertown photos and stories from your lifetime to share and preserve for future generations, and we need your help.

Make sure every person is represented and every story is told.

The Watertown Collective Memory Project is looking for volunteers this fall through September 2023 to facilitate contributions by reaching out to their friends and networks, identifying potential digitization day hosts, and pursuing additional opportunities to encourage participation. Volunteers may also assist with other project activities.

This volunteer opportunity is a good match for outgoing people with Watertown community connections who can commit 5-7 hours a month to the Collective Memory Project. Applicants must pass a CORI background check, be over 18, and be able to understand and communicate the goals of the Collective Memory Project.
